President Harrison won new laurels as a speech maker on his trip to New England.

Gorman, of Maryland is looked upon as a strong candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

News from Chili—Now it is Balnacada—now it is the rebel forces that have won—Wait a week longer for reliable news.

Democratic leaders persist in disturbing the business of the country by declaring that the next Congress will repeal the new tariff law.

The Patriotic Sons of America in their National Camp in Philadelphia last week refused to so amend their constitution so as to admit the Negro to membership.

Democratic papers just now are abusing Master Workman Powderly for accepting the Republican State Convention nomination as a delegate-at-large to the Constitutional convention.

The Slah of Persia, when one of his treasurers fails to pay over tax money puts the delinquent tax treasurer into a kettle of boiling water and cooks him. It saves the expense of keeping up jails and penitentiaries. Treasurers pay over promptly in the Slah's country.

The eastern part of Rensselaer county, York State was deluged by a great fall of rain last Thursday evening. Milldams, bridges and houses and barns and horses and cattle along the stream in many places were swept away. It was like the June flood in the Juniata in 1889.

One of the peculiar phases of society at this time in the United States, is the effort of one set of people who attend the great sea side resorts to train their children in all the arts and manners of leisure society life. Another phase of society is the equally earnest effort of religious people to train their children in all the arts and management of sabbath school and church organization life. What will the harvest be.

Tax Collectors

The Democratic party just now is trying to injure the State Treasurer by denouncing him for not compelling Philadelphia City Treasurer Bardsley to pay over the taxes he received, and which he should promptly have paid into the State Treasury.

A new law was passed last spring by the Legislature that is of importance to tax collectors. It is not hard to understand. It reads:

To amend section nine of an act approved the 25th day of June, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five, entitled: "An act regulating the collection of taxes in the several boroughs of the commonwealth by providing the time in which tax collectors shall pay over taxes, and make settlements, and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

"The collector of taxes shall collect the taxes charged in said duplicates and pay over the same to the respective treasurer or authorities entitled thereto after deducting his commission for the collecting thereof, which is hereby affixed at 2 per centum on all taxes paid to him on which an abatement of five per centum is allowed, and at five per centum on all taxes afterward collected. Provided, That where the total amount of taxes charged on duplicate is less than one thousand dollars the said collector shall receive three per centum on all taxes paid to him on which an abatement of five per centum is allowed. Provided further, that all taxes collected within the sixty days as provided in section eight of this act shall be paid over as aforesaid within fifteen days after the expiration of said sixty days, and all taxes thereafter collected during his term of office shall be paid over as aforesaid at regular intervals of one month, and full and complete settlement of taxes collected shall be made with the treasurer or authorities entitled thereto not later than three months after the expiration of his term of office. Approved June 3, 1891.

Too Young to Marry.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 27.—Albert Strong and Hattie Fink, seventeen-year-old young people, eloped from Gray, N. Y., two weeks ago, and pursued their romance as far west as Sheboygan, Wis., where their money gave out. At Sheboygan the boy husband tried to get work, but failed. The young people then traveled to Sheboygan Falls, where the boy also failed to get anything to do. Then they set out on a weary tramp toward Milwaukee. Strong says they applied for shelter at several places on the way and were refused. It is presumed they slept out of doors.

At last they were taken in by a kind hearted farmer living near Cedarburg, who gave them food and shelter. At the farmer's urgent advice they went on to Port Washington in search of work. His girl wife remaining with the farmer. The boy was unable to find work and returned here. Money was raised to send the young bride and groom home, and they left to-day for New York in charge of a business man who is going East to buy goods.

LUXURIOUS TRAVELING.

The Pullman Palace Car Company's Latest Production for the Pennsylvania Railroad.

With the marvelous improvements of late days in interior architecture and elaborate finish of Pullman cars it requires the exceptional to attract more than passing notice and extraordinary to draw forth comment. Some months ago the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, ordered from the Pullman Works, for the equipment of the New York and Washington and Congressional limited express trains, the very best representative of the Pullman company was capable of creating regardless of expense, and the result is now seen in the cars running this last week on these two magnificent solid vestibule trains, which connect in a few hours the nation's metropolis with her seat of government. What is surely of much more importance than the handsome exterior finish of these cars, from heavy even experienced travelers are content with the improved and heavy trucks on which the palaces are built. They have been with the wheels and axles, subjected to the very highest test, even beyond the standard, which on the Pennsylvania Railroad is highest known, and at the end of their active journey came to a halt as cool almost as at the start.

