That we live in an age of wender is proved by the bare statement of figures with regard to the immigration from Europe to this country during the present century. Statistics previous to 1820 were not kept, but it is estimated that between 1789 and the last named year the immigration from Europe to the United States did not exceed 250,-

000. In 1820 the Government began a systematic collection of data with regard to immigration, and from that time to the close of 1806 17,844,692 people came from Europe and were welcomed on our shores. These figures do America, to Mexico, Central or South America, but solely to the United States. Chronic Rheumatism

From the Industrial News, Jackson, Mich. The subject of this sketch is fifty-six years of age, and actively engaged in farming. When seventeen years old he hurt his shoulder and a few years after commenced to have rhoumatic pains in it. On taking a slight cold or the least strain, sometimes without any apparent cause whatever, the rouble would start and he would suffer the most exerciciating pains.

He suffered for over thirty years, and the last decade has suffered so much that he was unable to do any work. To this the frequent occurrences of dizzy spells were added, making him almost a helpless invalid.

IN ALL SORTS OF WEATREE.

He tried the best physicians but without being benefited and has used several specific rheumaticeures, but was not helped. About one year and six months ago he read in this paper of a case somewhat similar to his which was cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and concluded to try this remedy.

After taking the first box he felt somewhat better, and after using three boxes, the pains entirely disappeared, the dizziness left him and he has now for over at year been entirely free from all his former trouble and enjoys better health than he has had since his boyhood.

He is loud in his praises of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and will gladly corroborate the above statements. His postofilee address is Lorenzo Neeley, Horton, Jackson County, Michigan.

The Drying Process for Vegetables Among the new and important indus tries which have been developed in California may now be numbered the drying of vegetables. Vegetables, like no tatoes and carrots, are poured into the hopper of the cutting machine, where rotating knife blades cut them up into being sliced the tubers are slightly sulphured in a wooden chamber. Here great discrimination must be used. If they are sulphured too much the potatoes will taste of the fumes: If too little they will not contain enough antiseptic property, and bacteria attracted by the starch will develop. A little sulphuring is absolutely necessary to preserve the color of the vegetables to some extent, and to prevent decay The next transition of the fruit is to the evaporator, a sort of small Ferris wheel, consisting of a brick oven with glass windows. This is revolved close this stage is passed the potatoes resemble dry chips, and it takes 6 or 7 pounds of the fresh to make one pound of the dried. Onious are so pungent that bacteria do not take kindly to them. They are, therefore, only slightly sulphured before drying. The drying process shrivels them so much that it takes twenty parts of fresh onions to make one of the dried. The sight of the tears of the employes whose eyes are smarting from the fumes of the onions under preparation is almost pathetic. Carrots dry in the ratio of one part of dried to nine parts of fresh vegetable. The industry has proved very profitable, as the dried fruit is in demand all over the country, and especially in the mining districts. It is not unlikely that further improvements may soon be made in the drying process. It has been suggested that steam be employ-An American who has recently visit- ed. OLDEST RAILWAY MAN.

He Is a Character and Possesses a Wonderful Memory.

The eldest ratiway man in New Hosavings bank in one of the minor cities of the Middle West on a railroad train gland if not in the country is Waternan Brown, whe, though 80 years eld. yesterday, and we fell to talking about s still employed at Woburn, Mass., as the ever-increasing popularity of the gate tender, having been employed by the Lowell road sixty-six years. He lost an arm in an accident while firing on the road in 1850. He is eccentric and is so renowned as a collector of curiosities that people all over New England send him presents of queer hings. Among the curlosities he has a bit of the first rail laid on the Lewell road in 1834. He has a model of the Stephenson, the first locomotive. and he owns the first engine bell ever made. He has 400 circus tickets in a trunk. They were given to him in the last thirty years and he never used

It was only a few weeks ago that Mr. Brown received a small box containing a solid silver elephant, ar-ranged with a pin to fasten it to his Pardon me, sir, but are you a married lapel. In the box was a note, unmis- man? Baldy Scrodd (the stage driver) tabably written by a woman.
