ADMIRAL SIMPSON'S father was an Irish blacksmith.

DEWEY is said to be as modest as a woman. So was Grant.

SPAIN does not want her troops in Cuba sent home. She does not want the new converts to Americanism to come home and indoctrinate the people of Spain with the belief and faith in American institutions.

GEOLOGISTS are trying to locate the matrix of the diamond, in the countries where diamonds are found.

SOME one writes to us and asks, "Who do you believe is the greatest man that ever lived?" Answer, Moses.

AS SOON as the minutes, or draft, for the consideration of the peace commission, was signed, last Friday, at the White House, in Washington, D. C., despatches were sent to all American commanders of fleets and armies to cease hostilities.

THE laying of the corner stone of the new Capitol at Harrisburg, on the 16th inst., would have made a great day in the annals of Harrisburg had it not been for the frequent intervals on that day.

HON. A. K. McTear, was the orator of the occasion, and in a masterly manner reviewed the phenomenal progress and development of the Commonwealth.

THE North American of August 6th publishes the opinion of Major General S. B. M. Young, of Pennsylvania, who commanded the Second Brigade under General Wheeler, from Santiago.

"No more than the savages of Africa," was the reply. "The average Cuban is a very low order of mankind. He is a mixture of Spanish, Indian, Italian and negro, and he has the bad qualities of all. No," continued the General, with much gravity, "the United States cannot afford to turn the island of Cuba into a military base."

"Do you believe the Cubans are capable of self-government?" the General was asked.

"Not at all," was General Young's prompt response. "I believe the Spaniards should get only the driest bit of Cuba, but off the Western Hemisphere. The cause for which we are fighting is all right, but we should never turn that island of Cuba over to a lot of degenerates, who are incapable of self-government. The so-called Cuban Junta which has been organized in New York, is largely responsible for the devilry that has been going on in Cuba for the past three or four years. Somebody ought to take the members of the Junta down to the dock in New York, tie stones around their necks and drop them overboard."

"When asked what the average American soldier thinks of the Cubans, General Young said that as far as his observations and gone they didn't think any more of them than he did."

"A little incident happened during the landing of marines at Guantanamo which shows how little regard the average American soldier has for the Cubans or their flag. When the marines reached the blackhouse from which the Spaniards retreated after a pretty lively skirmish in which several Americans were killed and wounded, they found floating over the building a Cuban flag. The marines immediately promptly tore down the Cuban colors and ran up the American flag. You see," continued the General, "the average American soldier cares very little, if any more, for the Cuban flag than he does for the saffron colors of Spain."

"When asked how the volunteers conducted themselves during the battles near Santiago, General Young said the results is that when they got into an engagement with the enemy they immediately raised the American flag. The flag was hoisted and the fighting raged to the front and display their bravery. It is different with regulars. They are so well disciplined that they only go where they are ordered to go. If they are down and await further orders, they do so, if they are all killed the next minute."

THE WAR IS OVER.

The war with Spain is over for the time being. There has never been a war to equal it for defeat on one side and victory on the other side.

The United States won every battle so overwhelmingly that the Spanish had little left to rally around after each fight, and their fleet at Manila and Santiago was completely annihilated.

The war may be said to have begun on the 20th of April, when the Washington government proposed to intervene in Cuban affairs, and may be said to have closed last Friday, August 12, at 23 minutes past 4 o'clock in the afternoon, when the papers containing the points prepared as the basis of the treaty were signed at Washington, by President McKinley's Secretary of State, William R. Day, and M. Cambon, for Spain.

The proposed basis for a treaty of peace has a peaceful look all the way through except the 3rd provision, in regard to the disposition of the Philippines. The American people will not be satisfied with only the occupancy of the city, bay and harbor of Manila.

The United States should have the group of Philippine Islands owned by Spain, only a partial or partnership ownership they look upon as a boon for future contention and war with Spain or some other European power now extending its interests in that side of the globe.

Such is the view of intelligent people of the United States who have given attention to the subject. It is hoped that this breathing spell in the fight may end in a permanent peace between Spain and the United States.

There will be peace at least till November for the ten peace commissioners do not meet till in October.

The following six points constitute the paper that was signed at Washington last Friday by the high national contracting parties.

1. Spain will relinquish all claim of sovereignty over and title to Cuba.

2. Porto Rico and other Spanish Islands in the West Indies and an island in the Ladrones, to be selected by the United States, shall be ceded to the latter.

3. The United States will occupy and hold the city, bay and harbor of Manila, pending the conclusion of a treaty of peace which shall determine the control, disposition and government of the Philippines.

4. Cuba, Porto Rico and other Spanish Islands in the West Indies shall be immediately evacuated and that commissions, to be appointed within ten days, shall, within thirty days from the signing of the protocol, meet at Havana and San Juan, respectively, to arrange and execute the details of the evacuation.

