Elect McKinley and times will get better. If Bryan is elected times will grow harder.

Charles Noble and Martin Stouffer rode to Harrisburg by bicycles on the 3rd inst. Miss Susie Bronneman of Harrisburg, is a visitor at the home of Mr. Stewart Ellis.

Mr. Jones is rebuilding his batch ering establishment and dwelling place in Patterson, lately destroyed by fire. On Thursday Mrs. Theodos Garman of Nanticoke, Mrs. Elder Gillford of Altoona and Mrs. J. G. Haldeman and son were guests of Mrs. W. G. Burchfield.

Mrs. Annie Hardy and daughter Mary started last Wednesday to their home in Roanoke, Va. On the way thither they will stop at Philadelphia, Reading and other places. The electric light company have constructed a large cistern at the engine room of their plant so that they may not be caught out of water, if anything happens to the water plant.

Mr. John Tyson caught a large ground hog in his bear trap on Shade mountain. Tonsorial Artist Green, bought the wild porker on Monday evening and made a feast fit for a king. Think of it, the prospect of republican success never had an unfavorable effect on business. On the other hand the prospect of democratic success has always had a paralyzing effect on business.

The letters unrecd for in the Mifflintown post office for the week ending August 31, were for Miss Mary J. Woodmansee, William Renninger, Jacob Reider, John Null, Geo. Harman, Calvin Hoon. The democratic National convention for the nomination of a true democratic candidate for the Presidency and Vice Presidency meets this Wednesday in Indianapolis. Forty-two states are represented.

About 3 o'clock on Saturday morning, the house of David Adams in Johnstown this county was discovered to be on fire. The family were safely gotten out with a considerable portion of the household goods. The democratic party cannot stand the revolutionary purposes of the Bryan wing of the democracy, and for that reason another democratic Presidential candidate will be nominated this week at Indianapolis. Major McKinley's letter of acceptance of the republican nomination for the Presidency was given to the public on the 26th of August. It is a clear presentation of the money and tariff questions at issue in this campaign.

The democratic party has now two tickets running in this state, and their National convention to meet this coming Thursday in Indianapolis, will in all probability put a candidate in opposition to Bryan in the field for the Presidency. Two thousand Armenian Christians have been murdered by the Turks in the streets of Constantinople within the past week. There is talk of a United States war ship being sent to Constantinople to look to American interests there. The water company are preparing to construct a reservoir on Sterrett's hill north-west of Patterson. The reservoir will be 220 feet above the top of the piers of the river bridge. The reservoir will hold five hundred thousand gallons of water.

There was a large public meeting held at McCoytown on Friday. Wm. Groening, Esq., Wm. Hoops, Esq., Mr. W. J. Campbell, Mr. John Kunkle and Mr. Harry addressed the meeting on topics relative to the great questions of the day. The Oregon democrats have cut off one of the tails of the Bryan two-tailed ticket. They have cut off the name of Wm. C. C. Bryan, Vice Presidential nominee. Their ticket is now Bryan and Sewall, but what will the Watson people say. The harvest home picnic in Leonard's woods near Waterloo on Saturday was attended by several thousand people. An address was made by Prof. J. T. Ailman, Mr. Hill and Hon. L. E. Atkinson. The speeches were on the subject of the free coinage of silver, the tariff, and other effects upon the welfare of the country.

Bucknell University, John Harris, LL. D., President. College with four courses of study leading to degrees: Academy for boys and young men; Ladies' Institute, and School of Music. Thirty acre campus, ten buildings, including gymnasium, lab building and observation tower. For catalogue and other information address Wm. C. Grestinger, Registrar, Lewisburg, Pa. 25th July 4. Half the democratic party in Pennsylvania is against the Bryan-anarchistic party. A new state convention was held in Philadelphia last week. Half the counties in the state were represented in the convention. Juniata county was not represented. The convention put a ticket in the field and appointed delegates to the Indianapolis National convention that will nominate a Presidential candidate.

Buy your hunting dogs and have them acquainted before the hunting season opens. I have the following to offer, guaranteed thoroughly broken on their game and reliable. Fox hounds, rabbit hounds, beagles, setters and pointers; also some fine Newfoundland, spaniels, collies, fox and bull terriers; fancy ponies and poodles; Belgian and German hares; prices low. J. Howard Taylor, West Chester, Pa. Aug. 27, 1896. Many a man believes that he can do so and so, but when he is put in the place, he fails in ability to discharge the duties of the place. So it is with parties. The democratic party has done loud talking of how the government should be conducted, but when it was put in charge of affairs it did not take long for them to wreck the business of both people and government. The democratic party has a loud mouth but a poor management.

