

TINEL & REPUBLICAN

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 6, 1897.

TERMS: Subscription, $1.50 per annum in advance...

SHORT LOCALS.

Coon hunting. Sheep are scarce. Sauer-kraut making. Beef cattle are scarce. Rabbits are numerous. Closed, the ice factory. Arbor Day, October 22. Next, religious revivals. Potatoes are good sale. Cattle keep up in price. Closed, the peach trade. The political kettle boils. People like to be amused. Dense fog every morning. Wheat is not dollar wheat. Contentment is happiness. A mild winter is predicted. Only three months of 1897. This community is healthy. The canal is not missed now. England wants part of China. Pleasants come close to town. Plenty freight on the railroad. Plenty land for sale in Juniata. England would take the world. The bicycle craze is increasing. Peary will go to the North Pole. There is yet some wheat to sow. The base ball craze is subsiding. The plague again troubles India. Ed. Bartley's stable is a nice one. Keep boys off the street at night. Thanksgiving day is not far away. Office holders are loath to go out. Politics is mixed in New York City. Buy your hardware at McClintic's. One by one the post offices change. Eat onions once a week for health. Spain may come to terms with Cuba. Thin corn husks mean a mild winter. Presbyterians communed on Sunday. The horse company met on Saturday. Potatoes are small and few in a hill. Bears have been seen in the mountains. The corn fields have poor spots. Cat facts sometimes make men warm. A scarcity of nuts means a mild winter. The shortest day is 11 weeks in the future. The days are not melancholy, if you are busy. At a railroad crossing, stop! look! and listen! Some farmers are not through sowing wheat. Some farmers have commenced to husk corn. Man himself is the hardest thing to understand. It looks as if there is to be no State House soon at Harrisburg. The new woman marches for striking miners. Thomas Patterson is attending dental college. Middah raced his horses at Hughes last week. On Friday a week, squirrel shooting time begins. Mrs. Emmons is visiting her parents in Pittsburgh. Ed. Herr is attending a dental college in Philadelphia. Philo Banks is off to pharmacy school in Philadelphia. Mrs. Stewart and daughter visited in Lewistown recently. On Sunday morning there was a frost with talking about. Samuel Suloff is attending medical school in Philadelphia. D. B. Ritz is taking sand out of the river for McClellan's house. Bicycle riders have cleaned a path from Mt. Union to Mapleton. A wag says setting down isn't hard to do, but setting up is. Harry Copeland of Greensburg, is visiting his parents in Patterson. Fifty pound lead cans at McClintic's hardware store for 30 cents. Miss Bea Hackenberger is in Philadelphia taking election lessons. Six weeks more and the farmer's work for the year will have passed. The goose home weather prophet has not been heard from this year. Dr. Fred H. Epsenshade is home from Mahonoy city on a short visit. Never anything truer than the saying, "It isn't all gold that glitters." Clothing merchant Harley is in the city, buying a new stock of clothing. There was a Swallow meeting in the Methodist church on Friday evening. Thos. U. Parker of Pittsburgh, spent a day in this place, his native town, recently. Mrs. McClellan wife of Captain McClellan is visiting friends in Philadelphia. The Misses Pauline and Mary Rohm of Harrisburg, are visiting Miss Lavina Lenson in Patterson.