5. The United States and Spain will each appoint not more than five commissioners to negotiate and conclude a treaty of peace.

6. On the signing of the protocol, hostilities will be suspended and notice to that effect will be given as soon as possible by each government to the commanders of its military and naval forces.

Brief despatches from China, state, Dewey demanded the surrender of Manila, which was refused, the city was then bombarded and taken by storm, on the 13th of August, one day after peace papers were signed. The Spanish Governor fled to a German ship.

PANTOMIME FLAG RAISING. In the stillness of Saturday night, when the county authority was scattered and in their respective homes; when the clerk of the board of County Commissioners was away in his home in Tuscarora Valley, and when the janitor of the Court House, and county grounds, was with his family sleeping the sleep of the righteous, and when almost all the people were in the arms of slumber, some human owls enjoyed themselves with a pantomime flag raising on the Court House grounds, using the county flag pole on which to display their burlesque flag. It is imagined the procession moved as silently as ghosts. Their band went through the motion of tooting music but made no music. The band major doubled himself all over and turned a summerset and stood on his head on the knob of his staff, while the dirty rag of a flag, about three feet by six feet, that was so thinly woven that it would not have made a good mosquito bar for the soldiers at Santiago was unrolled, and in silence fastened where the stars and stripes are wont to be fastened and pulled to the top of the splendid pole in the Court House yard. The sports at the work quietly laughed and grinned from ear to ear, and silently swung their hats as if in cheer, and the band again went through the silent motion of music tooting, and the drum major fell off the head of his staff on his back. They were ready for the peep making. They were so wicked that no pantomime preacher could be found to invoke the Divine favor. The captain of the band silently introduced the speaker, who proceeded to talk to the pantomimes in sign language, which a reporter in sign language reports as follows:

"I have no introduction for this subject, but jump into the middle of it at once, and say fraternally to you all, that every one of you feels the meanness of this burlesque, but it is befitting your real estate in society, for truly, if you had justice meted out to you, the penitentiary would be your abiding home. It is very plainly to be seen that you are in the hands of the hangman's noose, and all that you have to do is to keep on in this crooked road and you'll get there. If Rhine or Stutts could catch you, they'd pull you into Court, and Judge Lyons would sentence you to a term at checker playing with your nose in the window bars of Canby Street. You think to excuse yourself, but I have no patent sack at the head of the flag pole, and the flag should be floating. That's two thin an excuse Fellow Toughs—This is a glorious occasion, the war is over, and the saddest part is we did not go out to win a pension at the expense of the business of the country. If the flag that we unfurl to-night is not the stars and stripes it will appear as the emblem of the Protocol of peace. That glorious Protocol that we have flung to the winds, may I say, long enough to get some human and stable notions of honesty and decency knocked into your thick plates. They will no longer need the stars and stripes on that magnificent pole, for the war is over, and we'll pocket all we took from Spain and wish for more. That's what I call true patriotism. What's the use of having a pole if you don't put a flag on it? See how grandly our dirty rag floats. I rejoice with you over the glorious success of this movement, though we had to do it at the time of day when grave yards yaw, and you steal chickens, and any other thing you can lay your hands on, it shows your inborn aptitude for meanness and devilry. Satan is our friend and he'll stand by us to the end, and eventually we'll get a split. Take my advice and reform, and never do a mean thing like this again. I feel, myself, so mean and small for being here that I could crawl through a gimlet hole. In conclusion fellow toughs, permit me to thank you for the attention you have given me. We rejoice that the war is over, killing people under the mask of religion, to a higher plain of civilization, our rag is respectable than raising that rag on the pole in front of us. Shooting people in the name of humanity and stable government is a bigger fraud than you fellows, and stealing Cuba, Porto Rico, and the Philippine Islands in the name of advancing a higher and better civilization is meaner than our performance around this pole. This is a demonstration of what we will have to be quiet. To pull up a dirty thing like that on an American flag pole is as mean as pulling down the American flag for which General Dix said a man ought to be shot. No, dear fellow toughs, you will all have to slip to your abiding place ashamed of placing that rag on the pole in front of us. The band silently went through the tooting motion and all silently marched away and the pantomime flag raising was over and the rag was in triumph all day Sunday, and Sunday night and was on Monday taken down about half past 10 o'clock a. m., by Janitor Stutta.

FLAG RAISING AT CUBA. The flag raising at Cuba, on Saturday evening was attended by a large concourse of people. The Mifflintown band was there and dispensed its loveliest music. The meeting was presided over by Professor Gorner. Rev. Mr. Fahs, Judge Lyons and Hon. Jeremiah Keller, made patriotic speeches.
