The lecture upon "The Coming Man," by Hon. Henry Hall was an excellent one and fully appreciated by the very select audience assembled at the Opera House. The speaker was especially happy in his presentation of the subject, and held his audience as if spell bound for an hour and a half, and was greeted with a hearty burst of applause at his close.—Norristown (Pa.) Daily Herald.

The Bloomfield Freeman says:—This county needs 773 journeymen against making a constitutional convention without an effort. All the Democratic tickets were printed "For the convention," and because the Democratic voters could not get tickets "Against the convention," they were generally obliged to vote for the convention. It was a trick that did not amount to much in the result, but it had its effect on the votes polled in this county.

From the Lewisdown, Gazette: Friday afternoon some person tried to wreck a train at Wagner by placing broken links, broke shoes, bolts and other kinds of railroad iron on the track. The first piece of iron was placed on the rail within fifty yards of the station and at regular intervals for a distance of one mile. The obstruction was discovered by Levi Kerstetter and he and W. A. Martin flagged the first train that came along and prevented what otherwise have been a serious accident.

Rebecca Wilkinson, of Browns valley, Ind., says: "I have been in a distressed condition for three years from Nervousness, Weakness of the Stomach, Dyspepsia, and Indigestion until my health was gone. I had been doctoring constantly with no relief. I bought one bottle of South American Nerve which does me more good than any $50 worth of doctoring I ever did in my life. I would advise every weakly person to use this valuable and lovely remedy. A few bottles of it has cured me completely. I consider it the grandest medicine in the world." Warranted the most wonderful stomach and nerve cure ever known. Trial bottle 15 cents. Sold by L. Banks & Co., Mifflintown, Pa. May 14, 1y.

On Thursday Mrs. John D. Snider, residing near Keefe's in Hamilton township, met with an accident which may yet prove serious. She had gone to the barn to feed some calves. As she passed through the barn she was struck by a bull. The animal rushed at her embedding his horn in her leg and lacerating it terribly from the knee to the hip. She was thrown several feet in the air falling with great force upon the ground. The bull again attacked her when her son and another young man arrived, who, by means of clubs, etc., succeeded in driving the bull away. Mrs. Snider was conveyed to the house and medical assistance summoned. She suffered great pain and may be considered in a very critical condition.—Chambersburg Repository.

Huntingdon Journal:—On Saturday night of last week a party of young men residing in Saalsburg, this county, drank so freely of hard cider that they became considerably intoxicated, and when in this condition started out for a lark. One of the party named Herbert Wilson was the possessor of a revolver, and when they had gone some distance from the town Wilson pulled his revolver from his pocket and insisted on firing it off. His companions refused to go with him in doing so, but in his manful condition he paid no attention to their protests and pulled the trigger of the weapon, the ball from which struck a companion, a young man named Burns, aged about 16 years immediately above the left eye and penetrated the skull to the depths of three inches. A physician was immediately summoned, but notwithstanding prompt surgical attention young Burns still hovers between life and death, and the chances of recovery are decidedly against him. Herbert Wilson, who did the shooting is about 25 years of age, and is almost crazed at the result of his criminal carelessness. If he had not been violating the law in carrying a concealed deadly weapon and refused from making his senses with strong drink, his companion would have escaped the injury that will in all probability cost him his life, and he would not be compelled to endure for the remainder of his life the horrors of a troubled conscience. * * * Break up the abominable corner loading which is becoming so general in this place that ladies can no longer pass along the street after night without being insulted by the blackguards who stand picket from early evening until nine or ten o'clock. Police!

And when the Angel of Sorrow Rests her feet on ware and shore, And our eyes grow dim with watching, And our hearts faint at the ear, Happy is he that heareth The signal of his release, In the bells of the Holy City, And the chimes of eternal peace. —WHITTIER.
