SENTINEL & REPUBLICAN

MIFFLINTOWN.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 11, 1890.

B. F. SCHWEIER,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

THE Philadelphia Record reports the making of bogus coffee in Philadelphia. The bogus coffee is made of flour and is sold in a roasted or unroasted state, mixed with genuine coffee. Only the best Judges of coffee can detect the fraud.

DEMOCRATIC newspaper men in the eastern states get off some wild expressions on the tariff question, but it is the western state Democratic editor, who leads them all in extravagant writing, of which the following from the Wichita, Kansas, Eagle is a specimen: "Listen here! The McKinley bill is an outrageous performance. It is but a cheap monkey show in the face of high heaven and of the American people. It is an attempt to make an angel of the devil without abbreviating his tail or sawing off his horns. It takes dollars from the farmers and returns them dimes. It does not impose a single duty which will help a Kansas farmer. What do we care about the duty on eggs and on hay? The Lord preserve us, but what with the McKinley bill, the supineness of the Reed-Cannon-led crowd in the lower house of Congress and hypocritical prohibition, if the Republican party don't here something drop next November, then twenty-seven years in the editorial service has only fitted us for the insane asylum."

DEMOCRATS in Philadelphia held a great meeting last week, on the subject of the tariff. They had a number of Congressmen there, who rehearsed their old Congressional tariff speeches to the delight of the anti-tariff people. They used the old time worn Democratic arithmetic to figure up the tax that a man pays by the tariff on the clothes that he wears, and sleeps in. They will count so much percentage on every yard of muslin in his shirt. So much on every yard of goods his wife wears and so much on the thread and so much on the blankets and sheets in their beds, and so much percentage on the child's rattle, and so forth—Then they shout awful burdensome tax, but never stop to tell their hearers that the taxes that afflict the country generally are the taxes of the cities, towns and townships. The county taxes, the borough taxes, the road taxes, the poor taxes, the school taxes. There isn't much use of talking about the dripping waste at the spigot when the barrel lies with bung hole down for the contents to run out, or in other words there isn't much use in talking about the percentage of profit or tax paid to manufacturers and dealers in baby rattles, to muslin and calico sellers, to clothes dealers and so forth when the revenues of property owners are running out of the bung hole of local taxation, county tax, road tax, school tax, poor tax, insurance and repairs.

Storm's Deadly Work.

At 8.30 P. M., June 3, a storm struck the town of Bradshaw, a place of 500 inhabitants, in York county, Nebraska. The storm came from the southwest. Scarcely a moment's warning was given, the roar of the whirlwind being the first notice that the terrified people heard. It struck the town fairly and there was not left a single building. Every business house was made a total wreck and the principal street was filled with the ruins. In the extreme western part of the village a few houses were left, with a semblance of their former appearance, but they are without windows and doors and their contents were scartered broad cast over the prarie.

The depot building was crushed into kindling wood and every car standing there was wrecked, except one that was loaded with stock, and which was blown without leaving the track to York, a distance of nine miles. The telegraph lines were prostrated and when the car arrived at York it was feared that some disaster had occurred. A messenger went up the track and at midnight returned with the news of the disaster.

The fire bells were rung and in a short time large numbers of people were on their way to give assistance. At the same time a special train left Lincoln with physicians and other relief. It was found that a Russian settlement near the town was struck, and the report is that nine persons were killed there outright. The physicians say that in all twelve are dead, sight mortally wounded and perhaps twenty-one hurt, more or less, seriously.

A Big Steal.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—The investigation being made into the proposed filibustering expedition against Lower California continues to reveal startling facts. From the evidence furnished by the agents of the Mexican Land and Colonizing Company it appears the president of the company had in view a plan to annex the peninsula to the British Empire by pursueing the same policy that was followed by the East India Company when Great Britian acquired her possession in Asia.

It was designed to colonize Lower California and secure concessions Mexican Goverment, and then to provoke a strife and foment disensions. English capital and interest would then be jeopardized and the intervention of the mother country was to be invoked. In proof of this the statement of the agents of the company, substantiated by documentary evidence, has been secured. Major Scott, manager of the company, assured the filibusters that two English men-of war would be in the vicinity of Ensenada skirting off the coast when the new republic was to be declared. As soon as the declaration of independence of the new goverment had been proclaimed these war vessels were to enter the harbor and reconize the new nation.

