CLEVELAND out of the race.—Farmer Cookrell, the Illinois legislator, says that 4,000,000 farmers will not permit Gov. Cleveland to be elected President again.

SECRET Societies at the best are not of much use. Too frequently they are used by designing men to combine against people who do not belong to them, and to use their secret methods against the business interests of outside people, but when they add murder to their list of conspiracies as was the case of the New Orleans Mafia it is about time that the ways of secret societies are looked into by the people at large.

Sheared His Sheep in February

From the Concordville Courier.
Gustave Dently, of Randolph township, was arraigned before A. Sherman, Weir, at Meadville, to answer a charge of cruelty to animals, preferred by Humans Agent McKinney. Mr. Dently is the owner of a flock of 175 sheep, and had them sheared about the middle of February. He claims that he is shearing them for market and that they are easier kept and increase in weight faster when sheared. The accused waived a hearing and was bound over to the next term of court, after furnishing $300 bail. Dently has long been a prominent Republican politician, and was candidate for Sheriff of Crawford county in 1887.

Discontent—Envy.

Jared Lincoln an educated man, who had made within a few years, a large fortune by speculation, while driving out to Central Park, passed Mr. Crouse, a plainly dressed, middle-aged gentleman, who was on foot. "That man," he said to his wife, "belongs to one of the oldest families in New York. His grandfather was one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence. He has been brought up in the midst of refined and scholarly people. He belongs to a set into which I cannot enter. I would give half that I am worth for his position in life." In the meantime Mr. Crouse looked at the carriage in its appointments and equipments and thought, if I had some of that man's money, how many comforts I could bring into our household.

Down one of the leafy avenues, a man sauntered thoughtfully, whose name is known throughout the country as a brilliant magazineist. One of the foremost men in Wall Street rode past him. The man having met at the club, bowed to each other. "Ah," thought the novelist, "if I could live without writing anything but checks!"

That fellow is famous thought Dives on horseback, with an envious sigh. He had in his pocket a yellow newspaper clipping in which his name occurred as having made a few remarks at dinner. Dives thought of this clipping and said to himself what happiness it would be to see your name in print every day! How much finer a gift than money!

Another woman's eyes grew troubled as she looked wistfully into the serene face of the clergyman's wife.

"Oh, to have her faith she thought when sickness and death came, she knew where to turn as she does! To live always apart from the worry and pain of the world, close to God! So each man and woman went on a separate way, envying the other. For the great mistake in life is that each of us over rates the peculiar blessing which God has bestowed upon our brother, and is blind to the good which he has given to us.—Youth's Companion.

Hal Hi! The Boy.

From the Huntingdon Globe of last week: The Brush Ridge school house in Jackson township has closed a successful religious revival, presided over by the Rev. J. R. Eberly, of Lewisport. An unusual event occurred a few nights ago, which threw the congregation into some excitement and gave a temporary check to the services. Rev. Eberly has shown in his prayers a decided preference for the phrase, "O Lord shower down thy blessings upon us." On the night referred to nearly a score of penitents had assembled at the improvised altar, railing, and when the venerable minister had fervently at that period of his opening prayer where he invoked a down-pour of Divine blessings, a climax was given to his words by a copious shower of water from the trap door in the attic just above the kneeling preacher and penitents. The prayer was interrupted, the audience was thrown into a condition of extreme excitement and the services came to a sudden stop.

Only one of the women in the congregation appeared undisturbed by the unusual proceedings. She was Mrs. John L. Smith, sitting in the rear of the room. Her suspicions were at once aroused as to the cause of the singular fulfillment of the preacher's invocation, and she at once set about to seek their confirmation. Rising from her seat and going forward, she directed the janitor to search the attic overhead. After considerable trouble the portly custodian of the school house succeeded in pushing his body through the little trap door, when he found Master John L. Smith, Jr., a 15 year old lad, hiding in a farther corner of its dusty confines. The young practical joker was lowered to the meeting

The Democrats are talking about the heavy appropriations of Congress, but they will tell only a part of the truth, which is said to be wicked as to tell a straight out falsehood. They say that the large sums of the late appropriations are to pay debts contracted for, but not paid by the Cleveland administration and the Democratic Congress of that period.

A Crawford county man sheared a flock of sheep in February and forthwith an agent of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, sued him for cruelty to sheep. The sheep grower says it is a benefit to sheep in every way to clip them in February. He was put under bail in the sum of three hundred dollars, to answer the charge of the agent in Court.

From the Bloomfield Advocate: About four months ago William Munger, of Landisburg, tried an experiment and was successful. He found that one of his chickens had no passage from the craw to the stomach, so he cut open the craw, took out a piece of potato rind, stitched the craw shut again and to-day the chicken is as well as ever. He said that it would either kill or cure it, as it would die anyhow, and he cured it.

