The outlook for a large crop of wheat and barley in California is good. The prospect for a fruit crop is promising. Superintendent D. M. Marshall visited the schools in town last week, and the pupils were pleased with his manner of examination.

There are some men who ask the Lord to make them thankful for what they are about to eat and then abuse their wives because the cooking doesn't suit. -Atchison Globe.

FOR SALE—First rate Ohio clover seed by MANREX & NELSON.

A man has the right to dispose of his talent, his professional ability, or his physical labor to any other man who has the inclination and the means to employ and pay him...

J. P. Mathers, of Juniata, near Altoona, attempted to shoot Dr. Brubaker and a constable because they proposed to post Mathers and his house hold goods out of Brubaker's house on which he had paid no rent for the period of 10 months.

A farmer in Tioga put a music box on his plow, and keeps the box wound up and the music running all the time. He says it does both he and the horses good, and keeps up their spirit.

"I was troubled with nervous, dyspepsia and headache, but found a cure in Hood's Sarsaparilla." Mrs. L. C. Calt, Emporium, Pa.

The remains of Mrs. Roberts, wife of Samuel Roberts, deceased, was brought to this place for interment, on Tuesday from Harrisburg.

The Perry county Bank is bad enough but an investigation into the bank of the First National Bank, of Vernon, Texas backs the Perry county people for a break.

The Chambersburg Repository of April 4th says—Dr. B. L. Ryder, who is an authority on fruit culture, has made an examination of peach trees in and around Chambersburg and finds them unharmed by the frost.

Patrons of the SENTINEL and REPUBLICAN, who know themselves to be in arrears will confer a favor by paying the amount due.

Last Thursday evening, when the keeper and his assistant of the Greensburg, Westmoreland county jail, were about to lock the jail they were knocked down by a prisoner who struck them on the head with a piece of lead pipe.

The Huntingdon Globe of April 5, says—Ex-county commissioner Henry Davis, of Porter township, came into the Globe office and talked quite a while, among other things said, he will be ready to die when another Republican is elected President, and he firmly believes that such a thing will happen in 1896.

"I have suffered with headache and weak eyes, and Hood's Sarsaparilla gives me instant relief." Florence Akin, Franklinton, Pa.

What kind of punishment would you inflict, if you had punishment to impose, on the man, who would go into the stable of a neighbor and cut out the tongue of his horse as was done some nights ago in White township, Indiana county, where some black hearted being entered the stable of John F. Simpson, cut the tongue out of his most highly valued horse.

From the Hollidaysburg Register of last week: There were twenty-eight converts to the Hollidaysburg church of God baptised in the Juniata river on Sunday last.

Robbers From a House Roof.

A singular entrance from a house roof by robbers took place at Ben's Creek, Cambria county, on Saturday night, March 24.—W. S. Confer called a general store in that place and is also post master and agent for Adams Express Company, the store, post office and express office all being in one building which is also occupied by Mr. Confer and family.

On the night above mentioned Mr. Confer was awakened from his slumber by some one shooting through his window. He arose, grasped his revolver and returned two shots, all the robbers fled, but one remained, and the burglar had climbed upon a rear roof and coming up to the window kicked in the cash and six men, all masked, jumped into the room. One of the burglars jumped on a baby which was lying in the cradle, but did not seriously injure it. They then with threats and curses covered Mr. Confer with revolvers and commanded him to lead the way down stairs to the safe where the money was concealed. Mr. Confer obeyed, and leading them to the large safe, unlocked it and the thieves stole the contents which amounted to $250 in cash and a gold watch worth $80. The thieves escaped without being detected. A reward of $100 is offered for their apprehension.