There is no uniformity in the appearance of the growing wheat this fall. A tax receipt for 1895 will not do to vote on at the next coming election. A number of new peach orchards will be planted in Juniata the coming year. A flock of partridges invaded the Court House grounds one day last week. Mrs. Rebecca Nerin and niece Miss Warner are visiting Mrs. Robert McMeen. The National policy of the Republican party is slowly making times better. The pension list still increases, and the militia of 1862 have not been pensioned. The shipment of cattle from the west into Juniata seems to grow less every year. People here are too far from Chicago to have their appetites for sausage spoiled. William McMeen of Pittsburgh, is visiting his mother, who is quite ill in Patterson. The control of sixty million tax funds in New York city, is what makes politics lively. Twenty thousand eels were caught one night recently in Perry county in the Juniata river. A search for gold is to be made in the mountain separating Berks and Lebanon counties. The digging for stone coal at Van Wert has not been resumed as was expected by some. A number of citizens went to Harrisburg to see the Barnum & Bailey Show on Saturday. Miss Lonie Long of Perry county is learning dress making with Mrs. Benjamin Wagner. Huntingdon Presbytery is this week holding its fall session at Bell wood, Blair county. Mrs. Harry Kelly of Barnsboro, is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Pannabaker. Mrs. Krick, wife of railroad superintendent Krick, is visiting her parents in Berks county. Miss Lou Cramer of Hollidaysburg, is visiting at the home of her aunt Mrs. Elizabeth Cramer. Mrs. Henry S. Scholl attended the Ladies' Home missionary convention at Redsville last week. Mr. Frederick Epsenshade removed a worn out peach orchard and sowed the ground to wheat. Sheriff J. P. Callahan assisted by his son Banks and others are taking the fish dams out of the river. Taking the fish dams out of the river now, is like locking the stable after the horse has been stolen. Men talk about a dollar wheat, but it is not a dollar, and hasn't been, except for a day or two in August. Someone says a man judges other women by his wife and a woman judges other men by her husband. If they have gold in Northumberland county, why not gold in Juniata. The same rocks appear in both counties. The Juniata Valley Editorial Association is off this week on an excursion to Southern Pines, North Carolina. The Misses Mary Shelly, Maud Crozier and Grace McManigal are visiting Mrs. George Wilson in Patterson. The railroad company had a number of men at work on Tuesday sprinkling the yard with oil to settle the dust. The Democratic primary election box question in Fermanagh township is like Banquo's ghost. It will not down. Within the coming year the Republican tariff will give manufacturers, merchants, mechanics and workmen more to do. Bumblebees are more plentiful this fall than in many seasons. Plenty bumblebees and plenty clover seem to go together. The pension roll is unpopular among a large class of people, and they grumble almost every time they see a pensioner. Two students were expelled from State College last week for hazing. They were caught in the act of initiating a new man. The longer Spain was against Cuba, the poorer she grows. Cuba can't pay the war debt even should hostilities cease. Mrs. Margaret Hurrell, wife of Robert Hurrell, late of Lack township, deceased, died on Sunday morning, aged about 75 years. Contractor James J. Horning is placing a handsome shingle roof upon the house of railroad conductor Wm. Brown in Patterson. Copper river in Alaska promises to be as profitable a gold field as the Klondyke. It isn't so cold along the Copper river, but the Indians are bad. The 1st day of October was warm and dry. The last day of October for this season will be wet and stormy so it is said by people who claim to know. An apple tree at Roseville, Lancaster county was in full bloom last week, which is entirely late for a crop in 1897, and too early for a crop in 1898. The Democracy of Harrisburg are engaged in a bitter fight with each other. They claim to be goldite and silverite, but the truth is they are after the offices. One of the commendable attractions at the recent Perry county Fair, was a 68 pound watermelon raised by railroad contractor E. C. Wells on his Cove Forge Farm. Sportsmen are anxiously looking to the coming of the 15th inst., so that they can lawfully shoot gray squirrels. Possibly by that time the squirrels may be somewhere else.

