Bismarck's bed room contains only three pieces of furniture—an enormous wash handstand, a small camp bedstead and a bedstead. There used to be a couple of hair brushes. "Take them away," said the Prince a few years ago "a towel will do to part my hair nowadays."
Mrs. Catherine Christy, wife of the late Jacob Christy, died on Saturday night after a lingering illness, aged 67 years. Interment in the Presbyterian cemetery on Tuesday afternoon. She was a daughter of John Seiger, a well known citizen of Juniata a half century ago.
There is excitement in Huntingdon county over the discovery that the debt of the county is between $5 and 40 thousand dollars more than reported by the late auditor's report, and that the county commissioners have exceeded their lawful power in bridge contracts, &c.
Dr. Cyrus Sieber has the kind of a horse to be commended. When the best teams away he runs furiously, but keeps the middle of the road, keeps out of the way of obstructions, makes no short curves, and ends the run with minimum damage. All of which the doctors animal did the other day.
The Patterson henchmen who are to tickle all the kickers within reach, and particularly the grange leader, wherever he may be found never tells that the Republican platform on which Delamater stands comes near the granger's requests in its professions than the platform on which Patterson stands.
The dog star is visible and will shine till the 28th of August, then disappear. While it is visible dog days prevail, and boys and people who bathe to frequently become afflicted with boils. Such is common belief, handed down from time out of date, a belief that is the outgrowth of Astrology of the past.
The Bloomfield Advertiser of July 16 says: On the 11th inst., the Perry County Commissioners granted a check of $50 to Geo. Jacobs, Esq., attorney for the stockholders of the Millintown Bridge for lumber used from their bridge which was taken away by the flood of May a year ago and lodged in this county.
From the Lewistown Sentinel: Some have heard the yield is just about 50 per cent, short of what it should be. * * * A. D. Wharton and Jno. Rothrock found a bee tree not long since and captured bees, honey and all by saving the tree off above and below the bees.
The other day in Lewistown a man aged 85 years, wanted a 60 year old man to pay him a debt of one dollar. The 60 year old man did not hand over the one dollar indebtedness, whereupon the 85 year old man fell upon the 60 year old man and proposed through one dollar's worth of him. The combatants were separated by the spectators.
In the Beaver county, congressional district, there is a fuss over the Republican congressional nomination. It is reported that the nomination was bought with money. At this distance, with meager information at hand, it is impossible to tell whether reports are true or whether all the fuss is caused, only by a set of malignant kickers.
A number of Millintown people in attendance upon Harrisburgh's big show the other night were not in the least harmed by the rain of fire upon Pompeii, but they were nearly drowned as people can be in a big rain, that is, down upon them, stripping their clothes and streaming down their bodies and bubbling out over their shoe tops.

Judge J. K. Patterson had a midnight drive the other night. He had come to the station to meet his nephew John S. Patterson of Canton, O., but he did not come in on the evening train and the Judge waited for the midnight train. His absence from home caused uneasiness in his family, and one of his sons started on his way down the valley to learn the cause of his protracted stay.
At a meeting of the Juniata county agricultural society held on June 14th, 1890, the association by resolution tendered the use of their grounds to the farmers of Juniata county, for the purpose of holding a farmers' market, picnic on August 19th, 1890 upon the grounds at Port Royal. Wm. HARTZLER, Secy.
Now is the time for city people to come to the country, and "La Me," what bad roads, entirely oblivious of the fact that a thinly scattered country population cannot support smooth roads like a densely populated city. Philadelphia county has not as many square miles as Juniata county. If Juniata county had as dense a population as Philadelphia, smooth roads like in the City of Brotherly Love would be possible.
The demands under the new pension bill will cause a deficit in the United States Treasury, that is not enough money will come into the Treasury to pay the pensions with other expenses of government. An empty Treasury will be one of the battle cries of the Democrats when the campaign opens. There will be one way open by which money can be raised to pay pensions, that is by an issue of government bonds.