The designer here has also made a marked advance, and one promoting untold comfort, by arranging the connection of car, body and truck so as to reduce to a minimum the swaying motion ordinarily felt when under full speed. The entire train is connected by vestibules, fitted for steam heat and equipped with improved air-brake apparatus which practically stop the cars on a moment's notice. The former equipment of these trains seemed impossible to be improved upon, yet their perfection of design and finish demonstrates the capacities of this modern age for wonderful radical changes. The exterior appearance aside from the drawing room angled by windows, Pullman in color and design, and it is not until advancing through the vestibule that the revelation of what Americans have grown to expect in taking their few hundred miles jaunts is made manifest as illustrated by these luxuriously finished palaces on wheels.

The upholstery of the comfortable, revolving easy-chairs and sofas, the heavy padding, accommodations for thirty-four persons in each car, is of a white imported mohair cloth, worked with figured silk embroidery. The flooring is covered with a rich, heavy, Turkish carpeting, whose color blends harmoniously with the furnishings, even to the adjustable ottoman, ready for foot service at the front of each chair. What more romantic event than that of the first Roanoke in America—throwing his red cloak in the way for Queen Elizabeth to walk on so that he might claim her attention and present her a paper that a timid friend of his failed to present at the proper time.

The first Roanoke was peopled by adventurers and gold-seekers. The Roanoke of to-day is peopled by a different class of people, working under a different system of civilization and managed by an order of corporation that was unknown a half century ago.

It is a well known fact that shock sometimes strikes people. Here is a case in point. Six male friends of Samuel Starr of Birmingham, Conn., were invited to a feast that Starr got up. They ate heartily of what Starr told them was racoon meat. The host made a speech, saying the nice fellow boiled meat was that of a dead dog. The men immediately became sick and were in bed a number of days. They threaten to shoot Starr.

Editors Down in Virginia.

The Juniata Editorial Association, representing forty-four newspaper offices, having a reading constituency of more than two hundred and sixty-five thousand people went on an excursion to Virginia last week. The objective point was Roanoke. The excursionists all came on the Pennsylvania railroad to Harrisburg, and thence at noon on the 24th of August up the Cumberland Valley, which Lee's army in 1863 declared to be a land flowing with milk and honey. A valley dotted with fine farm houses and large Swiss barns. The seventy-six miles from Harrisburg to Hagerstown was made over the Cumberland Valley Railroad. At Hagerstown the excursionists without change of cars took the Norfolk and Western railroad and journeyed across Maryland, passing Antietam battle field into the Old Dominion and down the Shenandoah Valley to the great over land stretches of territory, made historic by the late civil war.

The road keeps north of the Blue Ridge Mountain through the gaps of which General Lee sent his army into the Shenandoah Valley on the occasion of his two attempts in Virginia. After leaving Maryland a great change came over the appearance of the face of the country, and it is plainly to be seen that a different order of management from that in Pennsylvania had ruled the country. In place of good houses, cabins abound, relics of slave holding days. It was a long run—129 miles—from Hagerstown to Shenandoah.

It was 10 o'clock at night when this growing place that is destined to become one of the famous places of resort in Virginia was reached. Its electric lights gave a weird and cheerful setting to the darkness, and to the swish sound of rain. The Association was heartily greeted by Major J. Hotchkiss and others and taken to the Wright Hotel where they were most comfortably quartered for the night. On Tuesday morning the major made an address of welcome, which was responded to by Dr. A. P. Brumbaugh of Huntingdon, Pa., after which street cars conveyed the company to the foot of the mountain on which an observatory stands from which a grand view may be had, but the lowering clouds presented a range of only about 50 miles to the eye this day.

