The rain last Saturday beyond Huntingdon, raised the Raystown branch of the Juniata to devastating flood height. The waters were high above the banks of the stream. One of the worst fields on bottom land were ruined for this year. A great deal of fence was swept away.

A Kansas man has written a play. "Three nights of Hell." The announcement of the play does not state where the sulphurous region of the play is located, and the reader is left to guess it is in Kansas. So the next thing for those who hereafter when they are angry, tell their friends (to go to H)—dese will tell them to go to Kansas. It is a softer word than the old "orthodox word."

The Governments of both Greece and Turkey are bankrupt. They cannot borrow money to carry on a long war. They are in debt to the bankers and financiers of Europe. Such being the fact it isn't much wonder that European Government and bank circles have been trying to keep them from fighting. The fighting was started among those who were more interested in religion than in money affairs.

The coming oats crop is looked forward to with a great deal of interest, for the sowing was done at different times on different farms. On some farms it showed itself above ground before it had been sowed on other farms.

Over in Snyder county a woman traded all the old rubbers she had in the house for a duck pan, and then owed the peddler lace. She learned later that she might have bought the same article from the hardware man for 10 cents.

Huntingdon Journal.—The young man who so gracefully lifts his hat to every young lady he passes on the street and then goes home and allows his sister or his mother to split the kindling and bring in the coal, isn't quite as polite as he thinks he is. We have some of them.

Arbutus is a woods plant and all effort heretofore made to cultivate it have failed. People in the vicinity of towns are exterminating it. Instead of taking a knife or scissors with them to the woods to cut the stem, they pull the plant, root and all, and that is the last of that individual plant.

In Japan the best wages are paid to tailors. Their wages range from 14 to 24c a day. Stone-cutters get 18c a day; painters 13c; type-setters 14c; blacksmiths 15c; dyers 12c a day; a male farm hand 9 1/2c a day; female hands 6c; day laborers 11c a day. The average farm hand wages is 2 1/2 to 3c a day.

The stingy man who took cholera form to deaden his feeling of regret every time he spent a penny, is only able to fight the Turks. He only who stopped his clock every evening to the next morning to save the wear and tear of night running. By saving the pennies the dollars will take care of themselves.

A despatch from Mexico, Mexico, states that on the 27th, a storm hurling three pound hail stones, devastated grain and all kinds of vegetables in "The Rio Verde." The hail killed every living thing it struck. On one farm 12 persons working in the fields were killed. 40 odd persons were killed on adjacent farms.

The exodus of Greeks from America to fight the Turks has come to almost a dead halt on account of the continued success of the Turkish army. The Greeks think an armistice will be declared in the near future, and the sympathy of millions of Christian people have been with the Greeks, but as more is learned about them, it is found that they are a lazy people, who do not help themselves at home.

An exchange says:—Three of the members of the Legislature were convicted of Jarency. One was tried for murder but acquitted; three have been in insane asylums, while eight have been in Keely cures. Of the others, one is a gambler, one a base ball umpire, one a preacher, eight men who declare they are "gentle men," nineteen without occupations, twenty-seven lawyers and one pugilist.

A Port Royal Man Disappears.

John D. Jones, colored, of Port Royal is missing. Just when he was last seen in the town no one can definitely say. Some say it was the beginning of last week. Others say it was about the middle of last week, but no one can settle the question as to the last time they saw him. His absence was first definitely known last Saturday, May 1st at the time of the rain storm. At that time a neighbor noticed that an outside door of his house stood open and the rain was driving into the building. He knew that such would not be the case if Jones then occupied the house. Neighbors immediately called at the house, but to all their search there was no response and Jones has not yet been heard of. The town has been well looked over for the missing man, but up to this time not a single trace of him has been found.

On the last Sunday in April, Harrisburg railroad men held a meeting in Port Royal. Jones attended the meeting and spoke of the present and the future. His present state he said is made very happy by angel visits. The angels come to his house and talk to him and comfort him. In the near future, he then said, he expected to go on a long journey. Some believe when he talked of the angels, that he meant to go away on a visit.

Everyone there seems to be interested in knowing what has become of him. It is said he has a son and daughter at Steelton, and some have conjectured that he has gone to visit them, but the fact that he left his house unlocked, and did not mention the purpose of such a visit, makes such a trip quite improbable in the minds of his neighbors. It is hoped that the reappearance of Mr. Jones will soon take place for the community is getting nervous over his absence. So many queer things have happened at Port Royal, that anything of life outside of the common affairs of life excites the whole community.

Christian Endeavorers.

MCALISTERVILLE, 1897. Sixth annual convention of the Juniata County Christian Endeavor Union, to be held at McAlisterville, Thursday, May 20, 1897.

WELCOME. Dear Fellow Endeavorers.—As we are now on the eve of the Sixth Annual Convention of our county union, we bespeak for you all a hearty welcome and hope that the coming convention may not be a delegate body only, but a mass meeting.

We ask you to ever remember that the true object of an Endeavor Convention is inspiration and spiritual uplifting and that each Endeavorer present may be thus quickened, we ask you to help surround our Convention work with a beautiful framework of prayer; of petition for a blessing before the Convention comes; of silent supplication while it is going on; of praise for blessings received after it is over.

It is hoped that each society will be well represented in the Convention, and that they come prepared to contribute something toward helping defray the expenses of the union. Friends are invited to receive a blessing and you will not be disappointed. Come, bringing with you a Bible and gospel hymns No. 6.
