SHORT LOCALS.

See the large sun spot through a smoked glass. Gilson Stewart of Altoona is visiting his mother.

Decadeation day program was carried out to full. Perry County Grangers will picnic on the 11th of August.

Chester Stouffer of Philadelphia is visiting relatives in Patterson. Miss Grace Tursh of Lewistown visited Miss Elie Howe last week.

Jesse K. Howe and James Speddy telegraphers visited in this place last week. Arthur Koenig of Lewistown visited his relatives in this town last week.

When men and women take to gossiping they neglect their own business. A deep cave has been discovered in Warrior's Ridge, Huntingdon county.

The police that makes the most impression on a tramp is "Beware of the dog." Mrs. Woods of Lewistown, wife of D. W. Woods of Lewistown, died on the 28th of May.

The free traders in Congress have knocked down the price of wool and butter and eggs. The southern Presbyterian church declines an organic union with the northern Presbyterian church.

Regarding the fact that the new moon in May lay on its back, May was an uncommonly wet month. Mrs. C. W. Mayer is visiting Mrs. E. S. Parlock in Washington, D. C.

Workmen in the shops at Altoona are happy. They have been ordered to work every working day in the week. Last Thursday, Henry Hawk while fishing with rod and line at the mouth of Horning's Run caught a big round carp.

Prothentary Zeiders and wife are happy over the advent of a boy baby, which came on the morning of the 31st of May. In view of what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others, is it not reasonable to believe that it will also be of benefit to you?

Base fishing and pike fishing began under the law on the 30th of May. A number of bass were caught by fishermen that day. Prolonged drought has caused hundreds of farmers in Lincoln and adjoining counties in Nebraska to move eastward in their wagons.

The new search light to be put up at Sandy Hook will be so strong that a newspaper ten miles away can be read under its rays. Judge Butler of Philadelphia refused to naturalize a socialist because a man of scientific belief holds views inimical to the Government.

Do you read the testimonials published in behalf of Hood's Sarsaparilla? They are thoroughly reliable and worthy your confidence. Hundreds of people write: "It is impossible to describe the good Hood's Sarsaparilla has done me. It will be of equal help to you."

The Mifflintown and Patterson ball clubs played a spirited game on Decoration Day resulting in a score of 14 to 7 in favor of Mifflintown. William Maxwell living in this town received a letter on the 1st of June from his son in Crawford Co., Pa., stating that a snow of seven inches deep fell on the 29th of May.

Many people outside of veteran circles decorated graves of their departed dear ones on decoration day. The Presbyterian grave-yard presented an attractive appearance under the floral offerings. Judge Lyons is in demand in other districts to hold court for follow Judges. Within the past ten days, he has held court for Judge Stewart in Franklin county and for Judge Savage in Northumberland county.

MUSICAL COLLEGE.—The Summer Term opens July 23, in Vocal and Instrumental Music. The Spring term opened with a larger attendance of students than ever. For catalogue address Henry B. Moyer, Freeburg, Pa.

Samuel Mook is in Lewisburg, Union county jail, on the charge of having murdered his father aged 70 years, last Friday. After the funeral which took place on the 24th of February, 1894, suspicion of foul work began to be talked about, and last week the body of the father was raised and examined. Bruises were found on his head and knife stabs were found in his breast. The coroner's jury found a verdict that he died of external violence at the hands of parties unknown.

A few days ago James M. Speers, operating a saw in Spear's mill, a mile west of Du Bois, Pa., had his head cut in two by a single saw. Mr. Speers was in the act of brushing away saw dust from under the saw. A tooth of the revolving saw caught the rim of his hat and jerked his forehead into the way of the teeth of the saw. In an instant his head was sawn in two. The saw cut between his nose and right eye, over the top of his head, back toward the base of the skull and around by the left ear, leaving the left side of the head hanging by muscles of the lower part of the face. His death was almost instantaneous.

The average fall of rain per year in this part of the United States is 36 inches. Mrs. Mary Bolinger of Millerstown, spent Thursday with relatives in town. The price of peaches next fall will likely be high on account of the scarcity of the fruit.

Arthur Koenig of Lewistown spent last week with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Schott. The longest day, hay-making, the 4th of July and wheat harvest will soon be here and past. The fall will be open at 9 A. M. on the 14th inst., and will be closed promptly at 10:30 A. M.

