An effort is being made to get Congress to pass a resolution defining in particular language just what the Monroe doctrine is understood by Congress to mean.

Another Handkerchief Cure.

A Milton newspaper tells of another cure of a West Branch man by one of Schlatter's handkerchiefs. The cure was effected upon George Milliken who formerly lived at Milton, but who for the past five years has been a resident of Leadville, Col.

New Way to Husk Corn.

From the Chambersburg Repository of January 15—Mr. J. A. Ryder of near Loudon, a few days ago inaugurated an idea for husking and shelling corn which is used extensively in the west, but this is the first instance we have heard of in Franklin county. He had cut all his corn with a harvester and hauled it to the barn. A few days ago he fixed up an old separator as an experiment, and fed the corn into it until the same as wheat, not caring much whether he broke the machine or not. The result was most satisfactory. The corn was nicely husked and shelled, while the fodder was neatly stripped and uninjured. Mr. Ryder says that as far as he is concerned at least, the former plan of sitting out in a cold field for days, husking corn is passed, and he thinks it will only a short time until a machine similar to a separator is in vogue, that will do both the husking and shelling of corn. Mr. Ryder all has a small burr mill in his barn and in this way also does his chopping ready for feeding.

Ex-President Harrison's Finances

Some one writing of Mrs. Dimmick, ex-President Harrison's daughter, says:—Mrs. Dimmick is not a beautiful woman in the ordinary sense. She has neither unfathomable eyes, faultless features nor ravishing complexion. It is not the senses she takes by storm, but the heart. Her face is fairly youthful, with the ebullience of good feeling. The eyes dance with enjoyment as she talks, and the lips smile frequently and almost girlishly. You can see she enjoys the situation. To become the wife of Benjamin Harrison insures a post as well as a future. She is woman enough to raise her hand to her hair once or twice, so that you may see her engagement ring. Her eyes have prevailing tints of hazel, and every school girl knows that such eyes mean steadfastness and truth. The face is a little care worn, but you remember that its owner has been tried in the battle of life. The forehead is low, broad and un wrinkled and crowned with an ample coronet of soft brown hair; the nose straight and delicate; the lips a trifle too thin, perhaps, but firm and contented in expression. As you absorb these characteristics you begin to understand what Mr. Harrison meant when he said that Mary Dimmick was the only woman in the White House who knew enough to be silent when he wanted to be quiet and think. Socrates would have given up his familiar spirit for such a woman as this. She dresses plainly and wears no jewelry save a pin at the throat and a few rings, one of them a sapphire diamond.

The South Africa Trouble.

The English and dutch are creating the trouble in South Africa. That is, the English are on one side and the Dutch on the other. The English are the parties who are at fault and must be charged with the trouble that is caused in Africa and Europe by their interference with the interests and rights of the Dutch or Boers as they are called in Africa. The Pennsylvania Methodist in speaking of the situation says:—This is the Dutch man for peasant, or farmer, and is used by common consent to designate the Dutch Colonists of South Africa. The first of these settlements was made by Hollanders in the beginning of the 17th century. It grew rapidly while the Netherlands were a ruling maritime power, but during the 18th the adventurous spirit of the dutch died away, and as the influx of fresh elements from Europe diminished, the original settlers of Cape Colony developed a peculiar character of their own, singularly blending the steadiness and deliberation of the Dutch with the recklessness and energy of the English. In 1814 the Colony was transferred to Great Britain but maintained its secret but constant opposition against all efforts to anglicize the Colony. The intermeddling of the English caused the colonists in 1835 to abandon their homes and migrate in different bands, North, East and West, under different leaders and to form new colonies. In 1848 the British drove them from their possessions again and after a few years they had almost emigrated across the Vaal river. (Hence Transvaal) and the free state bearing this name was established with a president, governors, etc. The form of government is democratic. The last attempt to subdue or humiliate these German Puritans was inaugurated at the instance of a great commercial company with one Dr. Jameson acting as their agent. The love of money and the necessity of conquest to gain it seems to have been the motive, Jameson depended upon the uprising of the English miners to assist him in the revolution. These failed to meet his expectations. His army was defeated by the plucky Boers, and he is held as a hostage of war. England censures Jameson. It is not known what would have been her attitude had he succeeded, except from her behavior in other instances England generally champions success right or wrong. Germany says to England "hand off" and the Russian Bear seems to wink to Germany and says "me too." Meanwhile the British Lion roars in wrath and may get mad enough to punish the Turks for murdering Americans. If so we shall not lament.

