

STATE TICKET.

For Governor—Colonel William A. Stone, of Allegheny.
For Lieutenant Governor—Gen. J. P. S. Gobin, of Lebanon.
For Secretary of Internal Affairs—General James W. Latta, of Philadelphia.
For Judge of the Superior Court—William Porter, of Philadelphia.
For Congressman at Large—Galusha A. Grou, of Susquehanna, and S. A. Davenport, of Erie.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY TICKET.

Congress.
THAD M. MAHON, of Franklin county.
Legislature.
E. G. SHAEFFER
Surveyor.
A. B. EVANS,
Coroner.
H. F. WILLARD.

SHORT LOCALS

He rose to depart as the clock sounded eight. And, getting his hat and cane. His wife sweetly murmured: "Now, don't stay out late, Dear Charlie, 'Remember the Maine!'"
With that somewhat startling injunction in view, He was back home at ten with his hat on.

Dr. Tom Patterson is home from graduation in Philadelphia.
Liverpool, Perry county, is to have a 4th of July celebration.
The horses at the Wilson sale last Friday sold for $69 17, average.

The wheat harvest will be on next week, in certain localities.
—Property for sale—For terms, apply to Mrs. Dunn, Front St.
The commencement days in most schools are over for this year.

J. M. McDonald has constructed a merry-go-round in his yard for his children.
—Great reductions in the prices of all military goods at Mrs. Diehl's Front Street.

Miss Emma Hayes will deliver a lecture in the Presbyterian church next Sabbath evening. Subject—Japan.
William McCormick, died at Harrisburg, last Friday, aged about 68 years. Interment at Port Royal on Saturday.

Princeton University, N. Y., conferred the degree of Doctor of Laws upon Rear Admiral Dewey, on the 15th of June.
The oats sets thickly on the ground, and with a sufficient quantity of moisture will produce a large crop.

WANTED—Three pigs that weigh 60 pounds each; for particulars address SENTINEL AND REPUBLICAN.
Julius Jacoby, one of Merchant Schoff's clerks, has by action of court become a citizen of the United States.
Judge Lanberd, of the Seinsgrove Taberna, spent Sunday in town with the family of his daughter, Mrs. Frank Boussem.

A great clock to winding, no repairing; will run till time is no more. For particulars call on Thomas McClellan.
Miss Margaret Pomeroy, and Miss Helen Miller, of Norristown, Pa., have been visiting Mrs. T. V. Irvine, within the past week.

Mark McMeen, son of Robert McMeen, Esq., is home from the Philadelphia school that he has been attending the past year.
Big carp and snake stories are not numerous this summer, the war, probably, has absorbed the attention of people from snakes and carp.

Teddy—What's the use of being patriotic?
His Mother—Why, Teddy!
Teddy—Yes'm. Billy Brown said he was Spanish to-day an' I fought him an' got licked.

Frank Murray, of Washington, D. C., is visiting in this place.
E. G. Burchfield and Harry Martin are at home from Princeton College.

Ezra Fustick accidentally stepped on the prong of a garden rake, with serious results the other day, the prong passed through the sole of his shoe, and nearly through the foot.
After the capture of Santiago Cuba an enterprising gatherer of old iron can make a fortune in gathering what the American ships of war dropped ground that town and its vicinity.

FESTIVAL.—An open air festival will be held under the electric light in front of the Methodist church, Saturday evening, June 25th, by the stewards and ladies of the church. All are invited.
Every town, has people, who devote their spare minutes to watching their neighbors and talking about them. In the very same town, there is another set, who are watching the gossip, and between the two there is all the time more or less fun on the fly.

The executive committee of the Juniata Valley Veterans Association met at Post 134, G. A. R. headquarters, and fixed October 11th to 14th, 1898, as the time for holding the encampment here. Bedford, Blair, Centre, Fulton, Huntingdon, Mifflin, Northumberland, Perry, Snyder, and Union Counts papers please copy.
The Democratic primary election on Saturday resulted in the nomination of Dr. A. J. Fisher, of McAllesterville, for Assembly, and G. B. M. Wiseman, of Port Royal, for County Chairman; they being the only candidates for nomination. In a few of the townships a contest for re- turn Judge was indulged in. The county convention nominated Robert McMeen for Congress.

