It looks as if Captain Hertzler's company will get off under the President's new call for 75,000 more volunteers. The company now drills in the cannery building at this place. There are yet a few wanted to bring the company up to the full quota.

Harry Luck and wife of Lewistown spent Sunday in town with their relatives.

The oldest inhabitant never saw as many rain showers as this spring. Of course there have been worse wet spells, as is proven by the thousands of feet of soil and rock that disappeared from the hills and valleys, but that was in the past. What once was may come again.

Huntingdon Globe.—A bolt of lightning struck the steeple of the Lutheran church at Warriorsburg on Monday night and knocked off the top. The current also went through the building and did considerable damage, which is covered by insurance.

The old chair factory is to be changed into a hosiery factory.

A writer on baldness says, if you are getting bald you want to save what hair you have. Onion juice will keep your head from growing bald; pound an onion in a cloth until the cloth is saturated with the juice of the onion, then rub the scalp with the onion juice cloth, see that every part is well moistened; do this three times a week for three months and your baldness will have disappeared.

John Reed of Spruce Hill, died suddenly last Saturday morning aged about 72 years. In the early part of the past winter he was stricken with apoplexy from which he had a most entirely recovered. Last Saturday morning Eaton McDonald left Mr. Reed's place to come to this town about half past eight o'clock.

Mr. Reed was then in his usual health and at the time Mr. McDonald left a half hour after Mr. McDonald had gone Mr. Reed was seriously ill with a severe pain in the region of the heart. He was helped to bed and died shortly after nine o'clock.

The Cuban rebel as a help to the United States troops on the Island is a failure. He has been of account whatever and wherever he was wanted for he has been nothing but a bag of wind. It is hoped that he may do better in the days to come. From present appearance it looks as if the United States will have to do all the fighting pay all the bills and then be asked by the Cubans to make them the beneficiaries.

The rebel Cuban had not the ability and courage to notify our ships of war off the coast of Cuba whether it is a fact that the Spanish fleet occupies the harbor of Santiago.

The Philadelphia Inquirer says, one of the queerest freaks of lightning was exhibited at Carmel. There, an electric bolt struck the house of Mr. Rohm, descended the chimney, ran down to the cellar, then returned to the second story, where it struck a bedstead in which two children were sleeping and ran along the side of the bed, singeing the hair of one of the children.

Then it ran down to the top of the cellar wall and out into the yard, where it killed five ducklings. The children were not injured and no one was hurt, but the house was considerably damaged.

Near Admiral Simpson, was born in Palmyra, Wayne county, New York State February 9, 1849. His father was a wood cutter. The son often helped his father cut wood for people of the neighborhood. The boy was fond of newspapers and books and devoted his evenings to books. A politician of that neighborhood secured him an appointment in the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, from which he graduated. He was in the navy against rebellion. His ship the Patapasco was blown up by a torpedo by the rebels in Charleston harbor. He landed 100 feet away. 75 of his men were killed by the blow up. The next day he was again ready for duty.

David Showers of Turbett town ship, died suddenly on the morning of the 27th of May. He had been troubled with heart ailment and on the evening of the 25th his heart fluttered so, that he drew his wife's attention. She placed her hand over his heart and she could plainly feel its quick flutters and its slow beats by turns. On the 26th, they both visited Mifflintown. The next morning he was waiting while breakfast was being prepared. He was reading a notice of Mr. Motzer's death and drew the attention of his wife to the notice, and while doing so felt the chair on which he sat and expired. He was aged 56 years, 8mos and 22 days. Interment in Church Hill cemetery on Sunday by funeral director Snyder of Mifflintown.

On motion of Comrade A. H. Weidman the secretary was directed to select an executive committee of two comrades from each of the eleven counties in the district. On motion of Comrade Moore the secretary was directed to call a meeting of the executive committee on June 11, at 2 p. m. at the D. H. Wilson Post room Mifflintown, Pa., for the purpose of fixing a time for holding the Reunion arrangement in this town, and such other business as may come before them.

W. H. Rodgers, H. H. Snyder, Secretary. President.

Harry E. Kilgus, a Renova young man, made a daring capture of a cub bear a few days ago while fishing along Fish Dam Run.

