ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

And Men of War Times—A Valuable Book by Col. A. K. McClure, L. L. D.

Of the many books that have been published relating to Abraham Lincoln and his administration, this is among the most interesting and valuable. It is not a biography of Lincoln, nor a history of the civil war, but it presents a series of pictures of Lincoln in his relation to the great events of his time and to the distinguished men who surrounded him, from the point of view of an experienced observer who was closely associated with the political movement of the day, and was frequently called into the confidential councils of the President. Mr. McClure records in this book only those things of which he had personal knowledge, or which came to his knowledge directly, and his personal recollections of Lincoln present a truthful and vivid portrait of the great man at many of the critical periods of his life, such as has not been presented before. Prices. Cloth, $2.00; Full Morocco, gilt, $3.00. An opportunity will be given the public to purchase the book in a few days.

Juniata at the World's Fair.

A Bradford Evans, of Thompsonton, Juniata county has had a panel of maple wood, a panel of red oak wood and a panel of white oak wood from a tree that grew on his woods in Delaware township and prepared for a place in the Woman's building in Chicago at the World's Fair. The Ladies Auxiliary Society of the World's Fair Commission for Juniata county manifested such an appreciation of Mr. Evans' contribution that they have had the wood finely polished, and will have the words "Juniata County Pa." embossed in gilt letters on each panel. There are many Juniata county people in Chicago and thousands of others in the Western states. Who will attempt to describe the recollections, and sentiment that the panels will awaken in their minds and hearts next summer when they visit the fair and look upon mementoes from the highland district of Pennsylvania where they were born. At the present time the panels are at the home of the President of the above named society—Mrs. Mary M. Jacobs—in Millintown.

SUMMER TOURS.

The Latest Publication of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The list of June is a date looked forward to by the thousands who make their preliminary plans for summer outings, and their main guide is the Summer Excursion book issued yearly by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, which regularly appears on that date. Advanced copies for the season of 1892 are fresh from the press, and certainly exceed anything of like character ever published by this progressive railroad company. It is not only a compendium of all the routes prevailing over its own and connecting lines the principal resorts of the land, but it is equally as valuable as a guide book, with full and explicit information as to how trips may be made, and as to what desirable variations may be utilized to enhance their pleasure and profit. Nearly five hundred resorts, ranging from Prince Edward Island to the mountains of Western North Carolina, from the southern extremity of New Jersey to the wild lakes of Canada, from the mineral springs of Virginia to the great inland lakes, are described at length, and over fifteen hundred routes, representing a stock of fifteen hundred special forms of tickets, are set out clearly and intelligibly within its pages. In arranging these routes care has been observed in making them read over lines that present the greatest number of interesting points, and in every case there is a wide field for choice. They also provide for a return trip by a different direction, so that the tourist may find his outing a continual succession of changing scenes. It is so comprehensive that one could hardly ask for a ticket to an Eastern resort of any prominence and fail to find it ready made by a variety of routes. One hundred and thirty railroad and steamboat lines are represented in the coupons of these tickets, every one of them connecting directly or remotely with the Pennsylvania system.

Bob Jackson, colored, of Port Jervis, N. Y., caught a young girl in the outskirts of the town and after a desperate struggle perpetrated an outrage. The young woman was in an insupportable condition when people who heard her cries came to her assistance. They were too late to save her from the fiend's purpose. The devil fled and was pursued 9 miles before he was captured and confessed the crime and charged that a white man named Foley and he had conspired to ruin the girl. He said Foley got him into the conspiracy because the girl's father objected to Foley paying his address to the young woman. In every mile of the way back to Port Jervis the crowd grew larger. A thousand angry men followed. Some one shouted lynch him. A rope was put around his neck and he was jerked to the limb of a tree where he hung an hour before he was taken down.

Ask Your Friends About It.

Your distressing cough can be cured. We knew it because Kemp's Balsam within the past few years has cured so many coughs and colds in this community. Its remarkable sale has been won entirely by its genuine merit. Ask some friend who has used it what he thinks of Kemp's Balsam. There is no medicine so pure, none so effective. Large bottles 50c and $1 at all druggists.

The Pittsburg Times.

The Pittsburg Times celebrated the event of its moving into new and commodious quarters on the 1st of June, by a regular old fashioned house warming at which hundreds of prominent people attended. The issue of the paper of that day is a marvel. It is an encyclopedia of Pittsburg statistics and of Pittsburg men and their enterprises. Forty-nine tons of paper were required to get out the edition but large as it is it is not an exaggeration but a vista of the past and a prophetic forerunner of the greater Pittsburg yet to come.

For a Time.

I will now reduce the price of my $3.00 cabinet photograph to $1.50 per dozen. This reduction will continue as long as there is sufficient trade to warrant these prices and no longer. This gallery is filled with all the latest improvements usually kept in a first class gallery, such as Fine Scenic Backgrounds, Beautiful Draperies and Fine Accessories, that would do credit to the large cities. We propose during this reduction to let our work speak for itself and have no hesitancy in saying that taking into consideration the quality of work, these will be the cheapest cabinet photographs ever made in Juniata county. Respectfully,
JOSEPH HESS,
Millintown, Pa., Jan. 22nd, 1892.

For a Time.

A few days ago Mr. Frank Smith and Maggie his wife from Carlisle dropped off the cars at the station and were not there long till the attention of W. M. Miles baggage agent was required to maintain the dignity of his department. To his mild remonstrances against their conduct they presented a defiant demeanor and abusive tongue and Mrs. Smith became so worked up over the situation that Amazon like she prepared to stamp the baggage agent and affairs at one time looked as if she might go so far as to propose making a fair square meal of the gallant Miles. The able custodian of the baggage interests however was equal to the situation he would not be eaten, slapped, scolded or driven from the proper position that he took in maintaining order and decent conduct about his place, so he did the next best thing and handed the Carlisle fire enters over to constable Powell who walked them over to Carlisle Lapp. The Sheriff was not at home having gone to Beaver county to catch a fugitive but his better half Mrs. Lapp, assigned the new comers to a front room. The Smiths for some reason were not pleased with their quarters and raised a fight over it among themselves and before it was over they had broken out a number of panes of glass and Mrs. Smith had gotten off a number of wild yells that unnerved all the inmates of the jail and caused people in the neighborhood to jump to the conclusion that some innocent female was being sacrificed to the fury of some mad or drunken man, George Howler and James Horning hastened to the jail and at the instance of Mrs. Lapp put Mr. Smith in the dungeon which had the effect of settling the difficulty between the sejoirners. Smith was so effected by the dungeon confinement that he delivered himself of semi-religious speculations that were heard on the streets near the jail. On the next morning they were given by hearing before Judge C. H. Horning. After a thorough investigation the verdict of the court was "You are fined two dollars and costs conditioned upon your leaving town immediately." They paid the fine and the costs and left the town.
