

B. F. SCHWEIER, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

In Spain in the district of Toledo, two thousand people lost their lives by food last week.

JUDGE FURST of the Center and Huntingdon judicial district is off to Dakota to see the country and hunt antelope and grizzly bears.

The Union, Snyder and Mifflin Co. judicial district seems to be scarce in candidates for the judgeship. The Perry and Juniata county district has a large surplus of candidates.

SKINNER, Chairman of the late Democratic state convention, denounced what he called the soldier racket. That is what the leaders of the Democracy denominated during all the time of the late rebellion. Skinner was a soldier but he fell from grace.

It does seem a little strange to an outsider that in a district that is so largely republican as is the judicial district of Mifflin, Snyder and Union that a republican cannot be found who has sufficient courage to run against Bacher for judge. If the fathers of the republican party had been such towards the republican party would have fallen into the world still born, and slavery, would be rampant to day in the United States.

If the Republicans of Mifflin, Snyder and Union judicial district will nominate Judge Junkin of Perry Co. for Judge, they will have a candidate who can unite the large republican majority in the district and win the election. Judge Junkin is one of the most learned men in the Commonwealth, an every day sort of a man with a judicial mind and human heart that can so sympathize with people in trouble over litigation that they can look up to him feeling that he will see to it that justice is done.

Both democratic and republican judicial conferences for the nomination of a candidate for President Judge will meet in New Port, Perry county next Monday. A wide spread impression has gone abroad that neither conference will be able to agree upon a candidate and that the result will be the four candidates now in the field will all run at the November general election, but impressions are not facts and a nomination next week may be reached which is a thing most devoutly desired, for to leave the judicial situation in such a chaotic state is to cast the leaven of disorganization into the ranks of both parties and start a go as you please, campaign, that will end no one can say where, for if the highly respected offices of the judiciary are to be filled by citizens who ignore the primary requirements of the party to make a district nomination, who can blame the party voter for voting regardless of party ties at the general election. The general desire is that each conference make a nomination in accordance with the rules that call conferences into existence for nomination purposes. It is true there is no legal enactment to point out the county from which the judge shall be nominated, but there is an unwritten law among men, that of fair dealing. Perry county, has had the judge twenty years. Fair treatment points out Juniata county, as clearly entitled to the judge, the coming ten years and the longer men view this situation the clearer that fact becomes. Who will stand in the way of giving to Juniata county according to the rules of fair treatment what she is entitled to on the question of the judgeship?

Horse Thieves.

From the Chambersburg Repository of September 16:— There is evidently a gang of horse thieves operating in the Southern end of the county. Four horses have been stolen within ten days, the first from Aaron Shank, near Waynesboro, the second from Mrs. Hess at New Franklin, the third from James McFerron of near Waynesboro, and the fourth on Friday night, from the stable of Mrs. Annie Hade, widow of Emanuel Hade at Five Forks.

The horse stolen from Mrs. Hade, was valued at $150, and the other horses were all fine ones. The thief who took Mrs. Hade's horse left a note in the stable, saying that he was a Southerner, was going across the Potomac and that if she made much fuss about it he would return and burn her barn. The fellow who took the McFerron horse left a similar cheeky note.

Mart Grove of New Franklin formerly a well known horse dealer was arrested in Frederick this morning on the charge of stealing Mrs. Annie Hade's horse at New Franklin on Friday night.

On Saturday Grove shipped two horses from Waynesboro to Baltimore. They were on a box car and consigned to Fox & Son. One was said to be the Hade Sorrel and the other a bay mare which Grove is said to have stolen near Frederick on Thursday night and ridden to Waynesboro.

boro on Saturday last along with a horse that he had stolen near Frederick on Thursday night. The gentleman identified the horse in this county. The Baltimore dealer, Fox, pretended to be very indignant at Grove for shipping stolen horses. It would be interesting to know just what were the relations between Fox and Grove.

In the same stable was also found the horse stolen from Aaron Shank near Waynesboro, two weeks ago. So it will be seen that three stolen horses turned up in the same stable rather remarkably. An effort will be made to recover the Shank horse. Messrs. Lowery and Shank returned home on Monday evening.

