Shelly, George Martin and Robert McLean each delivered a short address on the subject pertinent to the topic appointed for the evening on which they spoke.

come home on Friday, as he usually did, to spend Saturday and Sunday with his parents. On Saturday evening he had retired, but on Sunday morning it was discovered that his bed had not been occupied, and a note was found in his room, stating that for causes he mentioned, he intended to commit suicide. This morning known, searching parties promptly were out; his tracks were traced on the snow and his lifeless body was found late in the evening in an unused luncheon room northeast of town, near Mr. Beard's residence, by Messrs. Edward Clonker, Clegg and Nickel, it was taken to undertaker Nickel's in this town and prepared for burial. His throat was cut, the arteries of his wrists were severed, and a bottle of Laudanum was found. The knife had wood and brush in it and the body was raised to its top. What was the exciting cause of the sad death is not known to us.

Dr. Silas Lane while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick headaches in one night. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for the clearing up of the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 30 cents a package.

When the Democratic brethren are whooping up and down the territory never let that from a barrel of corn the distiller gets four gallons of whisky which will retail at $15. The Government gets $1.00, the farmer gets 40c; the railroad gets $1; the manufacturer gets $4; the retailer gets $7 and the consumer gets drunk. Again it is illustrated that in this cruel world the heaviest burden and least profit falls upon the poor consumer.

In by gone winters a favorite place from which to obtain a supply of ice was Cobscook Point. The great flood of 1889, however, opened a new place. The raft of water of that flood washed a deep hole in Lost Creek under the pile bridge, and the ice formed on the deep water there is the favorite place from which to secure the congealed water for ice houses in town. All last week, ice a foot thick was hauled from that place.
