FOR JURY COMMISSIONER, Lewis Deegen.

CHURCHES believe that they will soon be able to turn cream into butter without the aid of churning.

Last Sunday evening George O. Barnes preached a sermon in the Lexington, Ky., Court House, and closed his remarks with an appeal to the men to vote for Pollard-Breckinridge.

WHAT a sight, the leaders of the democratic party trying to pull down the American manufacturing establishments for foreign benefit; trying to bring our people down to the level of European and Asiatic industries.

The King of Korea has declared his independence of China, and has asked the Japanese to help him in his struggle for independence.

A two days fight between an army of 25,000 men each, took place on the 17th of August, at Ping-An in which the Chinese defeated the Japanese, routing them 11 miles. The Japs after running 11 miles, made another stand, and were again defeated.

Mr. Sloan one of the democratic nominees for Congress-at-Large, died, and that will require a meeting of the democratic State Convention to nominate a candidate to fill the vacancy created by the death of Mr. Sloan.

When the State Convention is re-convened it will be a good time for Judge Basler to get off the ticket. What will the Judge do.

By the stealing of Cashier Gardner, the Second National Bank of Altoona has lost all of its capital stock, which was one hundred thousand dollars, and now, if they go on with the bank, they will have to raise another hundred thousand dollars.

There is also another loss of fifty thousand dollars, which places the loss of the bank at one hundred and fifty thousand dollars. It was a good concern through which to get rid of money. The bank had four hundred thousand dollars of deposits when it closed its doors.

A number of the stockholders are making an effort to start again by putting back the one hundred thousand dollars that the cashier stole, and by arranging with depositors to pay them in the future, giving time certificates of deposit.

The President did not sign Under the ten days provision of the Constitution, the new tariff bill that the President and the Southern wing of the democracy fought against, became a law at midnight on Monday without President Cleveland signing it. The President did not send a message to Congress, but he sent a letter to T. C. Catchings of Mississippi in which he says he will not be separated from his party by vetoing the bill, but at the same time he declares the bill not in line with tariff reform. It is however of the opinion that it will improve existing conditions. He believes it to be a barrier to what he calls mad protection. He does not in this letter say anything about the tariff and dishonor men who passed the bill, but he expresses the hope that it will prove a vantage ground for the House to engage in future legislation in favor of free raw material. It is strange beyond the comprehension of the business men of the great northern cru states, that the President is only in touch with the free traders of the south, and when he writes on the subject of the tariff he writes to a southern free trader. The tariff and dishonor letter was to Wilson. This last letter of hope, for free raw material, is to Catchings.

Thank God. The Wayne County Nebraska Republic of August 18, says: Let no citizen of our county cry: This is a veritable oasis in a desert land. Crops are complete failures all around us, while we have plenty to keep us over until another crop can be raised. Behold the living illustrations of hard times that daily pass your floors in the covered wagon; hear their stories of crop failure, of want, of blasted hopes, of homes forsaken; then thank God that your lot has been cast in beautiful, never failing, fertile Wayne.

Died from Chewing Gum. Baltimore, Aug. 29—Miss Mary Brown, daughter of T. James Brown, of Prince Anne, Md., died last night from an operation performed for appendicitis. About ten days ago,

Miss Brown, who had always been a hearty girl, swallowed a piece of chewing gum. It was several days before she became ill, and then it was not thought for an instant that the supposed harmless gum was the cause. Physicians were summoned from Baltimore and Philadelphia in consultation with the town doctors. A prominent doctor performed an operation and a small piece of gum was found in the vermiform appendix. She never rallied.

Swallowed a Snake. John Whaler of Prospect, Butler county, a boy about 14 years of age, was at a circus two or three weeks ago and saw a snake handler in a side show place the head of a pine snake in his mouth. Going home he tried the experiment with an eight-inch water snake, but swallowed the reptile, and is now in convulsions and is likely to die, and all efforts to get the snake out of his stomach have failed.

Fruit Tree Pest. An exchange says: A newly discovered pest is ravaging the apple and peach orchards of Pennsylvania. Through its work the annual crop will be reduced one third. Its work resembles that of the locust family, and in three years will ruin an entire orchard. The pest is a small, horn beetle of the same family that destroyed the pine trees in the north east of Virginia, and the only way to prevent its ravages is to trim off the branches from 3 to 6 inches beyond the trunk of the insect and until healthy wood is reached. Burn the affected branches.

Poetic Genius. It is said that William Callen Bryant, did not get his poetic genius from his mother, for his mother was a practical woman in every sense of the word and uncomely industrious, and yet for all that is known about poetic genius it may only be another phase of intense industry and application. Mrs. Bryant kept a diary with such persistent regularity and industry that in 50 years she did not miss a day. This is the entry for November 3, 1794: Storming wind N. E. seven in the evening, sun born. The poetic genius of Bryant may have been the work and energy of his mother turned from hand to head work.

