

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 6, 1892

B. F. SCHWEIER, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

QUAY carried a majority vote last Saturday in the counties of Lawrence, Northumberland, Monroe, and every other county where Republican primary elections were held.

There doesn't seem to be much of a chance for good health in this world, since there are twenty-four hundred diseases lurking around, any one of which may catch a man.

The Democratic State convention will meet at Harrisburg, on the 13th instant month, and on the 20th of this month, the Republican State convention will meet at the same place.

There are about eight hundred million people in the business nations of the world. The gold bugs act as if the business among that number of people can be safely carried, on three billion gold dollars, which would be less than three dollars a person. The gold bugs are financially insane or wicked.

The biggest gun that Krupp's works, in Germany have turned out, weighs 120 tons, the barrel of the cannon is 44 feet long, the bore of the gun is 16 1/2 inches, the ball weighs 2000 pounds, and 700 pounds of powder shoots it 12 miles, as far as from here to Lewistown. The cost of every load is five hundred dollars.

Despatches from across the sea in sit upon it, that the German's have learned how to manage balloons and ran them in any direction through the air. German balloons have been sent over into Russia and hovered over certain places and then returned which has excited the Russian government, for by means of glasses the Germans can gain all information relative to Russian fortifications that Germany desires. The balloon despatches sound like well made them yourself.

Anarchists in Paris, are threatening, which has caused Parisians generally to declare that if the Anarchists become unruly, short work will be made of them; they will be plucked up, root and branch. The Anarchists are greatly surprised at the new turn of affairs. They have been used to denouncing their betters all their days, and threatening all kinds of misfortune upon the people they dislike, but now that the hunt is to go the other way, the Anarchist will of necessity be compelled to go into retirement or keep quiet.

What is good for one, is good for the other, says China, and if you don't allow Chinamen in America, American man can't come to China. The average American would not care if China refused to admit Americans to China, if only the Chinamen can be kept out of America. About the only interests that would suffer by such a system of mutual shut out, would be the religious, missionary people, the roving or traveling people, and men who are engaged in merchandise. A class of people, small in number compared with the general population. It is generally hoped that China means business, and will shut all foreigners out, and keep her almond eyed sons at home.

The net national indebtedness of the world is over $26,000,000,000, and how many trillion dollars it amounts to when the railroad, county, town, state, and individual indebtedness is counted, has never been told, and yet with all that, the gold bugs have gotten the ear of a great many well meaning people to believe that all that indebtedness can be floated on a gold coin basis of a little over 3,000,000,000 gold dollars, as long as they choose to float it. It will float as long on that basis as it floats. How long that will be depends upon circumstances. The world can no more pay its indebtedness on a basis of that kind than a man can measure the water of the Juniata river with a quart measure, and all legislation that tends to make gold the single standard of value, is financial suicide.

Strange Disappearance. From the Sunbury Democrat. Robert Sears, of Winfield, was in this city on Monday morning. Mr. Sears is an old man, bowed down under the weight of almost three score years. His hair is as white as the driven snow and his work has been his portion through life. For many years he lived in Lower Augusta township, this county, and is well known in Sunbury.

His Daughter. In the year 1888 Mr. Sears' daughter, Mrs. M. Sears, was married to Joseph Reeder, an inmate of Mr. Sears' home in Lower Augusta township, for sixteen years, where he assisted at work on his farm. Mrs. Sears is a handsome blonde of nineteen years of age, with golden hair and a pretty blooming complexion. In the Spring of that year Mr. Sears moved from Lower Augusta to Winfield, Pa., in the machine shop at that point. He accepted the position and was soon located at that place, his wife, however, remaining at home. In the fall of the year he rented a cozy home and furnished it, and wrote to his wife to come and join him. She made her preparations, and left her home at Winfield and came to Sunbury where she visited Berlew's on Fourth street, for several days.

Never Heard of Again. This was in October 1883, Mrs. Reeder left home promising to write as soon as she reached Waynesboro. She took the morning train from Sunbury to Harrisburg, leaving here at 9:40. Her friends were at the depot to see her off. At Fisher's Ferry she was seen in the car by John Reitz, who knew her well, he spoke to her and she said she was going to Waynesboro to her husband. This was the last trace of her the family ever heard of. Two weeks passed by and her husband wrote to Mr. Sears, asking what had become of her. She had written she was coming, but never came. Word was sent to him that she had started. Then Mr. Reeder came up to Sunbury, but all the inquiry failed to discover any trace of her after she had spoken to Reitz at the Ferry.

The days grow to weeks, the weeks to months and the months to years and no trace of her. Her husband, Joseph Reeder, of Waynesboro, obtained a divorce and married again and is prosperous and happy. Her father bowed down with the weight of years, hopes against hope for her return. There was no intimation that she intended to leave her husband, and almost all the Sears family think she was foully dealt with during her trip. But then comes the question of motive, and the mysterious disappearance. If she had been murdered where was the body? As it is, she has disappeared from relatives and friends as if she had never been born. The old father says it was the worst blow he ever received in his life, but he hopes before he dies to see his child again.

