EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

A COMPANY OF Idaho ranchmen overtook, captured and killed two of a band of thieves that had over 50 stolen horses in their possession last week.

MARY VICTORIA TECK, was engaged to marry the oldest son of the prince of Wales, the young man died. She will soon marry the brother of the man to whom she was engaged.

A NEW Democratic stock paper, will be issued upon the sea of journalism in Millintown, in the first week in June, under the editorial management of Rev. E. E. Berry.

The front doors to the house that W. K. Vanderbilt is erecting at New Port cost fifty thousand dollars. The Vanderbilts of the three generations past have been making their money in steamboat and railroad transportation business.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company have decided that train men shall not read while in service on the cars, presumably, on the principle that the attention and time of the men during service hours belongs exclusively to the company and not to reading, for themselves.

WILLIAM ASTOR, one of New York's richest men died in Paris, France, last week. One of the peculiarities of his business transactions was not to insure the houses that he owned in New York City. He owned so many that the loss of a number of them by fire was less than the premium or insurance.

SOME one is to the front declaring that consumption is the accumulation of the surplus mucus of the lungs of the surplus mucus that the glands and pores of the body have failed to throw off, and the remedy for consumption is to reduce the surplus and that will destroy the disease. But the treatment to keep down the surplus is not stated.

An Unusual List of Names.

The Cosmopolitan begins its thirtieth volume May issue, under the joint editorship of Mr. W. D. Howells and Mr. W. D. Howells with a table of contents which will attract attention. James Russell Lowell, Frank R. Stockton, Theodore Roosevelt, Edmund Clarence Steadman, Henry James, Prof. H. H. Boyesen, Hamlin Garland, John Hay, Sarah Orne Jewett, Prof. Langley of the Smithsonian, Thomas Wentworth Higginson, and W. D. Howells himself are among the contributors. The illustrations in this issue are by such well known artists as E. W. Kemble, Frederick Remington, F. S. Church, Walter Crane, William M. Chase, C. S. Reinhart, Dan Beard, George Wharton Edwards, Wilson D. Mezz, etc.

A Rain of Mud.

On April 27, there was a shower of mud along the Union Pacific Railway at Onaga. The rain commenced early in the day, and soon the south and east sides of all houses were covered with yellow clay. The windows received such a coating as to shut out the sun's rays. A Union Pacific train which ran through the storm had its windows covered, and the headlight was so completely plastered that the light was shut in and the train ran in darkness to Rossville, the next station, where the mud had to be scraped off. This storm lasted until after day light. As far east as Tepeka, the windows showed that the edge of the mudstorm had extended this far. It was more severe about fifty miles northwest.

The Bunco Man.

The Dunco man first gets the name and living place of the person he desires to make game of and then at the time he thinks best for his purposes he makes the acquaintance of the victim and goes for him like in the following case:—Jacob D. Harnish, a York business man was lured out of $200 in New York last week. He was addressed on Broadway by a man who called him by name and residence. A few minutes later, another man stopped him, called him by name, said he was a relative of prominent Yorkers, and made himself agreeable to Harnish. A third man soon joined the party and Harnish says he suddenly grabbed a pocket book containing $200 from Harnish's inside coat pocket, and ran away. No. 2 told Harnish not to get excited and they would follow the thief and recover the money. He too soon disappeared and that was the last Harnish saw of the friends he so hastily made in a strange place.—N. Y. Tribune.

The Jack Rabbit Plague in California.

On the San Joaquin plains of California the jack rabbits are a nuisance, and the practice of the farmers is to thin them out by annual drives. A corral is formed with barbed wire fence, and around this forming a circumference ten to twelve miles long, from 5,000 to 7,000 persons collect at the appointed time. Many are mounted, there are many hundreds of light wagons and other vehicles, these on foot form a skirmish line in advance, provided with clubs. As the line contracts the jack rabbits are put up and banded for the corral. Marzials so direct the advance that the animals are massed on the open side of the corral. The close of the latest drive is thus described by the

San Francisco Examiner:

"Before the contracting line of men, women, boys and girls lay about 500 acres of plain so thick with madly rushing hares that the ground was actually hidden from sight. Within a space of a few acres over 25,000 rabbits were huddled together. In one place the terror stricken mass had rushed into one corner and lay there over a foot deep. It is estimated that at least 2,000 were never touched by club, but were simply smothered to death by the rush of those in the rear. Photographs were taken of the mass as they lay huddled up, and then the veteran guard of California clubs in hand, were formed in line of battle, and with a yell moved down upon the mass of 25,000 bunnies, clubbing as they ran. A sickening slaughter took place, lasting about an hour."

GENERAL NEWS ITEMS.

Clean piano keys with a rag dipped in alcohol.

There are 515 inmates in the Huntington Reformatory.

Pennsylvania raised thirty million pounds of tobacco in 1891.

According to the report of the department at Washington there has been an increase of one-fourth in the production of the potato in the past ten years.

"The simplest remedy known for nervous headache is a pinch of salt taken on the tongue and allowed to dissolve slowly, followed in about ten minutes with a drink of water."

The accumulation of deeds and official records have multiplied so rapidly in Blair county that an annex to the Register and Recorder's apartment in Hollidaysburg is contemplated.