Scott supposed that after the Republic had been established the United States Government would join with the Mexican Government in suppressing the invaders. Then Great Britian would be appealed to to protect the interests of her subjects, and would establish a protectorate over the peninsula.

Oriental.

Now it's chicken pox.

Several people from this vicinity took in Middleburg, during Snyder county court.

The Supervisor's are "going over the roads."

The mail carrier had a run off at Oriental a few days ago. A demoralized buggy was the result.

Peter Dillman who resided near Oriental some years ago, died at his home, near Meiserville on the 24th ult., aged about 40 years. Mr. Dillman's mother died, during the past winter, and only about two months ago his brother Benjamin died, at the Delaware Cross Roads in this county, and now he had to follow to the spirit world. All died of consumption.

On Wednesday afternoon, May 28th, the barn of John Barner, four miles west of Oriental took fire, and burned down to the ground togeth er with the hog pen and wagon shed. Origin of fire not known. Fully insured.

Your reporter visited Richfield on Memorial day and was deeply impressed with the ceremonies, everything having been arranged and carried out in the most impressive manner. AMICUS.

May 30, 1890.

CARD.

Having been spoken of as a candidate for Legislature I take this method of intorming my friends that I will not be a candidate at this time. Mr. Hertzler claiming second term as has been the custom. We must be united to succeed, and to avoid any trouble, I cheerfully step out of the field for the coming term, with thanks to many friends for promise of support.

H. LATIMER WILSON.

Van Wert Pa., June 9, 1890.

Memorial Hymn.

For the SENTINEL AND REPUBLICAN, by Rev. S. G. Dressler, read at Richfield, Pa., May 30, 1890, (copyright reserved."

In eighteen hundred sixty-one
The traitors raised their hand
To trample down the liberties
Of our beloved land.

CHO:—Strew the flowers—Strew the flowers.
On the graves where the heroes lie;
They gave their lives a sacrifice,
For their country they did die.

The Union men, both great and small,
Went forth to meet the foe;
They rallied at their country's call,
For Richmond they did go.

CHO.—Strew the flowers, &c

On many a hot contested field
The enemy they did meet
Their bayonets and swords to wield,
Rebellion to defeat,

CHO.—Strew the flowers, &c.

On right and left—in front and rear
The comrades they did fall;
Some mangled by the musketry,
And some with cannon-ball.

CHO:—Strew the flowers, &c.

The battle raged—the war was waged,
Down to the Southern Soil,
Until rebellion had been crushed,
And peace restored to all.

CHO:—Strew the flowers, &c.

But at the time of muster out,
And on returning home,
We left in Southern graves to mould,
Four hundred thousand men.

CHO:Strew the flowers, &c.

There—buried in their uniforms,
Their bodies did decay,
Abiding Gabriel's trumpet's sound,
On resurrection day.

CHO.—Strew the flowers, &c.

The rest returned—but some have died,
And some are near the grave:
Come, honor them — both great and small.
Our country they did save.

CHO.—Strew the flowers, &c.

The Profane Senator.

The Rev. Dr. Daniel Dorchester in charge of Indian schools, is a very dignified old gentleman. He hails from Massachusetts, possesses culture, but it is only by degrees acquiring familiarity with the breezy West. The successive suprises which Dr. Dorchester encounters afford his intimate friend, Senator Dawes, much amusement. The latest experience of the doctor relates to a conversation between him and a certain Western Senator. The latter was arguing some Indian school propositions with off-hand earnestness. But the reverend gentlemen couldn' see it as the Senator did.

"Why d—d it, man" said the Senator, "we must—"

There he was checked. Dr. Dorchester drew himself up with freezing dignity, and in a tone of crushing reproof said:

"What business have you, sir, to utter profanity in my presence?"

The Senator stared at the doctor for a few seconds, and then out with;

"D—n you, sir, if you'd swear once in awhile yourself you'd be a more reasonable man."—Washington Letter.

"When a man's temper gets the best of him it reveals the worst of him."

A dispatch from Atlanta says: The peach crop in Georgia will be almost a complete failure this year. The orchards of Houston county, which last year brought in a revenue of $250,000, will do little more than supply the local demand. Two causes are assinged for this failure: First, the late frosts, and second, the fact that the immence crop of last year broke down and exhausted the trees.

