Heb on human and horses and animals cured in 30 minutes by Woolford's Sanitary Lotion. This never fails. Sold by L. Banks & Co., Druggists, Mifflintown, Nov. 13, 1890-ly.

The lancers, quadrille, and waltz dances are out of date. The ballet dance is the craze now. Girls 12 to 14 years old and up are taught the ballet dance. What's to come of it all. Are the girls to turn show girls?

The most prominent man and woman in Carson, Nebraska, and for many miles around. Mr. Harrison Brown and wife, he is 70 years old, his wife is 63 years of age, and she has just presented him with new twin babies.

A thief stole the corner stone of a new Methodist church in the corner of Main and Pleasantville, New Jersey for the few coins that were in it. He must be the son of the New Jersey thief who in the past generation stole the pennies of the eyes of his dead grandmother.

A great many barns have been struck by lightning this summer owing to the fact that the lightning encountered no material in which fire is easily kindled. Had the barns been struck with full mows the most of them would have been burned.

Have you tried South American Nerve—the gem of the century? The great cure for Indigestion, Dyspepsia and Nervousness. Warranted the most wonderful Stomach and Nerve Cure ever known. Trial bottles 15 cents. Sold by L. Banks & Co., Druggists, Mifflintown, Nov. 13, 1890-ly.

English Spavin Liniment removes all Hard, Soft or Calloused Lumps and Blisters from horses, Blood Spavin, Curbs, Splints, Sweeney, Ringbone, Hittles, Sprains and Swollen Throats, Coughs, &c. Saves $50 by use of one bottle. Warranted the most wonderful Bleemish Cure ever known. Sold by L. Banks & Co., Druggists, Mifflintown, Nov. 13, 1890-ly.

All the girls in the Carnegie Hotel at Homestead struck last Friday. They declared they were not to be made slaves. The hotel keeper seemed to be little troubled over their strike, indeed he looked rather pleased when he told them they were a lay set and wouldn't half work but as the girls didn't threaten to scratch the eyes out of any others who would take the vacant places the military was not called upon for the scene.

John Treon the veteran trapper has a family of four wild cats in a cage in his lot at the north end of Third street. The two old cats he trapped and caged last winter, and the two young cats have come by the course of nature within the past several weeks. They are all beautiful, but the most admiration is lavished by callers on the kittens. Some one wanting to obtain a collection of wild cats should address John Treon, Mifflintown, Juniata Co., Pa.

The rebel constitution of the government that Jeff Davis and company set up declared against a tariff, except for revenue only. It declared against a tariff for the protection of manufactures or any branch of industry, and the platform of the Democratic Convention that nominated Cleveland at Chicago, did the same thing, it declared for a tariff for revenue only, and declared a tariff for protection unconstitutional. So the rebel government constitution and the Democratic platform are alike on the question of the revenue and tariff.

Ezra Fausick was quite ill last week with kidney disease.

The legal time for catching German carp is from September 1st, to May 1st.

The post master at Fogelsville, Lehigh county, Pa., has eloped with a 17 year old girl.

Congress sent a committee to Homestead and Pittsburg to gather the facts relative to the strike there.

His bait was in a bottle. And it scared him half to death. When his wife inquired demurely if he fished with baited hooks.

Some enterprising person might turn an honest sum by expounding books that are unlawfully running at large.

The town council of Lewistown has passed an ordinance establishing a curbstone market to be held twice a week.

Ralph Parker is the champion fisher among the boys. He seems to delight to find bass, and the fish seem to take to his bait.

John H. McKensie, aged 73 years lost his mental balance and committed suicide in the rear end of his lot in Bloomfield, Perry county, on the 14th of July.

Samuel Gardner's barn near Pennsylvania State College was destroyed by lightning on the 13th inst. Part of last year's crop and most of this year's wheat crop was in the barn. Partly insured.

There will be two state fairs held this year, the first at Scranton from September 5th to the 15th, inclusive. The second will be held during the first week in October at Lancaster. The two fairs will be held this year because none will be held next year, owing to the Columbian Exposition to be held in Chicago in 1893.

The republican Senate passed a free coinage bill but a democratic house defeated the bill on the 13th of July. It looks as if free coinage is dead, for some years to come. It is only a question of time till the pressing necessities of the times will force it to the front. Congressman McKensie voted to bury the free coinage bill.

Carnegie is a foreigner, Pinkerton is a foreigner and there isn't anything American about an organization that attempts to keep men from getting work who are not connected with their secret oath bound lodges. Once an American can't get work without creeping into the hole of a secret organization it is time that the secret organization be taken in hand.

