

THE CHILDHOOD OF THE HEAVENS

Oh, the rosy days of childhood, How blissful they were, When not a care had vanished, And not a wonder fled!

A VISIT TO KILANEA.

The Largest Active Volcano in the World Where the Goddess Pele Reigns in Terrific Wonder.

We left Honolulu on Tuesday, August 1st, our party consisted of four young men and six young ladies. At five o'clock in the evening our boat pulled away from the dock, where many of our friends had gathered to see us off and they literally covered us with "heia" which are wreaths of flowers.

At the crater a still grander sight met our eyes. Since we had been down in the morning, the steam had cleared in and a river of 20 feet wide and 10 feet deep was plunging out of the side, forming and leaping like a Niagara, hissing and roaring with its course over the lava.

Probably no city of the world has in its poor so much as London to be ashamed of, and in its dealings with the poor so much of which to boast.

London's model tenement-houses are among the worst copying in every large city. The success of some of them is due in no mean measure to the plan by which the rents are collected.

Many other ladies are engaged in the work, and though their achievements may not be told in large figures, it is very easy to see what good they are doing.

When I was young my best client was a wealthy old lady noted for saying "I don't care for anything but my hair."
