Last Friday, a meeting was held in a public square in New Orleans after which 3000 citizens marched to the jail, broke down the doors, went and shot 11 Italian prisoners, who had been sentenced by a court jury, the murderer of Chief of police David C. Hennessy. The officer had been waylaid in one of the streets of the city, and shot by two gangs, who had been selected in one of the secret lodges of the foreigners of the city. His body was riddled with bullets.

Ah, how Cockrell the Illinois legislator whose vote elected General Palmer to the United States Senate, it is said was inveigled into seeing the sights in Chicago, and among other things was induced to play poker. And most singular of all game he won and won till he had won between $3,000 and $4,000, when he returned to the Legislature he was a Palmer man. There is a row among the Alliance men now. Naughty Democrats.

The Lewistown Free Press says: That Harry Urah, a resident of Lewistown and a brakeman on the Sunbury and Lewistown railroad, was knocked from his train on Monday while it was crossing the Middle Creek bridge. The stream was swollen by recent rains and his body was not recovered until two hours and a half after the accident, and it was not known whether he was killed or drowned.

A rich New York woman had her thick neck reduced so as to permit a costly necklace to fit it, and had a half dozen wrinkles removed from her face by a professional beautifier. The beautifier sent in a bill for nine hundred dollars which the husband refused to pay. He offered one hundred dollars. That sum was refused, and the case goes to court, and now the New York multitude want to see the case go on so that they may know how the rich of Gotham reduce their fleshy persons and how they remove wrinkles.

The Altoona Tribune reports Judge Furst as saying: In Bellefonte we have three licensed houses and no "speakeasies." In Huntingdon they have no license, and to my personal knowledge there are ten "speakeasies," all doing a flourishing business. We can't get them out because the doors are always locked, and the constables can't get in to return them. The way they do is for every patron to carry a key to the door and whenever he wants to go there, unlock the door, walk in and lock it after him, and then drink as much as he pleases.

From the Bloomfield Times.—"Last Friday noon, a week, while the teacher of township school No. 1, a Liverpool, was at home for dinner, two of the boys were carrying a young son of Milton H. Lauer on their hands, and he fell off against the teacher's desk and broke one of his legs." * * * Mr. J. L. Sibble, of Harrisburg, has bought the Mrs. Elder farm and part of the Dice farm in the Cove and will scoop out ground for a large lake, which will be supplied by several mountain streams. He will stock the pond with carp and cut ice from it in winter, thus raising two crops annually. He also intends making a splendid summer resort.

Says the Liverpool Sun: A subscriber would like to know whether the beavers killed at the county almshouse during the past year had no hides on them, as there is no account given of any in the report. * * * Last Thursday evening between 4 and 5 o'clock, Martin Memperly while engaged in cutting wood at the home of Frank Bankler on the hill above the old Montebello Farm, cut an ugly gash in the instep of his left foot. The blood spurled from the wound, and it flowed the greater part of the night. No physician was summoned until the next morning, when the poor fellow's life blood had run from him, and he died from the great quantity of blood he lost. He was 24 years of age.

When Captain H. A. Stambaugh alighted from his carriage at the Lutheran church, last Saturday, whether he had gone to attend a meeting to make out a formal call for the service of Rev. Mr. Holloway, he was surprised to see one of his Plymouth Rock boys leave the vehicle. On closer inspection he found the boy's seat with two eggs in it, in the carriage. It was meeting time, and he must needs go into the church and not bother with hens, so he did the agreeable by telling a woman who stood near by: "That is my hen, she came with me from the farm, you may have her if you catch her." The woman set about to capture the fowl, but the Captain could not delay long enough to witness the result.

Perry County Freeman: Eggs must be plenty. Joseph McCauley, of Shermansdale shipped from Dan-cannon last week, 2,300 dozen * * * The Dan-cannon nail factory turned out last week 1675 kegs of finished nails. * * * The bill to reimburse the several counties for the destruction of bridges by the flood of 1889, was discussed by Senators Woods, Williamson, Lloyd and Sloan, on last Wednesday, and then passed by a vote of 35 yeas to 7 nays.

The counties are to be relieved of some of the burden cast upon them by the flood of 1889, if this Legislature has the power. The bill fastening upon the state the cost of the bridges of the past two years, went through the Senate with the very emphatic endorsement of 35 yeas and only seven nays. It is proper legislation. Many of the counties being largely by the flood, are among those least able to bear the loss, and it is the best sort of equalizing tax legislation for the State to assume a portion of the burden.—Huntingdon Journal.

A bill has been introduced into the lower House at Harrisburg to prevent the spread of disease in peach trees known as the yellow. It provides for the destruction of peach almond apricot or nectarine trees and the fruit thereof infected with the contagious disease.—When the existence of such disease becomes known to any supervisor of a town, ship or street commissioner of a borough or city, he appoints three free holders as commissioners, who upon or without complaint have the right to enter upon property and examine trees and condemn any if infected. Ten days notice must be given the owner to remove the trees and destroy them by fire. When the owner refuses to obey, the commissioners have the right to employ all necessary aid for the destruction of said trees, the expense to be charged the proprietor. Failure to remove infected trees after due notification is punishable by a fine not exceeding $10, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding ten days. The commissioners are allowed $2 per day, the township, borough or city, where service is rendered to pay the costs. Such fees can be recovered from the owner of the diseased fruit or trees by process of law.

Rev. A. R. Miller, D. D., who formerly preached in Mifflintown, but now pastor of the Altoona Chestnut Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, while on his way to Sunbury on Tuesday, to attend the annual session of the central Pennsylvania conference, was the victim of a painful accident at Williamsport which is thus described by the Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin of that place.

"He was on the day express and expected to leave the train going east at Market street. While the train was passing down through the yard at a rapid pace, Mr. Miller who had been in conversation, believing that the train had passed the station, asked the conductor if they had passed market street. The conductor understood him to ask if the train stopped at Market street and nodded his head. Mr. Miller quickly seized his hat and hastened to the platform, sprang from the train a short distance above Hopburn street. Not being an expert at the business, Mr. Miller was thrown violently to the ground, sustaining a fracture of the right arm near the shoulder, and an ugly cut on the face. The unfortunate man was seen to fall by a trainman who jumped from the platform and ran to his assistance. The injured minister was assisted to the office of Dr. Rich, where that gentleman assisted by Dr. McCormick, reduced the fracture." "Dr. Miller returned home yesterday with a very painful arm. His numerous friends will regret the unfortunate accident of which he was the victim.

Reported Highway Robbery. Monday evening an old gentleman named Faltz, of Juniata county, stopped at the St. Charles hotel and paid for his accommodation out of a $5 bill. He then went up town, and after a time returned to the hotel and went to bed. The next morning he informed Landlord Waresam that while out during the evening he went into a store to get some candy and as he stepped out of the place one of his knees gave way and just as it did some person grabbed his pocket book which he yet held in his hand and ran rapidly away and disappeared. This leaving the poor man money Mr. Waresam advanced enough to take him home.—Lewistown Gazette, last week.

OUR HATS AND FURNISHING GOODS. Are worth coming for. They certainly are the greatest bargains ever offered in these lines. Reduced prices all along the line. Saying that we have made Reductions in each and every garment does not fittingly express how cheaply we are selling off our stock. We literally give free not only the profits, but a large slice of the cost. This may appear incredible, but it is positively true and you will say so, too, when you visit us. Such low prices for fine clothing and furnishings have never been known in Juniata county, and every citizen should take advantage of it at once.