Some wicked person who is not fit to be at large among his fellow men, drew a line pin out of the axle tree of a straw wagon in which a company of young people went to Mexico some evenings ago. The company had come on their way home as far as the Cannery, south of town when the wheel came off. The result was a broken axle tree and the company had to walk from that place to town.

A hail storm just before grain cutting time threshed several hundred bushels of wheat out of the standing straw of a field of 25 acres owned by George Conn, in Tuscarora valley. No other field of wheat in the valley was so damaged. From the delirium of the storm one might think that it was a special dispensation of Providence on Conn. Such losses however are not always to be taken in the light of misfortune, for whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth.

Bloomfield Times—In a vote on the water question held in Duanecon the majority in favor of water works was forty-nine. March interest was taken in the ballot and quite a number of women voted. They will now have water by the Water Company and at no cost to the taxpayers. * * * Will Orr is particularly unfortunate with his horse stock. To add to the loss he experienced on Monday a fine animal coming three years old was found in the field on Wednesday morning with a leg broken. It had probably received the injury by a kick from another horse, and the break was in such a place that the only remedy was to kill the colt. This is his fifth loss of horse stock within about a year.

Bloomfield Democrat—On Monday last week, during the heavy thunder storm that passed over Eye township, the barn of James Bell was struck by lightning and eight sheep killed. The gable end of the barn was somewhat damaged, but the building did not take fire. There were 12 head of mules in the stable at the time, but all escaped injury. * * * During a thunder storm which passed over Duanecon, San day last week two bolts of lightning struck the house of George Arter, in that borough. Mabel, a little daughter of Mr. Arter, was badly burned down her left side and one of her shoes was torn off by the electric current. She will probably recover. Mrs. John Shatto, who was standing near Miss Arter when she was struck, was shocked by the same stroke.

Lewistown Free Press: On the afternoon of July 1, while John Keller and wife, Clyde Roper and Miss Mudge Keller were rowing up the river a four pound bass jumped into the boat and on the lap of Mrs. K., which frightened her and she nearly fell into the river. But Clyde didn't mind the fine fish securely tied to the bottom of the boat. The next morning that quart had bass for breakfast. * * * Every now and then we are required as to the law regarding strays. If you take up a stray animal you must within ten days give notice of it to your town clerk, who must make an entry slip of the same; then you advertise the animal in your local paper, three in serials, and sixty days after each advertisement has appeared you apply to your Justice of the peace to sell the animal; he issues a warrant to the constable, who gives ten days' notice by posters and then sells it, and you get it or your expenses, according to the sale. The penalty for taking up a stray and not giving notice is $5, and besides that the owner can come upon your place and take it away without paying you anything.

On the 13th inst. a destructive storm struck the resident section of Springfield, Ohio, and completely demolished about thirty residences and partially ruined over a hundred more. Two persons are possibly fatally injured, and the loss in property is appalling. A conservative estimate places the loss at between $160,000 to $200,000.

The men who caused the strike at Homestead were getting $480 to $3,200 a year. Wait till the verdict of the American people comes in on the act of strikers the least of whom received four hundred and better and the largest of them received three thousand two hundred dollars a year clear money. They had nothing invested in the work excepting their labor of 8 hours a day.

Wednesday of last week traps undertook to steal the dinner buckets from the section hands across the river, when they were discovered, chased and caught, and in lieu of prosecution the laboring men organized a court of justice and pronounced on the law to the culprits, who were then released feeling pretty sore from the bruises they received in the administration of the law.—Lewistown Gazette.

The "Peoples Party" held a national convention in Omaha, Neb., last week, and nominated Grandbanker General J. B. Weaver of Iowa for president; and Confederate General, J. G. Field of Virginia for Vice President. Field is an out spoken speech maker. It is said that in a speech made in the campaign of 1880, he declared: "We killed a great many Yankees during the war, and I wish I had killed twice as many more, not enough to have given us the victory and our cause success."

Blair Cramer made a narrow escape with his life last Saturday, while helping to transfer iron plates of a ton weight from one car to another in the railroad yard near the station. A crane had been put in place to lift the plates one of which was being moved, and as it was swung from one car to the other it struck Cramer on the side of the head and very nearly shaved his head which if it had his head would have been crushed as easily as the shell of an egg. As it was he was severely hurt but he was compelled to quit work for the time being.

