The undersigned hereby extends his sincere thanks to all the people and neighbors who extended help to him in the hour of need when his household goods were destroyed in the fire at Nervine, and for the financial help that they have given to him since the fire. Thanks friends, thanks, I can never forget your kindness. CHARLES COLLIER, October 12th, 1893.

A Child Burned to Death.

A shocking accident occurred at the house of Ed. S. Marks near Orient on Sunday afternoon, resulting in the death of their little daughter, Lora Ellen, aged 2 years, 5 months and 23 days.

At the time of the accident the father was absent from home, and the mother had gone out of the house for a few minutes when she heard the shriek of her little girl and hastening back she found her enveloped in flames having by some means set her clothing on fire. She was so very badly burned that in a very few minutes her spirit took its flight to its heavenly home. The parents have the sympathy of the entire community.

Her remains were brought to rest at the cemetery at Dressler's church on Tuesday, followed by a large concourse of friends and sympathizing neighbors.

Impressive services were held conducted by Revs. E. Landis and S. G. Dressler.

From the Huntingdon Globe of November 17:—Ex-Congressman Atkinson of Juniata county, looking as pretty as a big ripe apple, was in Huntingdon on Tuesday evening, and exchanged good fellowship with his Masonic brethren at the visitation of the Chapter officers to this place.

Mr. Atkinson said he was out of politics, but when he imparted that information he winked the other eye. * * * Seventeen employees of the Pennsylvania Railroad were injured in a wreck in the lower yards at Altoona on Tuesday evening, Oct. 17. They belong to a crew of 70 men, whose duty it is to repair freight cars in transit. They proceeded to return from their work in a passenger car, hauled by a yard engine.

While enroute to the city in the passenger car on Tuesday evening, and while crossing over from the main track to a side track, an east-bound freight train ran into them, tearing out the side and one end of the car. Seventeen men were badly injured and scalded, but fortunately not one was killed, and it is thought that all will recover. * * * One day last week Hiram and John Waite, of Water street, this county, went to a neighboring mountain for coons. Neither of the boys are over 16. They carried a double-barrel shotgun and were accompanied by a dog.

The dogs soon tracked a coon, which soon led the boys a merry chase all the way to the top of the mountain where it was treed by the dog. Hiram, the elder of the boys strapped the gun on his back and started to climb the tree. He had ascended only about ten feet when a large black bear appeared on the scene.

Hiram jumped to the ground and with his brother started on a run for their home about a half mile distant. The bear which had killed the dog at one blow of its paw, started after the boys down the mountain. The boys were too frightened to attempt to show their pursuer fight and so they continued to run. The bear gave the boys a close chase until they reached home, when they succeeded in getting into the door just as the brute came in. Mr. Waite aroused by the boys' cries soon ascertained the trouble and with a farm hand he attacked the bear with an axe and killed it. The bear was a full grown female and weighed 170 pounds.

Harriet E. Hall of Waynetown, Ind., says: "I owe my life to the great South American Nerveine. I had been in bed for five months from the effects of an exhausted Stomach, Indigestion, Nervous prostration and a general shattered condition of my whole system. Had given up all hopes of getting well. Had tried three doctors with no relief. The first bottle of the Nerveine Tonic improved me so much that I was able to walk about and a few bottles cured me entirely. I believe it is the best medicine in the world. I cannot recommend it to highly." Sold by L. B. Lanks & Co., Druggists, Mifflintown, Pa. Feb. 9 '93. ly.

The Thirteenth Re-union.

The people came from far and near on Thursday, October 19, to attend the Juniata Veteran Association Re-union, and filled the town, and had a good time all day, many remained till away in the night, and went home by the light of the moon. It was a day long to be remembered by young and old, and will be cherished in the memory of all participants as one of the brightest and most successful events of the kind held in Juniata.

The procession was not a mile long, but it was a gem of a procession that will be difficult to equal and was marshaled by Genl J. K. Robison, Gen. Bell, Colonel Grub, Captain McClain and Major Rodgers, all military looking men on horseback. Citizens on the side-walk looked on from the crowded places and talked over the war the soldiers had passed through, and the younger people who were not born when the battle raged, could not realize that the line of veterans as it rested on Bridge St., had been grim warriors on the deadly field of strife a generation ago.

With the procession were the members of the Association. The Wilson Post, Huling Post of Lewistown and Veteran Association of the 49th Regiment, that the day before had held a re-union in Lewistown; The Camp P. O. S. A. of Patterson; the Friendship Fire Company with engine and hose truck, that the day before had participated in the Firemen's parade in Philadelphia; Center county, and the Mifflintown Hose Company with Hose wagon on which were seated Sheriff Lapp, President of the Hose Company, and Miss Flora Fasiok, holding the stars and stripes looking as pretty as though they had fluttered in from Eden, to see the show and glorification of the veterans.

There were fife and drummers and bands of music to the delight of the multitude, and as a reminder to the veterans of the stirring days of 30 years ago. The parade broke ranks at 3 o'clock P. M., for a meeting in the Court House that was presided over by Comrade Frost Wm. M. Allison, Comrade Secretaries, William Knauss and William Graham. The President introduced Major Isaac B. Brown of Corry, Pa., who delivered a patriotic address that was well received by the large audience present.

The Camp Fire hour was announced for 7 P. M., but long before that time the house was full even to standing room. The President, Comrade Allison, read a despatch from Willberforce Sawyer, who was to have delivered the address of welcome, stating that he had been empelled in the United States Court in Pittsburgh, and therefore could not discharge the pleasant duty assigned to him, and introduced Comrade L. E. Atkinson to deliver the address of welcome which he did in the most approved style.

Upon the close of the address of welcome, Comrade Barefield stepped forward, and in the name of a company of ladies presented Comrade Brown a handsome and fragrant bouquet of flowers for the address he made at the afternoon meeting.

The President Comrade Allison, introduced Thomas J. Stewart of Harrisburg, Secretary of Internal Affairs to open the campfire by a kindling speech that kept it burning till away in the night. It was a time of speech reminiscence, song and story interspersed with delightful music by the Lewistown Glee Club.

When the moon had worked its way toward the western horizon the great adjourned, and the town people went speedily home, and the country people journeyed to their homes in the balmy October night and the boys paraded the town till morning, and all delighted with the crowd, the procession, the meeting, the campfire and the general events of the day.

Brown Tore Down the Rebel Flag

EXCITING EPISODES OF THE WAR RECALLED AS HE SAW THE "GENERAL."

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 17.—With evident pride in his achievement, Major Isaac B. Brown, deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs of this city, admits that he is the man who tore down the Confederate flag hoisted over the locomotive "General" in the Transportation Department at the World's Fair, on October 6. Major Brown was a member of the 21st Pennsylvania Volunteers, and belongs to a Grand Army post in Corry named after J. J. Andrews who captured the "General," and with 21 Ohio soldiers used it to burn bridges in the South. For these deeds Lang and seven soldiers were hanged.

Major Brown says that when he caught sight of the Confederate flag on the "General" while walking through the Transportation Building 11 days ago, he became indignant. After thinking the matter over he climbed upon the locomotive and tore down the Southern banner, which he proposed to present to the Corry Post.

MARRIED.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

When I take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I think it the best medicine for the blood. My six-year-old boy had scabs on his feet, caused by TORBOLLY. They became so large and painful that he could not wear his shoes. One week after I began giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla the scabs began to break up and disappear, and when he had taken two bottles he was entirely cured." Mrs. C. H. TETZ, South Gibson, Pa.