A. B. Myers, the republican nominee for Prothonotary of York county, has no hands. When he was about 17 years old, he was injured in a stone quarry explosion and both his hands had to be taken off. He was plucky, however, and when he became strong enough, he set out to learn to be a school teacher. He succeeded, and is teaching to this day. Mr. Myers grasps a pen and pencil firmly between the two stumps and in that way writes legibly and rapidly. York Gazette.

Li Hung Chang the Chinese ambassador was given a reception in Mr. Whitney's house in New York City by President Cleveland on Saturday. The ambassador has a number of attendants with him, two of whom attend upon him constantly. They light his cigar and take away his cigar stumps and all kind of such service. Other attendants have other duties, and among them are two great Chinese doctors to see that he is kept in a state of good health. It is only three short years since the democratic party was clamoring to have the republican law for the purchase of silver and the issue of silver certificates repealed, and they prevailed on President Cleveland to call an extra session of Congress to repeal the law. Now they have purchased the law. They are traveling through the country shouting for the enactment of a law for the issue of a much silver as the world can dump into the mints of the United States for coinage.

Thomas Casner and family traveled from Michigan to Juniata county. They arrived here in Mifflintown on the 27th of August, having been three weeks on the road. They had an old fashioned outfit, a two-horse wagon with a bow top covered with canvas, in which bedding, cooking utensils, &c., were stored. To facilitate the traveling, he had a horse and road cart. Mr. Casner and three daughters accompanied him. They expect to remain here about three weeks and then return. Mr. and Mrs. Casner a quarter of a century ago, lived in Walker township. It is a wise thing for the Water Co. to place a reservoir on the hill north-west of Patterson to insure a strong pressure for the whole plant in case of fire and to insure a supply of water for Patterson in case something should happen to the pipe on the river bridge. The company takes it for granted that this side of the river is safe from any mishap that may overflow the pipes on the river bridge by frost or flood, but the truth is this side is constantly menaced by the same elements. At Lost Creek where the pipe crosses the stream on the old pipe bridge, and if at anytime frost or flood interferes with the pipes on the river bridge, the same interference will in all probability be experienced at Lost Creek bridge. Whatever defects the system reveals will doubtless be corrected by the company.

The past ten days were good for bass fishing in the river. It was found out that the fish were nesting along the shore, and that caused the bass to cast their lines close to shore in places where bass were least expected. No enthusiastic fish story teller has ventured to tell of bass having been caught on the bank of the stream, but stories are numerous of large strings of large fish that were caught in water so shallow that the fish were nearly more than covered, and that the women have been catching bass in numbers to beat the men. Fishermen say they believe the long dry weather has lowered the streams so that no fish food floats in the middle of the streams and the fish go to the shore to feed on bugs and insects, that get into the water from the banks of the stream.

Harry Casner and George Varnes, both of Fermanagh township, attended a festival at White Hall school house in Fermanagh township last Saturday evening. On their way home about midnight, they ran against a safety post along the bank opposite the Academy at the north of town. If it had not been for the post they would have gone over the bank and landed somewhere in the neighborhood of ex-sheriff Noble's stone house on the bank of the canal. By contact with the post, the two men were thrown out, and their road cart was wrecked and left hanging on the substantial post, while the horse ran on to Port Royal, and there met his fate on the railroad, which he attempted to cross in front of a fast running passenger train. The loco motive struck and killed him. It is reported that the young men were indulging in a race on the road when they encountered the post. Casner had two fingers broken and was otherwise bruised and Varnes was severely shaken up.

Apropos of Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt's disagreement with his son, and the latter's marriage to a woman very much older than himself, the editor of the Cosmopolitan in the September issue, seriously discusses the education most useful to modern life, and substantially, if not in words, asks: "Does modern college education educate?" The September Cosmopolitan, as if to show what a magazine can do, gives four complete stories in this single number, by such noted authors as Frances Courtenay Taylor, Maurice Thompson, Gertrude Hall, and John J. A. Beckel. Louise Chamber Moulton, Mrs. Lew Wallace, Francisque Sorey, J. Zangwill, Agnes Repplier, Norman Kerr, M. D. H. C. Chatfield-Taylor, Wm. Elroy Curtis, Robert E. Strachan, Colonel Tillman, and Ruth McEnery Stuart, are also among the contributors to this one issue of a magazine that is sold for ten cents. Nor is this all. Among other writers not already mentioned is Camille Flammarion, who has an article on "The Wonder of the New Eye of Science," which alone is worth the entire price of the magazine. The Cosmopolitan has been gradually perfecting its engraving and mechanical departments, until the publishers believe that, in the September issue, they present a number unrivaled in artistic and mechanical excellence.
