

The public are curiously awaiting President Cleveland's next message to learn his views on the Cuban question.

Six steamships are loading five hundred thousand bushels of American corn at New York to be shipped to South Africa.

The United States Treasury at Washington received eleven dollars and a cent from Danville, Pa., last Thursday.

JOHN GARDNER, Chairman of the Bryan democracy, says it is not true that he was given ten thousand dollars to conduct the state campaign with.

New things have passed away in Cuba. Railroads, telegraph and telephone lines have all disappeared owing to the rebellion that is now raging on there.

In addition to the insult of the throwing of eggs at Secretary Carlisle when he was at Covington, Kentucky, during the late campaign to re-make a speech, was that of throwing a lighted cigar in the face of Mr. Carlisle.

Manufacturing establishments in many places are resuming work. There are such works that turn out goods the price of which are affected by the tariff.

The people have not yet forgotten that Mayor Harrison was assassinated in his home in Chicago at the time of the close of the World's Fair.

The people have not yet forgotten that Mayor Harrison was assassinated in his home in Chicago at the time of the close of the World's Fair.

TRACTION FAILURE.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

CAST HIS LOT WITH BLACKS.

A White Man Who Was Brought Up in the South, and who has been in the United States since 1840, and who has been in the United States since 1840, and who has been in the United States since 1840.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

ENGLISH RAILWAYS.

THEY ARE SLOW TO ADOPT IMPROVEMENTS IN THE SERVICE.

American Wreckers Are Adopted in a Sort of Halfhearted Way, and Very Little Effort is Made by the Managers to Popularize Them.

Two factors in English holiday travel are obvious from these great piles of passengers' baggage. One is that there is no check system on the railways, and the other that it costs as much to hire a cab in Liverpool or Manchester as in New York there would seem to be a diminution in the number of packages, if not in the weight of the baggage, which English smiles take with them on their holiday travels.

On Profanity.

On the subject of swearing the Philadelphia Times of the 14th inst., contains an article in the state of affairs against profanity. The act of March 31, 1869, says: "If and person shall wilfully, premeditatedly and despitefully blaspheme or speak loosely and profanely of Almighty God, Christ Jesus, the Holy Spirit or the Scriptures of Truth, such person on conviction thereof, shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars, and undergo an imprisonment not exceeding three months or both at the discretion of the court."

A Remarkable Address.

One of the most remarkable addresses made in these modern days was delivered by King William of Germany to the army last Thursday on the occasion of the mustering or swearing in of a division of the Army. To review the speech as it may be reviewed would take a long newspaper or magazine article. His wonderful expression of reliance upon God and the spirit of his ancestors and upon the army proves how much he has in him. Here is the speech, read it.

It is not long. It is the most remarkable speech of these times. "You know that I am a soldier, and I have shown it, it is a system under which the passenger can nearly always get the best of the railway company in the matter of excess of baggage, and nobody gives any heed to the frequent suggestion that the American system of checks should be adopted."

In one or two directions the English companies are now following the example of the American railway companies. After years of urging from the board of directors, the government department which has the oversight of railways, several of the lines are gradually introducing long cars for long distance travel. They have not lately adopted the American car. The pattern of our now being brought into use by a company by the American car and the English compartment carriage. The compartment is retained, but each compartment is connected with a corridor which runs down the middle, but along the side of the corridor, the train made up of carriages but after this fashion.

On some of the trains all the carriages are connected with vestibules like those on American railways. On other trains there are two or three corridors, while the rest of the carriage are of the old-fashioned style. It is characteristic of the English people that there is seldom any scramble for places in the new cars. People seem to like the old compartments better, a fact which the English railway companies do not fail to lay stress upon, after some outrage in a train, the companies are pressed by the board of trade to make the use of corridor cars more general. The corridor trains are principally in use on the London and Scotland railways, and scores of the long distance runs in England all the carriages are still of the old-fashioned kind.

Another fact concerning the corridor trains is typical of the English character. Newsboys are not carried on them. The English railway company still kept solely to the platforms at the railway stations. And he is likely to be kept there, for English people would vote it a nuisance to go to and be bothered by newsboys to buy books and to be bothered by newsboys to buy books and to be bothered by newsboys to buy books.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

ENGLISH RAILWAYS.

THEY ARE SLOW TO ADOPT IMPROVEMENTS IN THE SERVICE.

American Wreckers Are Adopted in a Sort of Halfhearted Way, and Very Little Effort is Made by the Managers to Popularize Them.

