President Harrison's cholera proclamation is all right, but the fact is it will be of as much account as the Pope's proclamation against the comet of long ago. How can it stop the germs of disease brought over by passengers on the fast and best of steamers. The cholera cannot be kept out. It is hoped that it may be of a modified type.

A man named Daniels, of Juniata county, came to the railroad station at Millerstown one day last week, for phosphate and while loading the wagon, his horses frightened at a train of cars, and ran away. David Miller, of Green Spring, Cumberland county, died very suddenly on Wednesday evening of last week. He was talking with his wife when he suddenly ceased, gave a gasp and expired. He is as well as can be expected considering the nature of the injuries.

From the Bloomfield Times, of September 6:—On Monday evening the 29th, as Mrs. Reuben Orris and her mother of Ickesburg, were going to retire they came in contact with a copper head snake on the stair step measuring 2½ feet. * * * Mrs. Reuben J. Orris, near Ickesburg, picked 365 quarts of huckleberries this season and during that time saw six snakes and killed three, two copperheads one rattler; snakes seem to be plenty; R. J. Orris killed one rattler and W. H. Shull, killed one rattler with seven rattles, Mrs. Sarah Smith killed one copperhead. * * * One day last week a resident received a get-rich-quick letter, by forwarding six-hundred dollars to a distant city he would receive in return thirty thousand dollars, in queer. Having never received such a tempting bait, and not knowing much about the wicked ways in which sharpers throw out bait for such as he to bite. He came to the conclusion that it was not intended for him and returned it to the office.

Cholera Proclamation.

Governor Pattison has issued a proclamation relative to the impending cholera. He asks the cities and towns and people in general to place their respective communities in a clean state of defense. And he asks that all suspicious cases of disease be reported to the State Board of Health instead concealing them.

Cases Disposed Of.

The criminal cases claimed the attention of Court first this week, and by Tuesday evening a number of the cases booked for trial had been disposed of: Horse thief Walker plead guilty. John Shinalauff Sr., was found guilty of the larceny of a horse. The grand jury failed to find a true bill against Edward Loudor for larceny of horse clippers. Jacob Moore plead guilty of larceny.

Bush Meeting.

A bush meeting that was largely attended was held in Harry Moore's grove close by the Dunker church, near Van Wert. Last Saturday evening, Rev. Landis delivered the sermon. On Sunday morning Rev Berry preached. The afternoon sermon was delivered by Rev. Lewey. On Sabbath evening Rev. Landis preached. Mr. Harry Moore lead the choir.

Cholera Suspects.

A Number of immigrants from a foreign ship came to Harrisburg last Sunday. There they were overtaken by proper authority and ordered to remain at a certain place outside of the town several weeks. As yet the passengers that come on the regular steamship lines from England have not become cholera suspects. The truth however is that every person that comes from Europe may have cholera germs in their clothing and persons and sow the seed broad cast to lie dormant till the warm days of next summer.

Woods Meeting.

The Woods Meeting, in Schweier's woods near town, on Sabbath under the auspices of the A. M. E. Church, of Lewistown, was attended by many people. The meeting was under the charge of Rev. O. T. Davis, who preached in the forenoon and evening and took part in all of the other public services.

The afternoon sermon was preached to a large and attentive audience by Rev John L. Griffith.

The theme of the discourse was, "Be Acquainted With God."

It was a remarkable occasion and a scene long to be remembered. A group of colored people in the fore ground before the pulpit, which was occupied by Rev. O. T. Davis and and Rev. John L. Griffith, and many hundred white people sitting and standing close up listening for every word of preaching and exhortation and singing and looking with interest upon every movement of the chief worshipers.

Death on the Rail.

