

And the Story of It Sent Four Victims to Hang.

Law reports of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries contain numerous references to supernatural occurrences in the court and on the scaffold. One of the most remarkable records of this kind is connected with a murder trial which took place in England early in the reign of the first Charles. Sir John Maynard, one of the first lawyers of the century, is the authority for the supernatural events of the trial, and in his quaint preface to his notes he says: "I thought good to report the evidence which was given, which many did hear that the memory thereof might not be lost by misarrangement of papers otherwise."

"Thirty days after the death the jury assembled before the body and four suspected persons were brought in. The only evidence against the prisoners was that they had slept in an adjoining room and that no one had passed through that room; therefore, if he did not murder herself, they must be the murderers." What took place at the remarkable post-mortem inquiry may best be described in the words of a witness at the subsequent trial, who was described as "an ancient and grave person, minister to the parish where this murder was committed. This estimable gentleman said: "They [the prisoners] did touch the dead body, whereas the brow of the dead, which was before a livid color, began to have a dew of gentle sweat arise upon it, which increased by degrees till the sweat ran down in drops upon the face; the brow turned and changed to a lively color, and the dead opened and shut one of her eyes and shut it again, which she did three several times. She likewise thrust out the ring or marriage finger three times and pulled it in again, and the finger dropped blood on the ground."

A DREAM DID IT.

How a Murderer was Caught and Convicted.

In 1761 an Irish murderer was convicted largely upon dream evidence. A Waterford publican named Rogers dreamed one night that he saw a man murder another man on a green spot on the summit of an adjoining mountain. He was able next day to describe both men with perfect accuracy and did so to many of his friends. One of the men was exceptionally strong, the other weak and puny, but all two of them suffered death in the hand of the common hangman. Neither of the victims, one of whom was an aged woman, could be prevailed upon to confess any complicity in the crime.

Another Case of Foreordination.

A few hours before the engagement at Dandridge, Tenn., two members of the First Wisconsin cavalry had a warm dispute over the matter of foreordination. One of them stoutly maintained that the time and place of every man's death are appointed beforehand. With equal fervor the other trooper maintained that the belief in foreordination is the greatest nonsense imaginable. Soon after the engagement had been fighting on foot was forced to beat a hasty retreat, and the believer in foreordination and his opponent in the recent debate were two of the most nimble runners among the Union troops. They happened to meet when the pursuit ceased.

Look here, Chucky.

"Look here, Chucky," he said, "it's the time of your death in foreordained, what makes you run?" "Well, you see," was the reply, "it was foreordained that I should run, and run like the devil too." Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin.

Politeness vs. Polity.

Lawyer (entering cell): "How are you feeling this morning?" Murderer: "Very well, thank you." Lawyer (furious): "Very well? What the deuce do you mean by having such brutal, rugged, good health when you know that your life depends on your delicate condition?"

CATCHING A DEER.

A Boy Who Tackled a Pretty Big Job.

It was my ambition when a boy to catch some deer in winter when the snow was deep, and without injury to put them in a park and raise some fawns. One day, with my brother and a three-month-old pup, I went to the hills to catch a doe. From the top of the hills, where a deer yard he soon started a deer, but could not overtake it until it reached the river. The stream had been high from a recent thaw, and in that condition had frozen over with three inches of ice. It had suddenly fallen, leaving the middle ford from ice, with a strip several yards wide adhering to the banks but a foot or more above the water. The deer was discovered lying on the bank and under the ice, which I hid. I prepared to cross the river and break down the ice above the deer by jumping upon it, and, as the ice fell, to catch the deer about the neck and hold her until my brother could fasten a birch with-out her neck.

"Thirty days after the death the jury assembled before the body and four suspected persons were brought in. The only evidence against the prisoners was that they had slept in an adjoining room and that no one had passed through that room; therefore, if he did not murder herself, they must be the murderers." What took place at the remarkable post-mortem inquiry may best be described in the words of a witness at the subsequent trial, who was described as "an ancient and grave person, minister to the parish where this murder was committed. This estimable gentleman said: "They [the prisoners] did touch the dead body, whereas the brow of the dead, which was before a livid color, began to have a dew of gentle sweat arise upon it, which increased by degrees till the sweat ran down in drops upon the face; the brow turned and changed to a lively color, and the dead opened and shut one of her eyes and shut it again, which she did three several times. She likewise thrust out the ring or marriage finger three times and pulled it in again, and the finger dropped blood on the ground."

The Jug was Replenished.