A curious discovery has been made in the archives of the Spanish navy—the bills of payment of the crews who composed the caravels of Christopher Columbus. The sailors, according to their claims, received from $2 to $3 per month, including their food. The had each 80 frames a month. As for Columbus himself, who had the title of Admiral, he was paid a little over three hundred dollars a year.

John R. Kauffman, aged 64 years, 3 months, and 21 days, died on his farm in Walker township on the 14th inst. of a complication of diseases. It is only a few weeks since his wife preceded him to the better world, having died after a brief illness of pneumonia. Mr. Kauffman was a good citizen, and an upright man. His father before him was a good man, and lived and owned property in Walker township, and his grandfather, Jacob Kauffman, settled in this valley more than one hundred years ago. In 1795, he became the owner of the farm owned now by Mr. Joseph Rothrock, and in addition to that honest farm owned other valuable farms. The funeral of John R. Kauffman took place on Friday June 17. Interment in the Specter cemetery not far from his farm, at the intersection of roads, by the Adams and Siler farms, in Walker township. His brothers were Philip, married to Miss Stover, and died there; Jonathan, married to Miss Giehrig, moved to Mifflin county, and died there; Jonathan, married to Miss Gies, they live in Walker township. His sisters, Mary, married to Henry Kauffman of Mifflin township, both deceased; Annie, married to William Check, both living in Walker township; Katie, married to George D. Stover, they lived in Walker township, both deceased; Sarah, married to Chad Guss, of Mifflin township, both deceased, and she is still surviving. John R. Kauffman, in his young manhood was married to Miss Sarah Keeney, of Liberty Valley, Perry county. Their children are, Albert Kauffman, who lives a half mile from the home of his father in Walker township; U. S. Great Kauffman, lives in Mifflin town; Mrs. Robert Snyder, and Theodore, unmarried, and at home on the homestead.

OAKLAND MILLS.

June 19th, 1898.
Rumor says that a certain lady living at Mt. Pleasant, in Waller township, expected a fortune of one hundred thousand dollars.
Charles Kepler, Mable Shellenberger, Clinton Shiff, and lady friend Miss Mary Page, attended the young people's meeting at Lost Creek, on Sunday evening.
Sharon Pollock is the happiest man, on account of his wife presenting him with a baby last week.
Some of our farmers are making hay.
Miss Olive and Nettie Au'er visited at the home of their parents at Evendale, on Thursday.
Samuel Shelly and sister Pearl, visited at T. K. Heckman's on Sunday.
John Musser, John Heckman, C. A. Musser and S. S. Musser, all attended the festival at Brownstown on Saturday evening.

Andrew Rhoads, one of our patriotic young men, went to Harrisburg to enlist in the U. S. Navy, but was rejected on account of his height.
Our new Supervisor must not come and try to make the farmer rush their teams. He can ride a mule to water but he cannot make him drink.
J. M. Musser sold a heavy draft horse to J. B. Carwell, of Thompsonstown.
Ezra C. Doty purchased a new mower and put it to work in the field on Saturday.
Fannie Musser, of Mt. Pleasant, circulated among relatives and friends last week.

ACADEMY COMMENCEMENT CLASS OF 1898.

