This from a sensible woman: "Turn that wrapping paper the other side out," said a lady in a dry goods store recently, as the clerk was putting up her purchase in wrapping paper. "I don't want to be a walking advertisement for your store. I read the papers as all intelligent people ought to do, and I think that in them is the place to advertise your business. Instead of asking your customers to carry your sign around with each purchase of goods, go tell the people through the papers what you have to sell, and for how you sell it."

It is thought that the trap was laid to wreck the special.

Judge Dean Fines a Jurymen. Soon after court convened Wednesday morning, Judge Dean had called before him Frank Woods, of Altoona, who, when called as a juror on Tuesday afternoon on a case was visibly intoxicated when he appeared before the court in answer to his name, and he was ordered to leave the court room and to return Wednesday morning. When the case appeared before Judge Dean, Wednesday morning he was sober and in his right mind, and in a condition to appreciate the lecture then given him. The judge explained to Woods the important position a juror held and the responsibilities which rested upon a juror who was called upon to decide upon the lives, liberties and properties of the people and the great necessity that the jurors be sober, intelligent and judicious citizens. The Jury Commissioner's duty was to place only the names of such citizens upon the jury list, and they had thought him to be such a citizen. If he had gone on the jury and the case been tried the verdict would have been set aside at great cost to the suitors and the county; that never before during his term as judge in Blair county, had he been called upon to publicly disgrace a juror, and he greatly regretted the unpleasant duty, which he could not shrirk or avoid had been forced upon him, but the dignity of the law and the respect of the law must be maintained and enforced. Such disgraceful and insulting conduct could not be passed unrebuked and unpunished, and he ordered that Frank Woods pay a fine of $25 for contempt of Court and that his name be taken from the jury list and that his name never again be placed in the jury wheel until he has secured further attendance during the present term of Court.—Hollidaysburg Register.