Grove is in jail in Frederick. The judge in that county has the reputation of setting down hard on horse thieves and he will get a good deal in the penitentiary. After his sentence expires he will be brought back to this county for an interview with Judge Stewart. There is a general feeling of relief among the farmers of the Southern end of the county that Grove has been caught up. It has been suspected for some time that he was stealing the horses.

The Waynesboro Gazette gives the following account of Grove's movements last week.

Thursday evening he hired a horse and phaeton from Sheriff Gaver, who keeps a livery stable at Frederick. That night a fine bay mare was stolen from a Frederick county farmer. Friday morning at 5 o'clock the hostler at the Leland stable was rapped in at her door by Grove who appeared at the stable door in a phaeton with a dark bay horse, the one he had hired from Sheriff Gaver and leading a fine bay mare. He told the hostler to put them in the stable and feed them. Friday evening about eight o'clock, Grove came to the Leland stable and ordered the phaeton hitched up, and then started in same leaving the bay mare still in the stable.

Grove's next appearance was Friday night at about midnight when he again rapped on the Leland stable door and called up John the hostler. He was in the phaeton as before and leading a fine chestnut sorrel horse. He had both put up and left. His next appearance was about 2:30 Saturday when he came to the Leland stable and took the bay mare and sorrel horse up the alley towards the Western Maryland railroad station. After attending to the consignment of the horses to Fox & Son, of Baltimore, and seeing them safely on board the car he again returned to the Leland, had the phaeton hitched up, got in a streak off.

His next appearance is at Frederick City, where he landed that night at 9 o'clock with the Sheriff's team, the horse badly jaded and showing evidence of hard driving. His very last appearance was Sunday morning at Sheriff Gaver's stable, when the sheriff left for this place, unwittingly, though in pursuit of this very man Grove.

Grove moved from New Franklin to Waynesboro sometime ago, and with his family has been living in a house on Franklin street in the latter place.

Bardsley in Court.

John Bardsley, the City Treasurer of Philadelphia, was taken into court in Philadelphia, a day last week, with the expectation that he would tell all about his late transactions, but he refused to answer questions.

Farmers Alliance.

Seventy-five delegates held a Farmers' Alliance State Convention in Greensburg, Pa., last week. No state ticket was put in the field. A platform was adopted demanding the abolition of the national banks of banks of issue, and as a substitute for national bank notes the issues of legal tender or notes in sufficient volume to transact the business of the country on a cash basis without change or special advantage to any class or calling, such notes to be legal tender in payment of all debts, public or private; demanding the free and unlimited coinage of silver; the passage of laws prohibiting alien ownership of land; equal taxation; the election of United States senators by a direct vote of the people and the government to loan money at the rate of two percent on land and non-perishable products as indicated in the subtreasury plan.

Ask Your Friends About It.

Your distressing cough can be cured. We know it because Kemp's Balsam within the past few years has cured so many coughs and colds in this community. Its remarkable sale has been won entirely by its genuine merit. Ask some friend who has used it what he thinks of Kemp's Balsam. There is no medicine so pure, none so effective. Large bottles 50c and $1 at all drug-gists.

GENERAL NEWS ITEMS.

MUSKOGEE, I. T., September 16.—The Missouri, Kansas and Texas south-bound passenger train was held up and the express car robbed at 9:30 last night at Lelietta, four miles north of Wagoner. The robbers covered the train officials with their pistols and two of their number entered the express car. They ordered the expressman to open the large steel safe, which he was unable to do, and it took considerable arguing before he could convince the robbers of his utter inability to comply. They thereupon dumped the small iron chest, which contained $2,500, out of the express car door, and breaking it open, took the entire amount. They made no attempt to rob the passengers and there were none being masks of red flannel, and after completing the job took to the woods with their booty. Officers have left Muskogee in pursuit of the robbers.

OUR CLUBBING OFFER.

