PHILADELPHIA, July 27 .- A correspondent of The Inquirer who lives in Poststown, and who wishes to be known only as 'B," writes for information and we shall give it. He says:

"If I owe $1,000 on a mortgage written payable in lawful money of the United States and should a free coinage act pass and the bullion price of sliver remain as it 13-58 cents-(meaning 58 cents worth in a dollar) could I not purchase $530 worth of bullion, have it coined free and pay for my mortgage with 117 If so, would I not be the galner to the extent of the difference? If so, would it not inure to the disadvantage of the borrower in that the mortgagee will demand payment of all mortgages possible before such a law should pass?" There are two kinds of mortgages. In these days most contracts read that payments shall be made in gold. Such mortgages would have to be paid upon a gold basis, and that would mean, under a free silver act, two silver dollars in place of one. Whether the mortgagee would demand immediate payment is a question which he alone would have to decide. If a mortgage reads "lawful money," then of course the borrower would be able to pay in 53 cent dollars, and thus cheat the lender most royally. The theory of the free silver men is that the farmer who has given a mortgage payable in "lawful money" will be able to pay it off with a

Now let us ask our correspondent a few questions in turn.

Have you a wife and family, and, if so do you hold a life insurance policy for their benefit? You have been paying assessments on this policy in dollars worth 100 cents. How are you coming out under free silver? A complete answer is given to this question by Colonel Jacob L Greens, who is the president of a life in-