A Tower 1,500 Feet High.

Says the Metropolitan: The constructor of the famous high tower, called the modern "Tower of Babel," which rears its lofty head from the midst of what was until recently the great Paris Exposition grounds, wants to out Eiffel, Eiffel. The great French Engineer in collaboration with Thomas A. Edison, has made the proposition to the authorities in charge of the World's Fair, to be held at Chicago to erect a tower, on any site chosen by them, that shall be at least 500 feet higher than the thousand foot structure that now stands on the left banke of the Seine river. Should M. Effel's proposition be accepted by the World's Executive Committee, it will be the greatest drawing card of the show of '92. It is purposed that the tower shall be illuminated with a million incandescent lights, and will be quite as attractive generally as its famous counterpart across the sea. It needs only the mention of the projectors' names—Eiffel and Edison—to prove that the greatest success will attend the undertaking.

JAMES MCCAULEY, P. M.

Chauncy Black, has complicated the question of the nomination of a governor among the democracy, by appearing in the field as a candidate. Mr. Black is one of the original Thomas Jefferson Democrats, and is as capable of knocking off as much Democratic fur among the faithful as either or both Cleveland or Wallace.

The lower house of Congress, passed, last Saturday a silver bill by which silver treasury notes are made a legal tender. It is a move in the right direction, and the next best things to free coinage. The vote stood 135 yeas, 119 nays Atkinson voted yes. Eight republicans voted against the bill, one democrat voted for the bill.

The Lewisburg Chronicle is author of the following fish item: A German carp, twenty four inches long, weighing over ten pounds was speared with a pith fork by a young man on the Negley farm near East Lewisburg on Saturday May 17. The monester fish was discovered in a pool of water a short distance below the carp pond of Mr. Harry Nesbit and no doubt escaped from that place during the flood of last June.

Reader, if you attended Port Royal Fair last fall, you have a recollection of Pawnee Bill—well here is something from the Newport Ledger, relative to Pawnee Bill's latest enterprise: Maj. Lillie, "Pawnee Bill," who is traveling with Given's show was here on Monday and succeeded in purchasing an old Concord stage of the Rice Brothers which will be used in exhibiting the methods Indians and other highway robbers on the plains, in robbing the mails and travelers. The stage is at Snyders & Kahler's undergoing repairs, after which it will be shipped to where Major Lillie orders.

The Tyrone Herald relates the particulars of a daring robbery perpetrated at the depot in that place some evenings ago. A family consisting of father, mother and little girl, in company with two other families, were on their way from Houtzdale to England. As they were getting on the train a stranger approached them with apparent intention of helping them on the train. Just as the woman was getting in, he suddenly reached for her pockets and deftly took her pocket book, containg $300, and started up between the baggage room and station in the direction of the warehouse. Before pursuit could be given he had disappeared in the darkness. The family was made almost frantic over the loss, but fortunately still retained their tickets and baggage checks and were able to proceed on their journey.

Allen's Great Eastern shows and trained animals exhibited here last Wednesday. If is did not come up to what it professed in its advertisement or paper statements, "it was still an tertaining show," so at least those who attended it say. There seems to be a weakness among men whether they are show people or people in other walks of life when they advertise or go on paper. For example, a man will go on paper in bank, on a promise to pay, when he has nothing to pay with. Another will relate a scandal, colored with as much of the rainbow finish in it as he can command. Another catches a 4 inch trout and before he closes his talk about it, the fish has lengthened to the size of 10 or 12 inches. Another is thirsty and he says he is dying for a drink. One man don't agree with another and they each call the other the crank. One man is a Presbyterian and the other a Methodist and in the opinion of each other neither one is right. Another is for tariff, the other is not and in the opinion of each other both are bent on ruining the buisness of the county and amids all of the exageration the newspaper man is declared to be at the head of the list of exagerations when in point of fact he is not. He is quite a conservative character when it comes to exageration, which is plain enough to any one who will observe what exagerated statements people make. If the statements of what one neighbor of this community says about his fellow neighbor and about the events and buisness of the day, could be published in a newspaper it would prove how conservative and cautious the newspapers are and how little of the exageration that afflicts every phase of human society finds its way into newspapers.

PIANOS-ORGANS.