On Sabbath, the remains of Rev. J. H. McMeen son of Laird McMeen late of Turbett township, this county, was brought from Benson, Illinois, where he was located to preach, for interment in his native county. Mr. McMeen was drowned on Wednesday night, July 13th, by the sinking of the steamer Frank's Pelican which was upset by a tornado while steaming from Peoria to Pekin, Illinois, with a company of excursionists, who had been to Peoria to see the play of the destruction of Pompeii. When the excursionists took the boat there was no indication of a tornado sweeping down upon them. Twelve other persons were drowned.

Harriet E. Hall of Waynetown, Ind., says: "I owe my life to the great South American Nerve. I had been in bed for five months from the effects of an exhausted Stomach, Indigestion, Nervous prostration and a general shattered condition of my whole system. Had given up all hopes of getting well. Had tried dozens of doctors with no relief. The first bottle of the Nerve Tonic improved me so much that I was able to walk about and a few bottles cured me entirely. I believe it is the best medicine in the world. I can't recommend it to highly." Trial bottles, 15c. Sold by L. Banks & Co. May 14-ly.

Several days ago a tornado came down and moved its narrow characteristic swath through everything encountered in Center county. Orchards were blown down as easily as so many weeds or corn stalks. J. H. Musser's large barn, 136 by 45, with shed attachment of 83 to 39 feet was demolished, and 1/2 brick house was unroofed and gables broken in. The family of the tenant escaped unhurt. Loss over $5000. Daniel Bowersox's house and barn were unroofed, and out-houses demolished. Wolf's chapel church was unroofed and its steeple with a 200 pound ball was blown down and cut in two pieces. The storm seemed to bounce up and down in its course.

Rebecca Wilkinson, of Browns valley, Ind., says: "I have been in a distressed condition for three years from Nervousness, Weakness of the Stomach, Dyspepsia, and Indigestion until my health was gone. I had been doctoring constantly with no relief. I bought one bottle of South American Nerve which done me more good than any $50 worth of doctoring I ever did in my life. I would advise every weakly person to use this valuable and lovely remedy. A few bottles of it has cured me completely. I consider it the grandest medicine in the world." Warranted the most wonderful stomach and nerve cure ever known. Trial bottle 15 cents. Sold by L. Banks & Co., Mifflintown, Pa. May 14, ly.

LATROBE, Pa., July 15—A storm threshing machine, while passing through one of the principal streets this morning, was blown almost to K, which frightened her and she nearly fell into the river. But Clyde didn't mind the fine fish securely tied to the bottom of the boat. The next morning that quart had bass for breakfast. * * * Every now and then we are required as to the law regarding strays. If you take up a stray animal you must within ten days give notice of it to your town clerk, who must make an entry slip of the same; then you advertise the animal in your local paper, three in serials, and sixty days after each advertisement has appeared you apply to your Justice of the peace to sell the animal; he issues a warrant to the constable, who gives ten days' notice by posters and then sells it, and you get it or your expenses, according to the sale. The penalty for taking up a stray and not giving notice is $5, and besides that the owner can come upon your place and take it away without paying you anything.

History repeats itself in peach culture. In the early part of this century the cultivation of the peach was carried to a great extent in this country. Some of the farms contained many thousand trees. It is only necessary to mention one farm. The Horrifying farm two miles north-west of born in 1811 contained 6000 thrifty peach bearing trees. The peach then was used in the manufacture of peach brandy, and it will be no great surprise, if the price of grain keeps on declining, to find in a dozen years distilleries plentiful and in profitable operation. The forefathers in these valleys did not manufacture liquors, simply because they wanted to drink liquor, but they did it because the price of grain and fruit was below profitable raising, and they could best make their money and butter and raise more money with which to keep up running expenses by converting their grain and fruit into liquor than to sell it by the bushel.

About 15 minutes past 9 o'clock on Sunday morning, the fire alarm whistles started the community. The Sabbath Schools had just been called, but the alarm caused a rush to the street. There was a general run-out of everybody. The fire was found to be among cheese and lemon boxes and other rubbish in the wall out of the street leading to the cellar in the back part of the Deane and McMeen store rooms in Patterson, and directly under the floor of the stairway leading to the up stairs of the store. A boy had gone back to blacken his shoes and while doing that discovered smoke coming out of a crack in the wall, and his discovery of the smoke led to the finding of the fire. The fire was in such a place that it could not have been discovered from the street until it had made great progress inside the building. A few buckets of water put the fire out. The origin of the fire is not known. An uncovered burglar alarm electric wire runs through the place where the fire started, but whether that could have originated a smoldering fire in the night when the current was on is not known, but some people believe the fire was started by the burglar electric alarm wire.
