

B. F. SCHWEIER, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

WHAT WILL THE PRESIDENT DO?

President McKinley, on the 11th day of April, sent a message to Congress, asking for enlarged powers to grapple with the Cuban question.

"Resolved, That the President is hereby authorized and directed to intervene at once to stop the war in Cuba to the end and with the purpose of securing permanent peace and order there and establishing by the free action of the President thereof, a stable and independent government of their own in the island of Cuba; and the President is hereby authorized and empowered to use the land and naval forces of the United States to execute the purpose of this resolution."

On Saturday April 16, The Senate took up the Cuban question, but did not agree with the house. This is what the Senate passed by a vote of 67 yeas to 21 nays.

Resolved, By the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled.

First, That the people of the Island of Cuba are of right ought to be free and independent, and that the government of the United States hereby recognizes the Republic of Cuba as the true and lawful government of that island.

Second, That it is the duty of the United States to demand, and the Government of the United States does hereby demand, that the Government of Spain at once relinquish its authority and government in the Island of Cuba and withdraw its land and naval forces from Cuban waters.

Third, That the President of the United States be, and he hereby is directed and empowered to use the entire land and naval forces of the United States and to call into the actual service of the United States the militia of the several States, to such extent as may be necessary to carry these resolutions into effect.

Fourth, That the United States hereby disclaim any disposition or intention to exercise sovereignty, jurisdiction or control over said island, except for the pacification thereof, and assert its determination when that is accomplished to leave the government and control of the island to its people.

On Monday the 18th, The Senate and House struggled all day to come to an agreement and after a number of joint conferences, agreed at half past 1 o'clock on Tuesday morning, to the second, to the third, and to the fourth resolutions passed by the Senate on Saturday the 16th. So that all of the Senate's resolutions were adopted or concurred in excepting the First resolution and that was made to read: First, That the people of the Island of Cuba of right ought to be free and independent.

That is then the ultimatum of the Senate and the House. They have taken the President at his word. He in his late message declared to congress that he had exhausted all diplomatic efforts to end the trouble, and failed, and asked Congress to empower him to use the army and to enforce a stable of permanent peace on the island of Cuba, Congress has responded, and has given him the power, now what will the President do? Will he take time? or will he simply notify Spain by telegram, and if she does not forthwith declare her purpose to withdraw her army from Cuba, and her navy from Cuban waters, will he put the United States navy and army in motion. In all probability the President will sign the resolutions this Wednesday, April 20, and then will come the tug of war.

The fighting Spaniards, declare that within a month, the Spanish flag will float over Texas, New Orleans, Mobile, Charleston. It is the old story of a boy going through a grave yard whistling to keep up his courage.

When the United States Government wants more troops, it will call on the Governors of the states, and the State Governors will call for volunteers. The national guards of the states, in all probability will be among the first to respond.

A CURFEW ORDINANCE.

Every town has families that allow their children to run as animals do. They are as ill mannered as pigs, and almost as ignorant in every way, and when such a lot of animals get together on a street or pavement in a town in evening or day animal manners and performance may be expected at any time. Such is the case in every town that is not large enough to employ a police force sufficient to keep the animals in decent behavior. So intolerant has become the conduct of the human animals in many towns, that to save the animals from utter depravity, and to protect the decency of the communities it has been deemed best to enact old Curfew laws, that certain people at certain hours must be off the streets of the town.

The town council of Lewistown at its last meeting passed a curfew law. The first section declares that no person under sixteen years of age shall be allowed to be upon the streets after nine o'clock in the evening from March 1, to September 1, and not after eight o'clock from September 1, to March 1, unless accompanied by parents or guardians, or on legitimate errands for their parents, under a penalty of five dollars for each offense, the person so offending until fine is paid. The second section imposes a fine of ten dollars upon parents who fail to comply with the provisions of the first section. The third section empowers the police to make arrests without warrant under this ordinance.

TRAVELER'S TIRESONE.

We had a fashionable wedding at the home of one of our oldest families last Tuesday. George Alley married Katie, the daughter of Col. "Andy" Frew. The wedding was held early in the morning, as the happy couple wished to take a wedding tour over the N. & S. V. Railroad to Newport. The marriage was performed at 6:30 a. m., by Squire Brown. After a sumptuous breakfast of sausage, buckwheat cakes and pancakes, the bridal couple departed in the early train for Newport, returning on the noon train the next day. The bridegroom looked happy and the bride handsome. She is so handsome it is said she can mash potatoes by just looking at them. The next day after the wedding George was in the store, and after sitting behind the stove about two hours, evidently in deep thought, he rose, stretched himself, remarked "Traveler's tirestone!"—Perry county Freeman.

Kipling and DeKoven Unite.

Reginald DeKoven and Sir Arthur Sullivan have both been commissioned by The Ladies Home Journal to give a musical setting to Rudyard Kipling's great "Recessional" poem written for the Queen's Jubilee. DeKoven has finished his setting of the poem as a hymn with chorus and solo, and the composition will be published in its entirety in a forth coming issue of The Ladies' Home Journal.

STREET IDLERS.

The people of Paducah, Ky., have determined to break up street loafing and street rowdiness, with that purpose in view the town council adopted a stringent idlers ordinance and a curfew law, and under such rules and regulations Thursday, March 3, eight negroes and three white men were caught and all whipped and forced to leave the town.

THROUGH THE WAR.

Lewistown Daily News, April 11.—Truth is stranger than fiction. The reminiscences of Thomas Hummel of Valley street, are most interesting. He served in the army of the Union for 3 years. His regiment was the 2nd Pennsylvania Light Infantry, the celebrated "Buck Tail" regiment, the pride of the State. He was in the first and last of the three days fight at Gettysburg. He was close by when Gen. Reynolds was killed and the second day was in the wheat field. There was not a regiment that did more desperate fighting those three days than the "Buck Tail." That regiment went in 500 strong and had only 76 available men left. His company consisted of 67 men, when the roll was called, there remained one lieutenant and seven privates. But the strangest of all—Mr. Hummel was struck four times without receiving a serious wound in that battle. Once the wheat field was cleared by a pack of cards, but by a small wicket hole in his trouser's pocket. At Spotsylvania Court House he was seriously wounded, it was thought mortally but he had too much vitality to succumb.

A WOMAN'S RIGHTS.

Huntingdon Globe, April 14.—Mrs. Collins, widow of the late M. G. Collins, having recently taken possession of the farm of Rev. B. E. Collins heirs in Shirley township, a few days ago gave a practical demonstration of woman's rights, superinduced by the following case belli.

The Saltville Telephone Co., in order to connect Shirley through Hill Valley, planted a pole in front of the Collins mansion. A short distance from the house stands a very pretty pine tree, whose limbs interlocked with the wire. The line men proceeded to trim away some of the limbs, when Mrs. Collins appeared on the scene, and ordered the men to stop. The line men paid no attention to her demands, and kept on trimming, when turning away, she said: "Well, I'll show you that I can do some chopping, too." Going back to the house, she got an axe and a saw, and in less than twenty minutes the telephone pole and wire came down with a crash.
