Sure, efficient, easy, Hood's Pills. They should be in every traveler's grip and every family medicine chest. 25c a box. Mrs. Amelia Turbett and her grand-daughter, Miss Kate Mathers, are on a visit to the World's Fair at Chicago.

Strong nerves, sweet sleep, good appetite, healthy digestion and best of all pure blood, are given by Hood's Sarsaparilla. The people quickly recognize merit, and this is the reason the sale of Hood's Sarsaparilla is continually increasing. Try it.

On Monday the Lower House of Congress voted for the repeal of the Sherman Silver Act; 240 for repeal, 110 against repeal. Chester Stouffer started for his home in Philadelphia Wednesday, after spending several weeks with relatives in Patterson.

Miss Lizzie B. Howe, instructress in Prof. Riekenbach's school at Huntingdon is visiting at the residence of Mr. Joseph Rothrock in town. The Warrsboro, Franklin county Geisler Company, turn out a traction engine with a gang of six 14 inch plows, that can plow 20 acres in a day.

Some nights on the store of Samuel Schlegel in East Salem was glorified, the thieves taking shoes, clothing, handkerchiefs, tobacco and cigars. The drought was broken by rain on Thursday morning. If the rain had come three weeks earlier it would have made many thousands more bushels corn in Juniata.

Messrs. Will Guss, and Nevin Auebie of near Patterson and Bert Robison of town started for Schilling's grove last week where they expect to attend school this winter. Miss Deane Edson of Washington, D. C. who came with the family of banker E. S. Parker to spend a part of the summer on Mr. Parker's farm about 5 miles east of town has sufficiently recovered from a long illness of fever to be able to return to Washington to the home of her parents.

A Huntingdon county man drew ten dollars from a bank, put the money in his vest pocket, went home and to work on his farm, getting warm he hung his vest on the fence where the grass hoppers ate it and the ten dollar bill full of holes. He now thinks the money would have been safer in the bank. "A Harvest Home Festival will be held at the Locust Run school house on Saturday evening, September 2nd, 1893. Ice cream, cake, bananas, water-melons, peanuts, etc., will be served. Proceeds to go toward the erection of the United Brethren Church at that place on the opposite side of road from said school house. Come one, come all, and help along with a good cause."

About 5 o'clock in the afternoon, last Thursday, August 24, a fire broke out in a three story brick house in South Chicago. A high wind prevailed at the time. The wind carried and started fire in many places, and before the flames were extinguished some 300 houses were destroyed, 7000 people were homeless and a million dollars worth of property was destroyed. Harter of the Middleburg Post says: "If anybody thinks it a 'snap' to get up five or six columns of home news every week for a paper in a town where you see only half a dozen men a day and each one intently holding down his individual chair, rather come and try it on and if, after a week's experience he wouldn't rather go to jail or Congress we will resign our position as editor of the Post and give him a cash job. The Chicago Inter-Ocean says: "A number of the Pennsylvania farmers who came to the World's Fair found improved milling machinery here that will enable them to grind their own wheat in the old-fashioned water-mills and make flour equal to the best made in Michigan. They at once purchased this machinery, put it on one old abandoned mill, and are now surprising western Pennsylvania with what is called the revival of a lost art."

Rev. Henry Baker, D. D., and wife will celebrate their golden wedding on Friday next in the First Lutheran church, at Altoona. On Saturday the biggest coal-oil strike was made at Mannington, W. Va. The well flows oil at the rate of 200 barrels per hour.

Mrs. Richard Eply and two children of Johnstown, Cambria Co., and sister-in-law Mrs. Frank Meist of Lewistown are visiting D. S. Riekenbach's family in Patterson. Last Friday night horse thieves stole a horse and wagon from D. Bond's barn near Media, and then fired the barn. If the thieves are caught they will likely be lynched.

The closing of the manufacturing establishments throughout the country has stopped the demand for peaches and prices are correspondingly low. Captain Litzberg and daughter Mrs. Cox, and grand-daughter, Camden, N. J., and Miss Helen Dimm of Lewistown are the guests of Captain McClellan.

It is perfectly shocking how unequally things are distributed in this world. One husband and wife have a dozen children; another husband and wife have not a child. September 7th, 1893, will be Pennsylvania Day at the World's Fair, Chicago, on which occasion Pennsylvania State Building, will be the focal point for all Pennsylvanians.

In Cumberland county, an enraged hog several days ago attacked Joseph Dyer, on the farm of Sheriff Dixon in Silver Spring, and tore the clothing on his back and the sole off his shoes. No details are at hand of the great storm on Monday night that swept the coast from Georgia to Washington. Savannah was almost destroyed by the storm. Many people were killed.

CLEVELAND BAY COIT.—David Hackenburger of the Jacob heirs' farm one half mile from town, offers a 3-months old colt for sale. Call on Hackenburger if you have any notion of investing. The big fire in Chicago last week, was started by a girl with a lamp that she was using to heat her curling iron to curl her bangs. She upset the lamp. The other big fire in Chicago in 1872 was caused by a woman upsetting a lantern in a stable in which she was milking a cow.

We have received a supplement to the Carthage Collegian a college paper. In addition to interesting information concerning Carthage College, it contains the pictures of the Faculty of this institution among which are the pictures of two Juniatians, namely President of the institution, Holmes Dyer, and Prof. Wm. S. Dyer, principal of the Normal Department.

The times look better as is shown by the lessening of bank failures as is reported by the Comptroller of Currency, E. H. Ke. He says for the week ending August 26 only 3 National Banks suspended. The week previous 7 suspended; the week previous 15 suspended, and during July 72 National Banks suspended. Up to the close of last week, August 26—Seventeen banks resumed.