Some nights ago thieves entered and ransacked the houses of John Lindsay, Wm. Lindsey, Samuel Fisher and George Harris, all in Millford township. The thieves carried off a quantity of clothing, a plow, &c. It is an awful offense to go into another man's house for the purpose of stealing and the man who is shot down in his tracks while thus employed is considered as properly disposed of.
The Chambersburg Repository says:—The Democratic candidate for Secretary of Internal affairs, William H. Barclay, says he thinks he is to be congratulated rather than rebuked for obtaining $75,000 from the Louisiana State Lottery. Mr. Barclay may think he is a subject for congratulation, but the people of Pennsylvania will not care to elevate to a high office a man who has made his money by such nefarious business as gambling in a lottery.
Last Thursday afternoon was a day for raging storms in many places in Pennsylvania. Many barns were struck by lightning. In many places the rain was heavy enough to flood streams and do damage in that way. At Ashland, Pa., $100,000 damage was done in the way of wrecking of buildings. Some of the hail stones were six inches in circumference. The only damage done that day in Juniata county was the burning of John Kurtz's barn, near Richfield.
Mifflintown, Pa., July 21, 1890.
The Prohibitionists of Juniata Co., are hereby called to meet in Convention, Aug. 9th, at Lockport, P. M., in Court House for the purpose of nominating a county ticket and electing delegates to State Convention, and to transact any other business pertaining to the party work of the county. All Prohibitionists are requested to meet in this Convention without regard to sex.
W. F. SWENEN, Chairman Co. Com.

A fine rain passed across the western end of the county, but did no damage as far as heard from. The middle part of the county received no rain.
On railroad pay day, David Houz, drew his check and after sending payments in Patterson, left $22 in his pocket, four five dollar notes and a two dollar note. When he arrived at his home the money was missing. He retraced his steps and looked carefully along the road he had travelled but failed to find it.
Walter Smith, son of G. W. Smith of Walker township, was coming to town on Monday with a load of hay for his grandfather, Mr. George Smith. On the hill, on this side of where Slaughterback crosses the wagon lock broke. In an instant the wagon by its own weight was propelled forward, and to get out of its way the horses were compelled to run. They made railroad time down that grade. At the foot of the hill the wagon jumped and that caused a hind wheel to fall to pieces. The young man borrowed a wheel from a citizen of the neighborhood, and delivered the hay for his grandfather, all right by Monday noon.
H. H. Snyder was in town the other day with chippings from a well digger's drill bit, that had been taken from a well that is being deepened on the property of Joseph M. Hubler of Turbutt township. The chippings are a dark coal like soft steaming, which has given rise to conjecture that the drillers have struck stone coal at the depth of about 30 feet from the surface of the ground. Everybody hopes stone coal has been found, and with little expense the best of the rock can be made. Geologists sometimes do not see right the nature of the rocks. If they are right in their placement of Juniata county in the Geological scale, there is no more stone coal in Juniata county than there is in a man's hand.
George R. McClellan Benler, aged about 25 years, a native of this town, in the service of the railroad company as a brakeman and fireman at Ashland was killed by cars on the Hollidaysburg main line sometime between Saturday evening and Sunday morning. A report is current that he had worked continuously for a period of 38 hours and Saturday evening went to a party, and on his way back was so overcome for want of rest that he sat down by the track and rested his head on his left arm, and was in that condition when he was struck by an engine. His head was crushed. The verdict of the coroner's jury is "his death was caused by being run over by a train of cars on the Hollidaysburg branch near Fairmont street and North avenue, was killed by carelessness resulted from his being under the influence of liquor." His remains were brought to this place and interred in the Presbyterian grave-yard.
The Tuscarora Valley Harvest Home Association will hold its annual picnic on Panmabaker's Island, near Honey Grove, Juniata county, Pa., on Saturday, August 9, 1890. Addresses will be delivered by prominent speakers upon important questions of the day—agriculture, politics, education and temperance. Good music, instrumental and vocal will be furnished. The object of the picnic is to provide an opportunity for a social gathering that will give profit and pleasure to all who attend. Jos. H. Landis, President; executive committee, J. H. Junk, J. M. Beale, J. T. Work.