In a village not far from Boston there were three old cronies who had outlived their credit, but not their appetites. They were going on a fishing excursion one day, and they took a gallon jug pool for rum. When they came to pool their assets they could not raise enough for even a pint of the longed-for fire water. This was a dilemma. They scratched their heads in dismay until one of them scratched out an idea. Snatching up the jug, he ran to the pump and filled it about half full of water, and then marched into the store and called for half a gallon of Medford rum. The boy filled the measure and the man held the jug. When the two quarts were in the boy asked for his money, and was told to charge it. This was refused, and a few high words ensued. When the angry purchaser said, "Very well, take the rum out, then, but be dashed careful that you do not take more than you put in." The boy turned and ran to the pump, and the man, with a half gallon of rum and half, marched triumphantly back to his trembling companions.

Burial Monads.

Mr. Reynolds has recently completed the investigation of a burial mound in Georgia, located on a bend of the Savannah about three miles from Silver Bluff. Its contents stand it as one of the most remarkable yet opened. They consist of human crania, pottery, copper implements and ornaments, galena pipes, stone implements, pearl and shell beads and textile fabrics.

The Three Classes of Community.

There are but three classes of men in every community, the retrograde, the stationary and the progressive. The first two have little or no regard for the newspaper and its influence, and read it simply to see what is going on, but who could fold their arms and see the progress of the world? The second class, the stationary, is the class of men who are content with the present and do not care for the future. The third class, the progressive, is the class of men who are looking forward to the future and are willing to sacrifice for it.

The Work of Time's Sickle.

"What's the matter, Swallow-tail?" asked the agent. "By Injun chase 'white man four miles to the west, 'atch white man 'white man said."

QUESTIONABLE POLISH.

"Turnkey—"I know him well; he has ironed enough times to account for his polish."

THEIR GODFATHERS TO BLAME.

"There is one thing I don't like about the attaches of the Russian legation—something I don't think is consistent with good breeding."

APPROPRIATION IN ANY PART OF OUR CARRIAGE IS LIGHTING UP A CANDLE TO OUR DESTRUCTION.

Gunpowder could not have a plodding girth forever.

MOORISH WINTER GARDEN.

The orange gardens of the Sherref of Wazra lie about a mile or so outside the city of Tangier.

"I might have known that," retorted his exasperated partner. "There is no lower denomination in minds than yours."

IT WAS A CRUELER.

"I might have known that," retorted his exasperated partner. "There is no lower denomination in minds than yours."

ECONOMY IN HIGH LIFE.

For every dollar that you spend on your expenses this year, my dear friend, I'll bet by telling my friend that my $500 Russian poolie only cost $250."

THE BATTLE OF WATERLOO.

The battle of Waterloo was fought on Sunday, June 18, 1815.

ANN'S KIDNEY CURE.

The expenditures for the first fifty years of the Government amounted to $600,000,000.

FOR FIFTY YEARS!

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used by mothers for their children since the time of the first settlement.

SICK HEADACHE.

Dr. Dowd's PENNYROYL PILLS are safe, sure and reliable.

HUMOROUS.

A COMPREHENSIVE TERM.—Small Boy—"What is an egotist?" Big Man—"One who talks about himself while you are aching to talk about yourself."

"A Jugust Flower"

I had been troubled five months with Dyspepsia. The doctors told me it was chronic. I had a fullness after eating, and a heavy load in the pit of my stomach.

THE WORK OF TIME'S SICKLE.

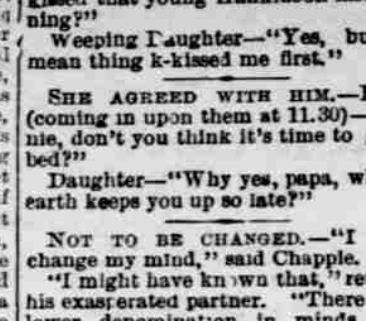

"What's the matter, Swallow-tail?" asked the agent. "By Injun chase 'white man four miles to the west, 'atch white man 'white man said."

QUESTIONABLE POLISH.

"Turnkey—"I know him well; he has ironed enough times to account for his polish."

THREE ARROWS.

Once on a day, as poets say, Love took his flight from his eyes And aimed a free, lit arrow three. One arrow lay in his eyes' slake. One arrow lay in his eyes' slake. One arrow lay in his eyes' slake.

A SOFT ANSWER.

