Detective Alfred Spitzer of Harrisburg came to town last Thursday, and after looking up ex-Sheriff Lapp, they walked to Daniel Peck's home, about a half mile west of Patterson to find a young man named William Shanser. Spitzer wanted Shanser on charges of complicity in several robberies in Middletown, Dauphin Co. They did not find him at Peck's, but on the way back to town they met the young man, arrested him, brought him to town, and from there Spitzer took him to Harrisburg.

Soon the honk of the wild geese will be heard as they wing their way to the North Pole region. If some one could interpret the wild geese language, the question of an open sea at the north pole would soon be settled. For by bagging a few of the return geese next fall, and interrogating them on the question that has so near to the mind of many scientific men, everything about what kind of a place the North Pole is could be learned. Wouldn't it be more profitable to learn the wild geese language than to send so many fruitless expeditions toward the North Pole.

The water rose as high as the canal tow path on Saturday, and carried the ice down the river without doing damage as it was feared it would do. On this side of the island a gorge was formed at the island fording and damage was feared for houses between L. Strayer's buildings and town. Dynamite was used to blast the gorge, but by the time the river began to fall, and the explosives might just as well have remained unused.

Agricultural Machine Agent Schlegel had more Macedonia water in his house in Patterson, one morning last week, than he bargained for. Some time during the night, a water pipe in the cellar broke, and when the family in the morning, attempted to go into the cellar, they found it filled with the clearest and freshest of water just from the mountain. The water six feet deep and took a great deal of pumping to get out. Mr. Schlegel thinks Macedonia water is a good thing in its place, but out of place, it is—

John Casner, railroad foreman living at the lower end of the rock below Patterson, turned his cow out of the stable on the 27th of February. The cow had a recollection of sweet pastures on this side of the river and immediately took the road for the stream and unhesitatingly walked on the ice of the frozen river. About a hundred feet from the shore, the ice gave way, and the cow sank in the water. A son of Mr. Casner was a spectator of it all, and in his anxiety for the safety of the animal he ran upon the ice, broke through and with difficulty succeeded in saving himself from drowning. Meanwhile the cow drowned and was sucked under the ice by the swiftly running current.

From the Bloomfield Advocate of February 20, 1895.—Liverpool and vicinity have been greatly excited by the arrest of George Blattenberger, a young man 19 years of age, son of J. K. Blattenberger, and Dr. A. A. Murray, both of Liverpool, upon the charge of abortion upon the person of a young woman named Daisy Bitter, daughter of Wm. Bitter and wife, both deceased. The particulars of the crime, are that young Blattenberger, it is alleged, on the 25th of January last, drove Miss Bitter in a sleigh out into the country and Dr. Murray met them. In a secluded place, the young lady's struggles and protests an operation was performed upon her. An infant child was born dead on the 9th of February. The crime is a heinous one, and the maximum penalty is seven years in the penitentiary and $500 fine. The case of Alma S. Karstetter vs. the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for injuries received at the Dock street wreck, in Harrisburg, some years ago, was settled last week, the young lady receiving from the Company $4,000. The suit was originally brought for $10,000. Miss Karstetter is a daughter of Squire Samuel Karstetter of Seville township.

The late winter demonstrated that there is one place that a man will not unconsciously trespass on the property of a neighbor, that is when shoveling snow.

The Commercial Traveling Men's Home Association held a meeting in York, Pa., last Saturday. There are 480,000 traveling men in the United States. The objects of the association, are to build and maintain a home for indigent commercial travelers, provide for their widows and orphans, educate their children and build and maintain a hospital for the injured and afflicted.

O. C. Shellenberger's horse got off a short run away in Patterson on Saturday, on Main Street, but aside from a bent axle tree and damaged wheel of another buggy with which the beast collided, the wagon to which it was hitched little damage was done. The lines twisted about the axle tree and stopped the horse before it got a square on its way to the bridge. The beast scarcely knew it was running away.

Rheumatism Cured in a Day

Must Leave the Lodge.

Archbishop Corrigan sent to every priest in the diocese of New York, the following letter:

"A recent decree of the Holy Office, confirmed by the Sovereign Pontiff instructs the Bishops of the United States to advise the faithful committed to their charge against affiliation with societies known as the Odd Fellows, the Sons of Temperance and the Knights of Pythias, with the further injunction that if Catholics, after such admonition, persist in their connection with any of these societies and will not give up membership therein, they cannot receive the sacraments."

Bargain Week in Men's Photographs.

This is the Bargain week of bargains.

During the week of March 11th, until the evening of the 16th, I will reduce my fine Aristo Cabinets to $1.00 per dozen, all other work reduced in proportion. Family groups down to bottom figures. Mantels and Mantella Cards. Reflection pictures and Freak pictures all made at astonishing low figures. During this week you can purchase a ticket for $1.00 which will entitle you to 1 dozen fine aristo cabinets, and you can take your sitting anytime from 11th of March, until 11th of May, 1895. This will give ample opportunity to secure sittings and give the operator time to do his subject justice, don't fail to bring the children and babies remember the week, from the 11th to the evening of the 16th of March. Respectfully yours, JOSEPH HESS.

"THE LAND OF FLOWERS."

Personally Conducted Tours to Florida via the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Undoubtedly one of the most original and highly satisfactory creations of the Pennsylvania Railroad is the inauguration of personally conducted tours under the supervision and direction of a Tourist Agent and Chaperon, and the marked success and popularity of the tours to Florida are due to several causes; the complete appointment of the special trains, the liberality of the rate and the return limit of tickets, are among the features that have attracted the travelling public.

The next tour of this year's series to Jacksonville, allowing two weeks' stay in Florida, will leave New York and Philadelphia on March 12. The rate, including transportation, meals en route, and Pullman berth on special train in each direction is $50.00 from New York and $48.00 from Philadelphia; proportionate rates from other points.

For further information apply to Ticket Agent, 1196 Broadway, New York, or Room 411, Broad Street Station, Philadelphia, to whom application for space should also be made.

Pennsylvania Railroad's Second Annual Tour to "The Golden Gate."

The large number of people who have leisure, and the growing desire of Americans to see the wonders of their native land, are the principal agencies in advancing a healthy sentiment in favor of travel.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company's personally conducted tours to California will be conducted in all respects as those of preceding years with some added advantages, which cannot fail to attract the attention and enlist the interest of the tourist.

In addition to the high grade accommodations and entertainment in transit, the Pennsylvania tourists are treated with the same liberality wherever the journey is broken. The choicest rooms in the leading hotels are always reserved for their use, for which regular rates are paid; so that the guests, although members of a large party, enjoy all the privileges of individuals who may have made their own selections.

The second tour in the 1895 series to the Golden Gate will leave New York and Philadelphia May 16, 1895. Detailed itinerary will be sent on application to Tourist Agent, 1196 Broadway, New York, or Room 411, Broad Street Station, Philadelphia.

Queer Way of Counting.

The Indians of Guiana have a curious system of numeration. They count by the hand and its four fingers. Thus, when they reach five, instead of saying so they call it a "hand." Six is, therefore, a "hand and first finger;" seven a "hand and second finger." Ten is "two hands," but twenty, instead of being "four hands," is a "man." Forty is "two men," and thus they go on by twos. Forty-six is expressed by "two men, a hand, and first finger."