"Think what I have to go through," said a wife when she examined her husband's pockets while he slept. The democratic congress has repudiated the Hawaiian policy of President Cleveland and Queen Liliuokalani.

Mrs. Stiel, and her son Howard, came from their home in Cumberland, Maryland to attend the funeral of Mrs. Dunn. Miss Helen Dinn accompanied by her friend, Mrs. Maudie Hammacker of Lewistown is visiting her grandparents in town.

The frost of last week makes it certain that 1894 can only have three months without frost, namely June, July and August. The Fermanagh Republican primary election last Saturday was held in the warehouse along the canal south of the borough.

Thomas U. Parker and wife of Pittsburg, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. McMeen. Mrs. McMeen is a sister of Mr. Parker. The books for Fermanagh Twp. schools, set the township in 1893, the sum of $229.76; and the book cases cost the township that year, $31.00.

Charles Willis, cashier of the Bloomfield bank when the bank closed its doors sent his family to Washington, D. C. and himself fled westward. Don't eat the skins of fruit. They are said to contain germs that create diseases. Peas, melons, radishes, potato skins, peach skins, &c. are all dangerous.

The letters remaining in the Mifflintown post-office recalled for, for the week ending June 2nd, were for C. W. Dittman, Dora Teles, P. F. Rumberger, E. G. Uhl. James Hamilton executor of the estate of Mrs. Dana, deceased, has sold the house and lot at the corner of Cherry and School Streets to John S. Graybill for $1,400.

The Mifflin County Commissioners have contracted with a New York bridge building company for the erection of a new iron bridge at Meyertown at the cost of five thousand dollars. Stone coal has been washed on many of the fields in the Valley of the Schuylkill by the late flood. Vegetation does not flourish in stone coal diet. The farmers consider their fields ruined.

Benjamin Zeiders of Fayette Twp., Juniata county, was sentenced, May 24, by the Dauphin county court for conspiring to defraud a widow out of her pension to serve two months in the Dauphin county jail. Horse flesh is more highly valued in Kentucky than the body of a man as is proven in a suit that a woman brought for her horse and for her husband, both having been killed on the railroad. The jury gave her one hundred and fifty dollars for her horse and one cent for her husband.

Last Wednesday evening Miss Gertrude and Leslie Schott gave a party of a number of their young friends in honor of their cousin Archie Koenig of Lewistown. The young people returned home after being served with excellent refreshments very much pleased with the pleasant time they had spent. The Bloomfield Democrat relates the following the rather odd sight of a hen with a brood of kittens is to be seen at the stable of Mr. Henry E. Shaffer, in this place. When the kittens were but a few days old their own mother disappeared. The old hen seemed to realize the situation at once, took them under her protecting wings and has ever since persistently sat on them. The kittens have become very fond of their foster mother and amuse themselves by climbing on her back and playing.

The Sabbath School Institute of the Eastern District of Huntingdon, including the counties of Juniata, Millin, Huntingdon and Bedford, met in the Presbyterian church, Mifflintown, June 5, at 10 A. M., with devotional exercises conducted by Rev. W. G. Finney. Dr. W. H. Rodgers made the address of welcome, which was responded to by Rev. D. H. Garabell, which was followed by the enrollment of a large number of delegates. The subjects discussed during the morning session were, "The Object of Teaching," and "How to Increase the Spirituality of the School," opened by Rev. R. M. Campbell and Mr. D. W. Leet. The subjects discussed at the afternoon session were: "Some difficulties a Teacher meets with in the Sabbath School," opened by Miss Emma Robinson. "How to Conduct the Primary Department," opened by Mrs. M. E. Thomas. "Sabbath School Music," opened by Rev. W. G. Finney. "Should there be Rotation in Sabbath School Officers," opened by J. R. H. Henson. "How to Reach those not in Sabbath School," opened by Rev. D. K. Freeman, D. D. "Mission Schools," opened by Rev. Geo. B. Troub. "Question Box," opened by Rev. E. H. Minter. The subject for consideration at the evening session was the "Model Bible Class"—Lesson for June 10.