The improved method of fastening strings of Pianos, invented by us, is one of the most important improvements ever made, making the instruments more richly musical in every tone, more durable, and less liable to get out of tune.

Both the Mason & Hamlin Organs and Pianos excel chiefly in that which is the chief excellence in any musical instrument, quality of tone. Other things, though important are much less so than this. An instrument with unmusical tones cannot be good. Illustrated catalogues of new styles, introduced this season, sent free.

ASSEMBLY.

EDITOR SENTINEL AND REPUBLICAN:—Announce that Wm Heitzler of Port Royal is a candidate for the nomination of Assemblyman from Juniata. Mr. Heitzler is the present member, and his record commends itself to such a degree that it seems like a mistake not to return him to the State Legislature.

PORT ROYAL.

COUNTY COMMISSIONER.

EDITOR SENTINEL AND REPUBLICAN: Please announce the name of W. Harry Moore, of Walker Twp., as a candidate for nomination for County Commissioner, subject to Republican usages. Mr. Moore's record as a Soldier and Citizen is without blemish and he possesses all the qualifications necessary to make a good and efficient officer, having received within a few votes of a majority three years ago, after not being able to canvass the county on account of sickness in his family, fully attests his claim for the office. MIFFLINTOWN.

May 12, 1890.

EDITOR SENTINEL AND REPUBLICAN:—Dear Sir:—The county government which is lodged in the board of County Commissioners, is of more importance in times of peace to the people of the county than the general government and therefore the board of county commissioners should be composed of honest and capable men, who will discharge the affairs of office for the general good. With this object in view I would name Joseph Seiber of Fayette township as a citizen abundantly qualified to fill the important office of county commissioner. His nomination at the primary election will give the people generally an opportunity to elect a good man to the important office in November.

JUNIATA.

COUNTY TREASURER.

EDITOR OF THE SENTINEL AND REPUBLICAN—Dear Sir:—James J. McMurtrie of Tuscarora township has numerous friends, who desire to have him announced as a candidate for the office of County Treasurer at the Republican Primary Election, subject, to the rules that govern the party, feeling satisfied that if he becomes the standard bearer for that office, he will prove a tower of strength before the people in old Tuscarora and the upper end, and throughout the entire county at the November election. He is a man of straight forward address and good business qualifications and common sense views of financial affairs.

TUSCARORA.

EDITOR OF THE JUNIATA SENTINEL AND REPUBLICAN—Dear Sir:—In conformity with the rules of the Republican party for primary nomination that all candidates for office must be publicly announced, I present the name of Luke Davis of Walker township as a most suitable man for the office of County Treasurer. Mr. Davis lives in the heaviest tax-paying township in the county, a township that has not been honored with a nomination for county office in years. He has been a heavy tax-payer all his life, an economical citizen, a tiller of the soil, a soldier in the Union army almost three years, a member of the National Guard five years, a good citizen every way, who will prove himself an efficient county officer, if the people will do themselves justice in electing him. WALKER.

EDITOR SENTINEL AND REPUBLICAN:—No man in this community has the public confidence to a greater degree for honesty of purpose and financial integrity than Frederick Espenschade, and for that reason he is one of the fittest men in the county for official position, therefore I present him as a candidate for the primary nominations for the office of County Treasurer. He has not been an office seeker and for that reason will be acceptable to a large majority of people. His extensive acquaintance which has been acquired throughout the county by diligent attention to business will make him invincible before the people in November.

MIFFLINTOWN.

EDITOR SENTINEL AND REPUBLICAN:—Dear Sir: John F. Ehrenzeller of Fayette township, may not be known personally to every man in the county, but wherever he is known his name when mentioned in connection with the nomination for the office of County Treasurer, inspires confidence. He is a man of the people and resides in the banner district of the county. The eyes of all Juniata are turned upon Fayette at election time. Considering the personal qualities of Mr. Ehrenzeller and the district in which he lives his nomination at the primary would be most timely and his election assured in November.

NO MORE OF THIS!

Rubber Shoes unless worn uncomfortably tight, will often slip off the feet. To remedy this evil the offer a shoe with the inside of the heel lined with rubber. This clings to the shoe and prevents the Rubber from slipping off.

"COLCHESTER" RUBBER CO.

Call for the "Colchester"
"ADHESIVE COUNTERS"
and you can walk, run or jump in them.

Consumption Surely Cured.
