Thanks

EDITOR SENTINEL AND REPUBLICAN: We would, through the columns of your paper, express our grateful thanks to the members of my pastoral charge in Mexico and Thompson town for the unexpected and liberal donation, with which they have favored us, consisting of money, and a great variety of other articles which we are truly grateful—and would pray that the blessing of the Master may rest upon them all, and that the happy and peaceful relation which has so long existed between us may be perpetuated.

REV. FRANCIS AND KATE McBURNEY.

For a Time.

I will now reduce the price of my $3.00 cabinet photograph to $1.50 per dozen.

This reduction will continue as long as there is sufficient trade to warrant these prices and no longer. This gallery is filled with all the latest improvements usually kept in a first class gallery, such as Fine Art Backgrounds, Beautiful Draperies and Fine Accessories, that would do credit to the large cities.

We propose during this reduction to let our work speak for itself and have no hesitancy in saying that taking into consideration the quality of work, these will be the cheapest cabinet photographs ever made in Juniata county. JOSEPH HESS.

Juniata News.

In looking over my old relics I find the old pen with which I once wrote items for the good old SENTINEL, but as the pen is too rusty it will not write so I get a pen from Joe Cardon of the Tribune and now I am able to write to my old friends and fellow correspondents know that I am still among the living. It is a long time since I penned the last line for this grand old paper but in the meantime have been a constant reader, and love to read it as well to day as when I saw the first issue from that time to the present.

There have appeared in it the names of many different correspondents. Where are they in their winter quarters? Well that is just where I am and that is the reason I have time to write this. Brother correspondents let us hear from you.

Many people are sick with grippe. The protracted meeting is still in progress at Locust Run and is doing great work, many sinners are returning.

An enterprising institution of penmanship is now in progress at Locust Run under the instruction of Prof. O. G. Detra a graduate from Meadville.

E. S. Manbeck was home on Sunday his illness is a high position on the farm of James Young of Midleton. Edd is a young man who possesses a large business capacity.

T. R. Auker is a man of great enterprise, he is quite an extensive fruit grower, he is now building a house which goes right along the structure was raised on Jan. 18th, despite of the snow rain and sleet and is now under roof.

W. C. Beidler of Free Port Ill., contemplates working for T. R. Auker the coming year. William VanOrmer and J. B. Musser contemplate having a sale in March both will be large sales and have fine stock.

I will now close leaving you to yourself and to the grippe, for more than likely the grippe has gripped some of you so tight that you don't care to be gripped again by the grippe. Come along Beauty let us hear from you while the others are taking a vacation for soon our summer tolls will begin then we will read the extracts of other craniums.

Ask Your Friends About It.

Your distressing cough can be cured. We knew it because Kemp's Balm within the past few years has cured so many coughs and colds in this community. Its remarkable sale has been entirely by its genuine merit. Ask some friend who has used it what he thinks of Kemp's Balm. There is no medicine so pure, none so effective. Large bottles 50c and $1 at all drug-gists.

Chinese Horrors.

There is a rebellion going on in China. The rebels are especially savage against native Christians. At one place they burned thirty children and butchered nine Chinese men.

At another they cremated sixty men whom they imprisoned in a barn. The government succeeded in defeating the rebels in battle. Many prisoners were taken, the government was as cruel and unrelenting in its treatment of rebels as the rebels had been. The punishment meted out to the rebels by their conquerors fitted their crimes. Men were beheaded by hundreds, and entire trunks of trees were utilized as blocks along which prisoners were ranged in lines and their executioners simply mowed off their heads when the signal was given.

They were not even tied and the headless trunks fell against the block or tumbled backward or to one side when the fatal sword severed the neck. The heads were hung in long rows on poles as a warning to others, and in short time intense cold forced the bodies stiff, but not before camp followers and ghouls had stripped them of every atom of clothing.
