In raking away the leaves under a chestnut tree she found a watch chain and before she got through her find of jewelry consisted of some twenty rings a lot of chains, pocket knives and other goods usually kept in a jewelry store. Bloomfield Times: It is said a good many school directors of the state, purposely or otherwise, overlook the law of May 11, 1882, which declares that it shall not be lawful for any director or president of any school board in this commonwealth to be interested in the furnishing of books or any other supplies for said school. Any violation of this law is to be followed by fine and imprisonment.

The gambling season will soon open, and it may not be out of place to offer a word of caution to sportsmen generally. Any person found trespassing upon lands whose occupants or owners have advertised against trespassing may be arrested by an officer and be fined the sum of five dollars and be sent to jail for failure to pay. A great many of our farmers have posted their farms and those who disregard the warning do it at their peril. The law is simple and stringent for the protection of farmers against all trespassers. Therefore gunners will be on the safe side only by obtaining permission of the owners or occupants of lands to enter and hunt thereon.

ALFALFA FARMING AT THE FOOT OF THE ROCKIES.

As the time approaches for the World's Fair greater interest is being felt in the marvellous City of the Lakes. The Cosmopolitan Magazine has devoted 28 pages of the November to a most interesting and exhaustive article upon Chicago from the pen of the famous novelist, Col. Charles King. Col. Cassady, who spent some time on the ground for that purpose and Harry Penn, have illustrated the most charming features of the city by twenty-eight sketches. An article upon alfalfa farming in this number, is by John John Brisben Walker, who, as the result of ten years spent in the saddle, in direct superintendence of his farm "Berkeley," one of the largest alfalfa farms in Colorado, gives the reader much valuable information in regard to the irrigation and curing of the wonderful plant which is destined to become one of the most valuable products of the United States. General Sherman's letters to his daughter, written from the field during the war are perhaps the most valuable contribution that has yet been made to the literature of the war. Judge Tourgee furnishes a charming story called "An Evening with the Queen of Hearts." Louise Chandler Moulton, Commander Crowningshield, ex-Postmaster-General James, are among the other contributors. Gen. Horace Potter's article on militia service is worthy the attention of everyone interested in the National Guard. Very curiously but little attention has ever been given in the magazines to the frightful tragedies of Roman Amphitheatres which were carried on through the centuries, and in which the lives of hundreds of thousands were sacrificed. C. Osborne Ward, whose book "The Ancient Lowly" last year excited much attention, and who has made this subject his life work, gives an article in the November Cosmopolitan on the "Masques of the Roman Amphitheatres," and the article is illustrated by drawings by Dan Beard, and from famous paintings covering pages of history which will hold the reader's closest attention. (Cosmopolitan Publishing Co., Madison Square, New York. Price 25 cents.)

Drunkness or the Liquor Habit positively Cured by Administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.

It is manufactured as a powder which can be given in a glass of beer, a cup of coffee or tea, or in food, without the knowledge of the patient. It is absolutely harmless and will affect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. It has been given in thousands of cases, and in every instance a perfect cure has followed. IT NEVER FAILS. The system once impregnated with the Specific, it becomes an utter impossibility for the liquor appetite to exist. Cures guaranteed.
