Youngstown, Ohio, has 20 young ladies who have adopted dress reform and wear bloomers. The 4-pound cod that D. K. Snouff caught in Zook's dam, has set a grip of fish stories afloat.

John W. Kirk, was home from Lancaster, over Easter, from duties in the revenue department. Edward Parker, of Washington, has come from the capital city to remain in Juniata this summer.

On the first of April, the sheriff of Clearfield county received 150 executions for the next term of court. At the age of 100, Michael W. Byrd, colored, of Crisfield, Md., chops wood and does other work of a young man.—Ex.

Squire C. B. Horning is having a peach orchard planted on his farm at Desholm. He bought the trees from Thomas Sulouff in Fermanagh township. Rev. Mr. Adair and layman James Kidd, represented the McCoyville U. P. congregation in the Big Spring Presbytery, at Hopewell, York county, last week.

Now doth the boy steal forth to tap the maple trees with joy. Meanwhile the farmer, fail in hand, steals up and taps the boy. Boston Courier.

Some nights ago John Ferguson of Dimmerville went to bed suffering with a severe cold. During the night he was stricken with blindness, and at latest reports he had not recovered his sight. The bill abolishing the kissing of the Bible in the administering of oaths, and substituting therefore the laying on of the hand on the open book, has become a law by the signature of Governor Hastings.

Sheriff Specht, of Snyder county, bought a fleet trotter in Philadelphia, the first night he had the trotter home, another horse of the sheriff kicked one leg of the new horse so badly that the beast had to be killed. —Mamma—"I'm glad to see you praying so much during this holy week, Elsie." Little Elsie—"Yes, ma'am; I'm praying it'll rain next Sunday, so that stuck-up Missie Style won't be able to wear her new dress."

President Cleveland was made angry by the speech of a Methodist preacher, in a Methodist conference in Salem, Mass., by stating that the president gets drunk. A speech like that is calculated to make any sober man angry.

A careful record kept at Yale for eight years shows that non-smokers are twenty per cent. taller, twenty-five per cent. heavier and have sixty per cent. more living capacity than smokers. Confirmed smokers will hardly profit by the smoke record of Yale college, but the boys and young men can greatly profit by it, if they refrain from smoking.

The New Port News of the 11 inst. says: Last winter George Blattenberger, a young man, and Dr. A. A. Murray, of Liverpool, committed an abortion on Daisy Ritter, an orphan girl, of the same town.

The men were arrested and held for trial, which took place this week. Blattenberger pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of $25, the costs of prosecution and undergo imprisonment in the eastern penitentiary for a period of fifteen months. Murray stood trial and was convicted yesterday. The court sentenced him to pay a fine of $25 and the costs, and undergo imprisonment in the eastern penitentiary for a period of two years.

Miss Rachel Henderson, spent last Saturday with Miss Eleanor Campbell. The fall meeting of Huntingdon Presbytery will be held at Port Royal.

The State Teachers' Association will meet at Mount Gretna, July 3, 4 and 5. Miss Nell Musser spent last Friday and Saturday visiting relatives in Newport.

There are 33 republican candidates for the office of sheriff, in Westmoreland county. Abraham Milliken, of Tuscarora township, died on the 13 inst., of Bright's disease, aged 63 years.

Joseph H. Mathers, D. D., will declare the Westminster Presbytery church pulp vacant, the first Sabbath in June.

From the Huntingdon Journal of the 12th inst. There was a horse buyer in Everett recently, who purchased ten or twelve in one day. The prices paid were from $3 to $40. The price paid for most of the number purchased was $5 each.

"Joseph Conrad, of Lower Augusta twp., Northumberland county who secured a pension by impersonating his dead soldier cousin was sentenced in the United States court at Scranton, to thirteen months imprisonment in the Northumberland county jail."

That the able editor of the Huntingdon Journal is a practical man and a utilitarian of the first water, is made clear from the following from his paper on the 12 inst.—There is no excuse for swinging dumbbells and Indian clubs when you can get a spade and have access to a garden.

Somerset county farmers who manufacture maple sugar report the output up to the present time this season as being unusually large. The sap is more than ordinarily sweet, and it does not require as much of it to make a pound of sugar as when the conditions are otherwise.

Newton Hamilton people are still happy in the pursuit of gold, digging for the precious metal in their garden lots, when their golden dreams come true. But what a pity it would be if gold should be found there. The glorious champagne getting would be changed from a spiritual, religious summer for the place of the gold digger and money changer, however, the camping place could be located in some other place.

The Perry county Freeman says—Judge Lyons will teach the people of this county that a court subpoena is not to be treated with contempt. Michael Lauer, was subpoenaed in a case this week, and did not put in an appearance. An attachment was awarded for him and the sheriff brought him into court. His excuse for non attendance was "that he thought the weather was too bad."

