

Republican State Ticket. SUPREME JUDGE, Hon. David Newlin Fell, of Philadelphia. STATE TREASURER, Gen. Samuel McCartney Jackson, of Armstrong.

Republican County Ticket. COUNTY COMMISSIONERS, Wm. H. Moore, Neal M. Stewart. DISTRICT ATTORNEY, Wilberforce Schweyer. COUNTY TREASURER, John F. Eberholler.

Pennsylvania day was celebrated with spirit on the 7th, last Thursday, at Chicago. Governor Pattison was present. At noon on Saturday, September 7th, Mrs. Cleveland presented her husband, President Cleveland with a ten pound girl baby, in the White House at Washington.

The French are asking themselves why the Emperor of Germany should have a grand parade of his military forces on the battle field of Metz, where France was humiliated. There is talk among electricians of a telephone across the ocean. The only thing that prevents the fulfillment of such an enterprise is the expense for the copper wire for submarine work must be heavier than for telephoning above ground.

Moxie matters are easier in many places were great stringency prevailed several weeks ago. The city of Eostoria, Ohio, has been so hard pushed for money that scrip or certificates of indebtedness in sums of $1, $2 and $5, have been issued bearing interest at the rate of 6 per cent. annum.

The rank and file of the Democratic party did not believe that the business of the country could be wrecked as it now is within six months, and they will be slow to believe when told that the times are not as bad as they will get if the views of the Cleveland administration are carried out. They will be slow to believe that wages will drop a great deal lower, and work grow a great deal scarcer, if the low tariff views of the democracy are put into practice. They are slow to believe that American wages will have to go down to European wages on railroads and in manufacturing establishments, but such is the fact. American business men will be compelled to adopt European ways of doing things if the Democracy pass European tariff rates. It you want to bring things to a European level from which thousands of Europeans try to escape every year, the party for you is the Democratic party, but if you desire to help try to keep things up to American level, vote the Republican ticket, county and State.

Republican State Platform. The platform adopted by the Republican State Convention is as follows: The Republicans of Pennsylvania, in convention assembled, reaffirming their adherence to the declaration of principles adopted by the National Republican Convention of 1892, resolve, railroad extension and diminution of traffic, bankruptcy and suspension of banks are to-day the only monuments of their triumph. The present condition of the country is mainly due to the conviction that a vital attack will be made upon the American system of protection. We reiterate the belief we have often expressed that the maintenance of an adequate and stable system of protective duties is essential to the well-being of the nation and the prosperity of labor and capital, and protests against any amendments to the McKinley bill until it shall have been fairly tested and judged by its practical operation.

The heroic sacrifices and unflinching patriotism of the Union soldiers and sailors in the great war of the Rebellion created a debt of gratitude that the nation can never pay and the, and the Republican party, ever mindful of their loyal services, and grateful for their heroism renews its declaration of friendship for the surviving veterans, and its advocacy of liberal pensions and, so far as possible, will not only contribute to their comfort in their declining years, but will hold in sacred manner their graves and distinguished services on the field of battle. The National Democratic Administration, in the appointment of officers in charge of the Interior Department at Washington, who are hostile to surviving veterans, deserves the condemnation of every loyal citizen in the nation, and the Republican party of Pennsylvania emphatically denounces the acts by which the heroes of the Republic are being arbitrarily deprived of their pensions as unworthy of the patriotic American people, and as reflecting discredit upon the great Republic, made perpetual by the loyal services of the Union soldiers and sailors.

We demand the enactment and enforcement of immigration, which shall effectually prohibit the importation of ignorant and undesirable emigrants. Our intelligent working men should not be obliged to compete with such labor. We recommend that the representation in the Republican National Convention for 1896 be based upon the Republican vote at the Presidential election of 1892 and that the Republican National Committee issue its call accordingly.

We commend the action of the last Legislature in this State, in setting apart from the revenues of the Commonwealth an additional million dollars for the purpose of erecting public schools, thus increasing the appropriation for that purpose to $5,500,000 per annum, and relieving the burden of local taxation to that extent. This act again forcibly illustrates the integrity of the Republican party in redeeming its pledges for the reduction of taxation. Representation in future State conventions shall be based upon the vote cast at the Presidential or gubernatorial election immediately preceding, one delegate being allotted to each 2000 Republican votes, and an additional delegate for a fraction exceeding 1000 votes, each district to have at least one delegate.