The soft answer turneth away wrath, and the meek spirit inheriteth wrath. There is no greater cause of unhappiness in married life—in all home life, indeed—than the snappy answer to the early word. If Fate and a cross-cut Fortune have decreed between them that we are to be mated with a Snarley Yow, or set down by the side of a human Stromboli, or a never cooling geyser, we ought in common sense to make the best of our bad bargain, and to slip round the pointed angles which we cannot rub down into smooth planes.

EVERY MOTHER.

Should Have It in the Home. Dropped on Sugar, Children Love to Take Johnson's Army Linctus For Croup, Colds, Hoarseness, Whooping Cough, Sore Throat, and all the ailments of the Throat.

EVERY SUFFERER.

It is claimed that sheep furnish the most profitable live stock industry in North Dakota.

RADWAY'S PILLS.

An Excellent and Mild Cathartic. Purely vegetable. The most reliable medicine in the world for the cure of all disorders of the Liver, Stomach or Bowels.

CATARRH.

Restores Taste and Spirit. Applied to the Throat, it cures Catarrh of the Throat, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, and all the ailments of the Throat.

FOR FIFTY YEARS!

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used by mothers for their children since the time of the first settlement.

SICK HEADACHE.

Dr. Dowd's PENNYROYL PILLS are safe, sure and reliable.

HUMOROUS.

A COMPREHENSIVE TERM.—Small Boy—"What is an egotist?" Big Man—"One who talks about himself while you are aching to talk about yourself."

"A Jugust Flower"

I had been troubled five months with Dyspepsia. The doctors told me it was chronic. I had a fullness after eating, and a heavy load in the pit of my stomach.

THE WORK OF TIME'S SICKLE.

"What's the matter, Swallow-tail?" asked the agent. "By Injun chase 'white man four miles to the west, 'atch white man 'white man said."

THE COURSE MOVED.

And the Story of It Sent Four Victims to Hang.

Law reports of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries contain numerous references to supernatural occurrences in the court and on the scaffold. One of the most remarkable records of this kind is connected with a murder trial which took place in England early in the reign of the first Charles. Sir John Maynard, one of the first lawyers of the century, is the authority for the supernatural events of the trial, and in his quaint preface to his notes he says: "I thought good to report the evidence which was given, which many did hear that the memory thereof might not be lost by misarrangement of papers otherwise."

"Thirty days after the death the jury assembled before the body and four suspected persons were brought in. The only evidence against the prisoners was that they had slept in an adjoining room and that no one had passed through that room; therefore, if he did not murder herself, they must be the murderers." What took place at the remarkable post-mortem inquiry may best be described in the words of a witness at the subsequent trial, who was described as "an ancient and grave person, minister to the parish where this murder was committed. This estimable gentleman said: "They [the prisoners] did touch the dead body, whereas the brow of the dead, which was before a livid color, began to have a dew of gentle sweat arise upon it, which increased by degrees till the sweat ran down in drops upon the face; the brow turned and changed to a lively color, and the dead opened and shut one of her eyes and shut it again, which she did three several times. She likewise thrust out the ring or marriage finger three times and pulled it in again, and the finger dropped blood on the ground."

A DREAM DID IT.

How a Murderer was Caught and Convicted.

In 1761 an Irish murderer was convicted largely upon dream evidence. A Waterford publican named Rogers dreamed one night that he saw a man murder another man on a green spot on the summit of an adjoining mountain. He was able next day to describe both men with perfect accuracy and did so to many of his friends. One of the men was exceptionally strong, the other weak and puny, but all two of them suffered death in the hand of the common hangman. Neither of the victims, one of whom was an aged woman, could be prevailed upon to confess any complicity in the crime.

Another Case of Foreordination.

A few hours before the engagement at Dandridge, Tenn., two members of the First Wisconsin cavalry had a warm dispute over the matter of foreordination. One of them stoutly maintained that the time and place of every man's death are appointed beforehand. With equal fervor the other trooper maintained that the belief in foreordination is the greatest nonsense imaginable. Soon after the engagement had been fighting on foot was forced to beat a hasty retreat, and the believer in foreordination and his opponent in the recent debate were two of the most nimble runners among the Union troops. They happened to meet when the pursuit ceased.

Look here, Chucky.

"Look here, Chucky," he said, "it's the time of your death in foreordained, what makes you run?" "Well, you see," was the reply, "it was foreordained that I should run, and run like the devil too." Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin.

Politeness vs. Polity.

Lawyer (entering cell): "How are you feeling this morning?" Murderer: "Very well, thank you." Lawyer (furious): "Very well? What the deuce do you mean by having such brutal, rugged, good health when you know that your life depends on your delicate condition?"

CATCHING A DEER.

A Boy Who Tackled a Pretty Big Job.

