

FEMINE FANCIES.

MATTERS OF INTEREST FOR OUR WOMEN READERS.

Short Bits of Gossip and Latest Notes of Fashion.

An innovation in bridal flowers is noticed in the preference for colored rather than the white flowers, the bride's bouquet par excellence being the old-fashioned kitchen garden sweet pea, than which no blossom can be fairer or more fragrant.

Decorations for the house of mourning are no longer confined to set pieces of the florist's manufacture. The chamber of death is converted into a floral bower with garlands of roses, banks of pure white lilies, and beds of soft pansies.

A small, black-eyed woman about 55 years of age, giving the name of Mrs. Menzies, arrived in the town of Warren on horseback on the evening of Sept. 15, says the St. Paul Globe, and stayed overnight at the home of Henry Wheeler.

Neighbors naturally develop a quickness at reading faces as well as a freedom in asking and answering questions. One of this class was peddling his wares in a railway train, and in passing back and forth was struck with the appearance of a woman.

The magazines for women grow in number daily. The Ladies' Home Journal has just begun a new novel by Maud Howe.

The beer people of England have minted millions. They have put two score millions into the brewing business in this country and don't seem to mind it.

Industry cannot be finished for several years, because in the first place the best diamonds are very scarce, and secondly because the diamonds that are available in the market must be a perfect match.

Even for milk production, as is well known to most farmers, a hearty, thrifty condition is quite as important as it is for the production of fat.

Old John Ferris made a snug sum for himself by buying at a low figure from the farmer a pair of heavy, bawky horses that he heard of that were otherwise sound, and when cured, selling them at a handsome advance.

A high spirited horse, driven only a few miles occasionally, should not be fed as freely as another animal driven for long distances daily.

It is not likely that the fellow who was much the wiser when the woman gave her name as Maria Mitchell. Probably he had never heard of our famous astronomer.

The company found that 3000 horses fed on 16 pounds ground oats, seven and one-half pounds cut hay, and 10-12 pounds cut straw did as much work and kept in as good condition as another 3000 fed on 16 pounds whole oats and 13 pounds cut hay.

Ever since man and whiskers there wind has blown through them and over them and all around them, and over their chin and nose and eyebrows.

These hard rains are what test the value of your hen houses. You have regretted it that you got that rat dog, have you? We told you so.

Now is a good time to start the incubator. Broilers in January generally bring high prices. Don't throw the poultry manure on a pile. You lose the ammonia.