Two factors in English holiday travel are obvious from these great piles of passengers' baggage. One is that there is no check system on the railways, and the other that it costs as much to hire a cab in Liverpool or Manchester as in New York there would seem to be a diminution in the number of packages, if not in the weight of the baggage, which English smiles take with them on their holiday travels.

On Profanity.

On the subject of swearing the Philadelphia Times of the 14th inst., contains an article in the state of affairs against profanity. The act of March 31, 1869, says: "If and person shall wilfully, premeditatedly and despitefully blaspheme or speak loosely and profanely of Almighty God, Christ Jesus, the Holy Spirit or the Scriptures of Truth, such person on conviction thereof, shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars, and undergo an imprisonment not exceeding three months or both at the discretion of the court."

A Remarkable Address.

One of the most remarkable addresses made in these modern days was delivered by King William of Germany to the army last Thursday on the occasion of the mustering or swearing in of a division of the Army. To review the speech as it may be reviewed would take a long newspaper or magazine article. His wonderful expression of reliance upon God and the spirit of his ancestors and upon the army proves how much he has in him. Here is the speech, read it.

It is not long. It is the most remarkable speech of these times. "You know that I am a soldier, and I have shown it, it is a system under which the passenger can nearly always get the best of the railway company in the matter of excess of baggage, and nobody gives any heed to the frequent suggestion that the American system of checks should be adopted."

In one or two directions the English companies are now following the example of the American railway companies. After years of urging from the board of directors, the government department which has the oversight of railways, several of the lines are gradually introducing long cars for long distance travel. They have not lately adopted the American car. The pattern of our now being brought into use by a company by the American car and the English compartment carriage. The compartment is retained, but each compartment is connected with a corridor which runs down the middle, but along the side of the corridor, the train made up of carriages but after this fashion.

On some of the trains all the carriages are connected with vestibules like those on American railways. On other trains there are two or three corridors, while the rest of the carriage are of the old-fashioned style. It is characteristic of the English people that there is seldom any scramble for places in the new cars. People seem to like the old compartments better, a fact which the English railway companies do not fail to lay stress upon, after some outrage in a train, the companies are pressed by the board of trade to make the use of corridor cars more general. The corridor trains are principally in use on the London and Scotland railways, and scores of the long distance runs in England all the carriages are still of the old-fashioned kind.

Another fact concerning the corridor trains is typical of the English character. Newsboys are not carried on them. The English railway company still kept solely to the platforms at the railway stations. And he is likely to be kept there, for English people would vote it a nuisance to go to and be bothered by newsboys to buy books and to be bothered by newsboys to buy books.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

ENGLISH RAILWAYS.

THEY ARE SLOW TO ADOPT IMPROVEMENTS IN THE SERVICE.

American Wreckers Are Adopted in a Sort of Halfhearted Way, and Very Little Effort is Made by the Managers to Popularize Them.

Two factors in English holiday travel are obvious from these great piles of passengers' baggage. One is that there is no check system on the railways, and the other that it costs as much to hire a cab in Liverpool or Manchester as in New York there would seem to be a diminution in the number of packages, if not in the weight of the baggage, which English smiles take with them on their holiday travels.

On Profanity.

On the subject of swearing the Philadelphia Times of the 14th inst., contains an article in the state of affairs against profanity. The act of March 31, 1869, says: "If and person shall wilfully, premeditatedly and despitefully blaspheme or speak loosely and profanely of Almighty God, Christ Jesus, the Holy Spirit or the Scriptures of Truth, such person on conviction thereof, shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars, and undergo an imprisonment not exceeding three months or both at the discretion of the court."

A Remarkable Address.

One of the most remarkable addresses made in these modern days was delivered by King William of Germany to the army last Thursday on the occasion of the mustering or swearing in of a division of the Army. To review the speech as it may be reviewed would take a long newspaper or magazine article. His wonderful expression of reliance upon God and the spirit of his ancestors and upon the army proves how much he has in him. Here is the speech, read it.

It is not long. It is the most remarkable speech of these times. "You know that I am a soldier, and I have shown it, it is a system under which the passenger can nearly always get the best of the railway company in the matter of excess of baggage, and nobody gives any heed to the frequent suggestion that the American system of checks should be adopted."

In one or two directions the English companies are now following the example of the American railway companies. After years of urging from the board of directors, the government department which has the oversight of railways, several of the lines are gradually introducing long cars for long distance travel. They have not lately adopted the American car. The pattern of our now being brought into use by a company by the American car and the English compartment carriage. The compartment is retained, but each compartment is connected with a corridor which runs down the middle, but along the side of the corridor, the train made up of carriages but after this fashion.

