

B. F. SCHWEIER, Editor and Proprietor.

SENATOR VOORHEES, delivered a speech on the twin brother of secession and rebellion. He did not call his speech by that name, but that is what it was.

GOVERNOR THOMAS, of South Carolina, wants Congress to impeach President Cleveland for conspiring with the banking interests of the country, to demonize silver one of the constitutional money coins of the United States.

SENATOR VOORHEES made a democratic tariff speech that the democratic leaders are pleased with. Free trade was one of the hobbies of the slaveholders rebellion and Voorhees was one of the rebel sympathizers and has not yet gotten over the tariff part of rebellion.

The democratic strong holds in Connecticut voted republican last week, half the democratic party at this time is ready to vote the republican ticket. They realize that the Cleveland administration has wrecked the business of the country by threatening to lower the tariff.

CORRY's army left Pittsburg, with over 400 men, and is now in the mountain region of Pennsylvania, where it will not be such an easy task to secure provisions as in the fertile farming districts of the country beyond the mountains.

CORRY and his leaders are all lunatics, they declare that Corry is in a large measure Jesus Christ returned in the form of a man to head the present movement. The whole movement is idiotic blasphemy, mixed with a clamor for better roads and a payment of the bonded indebtedness of the United States in greenbacks.

A column of Huns from the Pennsylvania cake fields joined Corry's army of tramps. Corry's movement will suit the Huns, if he allows them to plunder as they go along the way.

WIKES Corry and his army were in Pittsburg, the police kept the tramps confined to their quarters in exposition park, now a bare ball ground. They rested there two days, when they were allowed to go on their way with an escort of police beyond the city limits.

The bloody strike in the coke field in Fayette county, last week, was brought to an end by the Sheriff of that county calling out a strong posse and giving battle to the strikers. At one time it was believed that state troops would have to be called to quell the murderous rioters, but the native Dutch and Scotch Irish, blood of that county, was raised by the outrages of the foreigners and the Sheriff was notly seconded by the people going to his help.

The series of spring excursions to the National Capital, which have been so successfully conducted by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, will close with the final trip on April 19th. These excursions have proven exceedingly popular, both on account of the low rate and the many attractions which Washington has to offer the visitor during the spring.

The special train of parlor cars and day coaches will run as follows, and tickets will be sold at the rates quoted:

Table with 2 columns: Destination and Price. Includes locations like Uniontown, Connellsville, and Martinsburg.

In addition to the special train tickets will be good for passage on all trains of the Railroad, except the Pennsylvania Limited.

Tickets on sale in Pittsburg, at Union Ticket Office, Fifth Avenue and Smithfield Street, and Union Station, and at all stations mentioned above.

For full information apply to Thomas E. Watt, Passenger Agent, Western District, 110 Fifth Avenue, Pittsburg.

Reading, March 29.—These are Cleveland times with a vengeance. The wages of the iron ore miners in eastern Becks have been gradually coming down, and now they are getting sixty cents a day, owing largely to the impending Wils in Tariff bill.

There was a rumor that the miners in the mines at Ritteshouse Gap, this county, were to be reduced 10 per cent, which would leave their wages down to fifty-four cents a day, and to day sixty of the men struck for more wages. The bosses say that they will get other men, and the strikers say that they will resist this.

A good story is told of the burying of an English clergyman. He was on an important occasion to meet the bishop of Lincoln at dinner, and it was desirable that a favorable impression should be made on his lordship. In the evening he was favored by the bishop, and he did his best to draw him out, as he was unusually strong in Biblical lore. During the early part of the banquet matters went on well enough, the young man saying little, but watching for an opportunity to open his full batteries.

"Oh, certainly—quite happy," replied the dignitary, fidgeting quite in his element.

"Then I should be glad to have your lordship's opinion as to how long it took Nebuchadnezzar to get into condition after he had been out to grass?"—Boston Herald.

Nervousness. The effects of nervousness are varied and amusing. One young man happened to be on a platform in a huge pair of fur lined overboots, which were put on above her slippers, and which contrasted comically with her dainty gown.

Palmy Days For Cats. The palmy days for cats were in the hands of Peter Miller, of Rev. Rev. D. C. They were held then as sacred as dogs or crocodiles, and death was the penalty for killing them. From their nocturnal habits and glowy fur, the Egyptians deemed them symbols of the moon, and a golden cat moon worshipped at Syene—New York Sun.