Mr. Kilgus, the News says, heard a noise in the brush and upon investigation found two old bears in a small mud hole. He approached nearer to them and saw two young bears. He shouted at the bears and one of them ran up the side hill, but the mother stood upon her hind legs and roared out for the young bears to come, but by this time Mr. Kilgus had captured both of the young ones.

The old bear started for Kilgus, who was holding the one small bear and the old bear started off with her young one and he then made a quick move toward the road with his captive. This is one of the most daring acts that has happened in this vicinity in a number of years and the young man was unarmed and might easily have been killed by the ferocious beast.—Renova News.

A Reedsville, Mifflin county correspondent of the Lewistown Gazette of May 26 says. A band of Gypsies camped near Lewistown, behaved in a criminal way, on 20th inst., four of their number, two stalwart men, an old woman, who professed to be possessed of witchcraft, and a young girl drove up the river to the residence of Edward Sherwood, and finding no male members of the family at home the two dusky men stood at the gate with revolvers, defying the woman of the house to make any resistance, while the old woman and girl ransacked the house from garret to cellar, taking a sack of flour, three loaves of meat, a large loaf of butter, a bag of potatoes, and a lot of eggs, compelling Mr. Sherwood's little son to hunt all the eggs in the barn for them. Now this is the story as the family has since given us, and we think it perfectly unjust, that these lazy beggars should be allowed to go unpunished for such bold thieving.

The pension is a source of pay to the old veteran. The veterans are all old. Some are older than others. But Congress has cut off one of the joyous wings of the widower pensioner. The pension puts the pensioner beyond the probability of want; it provides him with a fixed income which no one enjoyed more than the widower pensioner. He was the object of the smiles and best flashing looks of the girls. Not particularly because the girls were pleased with his manners, or agreeable company but because they had an eye to matrimonial alliance for his pension duets. Should they be able to bag him, they would be glad to attend and comfort him in his old declining days, in exchange for his pension after he had shuffled off this mortal coil. Then they could blossom forth as gay and festive widows with his pension to live on. Congress has despoiled the pensioners of that wing of his pension. It has despoiled him of the joy of courting the girls and marrying a young wife, for Congress has said that the woman who marries a pensioner shall not be entitled to his pension when he dies. The law is to go into effect on the 1st of July 1898. So then if there are any young women who contemplate matrimony with pensioners with the object of securing the pensioner's pension after he dies they must hurry and have it all over before the first of next July. The old pensioners who marry after the 1st of next July will know to a certainty that the women whom they marry has married for other charms than a pension.

Flag Raising at Rockville, in Millford township, on Monday forenoon brought out a large concourse of people. Many people from a distance were present. The arrangements were complete in every detail. Squire George Wilson was president and made the opening address. The flag was raised amidst song and shout. Wilberforce Schweyer, John J. Patterson, Jr., and J. Howard Neely each delivered an address, appropriate to the occasion. It was a grand occasion full of the poetry of life, a day of life giving sunshine and air, music, speeches, a holiday in honor of old glory, the banner of success of the fathers and the banner of glorious national achievement born aloft now by the sons of America in the tented field against the common enemy.

FLAG RAISING.

The largest assembly of people collected in many years was present in and around the Court House Square at 5 p. m., on Monday to witness the decoration of the soldiers monument and to witness the raising of the stars and stripes. Sunday school children and veterans formed an attractive procession that marched to the cemetery of the town.

The band led the procession, a distinguished feature of the procession was six young ladies from Fort Royal clad in the colors of the stars and stripes. They were the six who carried the flag in the procession at the flag raising at Fort Royal in the morning of the same day. They were captured in the line of march by Captain Snyder. When the procession filed into the Court House Square thousands of people were there. The monument was decorated. The flag was brought forth by Court House janitor, Stuts, Commissioners, Puffenberger, Rhine-smith, and Londenlager and their clerks, Rhine supervised the arrangements, and when all things were ready, John Pannebaker and William Wise pulled the flag aloft to the top of the pole 75 feet from the ground. A stiff breeze was blowing from the north west. The sun was shining and the national emblem never shined to a better advantage. It rolled out its folds and disported itself from the top of the staff as if a thing of life, in the height of enjoyment over the demonstration in its honor. The flag is 25 feet long and 15 feet wide. When it was drawn to its place the audience sang the Star Spangled Banner. The singing was led by music director Samuel Rolman. General William Bell a veteran of the late war was president of the meeting. Rev. Mr. Mortimer, eloquently invoked the Divine blessing. Wilberforce Schweyer, Dr. W. H. Rodgers and J. Howard Neely each delivered an eloquent and patriotic address. It will be a long time before three such able and well said speeches will follow each other in succession, on one and the same occasion in Court House Square.