From the mountain a visit was made to the famous GROTTOS OF SHENDON. They were bright under the beams of electric light, and in the sparkle and dazzle of the place one could not help thinking of Rider Haggard in Egypt in the caves of Kor, looking for "She Who Must Be Obeyed." Most of the editors had their shoes who must be obeyed with them. On last Friday during the heavy rains, Clark Nearhood, farmer for Joe. Root, of Elizabeth Furnace, who was coming about the stables, was attacked by a willow-bark tramp with a large knife. Mr. Nearhood had a pitchfork in his hand which proved a good weapon of defense. When the second man made the first attack he ran the fork in his breast which prevented the tramp in getting close enough to harm him. After running the fork into him several times he succeeded in knocking him on his knees with a well directed blow of his fist. While on his knees he kicked him several times and also dealt him several blows and kicks while he was down. Finding Mr. Nearhood to much for his pugilistic power, he decamped in great haste. Mr. Nearhood is a large and powerful man, and he attacked him more than he was aware of. What his vagabond intentions were in making the attack was no doubt to do him an awful injury or murder.—Bellwood Bulletin, August, 27th.

Rebecca Wilkinson, of Brownes Valley, Ind., says: "I have been in a distressed condition for three years from Nervousness, Weakness of the Stomach, Dyspepsia, and Indigestion until my health was gone. I had been doctoring constantly with no result. I bought one bottle of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which did me more good than any $50 worth of doctoring I ever did in my life. I would advise every weakly person to try this valuable and lovely remedy; A few bottles of it has cured me completely. I consider it the grandest medicine in the world." Warned the most wonderful stomach and nerve cure ever known. Trial bottle 15 cents. Sold by D. Banks & Co., Millintown, Pa. May 14, 19.

Jury Commissioner Wade says five barns were burned in the upper end of the county during the storm last evening. All were struck by lightning. Three of the barns were burned within two miles of the home of Mr. Wade. Of those consumed one was owned by Nathaniel Balling-ton, and another by Solomon Hoover. Three of the barns were burned in Millintown and the other two in Jackson township.—Har. Telegraph, 12th inst.

Drunkness or the Liqueur Habit positively Cured by Administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.

It is manufactured as a powder which can be given in a glass of beer, a cup of coffee or tea, or in food, without the knowledge of the patient. It is absolutely harmless and will affect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. It has been given in thousands of cases, and in every instance a perfect cure has followed. It never fails. The system once impregnated with the Specific, it becomes an impossibility for the liquor appetite to exist. Cures guaranteed.

A Favorable Verdict after Twenty Years Trial.

The original and only genuine Compound Oxygen Treatment that of Drs. Starkey & Phalen, is a scientific adjustment of the elements of Oxygen and Nitrogen magnetized, and the compound is so condensed and made portable that it is sent to all the world. It has been in use for more than twenty years; thousands of patients have been treated, and recommended it—a very significant fact.

It does not act as most drugs do by creating another ailment, often requiring a second course to eradicate the evil effects of the first, but Compound Oxygen is a revitalizer, renewing, strengthening, invigorating the whole body. These statements are confirmed by numerous testimonials, published in our book of 200 pages, only with the express permission of the patients, their names and addresses are given and you can refer to them for further information. The great success of our treatment has given rise to a host of imitations, unscrupulous persons; some calling their preparation Compound Oxygen, often appropriating our testimonials and the names of our patients to recommend worthless concoctions. But any substance made elsewhere or by others, and called Compound Oxygen is an injurious and dangerous preparation.

"Compound Oxygen—Its Mode of Action and Results," is the title of a new book of 200 pages, published by Drs. Starkey & Phalen, sent to all longers full information as to this remarkable curative agent, and a record of surprising cures in a wide range of chronic cases—many of them being abandoned to die by other physicians. Will be mailed free to any address on application. Starkey & Phalen, 1529 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa., 120 Sutter St., San Francisco, Cal.

Boston News: A Boston lawyer relates that not long ago a jury went out early in the day on a simple case, and when it had got near time for them. Rats were used as sentinels by two burglars who tried to saw their way out of the Cleveland jail. They scattered bread crumbs outside their cell, and when the noise of the sawing brought the watchman around the rats gave notice of his approach by patting at it. Then the sawing ceased, and for nights the watchman was unable to locate the rasping sound.

Cramer and daughter Maggie and Miss Ella Pannabaker, and Mrs. B. F. Schweier and daughter Annie of the Sentinel and Republican.

Ask Your Friends About It.

Your distressing cough can be cured. We know it because Kemp's Balsam within the past few years has cured so many coughs and colds in this community. Its remarkable sale has been won entirely by its genuine merit. Ask some friend who has used it what he thinks of Kemp's Balsam. There is no medicine so pure, none so effective. Large bottles 50c and $1 at all drug-gists.