On some of the trains all the carriages are connected with vestibules like those on American railways. On other trains there are two or three corridors, while the rest of the carriage are of the old-fashioned style. It is characteristic of the English people that there is seldom any scramble for places in the new cars. People seem to like the old compartments better, a fact which the English railway companies do not fail to lay stress upon, after some outrage in a train, the companies are pressed by the board of trade to make the use of corridor cars more general. The corridor trains are principally in use on the London and Scotland railways, and scores of the long distance runs in England all the carriages are still of the old-fashioned kind.

Another fact concerning the corridor trains is typical of the English character. Newsboys are not carried on them. The English railway company still kept solely to the platforms at the railway stations. And he is likely to be kept there, for English people would vote it a nuisance to go to and be bothered by newsboys to buy books and to be bothered by newsboys to buy books.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

ENGLISH RAILWAYS.

THEY ARE SLOW TO ADOPT IMPROVEMENTS IN THE SERVICE.

American Wreckers Are Adopted in a Sort of Halfhearted Way, and Very Little Effort is Made by the Managers to Popularize Them.

Two factors in English holiday travel are obvious from these great piles of passengers' baggage. One is that there is no check system on the railways, and the other that it costs as much to hire a cab in Liverpool or Manchester as in New York there would seem to be a diminution in the number of packages, if not in the weight of the baggage, which English smiles take with them on their holiday travels.

On Profanity.

On the subject of swearing the Philadelphia Times of the 14th inst., contains an article in the state of affairs against profanity. The act of March 31, 1869, says: "If and person shall wilfully, premeditatedly and despitefully blaspheme or speak loosely and profanely of Almighty God, Christ Jesus, the Holy Spirit or the Scriptures of Truth, such person on conviction thereof, shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars, and undergo an imprisonment not exceeding three months or both at the discretion of the court."

A Remarkable Address.

One of the most remarkable addresses made in these modern days was delivered by King William of Germany to the army last Thursday on the occasion of the mustering or swearing in of a division of the Army. To review the speech as it may be reviewed would take a long newspaper or magazine article. His wonderful expression of reliance upon God and the spirit of his ancestors and upon the army proves how much he has in him. Here is the speech, read it.

It is not long. It is the most remarkable speech of these times. "You know that I am a soldier, and I have shown it, it is a system under which the passenger can nearly always get the best of the railway company in the matter of excess of baggage, and nobody gives any heed to the frequent suggestion that the American system of checks should be adopted."

In one or two directions the English companies are now following the example of the American railway companies. After years of urging from the board of directors, the government department which has the oversight of railways, several of the lines are gradually introducing long cars for long distance travel. They have not lately adopted the American car. The pattern of our now being brought into use by a company by the American car and the English compartment carriage. The compartment is retained, but each compartment is connected with a corridor which runs down the middle, but along the side of the corridor, the train made up of carriages but after this fashion.

On some of the trains all the carriages are connected with vestibules like those on American railways. On other trains there are two or three corridors, while the rest of the carriage are of the old-fashioned style. It is characteristic of the English people that there is seldom any scramble for places in the new cars. People seem to like the old compartments better, a fact which the English railway companies do not fail to lay stress upon, after some outrage in a train, the companies are pressed by the board of trade to make the use of corridor cars more general. The corridor trains are principally in use on the London and Scotland railways, and scores of the long distance runs in England all the carriages are still of the old-fashioned kind.

Another fact concerning the corridor trains is typical of the English character. Newsboys are not carried on them. The English railway company still kept solely to the platforms at the railway stations. And he is likely to be kept there, for English people would vote it a nuisance to go to and be bothered by newsboys to buy books and to be bothered by newsboys to buy books.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

It is a source of regret to this community that the people who were led into investing more than $60,000 in street railways in Lancaster, have had their money so invested that scarcely anything short of a financial miracle can prevent them from losing what they put into it.

LEGAL.

EXHIBITOR'S NOTICE.

Letters testamentary on the estate of Eva Anker, late of Walker township, Juniata county, Pa., having been granted in due form of law to the undersigned residing in Walker township. All persons knowing themselves indebted to said decedent will please make immediate payment, and those having claims will present them properly authenticated for settlement to

J. J. GIBSON, Executor.

EXHIBITRICES' NOTICE.

Letters testamentary on the estate of Edward A. Smith, late of Mexico, Walker township, Juniata county, Pa., having been granted in due form of law to the undersigned residing in Mexico. All persons knowing themselves indebted to said decedent will please make immediate payment, and those having claims will present them properly authenticated for settlement to MATILDA SMITH, KATE V. SMITH, Executors.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE.

