The town schools were opened on Monday. Liquid ammonia and gun-powder will kill a felon. Connecticut rolled up a Republican majority of 30,000.

Grant Kauffman is digging the foundation for a dwelling house on his lot on North street. A large delegation of Juniata veterans are at Pittsburg attending the Soldiers' National Reunion.

Mrs. Brown, wife of Jacob Brown, fell down stairs a few nights ago and was seriously hurt. Ex-Governor Sprague of Rhode Island, is discharging the duties of Chief of Police of Narragansett Pier.

The increase in the public debt between January 1, 1893 and August 1, 1894, is $80,000,000. So much for the fear of Free Trade.

The smallest woman living to-day is said to be Miss Pauline of Holland, of a respectable family, who is 18 years old, weighs 10 pounds and is one foot, nine inches tall.

The Louisiana Sugar Growers have declared their purpose to leave the democratic party, because by its late tariff act, they struck off the hands of the government paid to sugar manufacturers in the United States.

A large percentage of the democratic party is on the fence, and don't know who they are for, whether for the President and Wilson and Catechings, or for Gorman or for Hill. This year, gentlemen, walk into the Republican fold for protection.

Peach growers pay a cent for the making of a peach. There are the women in Juniata county who can make and do make one hundred boxes a day. Of course the material has all been cut into proper sizes, and all they have to do is to nail the pieces together into boxes.

The House of Representatives in Vermont contains 242 members. At the late election—last week—two hundred and thirty-three republicans were elected, leaving only nine democrats in the Assembly. Carry the news to the tariff reformer.

On the 4th inst., a ship with emigrants landed in New York. On the 6th a number of them took the Baltimore & Ohio cars for the west. Before the train reached Cumberland, Maryland, one of the passengers took cholera. He was taken off at that place and died within a couple of hours. It has not been determined in the mind of the doctors of that vicinity whether it was a case of sporadic cholera or Asiatic cholera.

The Old Fellows Reunion at Adamsburg, Snyder county, last Saturday, was attended by many people despite the rain. The attendance from this county was large, and the people from this town speak in the highest terms of the treatment extended to them by the Adamsburg fraternity. The trip across Shado mountain was an achievement that the tenderfoot brethren from this place did not anticipate. They were four hours crossing the mountain. The Juniata procession was a mile long, headed by the Thompsontown brass band, but as the mountain is 1000 feet high, it was as much as the horses could do to pull the empty hand wagon while the members of the band walked. Two wagons loaded with lumber were cornered by the procession, and held side-tracked three hours before they could again move. The lumbermen delivered themselves of some strong and sulphurous language during the time of the corner. The brethren expect to hold the reunion in Mifflintown next year.

George Funk, Esq., wife and child of Logansport, Indiana, paid Junia his native county a visit last week. Mr. Funk is a son of Joseph Funk, who used to live in Fermanagh township.

The veterans and their friends have been crowding into Pittsburg in such numbers that the railroad stations in the city have been taxed to their utmost to handle the travelers and visitors.

The Newport News, of September 6, says:—The horse sale on Monday did not draw as large a crowd as former sales, and horses sold accordingly. The lowest sale was $10.50 and the highest $75. A good cow would bring more money than many of the horses. Not that they were not fine animals, for they were all good stock. Horse flesh is poor sale.

Two Elizabethtown girls became infatuated with the idea of having their pictures taken with their heads coquettishly stuck through a torn newspaper, and visited a Lyons photographer for that purpose. However, when the pictures were finished they were horrified to see what they before had failed to notice—the paper they stuck their heads through was a Harrisburg sheet, and just beneath their smiling faces was a big advertisement of a clothing firm which announced: "Our pants are lined in the seat."

The engine on the Perry County Railroad ran over a bull near Bernheisel's mill on last Thursday evening. The engine, tender and a box-car passed safely over the prostrate animal, but the trucks of the first passenger car were thrown from the track. The king bolt of the car was forced upward through the floor, but no other damage was done. Two bulls had locked horns, and as the train came along one had pushed the other on the track just ahead of the engine. That was a bull fight that would have delighted the hearts of bull-fighting Spaniards.—Bloomfield Democrat.

From the Bloomfield Perry county Times:—At the sale of Dr. Hurley last Saturday in Sheffer's Valley, twenty-one bee hives were sold, bringing from thirty to seventy cents per skep. Mr. C. V. Caldwell, bought two hives at thirty cents a piece; after the sale he took the honey from them and weighed it and had sixty five pounds of honey at less than a penny a pound—cheap honey.

A few nights since three men were seen prowling around the residence of Ephraim Cloner, in Center township. They had tried to force open the window before they were seen. They ran away when they found they were discovered and a charge of shot was sent after them, which wounded one so badly that his comrades had to help him away. Blood was found on the ground next morning, but no further trace of the would-be thieves was found.

Some four nights since, Kaffenberger's spring house at Marysville was robbed of butter, crocks and some other property. A search warrant was obtained the next day and the property was found at a shanty occupied by "Jim" Givens, near Perdix station. The constable and his deputy found Givens at a fish house near by and at his request took him back to the shanty where he said his two little children were alone. When they reached the shanty, Givens took down a pistol that looked to the officers to be as big as a cannon, and refused to be again arrested. All the ex-acting of the officers could not induce the chap to put up his "gun," and he finally backed away till he reached the brush and then made good his escape. Since then the attempt to make the arrest has been a failure.

The people in To-bonyne are excited over the many robberies committed in this and Juniata counties. About a week ago, Mrs. George Kern had about sixteen dollars worth of silverware taken from her house. Mr. E. A. McLaughlin had about seventy-five dollars of paper money taken out of his pantaloons pockets. The pantaloons were hanging up in one of the rooms of his house, and what is curious about it is that between four and five dollars of silver was in same pocket book from which the bills were taken and yet this silver was left untouched. On Saturday night last, Martin Bonum, of Horse Valley, had a few ears from two rows of corn in his field taken. Previous to this some of the people had noticed lights at different places along the side of Tuscarora mountain near the Waterford narrows, and on Sunday after the corn was taken B. F. Middleton, James F. Hockenberry, Martin Bonum and Josiah Ely went out to the mountain in the direction in which the lights were seen. They soon came across a kind of shanty put up by the robbers.

This shanty was put up with stumps piled up on each other, and covered over. A large pile of ashes was outside of the shanty, in which were found a large lot of chicken bones. A large pot was found in the shanty. This pot had been stolen from Mrs. Kough of Waterford, in last time, showing that the robbers had been making this place their rendezvous for some time. The citizens of this county could arouse themselves and have every tramp committed to jail under the Vagrant Act of 1879.

REWARD OFFERED.

The County Commissioners offer $50 reward for the detection and arrest of the thieves, who have been breaking into houses in this county, and committing highway robbery. They also offer $25 for the detection of the people who start fires in woodland, and also direct the attention of the people to the tramp law, that gives them the right to arrest without a warrant, tramps, who have no visible means of support, and who beg their living.

HORN-BLOWING, SCARED THIEVES.

Last week one night thieves tried to break into the house of Wm. Bartley at Reed's Gap. They made a furious assault upon the main entrance door. Mr. Bartley did not shoot through the door, but took the dinner horn, hastened to the garret, thrust the big end of the horn out of the window and blew for dear life. The sound of the horn scared the thieves and they started on a run from the premises. Three men were counted when they fled. How many others were on the premises is not known.
