At the recent election, Hastings for Governor received 573,699 votes; Singerly, 331,705; Aitman, 16,171; Hawley, 20,329. Hastings a plurality, 241,994. Lieutenant Governor, Lyon 562,995. Rilling 330,688; Lyon's plurality 231,427. Auditor general, Myrie 567,990; Magee 327,694; My rie's plurality 250,296. Secretary of Internal Affairs, Latta 655,397; Greenland 327,176; Latta's plural ity 328,221. Congressman-at-Large; Grow, 570,131; Huff, 563,855; Mey ers 326,118; Collins 322,118.

As the impression has been creat ed in some minds that the failure of the four congregations of the "twin boroughs," to hold Union Thanks giving Services is due to my influence, I desire to say that I used my best arts and compromise to secure such services. My action, however, in the past, in connection with Union Services and Union Revival effort, I think, will sufficiently define my po sition in this affair. Having failed to secure a real union service, I deemed it disconcerting to a sister denomina tion to co-operate in a union of the other three, and in consequence have arranged for a short Thanksgiving Service in the Methodist Episcopal Church at 10:30 o'clock in the morn ing of the 29th inst. All are most cordially invited to join us in this service.

Some days ago, Judge Simonton of Dauphin county, rendered a decision in the Williamson Evangelical Church case, over-ruling the excep tions to the report of the Master H.
M. Graydon, Esq., and adjoining the defendants, Rev. J. James M. Shoop and his followers from exercising control over the Seybert Church prop erty at Williamsontown, and from ex cluding the plaintiffs, Rev. D. S. Man ning and followers from the pulpit and parsonage. The opinion also re quires the defendants to deliver the Church property, records and other property, acquired prior to 1894, over to the plaintiff, who are, however, prevented from enforcing the decree inside of thirty days. The costs, amounting to about $1,500, are put on the plaintiffs. The decision is an other victory for the Bowmanites.

Joseph Spigelmoyer aged about 70 years, died suddenly of heart ail ment at his home on his farm on Shade mountain, 1000 feet above the valley in Fermanagh township on the 14th inst. His home was in the woods. East and west his nearest neighbors were a dozen miles away.
North and south down in the valley, his neighbors lived a mile away.
Living amidst such surroundings, it was but natural that he should be a first rate marksman with the rifle.
In his time he had shot every kind of wild animal that inhabits the mountains of Pennsylvania. When the war broke out he joined the fa mous Bucktail sharp shooters, and many were the incidents that he re lated of exploits on the front of the line as a sharp shooter, but the one that made the most impression on his mind was that of meeting a rebel sharp shooter in a pine tree that stood between the lines in Virginia.
He was detailed for special sharp shooter duty to the tree from which a bullet could be sent into Union or rebel ranks. The night was very dark. He however found the tree and climbed it and made himself as comfortable as the situation would admit and patiently awaited the com ing of daylight. When light began to dawn he became aware of the presence of some object near him in the branches of the tree, but as it would not do to shoot then he poised his gun and waited for more light to get the outlines of the man whether friend or foe. He had not determin ed where the man belonged when the stranger broke the mystery by saying: "Don't shoot Yank; I'll not shoot." The man in the tree was a sharp-shooter that had been sent there by his commander for a day's work, and had gained the tree be fore Spigelmoyer came, but in the darkness could not distinguish him from friend or foe. Both men came down from the tree and crept to their respective lines on hands and knees. Such is the incident as re lated by Spigelmoyer to Squire C.
B. Horning of this town. The re mains of the deceased sharp shooter were taken for interment to Mifflintown, last Friday Evening 15, 1894.

MARK TWAIN'S NEW BOOK MARK TWAIN'S most popular and successful books have been sold by subscription and the American Pub lishing Company of Hartford, Conn., announce for early publication, his new book "The Tragedy of Pudd'nhead Wilson and the Comedy Those Extra ordinary Twins." The Tragedy and Comedy were at first a dual story—two stories in one—and the author's account as given in the preface, of the difficulty he had in writing the book, of the incompatibility of some of the characters and of his having to finally separate them by pulling one of the stories out by the roots and leaving the other—a kind of literary Caesarean operation, is certainly one of the most original, freshest and clearest chap ters—choice fun—that has been writ ten for many a day. We are told that "there's a time to laugh" and THE CHURCHMAN says: "The reader will begin to smile at the very first para graph."

The book will be sold only by sub scription and as it possesses, in a pro nounced degree, the remarkable char acteristics of the author's best works, it is sure to have a large sale. Each page will be beautifully illustrated with marginal sketches, the work of one of our best artists, and the publish ers have wisely decided to sell the vol ume at a popular price—bringing it within the reach of all.

J. W. Keeler & Co. of Philadelphia, Pa., have the exclusive right of sale in the States of Pennsylvania, New Jer sey, Delaware and Maryland and their advertisement for agents appears in an other column. All applications for agencies in their field should be sent direct to them.