Estate of Christiana Briggs, deceased. Whereas letters of administration on the estate of Christiana Briggs, late of Walker township, Juniata County, Pa., deceased, have been issued out of the Orphan's Court to the undersigned, notice is hereby given to all persons indebted to the said estate to make immediate payment, and those having claims to present them properly authenticated for settlement.

JACOBUS BARNES, Walker township, Pa., August 15, 1896.

AUDITOR'S NOTICE.

In the estate of Mary McAllister, late of the Borough of Mifflintown, Pa., deceased. The undersigned, appointed by the Orphan's Court of Juniata county, Auditor to audit, settle and adjust the first and final account of Jerome Lyons, Executor of the last will and testament of Mary McAllister, late of Mifflintown, Juniata county, Pennsylvania, deceased, and to make distribution of the balance in the hands of said Executor to and among creditors and others having claims against said estate and against the said funds in the hands of the Executor, will meet all parties interested for the purpose of an accounting on Friday, December 18th, A. D. 1896, between the hours of 10 o'clock A. M. and 5 o'clock P. M., at his office No. 24, Main Street in the Borough of Mifflintown, Pa., county, Pennsylvania, when and where all parties interested as claimants, creditors, legatees or devisees, heirs at law or in any other respect are required to make and prove their claims or be forever debarred from coming in on said fund.

F. M. FENNEL, Auditor.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

The undersigned having been restored to health by simple means, after suffering several years with severe lung affection, and that dread disease consumption, is anxious to make known to his fellow sufferers the means of cure. To those who desire to be cured, he will cheerfully send (free of charge) a copy of the prescription used, which they will find in the Borough of Mifflintown, Pa., Catarrh, Bronchitis and all throat and lung ailments. He hopes all sufferers will try his remedy, as it is invaluable. Those desiring the prescription, which will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing, will please address, REV. EDWARD A. WILSON, 3706, New York, N. Y., Sep. 9, 1896.

CAUTION.

The undersigned persons have associated themselves for the protection of the property of Willow Run Trout stream in Lack township, Juniata Co., Pa. All persons are strictly forbidden to trespass upon the land or stream of the said parties, or fish as the stream has been stocked with trout. Persons violating this notice, will be prosecuted according to law.

R. H. PATTERSON, T. H. CARUTHERS, J. P. ROBY, A. WOODSIDE, W. F. WATSON, FRANK YAWN, DYSON YAWN.

TRESPASS NOTICE.

The undersigned persons have formed an Association for the protection of their respective properties, and persons are hereby notified not to trespass on the lands of the undersigned for the purpose of hunting, gathering nuts, digging timber or throwing down logs or firing timber in any way whatever. Any violation of the above notice will be dealt with according to law.

John Michalski, William Puffenberger, Gordon Sieber, Henry & Zook, Mayor A. Brubaker, John Rothrock, John Byler, Samuel Bell.

COURT PROCLAMATION.

Whereas, the Hon. JEREMIAH LYONS, President Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, for the Forty-Fifth Judicial District, composed of the counties of Juniata and York, and the Hon. J. P. WICKESHAM, BAR, Judge of the said Court of Common Pleas of Juniata county, by precept duly issued to the undersigned, Sheriff of the County of York and Terminus and General Jail Delivery, and General Quarter Sessions of the Peace at Mifflintown, on the 12th day of DECEMBER 1896, BRING THE SEVENTH DAY OF THE MONTH.

Notice is hereby given, to the Coronor Justices and Constables of the County of Juniata, that they and their assistants in their proper places, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, with their respective families, shall appear before the undersigned, to do those things that their offices respectively appertain, and those that are bound by recognition to be strictly forbidden to appear there, or to be in the Jail of the County of York, and there to prosecute against them as shall be just.

Dated at Mifflintown, the 2nd day of November in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-six.

JAMES P. CALBOUGH, Sheriff, Mifflintown, Pa., November 2, 1896.

PHOSPHATE

YORK CHEMICAL WORKS, YORK, PA.

YORK CHEMICAL WORKS, YORK, PA.

YORK CHEMICAL WORKS, YORK, PA.

YORK CHEMICAL WORKS, YORK, PA.

YORK CHEMICAL WORKS, YORK, PA.

YORK CHEMICAL WORKS, YORK, PA.

YORK CHEMICAL WORKS, YORK, PA.

YORK CHEMICAL WORKS, YORK, PA.

YORK CHEMICAL WORKS, YORK, PA.

YORK CHEMICAL WORKS, YORK, PA.

YORK CHEMICAL WORKS, YORK, PA.

YORK CHEMICAL WORKS, YORK, PA.