Christian Apple, came to his death by jumping from the water closet of train No. 8.—Day express—Eastward bound, on 3rd inst., at Van Dyke, Tower Juniata county, Pa. He was ticketed from Pittsburg to Glassborough N. J., and came to Altoona on Limited and there got off and lost his train. Informing railroad authority of his mistake a despatch was sent and answer returned that his ticket was all right. When he appeared at the Altoona gate to take Day Express his face was discolored with blood and his head was bandaged. He looked so wild that the conductor expressed a dislike to taking him on the train. Emmigrant interpreter ——————who goes on all emmigrant trains from Harrisburg, to Altoona, was present and he volunteered to give attention to Apple as far as to Harrisburg. On the way down the Juniata Valley, Apple made a number of trips to the water closet but not much thought was given to that. Somewhere about Port Royal the interpreter remembered him going to the closet and shortly after when the conductor came along he asked for the man. The interpreter told him where he went. Something induced the men to look for him in the closet. He was not there. His hat, his coat, vest and watch hung on a peg, and the open window plainly showed that he had gone out through it. Word was despatched from the train back. When found he was dead. His skull was broken open and the brain gone. His body was somewhat bruised and cut, about $25 in money was found in his pockets. A number of Knights of Pythias badges were found on his person. His body was prepared for interment by Mr. Snyder and on Saturday midnight, Dr. Hollman on behalf of the Knights of Pythias of this place, and Herman Cramer in behalf of the railroad Company started for Glassborough with the remains where interment took place.

Joe Rice made his last trip with the stage coach on Wednesday. The business was in the hands of the Rices, father and sons, for forty years and it is safe to say that this state has not had a better stage coach service any where. Joe drove twenty four years, thirty five miles daily, six days each week. * * * On Wednesday morning Lewis Harper of Howe township, saw a bald eagle, that glorious American bird, soaring around in search of his ducks, and shot and killed it. It was a large eagle, measuring six feet eight inches, from wing to wing and weighing eleven pounds. This bird is rarely seen here now, although forty years ago it was not an unfrequent sight to see them standing on the river bank. Miss Shoaf, who, we understand, is skilled in taxidermy, will stuff the skin that it may be preserved as a specimen.

There are penalties against writing on walls of public and private buildings, which if enforced, would make a hole in the pocket book of boys and girls who have a fashion of writing on the walls of school houses and other buildings. Don't do it, some one will make you suffer for the unlawful habit.

Learning to Vote.

An educational election booth was put up in the Court House last week and quite a number of citizens availed themselves of the opportunity to vote the big ticket. Chairman Shirk of the Republican county committee cast the first vote or ballot and merchant North Sterrett of Patterson cast the second ballot.

Reunion of the Army of the Cumberland.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company announces that for the benefit of those desiring to attend the interesting reunion of the Army of Cumberland, to be held at Chattanooga, Tenn., September 15th and 16th, a fare and a third on the certificate plan has been authorized. Application should be made to T. E. Watt, Passenger Agent Western District, Pittsburg, Pa.

Sheriff's Sales.

On last Friday afternoon the Sheriff sold the following properties at Sheriff's sale at the Court House:

A tract of 21 acres in Fermanagh township, as the property of J. C. Stoner, to Ed. M. Margritz, for $350.

A tract of land in Fermanagh twp., containing 61 acres, as the property of J. C. Stoner, to J. D. Williams for $105.

A tract of land in Monroe township, containing 20 acres as the land of William Lauver to Mrs. Elsina Lauver.

A tract of land in Monroe township, containing 98 acres, the land of Joseph Page, advertised for sale at the same time was not sold. Execution stayed.

A Pretty Surprise.

A beautiful illustrated and charmingly bound edition of Long fellow's "Evangeline," the most popular long poem ever published by an American author, and one of the most famous poems in the language, just published, is a pretty surprise for book lovers. It is in large type, numerous and excellent illustrations, very fine heavy paper, gilt edges, remarkably handsome cloth binding, with gilt title and ornaments. No illustrated edition has ever before been published at less cost than $1.50, and that is about what you might "guess" the price of this to be, but it isn't—it sells for only 19 cents plus 6 cents for postage, if by mail. This covers only about the actual cost of manufacture by the 100,000, the publisher's object being not profit, but to show the book-loving millions what he can do. His publications are not sold by dealers, but only direct; catalogue, over 100 pages, a literary curiosity in its way, is sent for a 2-cent stamp. Every home in the land ought to have a copy of this Evangeline, so charmingly beautiful, as a poem, as a collection of artistic illustrations, and as a product of the book making art. Address, JOHN B. ALDEN, Publisher, 57 Ross St., New York.