OAKLAND HILLS. May 30, 1898. Mrs. A. C. McMoon is spending some time at Pittsburg at the home of her parents.

Mrs. C. W. Benner of Montgomery county, who was visiting relatives and friends in Slim Valley, the past several weeks left for her home in Montgomery county on Monday.

Mr. William Keller, of Newport, made a flying trip on his wheel to this county.

Roy Reynolds and Samuel Shelby, of McAdamsville, volunteer guards, passed the rigid examination necessary to enlist in the regular army service and left last week for Harrisburg, thence to Washington, thence to Mobile.

Joseph Steber and wife, H. J. Shellerberger, Mrs. Banks Bashour and Mr. Lucien O'Neal were in Mifflin county recently.

Miss Olive and Nettie Anker, made a flying trip to Mifflintown on Friday.

Enlisting to fill the President's new call for 75,000 soldiers goes regularly on in all the large towns. Many of the smaller towns are all excitement with the enlistment fever. Almost all are impatient and want the war hurried, and all the towns have scores of men who believe they could settle the Spanish war in a short campaign. The number of wind soldiers is large.

When the new levy of seventy-five thousand troops have been mustered the consignment of the Spaniards should become more formidable than they have been. One hundred thousand troops will be sent to Cuba, thirty-five thousand to the Philippine Islands, twenty-five thousand to Porto Rico, one hundred and eighteen thousand will be held at home as a reserve force. Spain is said to have made a forced purchase of all the Spanish ships that carry above a thousand tons. The ships are to be converted into war vessels.

The war is not over. The President, on the 25th of May, called for another installment of volunteers. He wants 75,000 more soldier boys, which will require 6,500 from Pennsylvania. The 10th regiment, Pennsylvania volunteers, on their way to reinforce Dewey arrived at San Francisco on the 25th of May. The city was bedecked with flags, bunting and flowers. The people cheered. It was a grand ovation, an outburst of the poetry of war. The regiment is now on the deep blue sea sailing in the direction of the Philippine Islands. The first pension issued in this war for humanity's sake was issued on the 25th of May by pension agent Jonathan Merriam, of Chicago, for Mrs. Elsie A. Montfort, of Council Bluffs, Iowa, mother of Seaman William Montfort, who was blown up with the Maine in Havana harbor, February 15, 1898. The brave soldier, who wants bath tub in every regiment, is reminded of the fact that the military chieftain Napoleon, in more than one campaign wore his boots eight days without once removing them.

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy CURES ALL KIDNEY, STOMACH AND LIVER TROUBLES.

A Word of Warning

The trouble with thousands of women is not "female weakness," although many physicians suppose it is. The real trouble lies in the Kidneys, Liver and Bladder. Ladies can take Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy with perfect assurance of relief. It will cure them of Kidney, Liver and Bladder disorders just as certainly as it cures men. Mrs. G. W. Davenport, of West Troy, N. Y., says: "I was troubled with my Kidneys, and suffered intense pain in my back and loins. The wife of Dr. Robinson, pastor of the First Avenue Methodist Church, recommended Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. I got some, and have used it ever since, with the result that I am greatly benefited. All pains have left me, and I am like another person."

Infests the blood of humanity. It appears in varied forms, but is forced to yield to Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies and vitalizes the blood and cures all such diseases. Read this: "In September, 1894, I made a mistake and injured my ankle. Very soon afterwards, two inches across formed and in walking to favor it I sprained my ankle. The sore became worse; I could not put my boot on and I thought I should have to give up at every step. I could not get any relief and had to stop work. I read of a cure of a similar case by Hood's Sarsaparilla and concluded to try it. Before I had taken all of two bottles the sore had healed and the swelling had gone down. My

is now well and I have been greatly benefited otherwise. I have increased in weight and am in better health. I cannot say enough in praise of Hood's Sarsaparilla." Mrs. H. BLAKE, So. Berwick, Me. This and other similar cures prove that