It was my ambition when a boy to catch some deer in winter when the snow was deep, and without injury to put them in a park and raise some fawns. One day, with my brother and a three-month-old pup, I went to the hills to catch a doe. From the top of the hills, where a deer yard he soon started a deer, but could not overtake it until it reached the river. The stream had been high from a recent thaw, and in that condition had frozen over with three inches of ice. It had suddenly fallen, leaving the middle ford from ice, with a strip several yards wide adhering to the banks but a foot or more above the water. The deer was discovered lying on the bank and under the ice, which I hid. I prepared to cross the river and break down the ice above the deer by jumping upon it, and, as the ice fell, to catch the deer about the neck and hold her until my brother could fasten a birch with-out her neck.

The Jug was Replenished.

In a village not far from Boston there were three old cronies who had outlived their credit, but not their appetites. They were going on a fishing excursion one day, and they took a gallon jug pool for rum. When they came to pool their assets they could not raise enough for even a pint of the longed-for fire water. This was a dilemma. They scratched their heads in dismay until one of them scratched out an idea. Snatching up the jug, he ran to the pump and filled it about half full of water, and then marched into the store and called for half a gallon of Medford rum. The boy filled the measure and the man held the jug. When the two quarts were in the boy asked for his money, and was told to charge it. This was refused, and a few high words ensued. When the angry purchaser said, "Very well, take the rum out, then, but be dashed careful that you do not take more than you put in." The boy turned and ran to the pump, and the man, with a half gallon of rum and half, marched triumphantly back to his trembling companions.

Burial Monads.

Mr. Reynolds has recently completed the investigation of a burial mound in Georgia, located on a bend of the Savannah about three miles from Silver Bluff. Its contents stand it as one of the most remarkable yet opened. They consist of human crania, pottery, copper implements and ornaments, galena pipes, stone implements, pearl and shell beads and textile fabrics.

The Three Classes of Community.

There are but three classes of men in every community, the retrograde, the stationary and the progressive. The first two have little or no regard for the newspaper and its influence, and read it simply to see what is going on, but who could fold their arms and see the progress of the world? The second class, the stationary, is the class of men who are content with the present and do not care for the future. The third class, the progressive, is the class of men who are looking forward to the future and are willing to sacrifice for it.

The Work of Time's Sickle.

"What's the matter, Swallow-tail?" asked the agent. "By Injun chase 'white man four miles to the west, 'atch white man 'white man said."

QUESTIONABLE POLISH.

"Turnkey—"I know him well; he has ironed enough times to account for his polish."

THEIR GODFATHERS TO BLAME.

"There is one thing I don't like about the attaches of the Russian legation—something I don't think is consistent with good breeding."

APPROPRIATION IN ANY PART OF OUR CARRIAGE IS LIGHTING UP A CANDLE TO OUR DESTRUCTION.

Gunpowder could not have a plodding girth forever.

This is the Season

In which to purify and enrich the blood, re- store the lost appetite, and build up the nerves as the system is now especially susceptible to benefit from medicine. The peculiar medicinal merit of, and the wonderful cures by, Hood's Sarsaparilla have made it the most popular spring medicine. It cures scrofula, salt rheum and all humors, biliousness, dyspepsia, head- ache, kidney and liver complaints, catarrh, and all affections caused or prompted by low state of the system or impure blood.

Hood's Sarsaparilla "When my boy was two years old he was attacked and suffered a long time with scrofula virus. The physician at length told us to give Hood's Sarsaparilla, which we did. It cured him. He is now 10 years old and has not had any sign of scrofula since. We recom- mend Hood's Sarsaparilla. Mrs. E. C. CLIFFER, 8 Kilder Street, Cleveland, Ohio.

Hood's Sarsaparilla "I recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as the best spring or fall medicine ever known. I take it every morning. Hood's Sarsaparilla gave me strength and made me feel well." ALEX. ORLEIGH, 624 West Cross Street, Baltimore, Md.