1894.—Taught by Mr. Alexander T. Findley. Address by Rev. Geo. B. Troub. Adjourned. On Friday afternoon J. H. Hosteler, who lives on the farm of Reuben Guss in Walker township, came to town in a driving cart, and drew rein in front of Captain McClellan's business place for the purpose of having some repairs done to the bridle. The Captain came out to see the bridle and just then the beast looked back and that one look gave it a fright. The next instant it was running up Bridge street at break-neck speed with Hosteler holding on to a rope halter that was around the beast's neck. It ran diagonally across the street and collided with a horse and cart of Dr. Sulouff, that was tied to a post on the Bridge street side of the National Bank. The collision was of such force that the doctor's horse and cart were turned upside down into the gutter. Through all that collision Hosteler held fast to the rope halter, and when his horse shied off from the overthrow and wreck of Sulouff's horse and cart and started up Bridge street. Hosteler still clung to the rope around his horse's neck. Almost as quick as a flash, almost to quick for the sight of the eye the frightened animal was across the street to the corner of the Court House square, and there in the effort to run up Main street came in contact with one of the trees that line the pavement. There the cart and Hosteler and his horse parted company. The recoil was terrific. Hosteler flew off at a tangent into the middle of the street. The cart hung fast on the stem of the tree and the horse ran up Main street to be caught not far away by citizens. The bark of the tree looked as if a Lark pedler had exercised his spud in it. While Hosteler's horse was going through its wrecking performance on Bridge street, Sulouff's horse picked itself out of the gutter, broke its neck hitting and started on a yell down Bridge street for the river bridge. The yell of the beast was piercing and caused people to run in dozens along the line of its race. It went out on the bridge like a rocket. A man was crossing the bridge in a buggy and the bolters on expected to witness a collision that would throw one or perhaps both into the river, but the runaway got by with a slight scrape of hubs. The doctor's horse was caught in Patterson. The harness and cart in no small degree were the cause of the accident, but the horse is hurt and some time will be required by nature and attention to make him as well as he was before the mishap took place. The beast is badly hurt in right hind and right front leg. John Bradford, barber from Lewistown, was lodged in jail on last Wednesday evening charged with intoxication and disorderly conduct. He and two other colored boys, known companions had come to town to celebrate decoration day, and in their patriotic ebullition, Bradford became loud and offensive with his tongue about the passenger station at the railroad. Officer John Weiler remonstrated with the wild tongue man, but all in vain. The more the officer remonstrated the more demonstrative Bradford became, and when Weiler proposed as a last resort to arrest him, he displayed a razor, and there is no knowing what he would have done with it had not John Morarity run in and grabbed him in such a way that he could not use it. The officer assisted by citizens who he called to his aid took the belligerent colored man before Justice J. B. M. Todd on a charge of quarrelsome, noisy conduct and intoxication. In default of bail for a hearing the Justice sent him to jail. Then came the tug of war. Bradford did not want to go to jail, and would not move a foot in that direction. Whiling hands were willing to assist the officer. A half dozen and more of stout men laid hold of the recalcitrant Bradford, who set up a furious yelling and swearing. Such a procession had never before been seen in the town. It was raining hard when the party started for the jail a half mile distant, but as the procession moved along regardless of the storm the crowd grew larger. The men were carrying the barber. As many men as could get hold of his legs and arms, with several others sandwiched along his body, were bearing him along, and he all the while was yelling and swearing at the top of his voice. It was poor music for his captors to keep step to, but it was the kind of noise to attract attention. Everybody along the route of the procession heard the prisoners' shouts and profanity. While many were shocked, others fell in, and by the time the jail was reached a multitude was there to see the kicking and yelling and swearing barber safely housed in the county prison. The prisoner while on the route to the jail had no chance to exercise his tear down proclivity, but when he was put into a cell he exercised his freedom in demolishing things of a breakable kind, and wound up by assaulting the stove and knocking it over and breaking it on the floor, and he kept up the little pandemonium to his own satisfaction till Sheriff Lapp appeared upon the scene and ordered the prisoner to be taken to the jail for public property, and respect for the law and proper conduct he had his hands cuffed behind his back, and had him placed in the dungeon. By 11 P. M., Bradford had come to a realization of the situation and was quiet, when he was released from the dungeon and handcuffs removed. On Thursday morning he was arraigned before Justice J. B. M. Todd, and in default of two hundred dollars bail was sent to jail to answer at court the charge of resisting and assaulting an officer. The price of butter and eggs is low, because, the demand in the centers of population has fallen off, caused by the thousands of men being thrown out of employment on account of the manufacturing establishments being closed by the threat of the Cleveland administration to pass a low tariff law.