From the Bloomfield Times of last week: John Cassell, lost a fine milk cow, last week, it hung itself with the halter in the stable. This makes the fourth milk he has lost, in a little over a year's time. * * * A Newport letter says: The married man of Bloomfield, who makes frequent calls on a widow in this place, had better look out. * * * Mr. Josiah Kell has lost the misfortune to lose a fine 2-year-old colt last Monday in a rather strange way. It appears the barnyard gate was open and the colt in running out of the barn yard stepped on a stone and the violent wrench caused by the stone rolling, broke the colt's leg in two places, and to end its suffering Mr. Kell killed the animal.

The honest foreigner is welcome to come to America, but the scum of European criminal society, murderers and assassins, such as are members of the "Black Legion," who are bent on doing wrong against the lives of citizens, who are not with them in their purpose, and who appoint by lot assassins to murder such people as they desire to have murdered, and then by bribery and false swearing, and by the packing of juries through the forms of law, secure the escape of the murderers will not be tolerated in America. It is proper that Italy should look into the matter and learn what kind of her people have been shot and hung by Lynch law in New Orleans, but it is becoming a serious time not to do it with bluster.

New York Press.—From March, 1888, to March, 1887, the first two years of the first Democratic administration, the public debt was reduced by $265,000,000. Comparison is odious, but in this comparison in favor of Benjamin Harrison's record amounts to $123,393,700. It is the Republican against the Democratic record!

The parties who have been at work in a sneaking way to do what they can to prevent the passage of an act to relieve the people of the burden of tax imposed by the washing away of judges by the June flood are known here, and will be exposed at the proper time. When their names are exposed it will become unbecomingly warm for them in the Juniata Valley.

206 Young Women!! An Indiana girl has taken the prize of $200 offered by The Cosmopolitan Magazine for "the best article of 4000 words descriptive of farm life, with suggestions as to the best method of making farm life attractive and happy," only farmers' daughters being permitted to enter the competition. The design of The Cosmopolitan was to draw out an expression of opinion as to the important problems of happiness and discomfort in the modern farm, and it was so successful that more than 200 manuscripts, very many of them ably prepared, and representing nearly every State and Territory, were sent to the prize awarded by Prof. H. H. Boyesen and the editor of The Cosmopolitan, the final committee of award, to Miss Jennie E. Hooker of McCutcheon, near Evansville, Ind. Her article will appear in the April number of The Cosmopolitan, and the same number will contain a very interesting article on the Farmer's Alliance, by the newly elected United States Senator Peffer, of Kansas. The Cosmopolitan is one of the few periodicals, which, while gaining circulation in the cities more rapidly than in the country, yet devote special attention to all matters pertaining to the farm. Taking the prize over so many competitors, doubtless Miss Hooker's article will present numerous ideas worth the consideration of those who find their happiness or discomfort within the limits of farm homes. (Price 25 cents, Cosmopolitan Publishing Company Madison Square, New York.)

A Governor's Opinion. An ex-General of the Union Army, ex-Governor of the State of Maine, ex-Representative to Congress, and ex-Attorney General, speaks for us.

With the exception, possibly, of Hon. James G. Blaine, there is no man so well-known to the people of Maine, as Gen. HARRIS M. PLAICED.

Who has a grand record as a soldier, who has been the governor of the State, Representative to Congress, and was for a present the editor and proprietor of the "New Age" newspaper, published in Augusta, Me. General Plaiced, formerly a Senator of Maine, Me., knew Dr. Williams' Sarsaparilla.

Plaiced, who has a grand record as a soldier, who has been the governor of the State, Representative to Congress, and was for a present the editor and proprietor of the "New Age" newspaper, published in Augusta, Me. General Plaiced, formerly a Senator of Maine, Me., knew Dr. Williams' Sarsaparilla.

Dr. Williams' Sarsaparilla is based upon personal knowledge of its curative properties in cases of Malaria, and upon our long acquaintance with that eminent physician, Dr. Williams H. Brown, late of Bangor, who perfected the formula by which the medicine is prepared.

Malaria is a prevalent disease nowadays. It not only fastens itself upon the systems of old veterans, who fought for years in the southern swamps and lowlands, but it takes hold of those who live in the atmospheres of the cities and larger towns. Cases from swamps, single rivers, swamps, the streets, and many other ill kept places, poison the system, making the entrance of some other disease easy. You can avoid all danger, can be cured at a distance, and have a system teeming with rich blood and vitality, by simply using Brown's Sarsaparilla, which purifies the blood when others fail. Write for the full particulars.

Dr. Williams' Sarsaparilla. ALL DRUGGISTS SELL IT. Beware of cheap imitations. DON'T TAKE Sarsaparilla unless you get the name. Ask VANDERBILT, Sole Proprietor, New York.