Spirits Made Him Bore For Oil. TYONE, Pa., March 30.—Boring for oil is now an enterprise along the Juniata River, ordered by the spirit of a very prominent and wealthy man who died five years ago. The scene of the operation is near Spruce Creek Station. The order comes from John S. Isett, who for nearly sixty years prior to his death, was the rich man and great landholder of that locality. He was a spiritualist. The only member of his family who inherited his faith was his son, Jacob H. Isett. Mr. Isett received, he says, the directions from his father to bore for oil. He has bored to a depth of 300 feet.

Upton "Turned Him Down" Dr. D. Hayes Agnew, the most eminent physician and surgeon in Pennsylvania and probably in this country who died in Philadelphia, formerly practicing medicine in this country. After his graduation he located at Upton, where he remained for some time, but met with indifferent success. A couple of years ago he said to one of our citizens: "I located at Upton, Franklin county, when a young man, I stayed there long enough to know all the roads in that district, but found the people about there wanted a better doctor than I was likely to prove, so I moved." And this was the man, who in after years, was chosen from among the most eminent men of his profession to attend the lamented Garfield—Greencastle Pilot.

Thomas A. Edison. Thomas Alva Edison the electrician, was born on the 11th of February, 1847, at Milan, Ohio. He began life at the age of twelve as a train boy, soon advancing to be a news dealer with four young assistants. He then began practicing telegraphy, and at last obtained a position in Port Huron. He soon began to invent, and in 1864 he moved to Memphis and had one of his inventions, an automatic repeater, put into service. He struggled along, inventing, working at his profession, and experimenting, until he went to Boston in 1868, where he was able to open a workshop for developing his inventions. Shortly afterward he was retained by the western Union Telegraph Company, and started an electrical laboratory at Newark, where he employed 300 men. In 1876 he moved to Menlo Park, New Jersey, and in 1877 left Menlo Park and erected in Orange, New Jersey, what is supposed to be the largest experimental laboratory of its kind in the world. His inventions, center largely on electricity, although one of the most wonderful of his achievements, the phonograph, is not an electrical invention at all.

A Correspondent asks the origin of a phrase, "he isn't in it." Westmorland Democrat. It was used by an editor who died and went to Heaven and looked around for the man who took his paper six years with out paying for it and then left it in the postoffice marked "refused." It sounds a little scrupulous, but it's the naked truth.

A writer in the Lewistown Gazette, says:—Thirty three years ago on the 22nd of March your scribe sowed oats and the ground was dry and in good condition to work. Now perhaps some of your readers may think we have a good memory or how do we know what the season or weather was on that particular day? We have just this to say on that subject. We sowed oats until 11 o'clock, put on our best clothes and drove six miles and was married at 6 o'clock that evening and we have not forgotten that occasion yet. That is why we remember it; satisfactory, eh?

It is easy to predict what will happen, but to realize on the prediction is the rub. Everybody, last fall, predicted that the price of grain would rule high this spring, and everybody's prediction has failed, which only goes to prove how everybody may be wrong, when they are most positive that they are right.

Huntingdon Globe of March 31.—Stewart Wilson said a female bear near the Bear Meadows a few weeks ago that weighed 197 pounds and a cub that weighed 12 pounds. The meat of the old bear was sold to parties in the neighborhood and the cub was sent to Philadelphia Tuesday. It is a very pretty little thing and resembles in appearance a Newfoundland dog.

Bloomfield Advocate.—J. W. Hughes, of North Baltimore, O., has traded town property and given monetary consideration to W. H. Borrell, now a resident in that place, in exchange for the latter's farm, in Carroll township, and will take possession on the first of April. Mr. Hughes is convinced both by the topography of his new possession and the quality of the land that oil and natural gas lie beneath the surface and will bore for them as soon as the weather is favorable.

Harriet E. Hall of Waynetown, Ind., says: "I owe my life to the great South American Nervine. I had been in bed for five months from the effects of an exhausted Stomach, Indigestion, Nervous prostration and a general shattered condition of my whole system. Had given up all hopes of getting well. Had tried three doctors with no relief. The first bottle of the Nervine Tonic improved me so much that I was able to walk about and a few bottles cured me entirely. I believe it is the best medicine in the world. I cannot recommend it too highly." Trial bottles, 15c. Sold by L. Banks & Co., May 14-ly.

Quite a large number of the friends were present and the consequences was an evening of happiness for all.

Every town has its quota of people who try to pump all the children they can get on terms with, as to the home affairs and family of the children. Said one of the poky-year men into other-people's-business class the other day to a boy: "Hello, little boy! What is your name?" "Same as pa's," said the boy. "What's your pa's name?" "Same as mine." "I mean, what do they call you when they call you to breakfast?" "They don't nudder call me to breakfast." "Why don't they?" "Cause I alluz get there the fast one!"

A special dispatch from Raton, N. M., to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat tells of a remarkable escape from death. An eagle was sailing away, about 50 feet above the ground with a year-old child in its talons. The screams of the frantic mother attracted the attention of a party of tourists who were riding by. One of them, Mr. Roberts, carried a rifle. Yielding to the entreaties of the mother, after much hesitation, he risked a shot at the bird, fortunately breaking one of its wings. The eagle held on to the child, and struggled with its remaining wing, thus coming gradually to the ground, when the child was rescued from its clutch.