The commencement exercises of the Mifflin Academy, on Friday evening June 17, were highly interesting. The building was crowded to its utmost capacity. Professor Dysoner was full of regret that the room was too small to admit all his friends, on the interesting occasion. In recognition of the important historical events now taking place between the United States and Spain the colors of the decorations were red, white and blue, and two large American flags screened the Mifflin orchestra from sight and broke the force of the musicians notes and produced a softer music. The chairs in the room were decorated with red, white and blue ribbons. Miss Marjorie Patterson, Miss Annie C. Campbell, Miss Marjorie Bickelbaugh, Miss Lulu Kelly, Mr. C. A. Guss, Mr. D. B. Meist, Mr. Charles F. Goodale, Mr. F. D. Gross, Mr. D. M. Nipple, were the ushers, and seated the audience without confusion. The invocation was given by Rev. A. N. Raven, Ph. B. The manner and expression of the class indicated satisfactory Academic training, and demonstrated that each and every one had made good use of their time and opportunity as students, and that they now are so well up in text book training, that progress may be made easier, in professional or business career, if they choose business or profession for the work of their every day life, and if they do not choose business or professional work, the Academic training they received will serve them well in any position to which their names did not indicate that they know all the world, all that is in it and more too, but rather showed that they had been so thoroughly trained that they understood that there is no end to education, that it is like the universe which once entered upon grows larger as one advances, and that which is left behind is the least of it all. Professor Dysoner has not fallen in with the new notion of some Academic teachers, that instead of an essay or oration by each member of the graduating class, there shall be a speech or oration or essay, by some one outside of the school circle. He believes that each member of the graduating class should prepare an essay or oration for the public exercises of graduation day. The platform exercises and the crowing glory of a school career, and to take that away from a class and center it in some man or woman who has been out of the school many days, and perhaps many years, is taking an experience from the class that they are all the better for having, and taking the glory of the closing hours of school life and giving it to a single individual who perhaps has no more interest in the matter than a glorification of himself. When each member of a graduating class is a participant in the rostrum exercises of the graduating hours, parents and friends of the graduates have a hearier interest in the welfare of the school and all that pertains to its advancement. It was the orations of the graduating class that made the platform exercises so interesting to this community. The graduates on this occasion were, Miss A. Myrtle Haubert, oration, "Words," Miss W. Rice, followed with an oration, "Reason Rules the World," William J. Wright was fourth on the program, oration, "Does Education pay?" Miss J. Vera Graybill closed the class orations in fine style, with an oration, "Silence." The presentation of diplomas were by Professor Dysoner, principal of the school. Notwithstanding the misfortune of the fire that destroyed the west wing of the Academy building the school has flourished, and steps have already been taken to restore the building to its former condition. By next fall a new and better building will grace the place made bare by the fire and Professor Dysoner will open with a larger school than the large one's success fully closed on the 17 of June, 1898. Many of the largest schools in the United States have developed from less promising Academic academies than the Mifflin Academy.

Table showing vote counts for various districts.

Isaac Row's team of valuable gray horses got the pigeon wing down in Walker township some days ago. They were working on the road near Cyrus Sieber's, Mrs. Isaac Row had driven past in a one horse wagon and tied her beast to a post at the turn in the road a quarter of a mile ahead. Mr. Row, Isaac's father, was holding the grays when they scared, knocked him down and ran the wagon over him. Away they went like the wind, when they came to where Mrs. Isaac Row's wagon had stopped they could not make the turn in the road but ran into it, the tongue of their wagon striking the hind end of her wagon. The contact broke the tongue into pieces and threw the team with their feet toward each other and so paralyzed them that they were captured there. Mrs. Row's horse and wagon was knocked against the hitching post and that broke off at the ground like a pipe stem but did not stop the horse and wagon, they went on against a post fence, broke down a panel and brought up in the field 20 feet away. The horses were not hurt.

REduced RATES TO TRENTON, N. J., VIA PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD, ACCOUNT PARADE, AN- CIENT ORDER OF HIBERNI- ANS.
For the benefit of persons desiring to witness the parade incident to the National Convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, at Trenton, N. J., Wednesday, June 29, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell special excursion tickets from New York, York, Lancaster, Catawissa, Lewistown Junction, Hanover, Washington, Baltimore, and intermediate stations, including all stations in the State of New Jersey, to Trenton and return, at rate of single fare for the round trip, minimum rate twenty-five cents. These tickets will be good going and returning on June 29th only.

Advertisement for Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, curing kidney, stomach, and liver troubles. Includes text about its efficacy and availability.

Some Pointed Questions

Advertisement for Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, featuring an illustration of a man and text describing its benefits for various ailments like kidney disease and general weakness.

Table showing vote counts for various districts, including names of candidates and their respective votes.

Large advertisement for SCHOTT'S STORES, located at 103 to 109 Bridge Street, Mifflintown, PA.

Advertisement for D. W. HARLEY, featuring text about clothing and a large illustration of a man.

Advertisement for HOLLOBAUGH & SON, AHEAD OF ALL COMPETITORS, featuring text about their spring line of men's, boys' and children's clothing.

Advertisement for McCLINTIC'S HARDWARE and House-Furnishing STORE, featuring text about their store's products and location at 116 MAIN STREET, PATTERSON, PENNA.

Advertisement for McCLINTIC'S HARDWARE and House-Furnishing STORE, featuring an illustration of a sewing machine and text about their products.

Advertisement for THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK, featuring text about their services and location in Mifflintown, PA.

Advertisement for Hood's Sarsaparilla, featuring text about its benefits for various ailments and an illustration of the product.

Advertisement for D. W. HARLEY, featuring text about clothing and a large illustration of a man.