On Saturday evening the wires of the Lewistown electric light plant were struck by lightning and all the electric lights in the place were knocked out. People ran out of their business places and shouted fire without knowing that a fire had been started by a fiery ball of electricity leaping off a telephone or telegraph wire to the hay-mow of the stable of Sheriff Rhine, and while the people were shouting fire the flames burst out of the stable.

Mrs. John Chubik died at the home of her husband in Coalport, Clearfield county, last Thursday evening of inflammation of the bowels, aged about 21 years. Her husband and two children survive. Her remains were brought to this place on Saturday. She was a daughter of John Doyle a citizen of Patterson. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. M. L. Drumm in the M. E. Church on Sunday afternoon. Interment in Union Cemetery.

Perry County Freeman.—The barn on the Wagner farm in Spring township, was destroyed by fire on Saturday, with all its crops, 2 colts, 3 calves and farm implements. The farm is tenanted by R. Eby, who had a small insurance on the crops. The fire originated from one of his boys building a fire in the barn-yard from where it caught to a straw stack thence to the barn. The building was consumed in about two hours. Rev. Wagner, the owner of the barn resides in the western part of the State.

A correspondent of the Lewistown Gazette discourses on the fish question.—The river is still lined with campers, outlines and other contrivances for destroying fish. When bass were first put in the river and protected they grew and multiplied so that almost anyone could catch a mess, but soon fellows to lay to do home work began to set outlines, traps and bait for bass, throw net and seines increased, until every mile had its misadventure for destruction. Then came cods incident with the cry for "poor man," and last of all the scoundrels with dynamite and now from the dam to Granville bridge a day's fishing with rod and line results in one getting a tubful or perhaps catching one, two or three bass. There is now a big hole in the middle of the dam; when that increases as it will, good-bye to our sheet of water. Such are the results of disregard of law, fostered by too many of the public, and those monomaniacs whose cry is out with the bass.

The Bloomfield Advocate says:—William H. Seeschrist was, but is not in the county jail. Empty is Fort Rice—Seeschrist's gone, Seeschrist's gone, Seeschrist's gone, two of three bass. There is now a big hole in the middle of the dam; when that increases as it will, good-bye to our sheet of water. Such are the results of disregard of law, fostered by too many of the public, and those monomaniacs whose cry is out with the bass.

WARD—KAUFMAN.—On August 15, by Rev. H. C. Holloway, D. D., Arthur E. Ward of McVeytown and Harriet E. Kaufman of this county. SMITH—NACE.—On August 10, 1893, by Rev. Henry Trevorton, B. W. Smith and Rebecca Nace, both of Fayette township. LOWERY—WETZLER.—On the 28th inst., by Dr. H. C. Holloway, D. D., at the home of Mr. H. C. McClellan in this town, J. D. Lowery, D. D. S., of Pottsville, Pa., and Miss Grace E. Wetzler of Thompsons, Juniata county.

fortune across the seas for said Zellers. On Saturday night Seeschrist gained entrance to the old unused dungeon at the west side of the jail by picking the lock with a bent poker. In the ceiling of the dungeon is a hole large enough for a man to squeeze through, having been previously used for a means of escape by a former prisoner. Through this standing upon chairs, Seeschrist gained the garret. He took with him a number of bed blankets which he tightly joined with knots. Attaching these to a rafter through the east gable window over the kitchen roof he suspended them almost to the ground below—only about three feet intervening—down this he slid and escaped and is still at large. Seeschrist has served time in the Sunbury and Harrisburg jails. A few weeks ago D. Gring's saw mill, in Toboyne township, operated by Willis Leas, was blown up by fire, and since that time Mr. R. H. Campbell has been hauling away ashes. Last Thursday he drove his two horse team on the saw-dust pile, when one of the horses sank through into the burning dust, and in its struggles to get out threw itself. Mr. Campbell in attempting to free the animal from the harness, sank into the smoldering pile, burning his feet very badly. The pain was so intense that it was feared he would die, but injections of morphia were given him which brought relief. The horse has lost an eye and ear and is badly burned on its side.

Huntingdon Journal, August 25th:—The fruit in some parts of this county has almost entirely dried up. A car-load of delicious looking peaches came to Huntingdon on Tuesday which were quickly disposed of at $1 per basket. Some of the farmers residing on Piny Ridge have cut their corn tops in order to save the fodder, the continued drought having completely destroyed it. In some sections of the county a half crop will not be realized, while in other places they have not a bit of corn. This is indeed distressing. In some parts of this county where the drought has caused a failure of the crop the farmers are disposing of their cattle and horses at a sacrifice. They have no feed enough to winter them, and they are compelled to sell them for any price. Cattle last week were sold in the vicinity of Marketburg for three and four dollars a head. Three gentlemen of this place camped out a few days last week near Womelsdorf's Island, and the last day of camp they killed a young turkey belonging to Harry Morningstar and roasted it. Mr. Morningstar visited their camp, just in time to witness the carving of the turkey and demanded pay for the fowl: "How much do you want for it," asked one of the party. "One dollar," replied Morningstar. "That is a little steep," said one of the campers, "but we will pay you for it." "Well, you had better," said Morningstar, "or I'll have every last one of you arrested. The campers began to get a little scared about the matter, and paid Morningstar a dollar without any more hesitation. They wanted the matching but like all evil deeds it will crop out.

"This is what an exchange says:—An authority on domestic economy advises the house keeper of limited means to save her fire and strength and do as much ironing as possible with the clothes wringer. Plain pieces with towls, pillow cases, sheets, merinos and stockings, put through the wringer will be smooth enough for all practical purposes, if the rollers are tight. Life is too short and flesh and blood are too precious to be wasted sprinkling, folding, unfolding, ironing, refolding and airing a lot of white goods.