Raised His Own Coffin From the Dead.

From the Pittsburg Commercial Gazette. GREENSBURG, Ind., January 12.—Judge Oren K. Farthing, of Bartholomew county, who is now 87 years old, was in his day a prominent lawyer and a judge. He is wealthy and eccentric. Forty years ago he planted near his front door a walnut which he avowed intention of securing from the tree for his coffin. The tree thrived steadily. The other day, feeling strongly the infirmities of age, the judge ordered the tree cut down and sawed into boards. Then, by his direction, the carpenter took his measure and began the coffin. On Saturday the judge suffered a paralytic stroke, and he is now urging the carpenter to make haste. The physician says that the judge cannot live longer than a day or two.

A Handsome and Valuable Tribute.

One of the handsomest and most valuable tributes to the memory of Pennsylvania's War Governor, Andrew Gregg Curtin, has just been issued by William H. Eggle, M. D., State Librarian. The volume is prepared by an article from the pen of Wm. B. Mann, and the biography is from the pen of Dr. Eggle, followed by contributions to the work by Henry C. Hickock, A. K. McClure, Wm. McVeagh, Ex-Governor Robert E. Patterson, Ex-Governor Hayes Greer, G. Harry Davis, John Russell Young, Fitz John Porter, William Benner Wilson, M. S. Quay, Thomas V. Cooper, Governor Daniel H. Hastings, General James A. Beaver, J. E. Bomberger, Craig Biddle, Titan J. Coffey, Thomas M. Marshall, William H. Armstrong, Galusha A. Grow, Harry White. And closing with an article on Curtin's funeral. An unique feature of the volume is an autograph letter of Abraham Lincoln, endorsing a first class mission abroad to Governor Curtin. The book is the most valuable testimonial to the memory of the deceased Governor, and is embellished with a portrait of Curtin, and portraits of all the contributors to the work, and is a credit to the author Dr. Eggle. It should be in every library in Pennsylvania.

Courted by Proxy.

A remarkable suit was brought in Justice Rodger's Court, St. Paul, the other day by Casper Schmidt, a farmer, against Augustus Sidenkranz, another farmer, both residing near the State Fair grounds. Schmidt tells a humorous tale in the complaint which has been filed at his request. He says Sidenkranz told him to look about for a wife for the lonely but thrifty Sidenkranz. Schmidt thought he could do that for his neighbor, and Sidenkranz, so Schmidt says, became quiet urgent, and said if the latter would make him acquainted with a woman and they got married, he would give him, Schmidt, $100. Schmidt said that was entirely satisfactory, and he asked for $10 by way of retainer. The money was paid, and he proceeded to the home of his sister in law, who had no objections to giving her heart and hand to a prosperous tiller of the soil. She listened to Schmidt's tale of love on Sidenkranz's behalf, and finally Schmidt, in the bargain, bought her some ice cream and played the game that John Alden one played with success, for in the present case the shy young maiden did not spoil the prospects of the absent lover by saying: "Why don't you speak for yourself, John?" Schmidt introduced his sister-in-law to Sidenkranz, and after a little "sizing up" they agreed to get married. There was much joy for Schmidt while he watched the happiness of the newly wed couple. A few days after the wedding he applied to Sidenkranz for the $100 which were still due, but Sidenkranz refused to be "touched." He couldn't hear Schmidt at all when he asked for the $100, and at that Schmidt's anger became uncontrollable, and he hid himself away to the office of an attorney, where he was waiting to bring an action against Sidenkranz.

Did You Ever Think.

that you cannot be well unless you have pure, rich blood? If you are weak, tired, languid and all run down, it is because your blood is impoverished and lacks vitality. These troubles may be overcome by Hood's Sarsaparilla, because Hood's Sarsaparilla makes pure, rich blood. If, in truth, the great blood purifier.

"The Common People."

As Abraham Lincoln called them, do not care to argue about their ailments. What they want is a medicine that will cure them. The simple, honest statement, "I know that Hood's Sarsaparilla cured me," is the best argument in favor of this medicine, and this is what many thousands voluntarily say.

Hood's Pills—Are the best after dinner pills, assist digestion, cure indigestion.

Catarh in the Head is due so impure blood and cannot be cured with local applications. Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured hundreds of cases of catarh because it purifies the blood and in this way removes the cause of the disease. It also builds up the system and prevents attacks of pneumonia and diphtheria and typhoid fever.

Hood's Pills become the favorite cathartic with everyone who tries them. 50c.
