"The potato crop in Rhode Island is believed to be the largest known in that State. Since July 9, 11,000 barrels have been sent to Europe."
Street contractor Smith has had a force of men with teams hauling stone on Washington street. The breaking of the stone goes vigorously on.
J. Earl Ogle has been appointed post master of Johnstown. He is a son of Mrs. Ogle, the heroic telegraph operator who went down in the flood.
Rev. Philip Graff, of the Lutheran church is away on vacation, in consequence of which there will be no preaching until the 1st Sabbath in September.
This from the Newport Ledger—Bubbling for eels has become quite a fad among our young men. As high as 25 have been caught by one bobber in an evening.
An exchange remarks: If the gossipers of our town would think of the fact that a still tongue makes a wise head, it would doubtless prove beneficial to them.
One of the queer freaks of human conduct that has caused an untold amount of talk in York State is the case of a Buffalo barber who eloped with his mother-in-law.
A drink of lemonade or butter milk taken by itself is wholesome, but mix them or drink of both at one and the same time, and you'll stir up a rebellion in your stomach.
Cards are out for the wedding of John Chestnut, of Lewistown, and Miss Annie L. Kemper, of Selinsgrove, in the Lutheran church in Selinsgrove, Aug. 7 at 8 o'clock P. M.
A grandson of George Sales—aged about 4 years—near Patterson had the end of his nose bitten off by the family dog several days ago. The dog was not mad, but bad.
Teb, Mange, and scratches on human or animal cured in 30 minutes by Woodford's Sanitary Lotion. This new hair restorer, sold by L. Banks & Co., Druggists, Mifflintown, Nov. 6.
Ex-Governor Pattison is a good writer, or faint finger, but when one looks for his works, he finds them in the extra session of the Legislature that sat a year and did nothing.
Martin Pannabaker, son of Philip Pannabaker fell from a picnic swing in Schweizer's woods several days ago, thereby fracturing his right wrist. Dr. W. H. Banks, reduced the fracture.
Mrs. James Deen and daughter Lillie, formerly of this town, but now of Kansas, dropped off a day, between trains last week, to call on friends while on their way to Harrisburg.
The frame of the Court House clock has given way to such an extent, that the clock hammer strikes the wood work instead of the ball, and that is the reason the clock don't strike.
T. L. Evers of the Internal Department at Harrisburg was in town last week collecting from the county records in the Court House farm statistics, and whether cultivated by the owners, &c.
Juniata people have received letters from relatives in certain parts of Kansas stating that they have abandoned their farms on account of the drought—Everything on the farms is dried into crisp by the sun.
Reports from all parts of the country are encouraging for a profitable corn crop, excepting close around the county seat. Here for want of rain at the proper time the corn will be heavily discounted.
On last Wednesday Annie Craig, a daughter of her father David Craig is showing at a piece of wood had a splint slip into her toulst in such a way that she could not remove it. Dr. D. M. Crawford was summoned and removed it.
Work for the rebuilding of the cremery at this place has been commenced. The business will be under the direct management of J. G. Haltman of Thompsonstown, who is one of the most competent business men in the county.
A warrant was served on a young man named Spangler, from Lewis town, last Wednesday, for demerol strating with a revolver in this town on the 4th of July. Spangler gave bail for appearance at court in Juniata county to answer the charge.
Letters remaining in the Patterson, Pa. P. O., not called for: Miss C. Sandrock, Postals: Isaac Sicles. Persons calling for them are advised to list please say they are advertised.
W. H. McNeill, P. M. Aug. 1, 1890.
A double affliction invaded the home of Mr. Irwin C. Stewart of Mc Coyville. On the 21st of July, his sister, Mrs. Maggie Bidwell, died, and a week later, July 27th, his wife, died. It is seldom that bereavements follow each other in such rapid succession.
This from the Newport News: Pensions aggregating $2019.52 have been granted Mrs. Kate Holman and two minor children of Abram Holman, late of Oliver township. Mrs. Holman will receive $12 a month hereafter and the children each $2 a month until they are 16 years old.
George Childs of the Philadelphia Public Ledger, has put into form in a little book his "Recollections of General Grant." Mr. Childs was a close friend of the General, and his little book will prove to be valuable to coming students and writers of American history.
Mr. John M. McNemar of Centre township, while running through one of his fields on the 2nd of last January lost a valuable watch. Last Friday in leading hay he saw the watch lying near by. He wound up the time piece and it started just if it had not lain exposed to the elements for over six months.—Duncannon Record.