Mrs. Suburb, "Are you acquainted with her personally?" Proprietress (of intelligence office). "Yes, indeed. She is a good girl. I have known her for years. She comes in here almost every week for a place."

Spring Mills, in Centre county, has been much annoyed by robberies of late. Tuesday night of last week the creamery was broken into and the safe blown open. About eight dollars in postage stamps and some drafts were taken.

"It seems necessary to be a slim dietist in order to become a pianist. Rubinstein is reported as breakfasting on a cup of tea and a cigarette preparatory to two hours hard work at practicing; and Paderewski is said to live on eggs and lemons."

There's a scarcity of gold.

Not more than $100,000,000 worth of the precious metal is mined annually, is what the Philadelphia Record of last Thursday, April 21, said, and yet in another column of the same Record, it denounces the so-called gold standard, and advocates that gold be made the standard of value.

A few days ago while J. L. Peters, of Beck's Valley, was cutting a tree down, one of his small boys walked up behind, unknown to him, and when he swung his ax around it struck the boy in the face making an ugly gash from his chin up to his eye. Had the ax struck him a half-inch lower where it did, it would have cut him right in the eye.—Lincolnton Sun.

Probably the largest apple tree in the world is in the northwest corner of Maine, Conn. Its age can be traced by family tradition to 140 years, it is probably seven years older. One foot above the ground, five inches in diameter, it is thirteen feet, eight inches. The trunk is very symmetrical and divides into eight limbs. Three of these usually bear one year and the other five the next. One hundred and ten bushels have been harvested from the five limbs in a single year. The tree is about sixty feet high and the spread of the branches is far from 100 feet. The fruit is sweet, rather small, and only moderate in quality.

About 8 o'clock on the evening of April 27th, just as the play was about to begin in Central Theatre Philadelphia, some one in the audience saw smoke and fire in the machinery over the stage. The cry of fire was raised which caused a panic among the audience. In their rush from the place many people were trampled. About 60 persons were injured in the scramble to get out. Eight persons perished in the flames. The fire spread so rapidly that the people in the Times annex in the rear of the theater barely escaped. The Times loss is $300,000, half insured. The loss of the theater is $370,000. A number of other houses were burned before the fire was brought into subjection.

Miss Jennie Smith, of East Broad Top, is a lady-like woman, a good housekeeper, and each morning after her domestic affairs are accomplished she finds ample time to personally superintend the hauling of stone and other material in her neighborhood. She has two teams and five men constantly employed. Miss Smith devotes much of her time in looking after this work, which she finds quite profitable. To some this might be regarded as an advanced step for a woman to take in the business pursuits of life, but it only shows the limitless scope that is held out to the fair sex in the business world. We can only add success to Miss Smith.—Huntington Globe.

Wm. Hildebrand, of Mount Union, has been in his time quite a hunter and claims to have killed more rabbits than any other man in the state. In his younger days he thought nothing of working six days and being out four nights in the week hunting coons. He hunted over the hills and hollows from Harenca's to Withers' Mills and from Jack's Mountain to Black Log and Licking Creek, and he believes that coons are nearly as plenty now as they were fifty years ago. He has killed bears, deer, wildcats and hundreds of foxes, and he killed three hundred and fifteen raccoons with one dog. He has one of the best bounds in the country, and although in his seventy-fifth year was out with him last summer chasing foxes.

A Sheep's Age.

A lamb has eight teeth in its upper jaw. At one year old the two middle teeth are shed and two under ones take their place. At two years old the next two disappear and two more broad teeth come in their place. At three years there are six broad teeth. When four years old we call eight broad teeth, which we call a full mouth. Not infrequently a sheep at one year old will not shed its front teeth for some reason, and again it may shed a third year old to show a four year old mouth. When the growth and development varies these variations usually appear. As a rule, at five years old the two front teeth show some shrinkage, and at six the next two and the two front teeth drop out and continue in this routine. They are seldom known to shed a year older. A strong vigorous constitution will often change this rule, and vice versa.
Jos. H. Deibel, who resides about a mile east of Freeburg, Snyder county was found lying on a horse blanket in his barn on Sunday morning, the 17th. He went to the barn the night before after returning from town, and it is supposed he was seized with severe pain from Cholera morbus, of which he was a sufferer and lay down until relieved, when the pain returned. He was taken to the house and medical aid called, but died the following day at 4 p. m. Aged 51 years.

A Favorable Verdict after Twenty Years Trial. The original and only genuine Compound Oxygen Treatment of Dr. Starkey & Pyles, is a scientific adjustment of the elements of Oxygen and Nitrogen magnetized; and the compound is so condensed and made portable that it is sent all over the world. It has been in use for more than twenty years; thousands of patients have been treated, and recommended it.—a very significant fact. It does not act as most drugs do by creating an ailment, often requiring a second course to eradicate the evil effects of the first, but Compound Oxygen is a revitalizer, renewing, strengthening, invigorating the whole body. These statements are confirmed by numerous testimonials, published in our book of 200 pages, only with the express permission of the patients, their names and addresses are given and you can refer to them for further information. The great success of our treatment has given rise to a host of imitations, unscrupulous persons; some calling their preparation Compound Oxygen, often appropriating our testimonials and the names of our patients to recommend their worthless concoctions. But any substance made elsewhere or by others, and called Compound Oxygen is a quack.