Hood's Sarsaparilla "I consider Hood's Sarsaparilla the best spring medicine, and can truly say it makes the Weak Strong." I take it all season of the year when needed and would give dollars for a bottle of it, if it could not be had here." ALBERT A. JAWSON, Douglass, La., N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla "I consider Hood's Sarsaparilla the best spring medicine, and can truly say it makes the Weak Strong." I take it all season of the year when needed and would give dollars for a bottle of it, if it could not be had here." ALBERT A. JAWSON, Douglass, La., N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla "I consider Hood's Sarsaparilla the best spring medicine, and can truly say it makes the Weak Strong." I take it all season of the year when needed and would give dollars for a bottle of it, if it could not be had here." ALBERT A. JAWSON, Douglass, La., N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla "I consider Hood's Sarsaparilla the best spring medicine, and can truly say it makes the Weak Strong." I take it all season of the year when needed and would give dollars for a bottle of it, if it could not be had here." ALBERT A. JAWSON, Douglass, La., N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla "I consider Hood's Sarsaparilla the best spring medicine, and can truly say it makes the Weak Strong." I take it all season of the year when needed and would give dollars for a bottle of it, if it could not be had here." ALBERT A. JAWSON, Douglass, La., N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla "I consider Hood's Sarsaparilla the best spring medicine, and can truly say it makes the Weak Strong." I take it all season of the year when needed and would give dollars for a bottle of it, if it could not be had here." ALBERT A. JAWSON, Douglass, La., N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla "I consider Hood's Sarsaparilla the best spring medicine, and can truly say it makes the Weak Strong." I take it all season of the year when needed and would give dollars for a bottle of it, if it could not be had here." ALBERT A. JAWSON, Douglass, La., N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla "I consider Hood's Sarsaparilla the best spring medicine, and can truly say it makes the Weak Strong." I take it all season of the year when needed and would give dollars for a bottle of it, if it could not be had here." ALBERT A. JAWSON, Douglass, La., N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla "I consider Hood's Sarsaparilla the best spring medicine, and can truly say it makes the Weak Strong." I take it all season of the year when needed and would give dollars for a bottle of it, if it could not be had here." ALBERT A. JAWSON, Douglass, La., N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla "I consider Hood's Sarsaparilla the best spring medicine, and can truly say it makes the Weak Strong." I take it all season of the year when needed and would give dollars for a bottle of it, if it could not be had here." ALBERT A. JAWSON, Douglass, La., N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla "I consider Hood's Sarsaparilla the best spring medicine, and can truly say it makes the Weak Strong." I take it all season of the year when needed and would give dollars for a bottle of it, if it could not be had here." ALBERT A. JAWSON, Douglass, La., N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla "I consider Hood's Sarsaparilla the best spring medicine, and can truly say it makes the Weak Strong." I take it all season of the year when needed and would give dollars for a bottle of it, if it could not be had here." ALBERT A. JAWSON, Douglass, La., N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla "I consider Hood's Sarsaparilla the best spring medicine, and can truly say it makes the Weak Strong." I take it all season of the year when needed and would give dollars for a bottle of it, if it could not be had here." ALBERT A. JAWSON, Douglass, La., N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla "I consider Hood's Sarsaparilla the best spring medicine, and can truly say it makes the Weak Strong." I take it all season of the year when needed and would give dollars for a bottle of it, if it could not be had here." ALBERT A. JAWSON, Douglass, La., N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla "I consider Hood's Sarsaparilla the best spring medicine, and can truly say it makes the Weak Strong." I take it all season of the year when needed and would give dollars for a bottle of it, if it could not be had here." ALBERT A. JAWSON, Douglass, La., N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla "I consider Hood's Sarsaparilla the best spring medicine, and can truly say it makes the Weak Strong." I take it all season of the year when needed and would give dollars for a bottle of it, if it could not be had here." ALBERT A. JAWSON, Douglass, La., N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla "I consider Hood's Sarsaparilla the best spring medicine, and can truly say it makes the Weak Strong." I take it all season of the year when needed and would give dollars for a bottle of it, if it could not be had here." ALBERT A. JAWSON, Douglass, La., N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla "I consider Hood's Sarsaparilla the best spring medicine, and can truly say it makes the Weak Strong." I take it all season of the year when needed and would give dollars for a bottle of it, if it could not be had here." ALBERT A. JAWSON, Douglass, La., N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla "I consider Hood's Sarsaparilla the best spring medicine, and can truly say it makes the Weak Strong." I take it all season of the year when needed and would give dollars for a bottle of it, if it could not be had here." ALBERT A. JAWSON, Douglass, La., N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla "I consider Hood's Sarsaparilla the best spring medicine, and can truly say it makes the Weak Strong." I take it all season of the year when needed and would give dollars for a bottle of it, if it could not be had here." ALBERT A. JAWSON, Douglass, La., N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla "I consider Hood's Sarsaparilla the best spring medicine, and can truly say it makes the Weak Strong." I take it all season of the year when needed and would give dollars for a bottle of it, if it could not be had here." ALBERT A. JAWSON, Douglass, La., N. Y.