A freak of lightning. A freak of lightning cured a boy of asthma last Thursday, September 7th, at Pond Hill, near Wilkesbarre, Pa. A rain storm passed over this section of the State, and at Pond Hill M. S. Siegfried and children, her sister Mrs. Mabce, and children, were grouped in terror in the former's kitchen near the stove. A bolt of lightning descended the chimney, knocked over the stove, and went thence to the floor, tearing the carpets into shreds and prostrating all the persons in the room. One of the children had a shoe torn off and a foot burst open and burned. Three of those rendered insensible by shock are likely to die. The strangest freak of the lightning was that it apparently cured the son of Mrs. Mabce of a violent attack of asthma, which had nearly made him speechless and his breathing which had been agony.

Delaware Lummum Bonum. Lots of plums, but few potatoes. The closing exercises of the Goodville Sunday School has been postponed until October 1st. The picnic that was held at Maze last Saturday, was well attended. C. L. Winey has gone to Huntingdon College from which he will graduate next June. Miss Ella B. Kurtz is visiting friends in Mifflintown this week. Isaac Zeiders and wife who were visiting friends in Delaware Twp., have left for Chicago where they wish to stay a few weeks. Homer VanOrner formerly a teacher of Delaware township, is going to teach a school at Academia. A number of our young folks attended the Port Royal Fair last week. Mrs. Katie Dunn was visiting her parents at Goodville last week.

Harriet E. Hall of Waynetown, Ind., says: "I owe my life to the great South American Nerve. I had been in bed for five months from the effects of an exhausted Stomach, Indigestion, Nervous prostration and a general shattered condition of my whole system. Had given up all hopes of getting well. Had tried three doctors with no relief. The first bottle of the Nerve Tonic improved me so much that I was able to walk about and a few bottles cured me entirely. I believe it is the best medicine in the world. I can not recommend it to highly." Sold by L. Banks & Co., Druggist, Mifflintown, Pa. Feb. 9 '93, Ly.

A Story That Shows What a Terrible Affliction the Disease of Unprofitable Invention May Be—Two Events in the House of an Inventor. Had it not been that my family went out of town a short time ago and left me homeless and dependent, I would never have been able to write this story. As it was I was won over by the entreaties of a friend and went to live with him and his little family—for awhile.

It pleases me to meet gentlemen. I like to touch shoulders with men of ideas, and that is just what that friend of mine might be labeled—a man of ideas. I did not know it before I went to his house, but then I discovered he is an inventor. What he invents is immaterial; suffice it to say he invents in the full sense of the word. If he works out an idea, and when the model is perfected it doesn't do what he thought it would, he makes it do something else.

It is a double barrel action style of invention. He is devoted to the making of wants or leave an aching void. The inventor is not to blame for either of these happenings, his business being exclusively to invent. We were sitting in his dining room the first evening I was at his house. The servant had just cleared the dinner table, and my friend's wife was looking after the youngsters and keeping their nurse out of mischief. George was looking intently at one of the gas tips, and his brain machinery was grinding exceedingly fine material, I could see.

When George came back to earth and he had a model in his pocket. It was the tangible outcome of his thinking. "Isn't that splendid?" he said, with ecstasy, holding it up before me. His black eyes glistened. "Yes, it's very pretty," I replied. "Will it work?" "Yes, but I'll work. The user will get a large and steady flame, with no waste of gas and without the usual pressure. I'll show you."

George got up and adjusted it to the chandelier. He got out matches and kindled the gas, and the room was lit. For a day or two George was very little. I afterward learned this is common with inventors, as they are able to go for weeks at a time without touching a morsel. Their brains stop working when they own cats. There's no money in eating except for the dealers in catfishes. When George came back to earth and he had a model in his pocket. It was the tangible outcome of his thinking.

It isn't that splendid? he said, with ecstasy, holding it up before me. His black eyes glistened. "Yes, it's very pretty," I replied. "Will it work?" "Yes, but I'll work. Don't Encourage Invention. Let the best brains in the world, swim and tramp through the woods on exploring trips to his heart's content. Go with him if possible and encourage hearty exercise and observation as much as possible, but don't teach him, nor allow him to acquire manual or industrial tricks. Upon nearly every one of furred or feathered things seen during June and July depends a family of helpless lives, which may be doomed to the miseries of slow starvation by one thoughtless shot.

The boy with the freckles seen a bird and says, "Watch me pluck him," and if the aim prove true the boy thinks he has done something clever, and most likely his fond father tells him that he has so done. In reality he has broken a law and probably sinned the deed of half a dozen wretched fiddlings hidden in a nest near by. Men will cheerfully give up a handful of dollars for the privilege of drinking in the wondrous melody from the trained throat of a Patti and go into touch shoulders with men of ideas, and that is just what that friend of mine might be labeled—a man of ideas. I did not know it before I went to his house, but then I discovered he is an inventor.