Robert Hughes and wife and five handsome young ladies from Lewistown paid this town a visit on their bicycles last Friday. Algy.—"I dreamt last night that I died." Ethel.—"Yes? Your sister told me she heard you crying out for water in your sleep."—Puck. Mrs. T. J. Middah, Miss Mary Hertzler, Miss Mary Kauffman, Miss Gertrude Jackman and Hon. Wm. Hertzler are with the Juniata Valley Editorial Excursion to North Carolina. A ship with yellow fever sufferers arrived off the Delaware break-water below Philadelphia on Saturday. The fever is too late. Jack frost has put in an appearance and frost destroys the fever. Macedonia water now flows under Lost Creek instead of over the stream as it was first run by the water company. Floods cannot now interfere with the water pipe at the Lost Creek crossing. Hunters say gray squirrels are moving because of the scarcity of nuts. They are on the move hunting a place where nuts are plenty enough to carry them through the coming winter. Charles Noble, a son of ex-sheriff Noble had his head severely hurt by a stroke of the handle of the windlass, that he was working, in the well that is being sunk on the Dr. Suloff lot in Patterson. The gray squirrels are so plentiful in some parts of this county, that some property holders have not been able to resist the temptation to kill them with stones, when they invade their orchards and barns. John B. Woodward a citizen of Tuscarora township, whose place of residence was at the once famous McKinley tavern, north of McCoyville, came to town in a buggy last Wednesday, September 29, to attend to some business interests in this place. After attending to the business matters, he made some calls among his friends and relatives. While in the act of crossing the railroad about a quarter of a mile north of the ticket office he was struck by Fast Mail No. 25, going west, and knocked from the track, dead. All the larger bones in his body and limbs were broken, excepting the right arm. His remains were prepared for burial by undertaker Snyder. The funeral took place on Friday, at 2 p. m. Interment at McCulloch Mills cemetery. Mr. Woodward was aged 62 years, 6 months. A wife and a number of children survive him. Mrs. William McDonald and Mrs. Harry Powell of Patterson are daughters. There was a Swallow and Leth-rop meeting in the Methodist church on the evening of the 1st inst., that was well attended. About half the audience were women, the other half were men. The women were attracted by the temperance side of the campaign that the Swallow party represent. All the men were attracted by the women. Others by the temperance phase of the meeting, but the larger number were there to hear Dr. Swallow speak on the issue of extravagance as exemplified in official circles on Capitol Hill at Harrisburg. It was the old official stagers that assemble at Harrisburg and their regular assistants that were charged with the launching and guiding of all manner of schemes to get money out of the State Treasury. The tender foot always asked for a thing that he wants, but the Capitol Hill frequenter would take whatever suited him and combine with others of his class to take all they could get. Contractors had offered to do certain repairs for $20,000, but the contract was given to others for $70,000 dollars. All the expense that could be crowded on the Capitol building and on the ground was indulged in, and then someone set the house on fire to destroy records, and give certain parties a chance to reap a rich harvest on contracts, and make money in various ways known to the people who run the ring on Capitol Hill. The extravagance of the fitting up of Grace Church for the meeting of the Legislature, was dwelt upon. The placing of heaters on the pay roll of the Legislature was reviewed in the purchase of soap, pen knives, rugs and carpets and extravagance in everything that pertains to Government affairs at the Capitol of the State, was held up for the voter and tax payer to look at, and the refusal of the Legislature to permit Dr. Swallow and his friends to examine the ruins of the burnt State House was dwelt upon, and the manner of treatment that was extended to him for exposing the extravagant habits of the office-holders was reviewed in such a way that the church full of people listened attentively to every word that was said. How many votes the Dr. made for his cause is not known.

Public Sale. Saturday, October 23, 1897. D. D. Adams, will sell at 11 a. m., at Johnstown, 6 miles west of Mifflintown, four horses, two cows, fifty-four hogs, nine sows, thirty chickens, top two-seated platform spring wagon, good buggy, harness and household goods on a credit of nine months with approved security on all sums over $5. THE NICEST MILLINERY. Miss M. K. Diehl has just returned from New York City, where she selected a stock of the nicest millinery goods. New York styles are always leading styles. So keep step with the times and buy where your millinery will do you the most good. Caught in the Act. Indiana Times:—One day last week Eli Campbell of Latrobe went out hunting. In the woods he met two men with guns. They made inquiries about a good place to find squirrels. Campbell's friends did not get a shot, but Campbell shot three. His companions proved to be detectives, who arrested him and took him to Latrobe, where he was fined $10 for each squirrel killed and $5 cents—$35 in all. He will be pretty careful with whom he hunts game out of season in the future.
