to afford a silk dress. The most beautiful books in the try. I should not like to stay cooped up world are published in Japan, and the cost of printing, engraving and the cost of printing has sither keel and the cost of printing has been seen as the cost of p binding is only a trifle. Wages are almost nothing, but the Japanese can live well on what we would starveon. A workingman can furnish a cottage nicely for less than $10, and his rent need not be over 40 cents a month, In fact, it is said that a young couple can begin house-keeping very comfortably on $5.50.

The prices quoted above are on a silver basis, and if paid in gold would be cut down one-half. So when we are told that the best male mechanics while their old feathers were dropping get only 50 cents a day and good off, but now that their old suits are clerks only 10 cents, we should bear gone to almost the last feather and they in mind the fact that they can be have only the newest of pinfeathers to employed for half that, if paid in cover their hides they have quit laying

Now what shall we do with these people? If they can live well on nothing and flood our country with all kinds of goods for a song, we might titioned the Auditors to not allow as well close every factory, mill, the Commissioners for as many days forge and shop in the land and all go to farming. How shall we be saved from this deluge of cheap goods? Our workmen cannot come down to wages at 5 cents a day and rent cottages at 20 cents a month in gold, or double those figures in silver. It will be said that we can raise our tariff and bar out these cheap goods, gates to a world's conference on the but that would be Protection for silver question. Haven't you noticed that hens don't like to stay in their roosting places during the day? I have, and I don't blame em, says Fannie Field in Farm Poulmany late molting hens either keel up and die or else linger along and get their new suit on so slowly that they are no good as layers until well on toward spring is because they have no sheltered loafing place. For a week past I have been watching a few old Leghorn bens that are so nearly naked they are not fit to appear before folks, and al-though I don't particularly admire the Leghorns as a tribe I must say that I respect these Leghorns for the good they have done and for the good sense they now display. They kept right on laying and appearing in company and sper loaf, but they do not droop. Their eyes are bright, and barring their lack of overing they look well. And how they eat! It always seemed to me that a Leghorn could hold more food in proportion to her size than anything else on earth except a hearty, growing boy, but these Leghorns outdo all the gastronomic feats of all the other Leghorns that I ever had any acquaintance with. But they put their food to good use, for I can fairly see the new feathers grow. NOTICE! THE WORLD STILL MOVES! WE ARE IN THE PROCESSION RIGHT BEHIND THE BAND.

No honest man can sell Goods Cheaper than we can and stay here. Our Goods are Arguments. Our prices are eloquence itself. Our aus to make both Goods and Prices satisfactory every time. If you have tried elsewhere and failed, give us a trial and be convinced. We succeed what thers have failed. A FAIR TEST .- Call at every Store in town, then call on us. The just omparison you will then be able to make of qualities and price, will prese far more foreible sermon than anything we could say. This is a fair test TRY IT. Then come and see the difference between dealing with live dead men. Remember "no old stock" here. Yours, unbiased and a bout