Judge Lyons promptly fined him $15 and the costs of the attachment. Presbytery at its meeting in Huntingdon last Wednesday, April 10, elected the following Juniata county ministers, commissioners to the General Assembly, to meet in Pittsburg on the 16th of May, Rev. R. M. Campbell, of Port Royal and Rev. J. F. Diener, of Waterloo. D. T. Neely, of Academia, was licensed to preach. The judicial committee recommended that the resignation of Rev. J. R. Henderson, of the Westminster Mifflintown church, take effect on June 1st, 1895.

Rev. F. McBurney with, layman James Adams, of Walker township, represented the Mexico U. P. congregation, in Big Spring Presbytery, that met last week at Hopewell, York county. The pastoral relations that had existed for a period of over 26 years between Rev. F. McBurney and the Mexico congregation was dissolved by Presbytery, on account of the advancing age of the pastor. Rev. John Jamison, of York county, will preach and declare the pulpit vacant on the 21st day of April.

The Huntingdon News says: Wm. M. Thompson and wife of this place, have concluded to separate after a married life extending over 55 years. He is an invalid 79 years of age, and his wife about ten years younger. They were the parents of fourteen children, eleven of whom are living. The cause of separation is best known to themselves, but it is very rare, indeed, that a couple who have shared the joys and sorrows of married life for over half a century will decide to part company so near the close of their earthly career.

From the Lewistown Gazette, April 10, 1895: One of our citizens recently received a letter from a friend in Pittsburg and among other things he says: "I noticed in an art store on Sixth street, yesterday, a flag in a large frame with a placard on it reading 'First flag carried to Washington through Baltimore in defence of the Union, April 18, 1861.' The inscription on the flag was, 'Presented by the Ladies of Lewistown to the Logan Guards.'" Thus it is seen that the old flag fills an honor ed position wherever it may be.

The New Port Ledger, of the 11th inst. says:—The majority of our readers will remember a colored preacher, named Kelly, and his wife, who lived in the little house at the upper end of Second street, belonging to the Betchel estate, and that they were a very godly couple. They will also remember that they held service in the square in front of the Ledger office on two separate evenings, and during one of the services Mrs. Kelly stated that she had received a "vision" from the Lord telling her that a great calamity would befall Newport. Whether there was any foundation for her "vision," is not for us to say, but that a "calamity has befallen Newport" is true, and many innocent persons are suffering on account of it.

In Seoul, Corea, a huge ball is rung at sunset, all men are then required to hasten home and remain there till the next morning. If a man appears on the streets after the gates of the city are closed, which is shortly after sunset, he is flogged, but the women are allowed to go about and visit their friends.

Owing to the fact that the district attorney of Bedford county will not have any business to bring before the grand jury of that county next week, the sheriff has been instructed to notify citizens summoned as grand jurors not to attend a state of things that never before happened in the history of Bedford county.

The Pennsylvania Methodist says: It was thought at the close of the last political campaign that the Pennsylvania legislature was composed of an unusual number of able men. Its sessions in Harrisburg have demonstrated that it contains a fair share of well intentioned, well-qualified, dignified members, but that it is destitute of leadership, and thus far has been the plaything of the demagogue.

The number of frivolous vicious, money squandering bills thus far introduced has been legion. Between the lobbyist who crowds its aisles at his pleasure, and the playful moods of its members, who spend much of their time in spraying each other, throwing paper balls, and the concert horse play, the time is worse than wasted. The thoughtful visitor citizen is being convinced that once in ten years would be quite frequent enough for its meetings.

Watson Leach, a citizen of this town died, suddenly, unexpectedly at 1 o'clock on Monday morning. He was sitting up with Jacob Underwood, who is seriously ill at his home in Patterson. Mrs. Underwood had not retired, but said she would lie on the bed alongside of her husband to take rest, and she offered a large rocking chair on which she had been sitting to Leach, telling him he could sit in it more comfortably than on the chair he occupied. He seated himself on the rocking chair, and as he did so, he groaned three times and sank in the chair. Mrs. Underwood called neighbors and summoned a doctor, but before they came the spirit of Watson Leach had taken its flight to the world beyond this vale of tears. Interment in the Menonite Cemetery about 5 miles east of this town.

The Easter Services held in the Lutheran church on Sunday evening attracted a large audience, many members of other churches being present.

I will sell a car load of horses at the Jacobs House in Mifflintown on Monday, April 23d, 1895, at 1 o'clock P. M., on the usual terms. They consist of all purpose horses; range in weight from 1000 lbs; aged from coming 4, to 6 years old. True to representations. Sale "rain or shine." H. H. STEVENSON, Auctioneer.

Repleg's gallery will be moved from Patterson to Walnut after April 20. But until that time will be given the best bargains yet. A dozen cabinets of your family for $1, is a sample. Come, any day, rain or shine. April 26, the last chance. 24