The Commissioners passed a resolution and placed it upon record that no part of the public buildings shall be used for a place from which to witness the hanging of James B. Carpenter on the 14th of present month. The letters remaining uncalled for in the Patterson Post Office, Thursday, May 31, 1894, were for J. K. Rhodes, P. S. Strouse, C. R. Anderson, John Taylor, William Drawbaugh, Miss Edna Duncan, Vincenzo Ta Manto. When calling for these letters say they are advertised. "Daniel F. Farringer of near Tusseyville, Center county, was killed by lightning on Friday a week. He was seated behind the stove when a bolt of lightning came down the chimney, killing him instantly. One of his children and a boy named Lee were knocked senseless, but have recovered. The heel of the child's shoe was torn off. Some people are alarmed over the prediction of Hicks that there are to be greater floods in June than those past in May. Console yourself, reader, Mr. Hicks is not a better weather prophet than you are, and floods come when they are least expected, like thunder and lightning. A greater flood than the one just past passed down the Juniata valley before the leaves again fall, and as great a flood as the past May flood may not come again in a quarter of a century. Memorial Day was observed by many people, and now more than at any other time it looks as if the veteran custom of strewing the graves of the departed will be perpetuated after soldier circles have been gathered for their everlasting homes for the custom of decorating the graves has been taken up by the people generally, and it is hoped that it will be continued on a fixed day, Memorial Day, to time out of date. The ceremony was observed here on the 30th of May, and in the evening a meeting was held in the Court House, which was well addressed by George J. Parker, Esq.

THE SCAFFOLD ERECTED. The scaffold on which James B. Carpenter will be hung on, on the 14th inst., was erected in the bar of the Court house near the place where the murderer was tried. John S. Michael of Harrisburg put up the instrument of execution, and he says that it is the same scaffold on which Leverage was hung in the jail yard, in Mifflintown in 1862.

THE SMALL POX. There are three new cases of small-pox. Monday, one of the Shumaker children, aged about three years, whose mother has been sick, took it, and it developed in the case of Jessie and Myrtle, children of Walter Bill, of Reading on Stratford's hill, yesterday morning. These children are eight and eleven years old, and received the disease from the Honsers people, the two families being very intimate. All those who have been sick were contaminated from that house. It is now known that Jessie Honsers, who first took sick, was at the tent of the afflicted tramp, and curiosity led her to stick her head in to see how things looked. Mrs. Shumaker is also now proven to have been out there, and there is some evidence that Mrs. Thompson was there too. All those reported sick last week are past danger. Some are entirely recovered and the others are on a fair way to be well in a few days.—Lewistown Gazette, May 31.

Injured While Coasting Impure Blood Asserts itself But Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures the Disease and Restores Health. "C. L. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass." "During the winter of 1887, I was injured on one limb while coasting. It did not trouble me much at first, but soon became more painful, my strength began to decline and I could not rest at night. I was attended by several different doctors but all failed to check the trouble and I grew rapidly worse. Early in 1888 I had to use crutches and my health was very poor, having lost my appetite and being reduced to flesh. In the fall of 1888 I had to take to my bed and it was thought I would not live until spring. During all this time I had tried many different medicines but did not get well. In the meantime to give me relief, the several bunches around my knee were lacerated and every effort made to lead the running sore but still vain. Then it was, while confined to my bed last spring, that my father, having read much about the merits of Hood's Sarsaparilla, decided to have me give it a trial. I have taken it regularly, using nearly ten bottles. All the sores but two are healed and these are nearly well. I have thrown away my crutches as I can walk, go to school and do some work. I have a good appetite and real good health and my Sarsaparilla has been a blessing to me." WILHELM JOHNSON, Northampton, Pennsylvania. Hood's Pills are the best family cathartic, reliable and effective. Try a box 25 cents.