Ever desirous to please our large family of readers, we have made an arrangement whereby we can furnish them with an extra amount of reading matter for the evenings which are now lengthening. Agricultural and stock raising under the present hard times will require more study of the methods of those who have made these pursuits successful. Knowing the readers of the JUNIATA SENTINEL & REPUBLICAN would be pleased to receive as a present a first class farm and stock paper we made arrangements with the publishers of "The Breeder's Guide and Practical Farmer," of Huntingdon, Indiana, whereby we are enabled to give free to each of our subscribers one year's subscription to that excellent farm and stock paper.

We do not ask you one cent for this extra paper, we wish to make a present to all those subscribers who will appreciate. That is to all those subscribers who pay all arrearages and one year in advance for the JUNIATA SENTINEL AND REPUBLICAN. We are not content with giving subscribers the best paper in Juniata county, but we want to give them in addition one of the best semi-monthly and farm paper published in America.

The subscription price of the JUNIATA SENTINEL & REPUBLICAN is $1.50 per year, and "The Guide and Farmer," is 50 cents per year. We will give you both for $1.50.

"The Guide and Farmer," is a semi-monthly journal devoted to the interests of farmers and stock raisers and is replete with practical information so highly appreciated by all our farmer readers.

You will want more reading matter this winter than usual, and you cannot get so much reading matter for this small amount of money anywhere. Tell your neighbor about it, and ask him to come in with you and get two papers for the price of one. ON IF YOU PREFER, We will get for you the Philadelphia Weekly Press an unsurpassed weekly journal of general news and literature for $1.50 in advance. Commence now, talk it up. It is not every day that you are presented with such an opportunity to secure valuable literature and full account of all important country events and enterprises

FORGET HIS MARRIAGE.

I doubt if the story of Thomas A. Edison's marriage has ever been told in print. As everybody knows, Edison is a very absent-minded man when once he becomes thoroughly absorbed in a subject. He married his first wife after a very brief courtship. Shortly after the nuptial knot had been tied Edison began thinking of some intricate mechanical problems. Without saying a word to his bride or the wedding guests he went into his laboratory and began work. The guests waited in vain for his return. Mrs. Edison knew her husband's eccentricities, and accepted the situation philosophically.

She went to the bridal chamber and prepared to wait for her better half. Finally, becoming very sleepy she retired. When she awoke in the morning her husband was still absent.

Mr. Edison did not appear all that day or the following night. It was just 48 hours after the marriage had been performed that Mrs. Edison, becoming alarmed, decided upon going into her husband's workshop. When she entered the room she saw the inventor lying on his work bench sleeping peacefully. Of course, she gave a little shriek, woman like, you know, but the prostrate form, with boots on and toes turned heavenward, never budged.

Upon closer examination by Mrs. Edison, who had noted the regular breathing of her "hubbie," she discovered that his wedding clothes were covered with oils and chemicals. She then became real angry and walking over to the bench where her husband lay, shook him roughly.

"Go away from me," he shouted, not knowing where he was. "Go away from me, I say; can't you see I'm thinking?"

"I should say you were, Tommy," responded his wife. "Now, don't you think it about time that you took off that thinking cap of yours, and give me a little attention?"

"Well, I'll think about it," as you request," responded the inventor. Now please let me alone or I fear I shall be forced to set the new double-back-action self-propelling-fire - hose all—"

"At this juncture Edison suddenly came to, and, jumping up, exclaimed: "Who am I, where am I, and who are you?"

When his wife told him who and where he was, and who she was, and to use a term in common parlance, you could have bought him for a cent, he felt so cheap.

"I had forgotten all about my marriage," he said.

"Well, I hope," responded his wife, "you won't let this occur again," and I am inclined to believe he didn't.

A Cure for Constipation and Sick Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and leaves, and is known as Lane's Family medicine. It will cure sick headache in one night. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for the clearing up of the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c per package.

Drunkness or the Liquor Habit positively Cured by Administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.

It is manufactured as a powder which can be given in a glass of beer, a cup of coffee or tea, or in food, without the knowledge of the patient. It is absolutely harmless and will affect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. It has been given in thousands of cases, and in every instance a perfect cure has followed. It NEVER FAILS. The system once impregnated with the Specific, it becomes an utter impossibility for the liquor appetite to exist. Cures guaranteed.