The Johnstown, flood relief committee have published a statement of their financial receipts, and payments, the total receipts, near $2,922,346.39. Expenditures $2,582,939.83. The commissioners have in hand $367,205.47.
A Pike county poet attuned his muse, and then sang:
"Eight years ago, Bob Pattison, You stole in through a blunder, But things have changed since eighty-two, And you'll 'jest ficked like thunder."
Advertised list of letters remaining in the Post Office, at Mifflintown, Penna., for week ending Aug. 2, '90. Persons calling for mail in this list will please ask for advertised matter: Letters: Miss Fiebe Thompson, Mrs. Sallina Fagely, Albert Diehl, Postal Card; Lucian Thompson, James McCauley, P. M.
English Spavin Liniment removes all Hives, Swells or Caloused Lumps and Blemishes, from horses, Blood Spavin, Curbs, Splints, Sweeney, Ring-bone, Stiles, Sprains, all Swollen Throats, Coughs, &c. Save $50 by the use of one bottle. Warranted the most wonderful blemish cure ever known. Sold by L. Banks & Co., Druggists, Mifflintown, Nov. 6.
Governor Beaver, and Mrs. Beaver, were the guests of Mr. Wilson Loyd, near Oakland, during the last week. Mrs. Beaver, proceeded the Governor two or three days. The Governor came on Friday evening, and was taken out to Mr. Loyd's place by Dr. Lucian Banks, who is a cousin of Mrs. Beaver. On Saturday afternoon the Governor, was the guest of Mr. Wm. Banks, in this town.
"Look out for counterfeit two dollar silver certificates. They are floating in New York and will find their way into the interior. The counterfeit is a dangerous one. It is described as being one half inch shorter than the real bill. The seal is of a decided brick color, while that of the true bill is a pinkish-red shade. The head of Hancock is also "serately" in the counterfeit."
Governor Pattison, and his company of dudes, who were with him on a visit to the Soldier's Orphan Asylum at Altoona, were so delighted in their views of the every day affairs of life that they were shocked at the clean bed sheets of coarse muslin that were in use in the school. Such are the reformers that farmers and other citizens are invited to support for the governorship of the Commonwealth.
The Huntingdon Globe of last week says—Scott Miller, who was employed for several years as driver for James L. Woodcock, died suddenly at his residence on Sunday night, aged about 40 years. He retired in apparent good health at ten o'clock. Shortly before eleven his wife heard him gasping, after which he gave a loud scream, and then died. Deceased was a very steady man, a quiet, unobtrusive citizen, and had many friends in town. He leaves a wife and no children.
In harkening time, as John Phillips and John Hatfield were hauling hay into their barn, in Porter town, ship, the load which they were hauling from some unknown cause caught fire and quickly blazing up could not be extinguished and in a very few minutes the barn, together with its contents, except the live stock, was totally consumed. The barn was situated a short distance from Alexandria, near the Juniata iron works. Loss between $1,200 and $1,500. Insurance, $1,000.—Lewistown Gazette.
Editor Over of the Hollidaysburg Register, went from his mountain home down to the sea to sail from Philadelphia to Boston on the ship Parthian, and passed through the experience of a collision at sea. The Parthian in a fog ran into the ship Florence loaded with ice. After taking off the crew the Parthian towed the Florence into New York harbor. That was an experience for a highland editor worth talking about. Brother Over is to be congratulated that he did not find a resting place with the famous chestnut.
The barn of Jacob Snyder, situated about four miles west of Middleburg, caught fire from the sparks of a locomotive on the railroad on Saturday evening, July 19th about six o'clock, and was burned to the ground, with all its contents, including about 700 bushels of unthreshed wheat, 400 bushels of oats, 46 loads of hay and nearly all his farming implements, including a harrow, threshing machine, &c. All the live stock was gotten out but about 100 chickens. The loss is estimated at $3,000. It was insured for $2,630.—Lewistown Gazette.
While Peter Heffer of Penn Twp., was out on Friday evening, a large copperhead snake took the advantage of him in the dark and bit him on both feet so severely that both legs swelled up to twice their natural size. Mr. Heffer was in his bare feet at the time and had just walked a few steps from the front door to see if the clouds threatened rain. The injuries were very painful until Dr. Orady of McConnellsburg was summoned and removed the poisonous substance from the wounds. Fortunately they succeeded in killing the reptile before it got time to escape.—Huntingdon Journal.
Ex-Governor Pattison has begun to swing around the circle. He was at Pittsburg the other day and attended a large picnic, but could not be induced to make a speech. Now if Mr. Pattison had not ability to make a speech, his silence would not be wondered at but he is a good speech maker, and as a rule is a fierce critic. The fact is, his past strength has been more in his criticisms and fault findings than in his works. So then it is not surprising that when he filled the ink at Pittsburg, it gave rise to the belief that he is guilty of moral cowardice, being afraid he might say something not quite in accordance with the facts of events and thereby injure himself as a candidate.
Machine made ice was the curiosity of the town last Friday. People passed it around and examined it critically and pronounced it equal in clearness and compactness to the best of ice, made by the old fashioned freezing weather. The day was one of the warmest of the year, with the thermometer registering 100 degrees, which was a strong test to apply to the ice. The congealed stuff stood the test of the warm day, as well as the best winter made ice. The natives were a good deal surprised over the manufacture of ice. One woman, said "I did not believe that any body but God, could make ice, but here I see it made in 300 pound cakes. Man must be getting smart when he can do such things. Visiting the ice making machine was kept up till a late hour on Friday night.

The McConnellsburg Republican of July 30, says, George B. and William Adams, the parties who stole Mr. John Hartzock's horse and buggy from a campmeeting held on Social Island, near Spoutport, Franklin county, on Sunday night the 20th inst. passed through town on Saturday last, securely shackled, hand and foot. They were cleverly outwitted and captured by Constable Bardollar, of Everett, who was giving them a free ride, and ticket for admission to the Chambersburg jail. They had traded the buggy to a party in Huntingdon county, and from thence they drove to Everett, where they were captured. Mr. Hartzock's full rig, as stolen, was at the Eagle Hotel on Saturday night, in charge of Benjamin Hage of Chambersburg, and left for their home on Sunday morning last.

The Chambersburg Repository says—The Cumberland Valley Railroad Company is erecting a warehouse in the yards at this place, adjoining the freight station, to be used exclusively for the packing and shipment of eggs. The warehouse is of brick two stories high, 75 feet long and 27 feet wide, a cellar underneath.
The building will be occupied by egg shippers, whose business has grown to be of very large proportions. They have a number of teams which collect eggs all over the county, and they also have eggs shipped to them from Martinsburg, Winchester and other points. Heretofore they have had to repack the eggs and then take them to the freight station but when the warehouse is completed all the repacking will be done there.
The firm is now shipping from here 7,000 to 10,000 dozens of eggs a week or from 4,000,000 to 6,000,000 eggs a year and their business is constantly increasing. The hens of Franklin county are doing their share towards increasing the wealth of the county.

Reception.