A Snake Milling a Cow. The "bell" cow of the herd owned by Benjamin Johnson near metal, has recently been returning home with an udder devoid of milk. It was not supposed that persons were milking the cow and it was determined to watch her. One day this week one of Mr. Johnson's sons followed the cows to the mountain, carrying with him a shot gun. At a certain place on the mountain the "bell" cow stopped and a black snake glided up to it and sucked the milk from its udder. The young man shot the snake, which measured five feet. As the cow approached the spot she seemed to be looking about for the snake and evidently expected it at its appointed daily visits. — Cumberland Valley Spirit.

Pennsylvania Rally. Pennsylvanians in the far west, have not forgotten their home habits, and annually hold a picnic and take pride in calling it a Pennsylvania rally as follows, which is taken from The Wayne Co. Republican in which the names of a number of Juniata Co. people appear. The annual Pennsylvania picnic and social gathering will be held at Dr. Croston's Grove, 2 miles northwest of Wayne, on Wednesday, Aug. 29, 1894. All Pennsylvanians by birth, marriage, distant relationship, or previous term of servitude who have settled in Wayne or adjacent counties are cordially invited to attend and bring a good supply of old time rye bread, pumpkin pie or huckleberry jam. The occasion will be one of the most enjoyable, and it is hoped that all will turn out and help make the day one long to be remembered by fraternal greetings. The following programme has been arranged for the occasion, and we hope that every part will be fully carried out:

Prayer, Song led by Geo. L. Cook. Address, Rev. Kuckelmann. Song. Dinner. Poem, P. W. Oman. Business meeting. Roll call of counties and short responses. Rebecca Wilkinson, of Browns Valley, Ind., says: "I have been in a distressed condition for three years from Nervousness, Weakness of the Stomach, Dyspepsia, and Indigestion until my health was gone. I had been doctoring constantly with no relief. I bought one bottle of South American Nervine which does more good than any $50 worth of doctoring I ever did in my life. I would advise every weakly person to use this valuable and lovely remedy: A few bottles of it has cured me completely. I consider it the grandest medicine in the world." Warrenton the most wonderful stomach and nerve cure ever known. Trial bottle 15 cents. Sold by L. Banks & Co., Druggist, Millintown, Pa. Feb. 1, 93-1y.

Nothing Strange. Intelligent people, who realize the important part the blood holds in keeping the body in a normal condition, find nothing strange in the number of diseases Hood's Sarsaparilla is able to cure. So many troubles result from impure blood, the best way to treat them is through the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla vitalizes the blood.

Hood's Pills are the best after dinner pills, assist digestion, prevent constipation.

Harriet E. Hall of Waynesport, Ind., says: "I owe my life to the great South American Nervine. I had been in bed for five months from the effects of an exhausted Stomach, Indigestion, Nervous prostration and a general shattered condition of my whole system. Had given up all hopes of getting well. Had tried three doctors with no relief. On the first bottle of the Nervine Tonic improved me so much that I was able to walk about and a few bottles cured me entirely. I believe it is the best medicine in the world. I cannot recommend it to highly." Sold by L. Banks & Co., Druggist, Millintown, Pa. Aug. 9, 93, 1y.

Some one says the habit of "outing" as it is called, is only nature's way of getting a feeble longing in people to get back to the primitive state of the garden where Adam and Eve cut a shine.

But Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures the Disease and Restores Health. "C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass. "During the winter of 1867, I was injured on one limb while coasting. It did not trouble me much at first, but soon became more painful, my strength began to decline and I could not rest at night. I was attended by several different doctors but all failed to check the trouble and I grew very weak. Early in 1868 I had to use crutches and my health was very poor, having lost my appetite and being reduced in flesh. In the fall of 1868 I had to be my bed and it was thought I was dying.

I was told to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I bought a bottle and used it as directed. In a few days I was able to get up and in a few more days I was able to walk. I continued to use it until I was completely cured. I can now do any kind of work and my health is as good as ever. I can now do any kind of work and my health is as good as ever. I can now do any kind of work and my health is as good as ever.

Reduced Rates to Grangers' Picnic at Williams' Grove via Pennsylvania Railroad. For the accommodation of persons desiring to attend this interesting picnic and exhibition the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell excursion tickets on August 25th, 27th, 28th, 29th, 30th and 31st, good to return until September 3rd, including first class stations in the following territory: at rate of one fare for the round trip.

From all principal stations on the Pennsylvania Railroad Division west of Bryn Mawr and east of East Liberty, and all inclusive.

From all principal stations on the Northern Central Railway north of Lutherville, Md., and south of Canaan, Md., and all inclusive.

From all principal stations of the Potomac and Erie Railroad Division.

Tired, Weak, Nervous, means impure blood, and I overwork or too much strain on brain and body. The only way to cure is to feed the nerves on pure blood. Thousands of people certify that the best blood purifier, the best nerve tonic and strength builder is Hood's Sarsaparilla. What it has done for others it will also do for you—Hood's Cures.

Hood's Pills cure constipation by restoring peristaltic action of the alimentary canal.

Thomas H. Hood of Jefferson, Clinton county, well known as the "Hoosier Blue Man," died Wednesday night, aged 74 years. His skin was of a blue color, brought on many years ago by taking over doses of nitrate of silver as a cure for epilepsy. He was cured of the malady, but the remedy turned his skin blue.—Indianapolis Journal.
