For a kiss and a comforting word. He was full of the dreams and ambit That youth is so ready to weave, And proud of the clank of his sabre And the chevrons of gold on his slee

He came from the war in the evening-The meadows were sprinkled with

The drums and the bugles were silent, And the steps of the soldiers were slow. He was wrapped in the flag of his country When they laid him away in the mold, With the glittering stars of a captain

With the heroes who sleep on the hillside He lies with a flag at his head, But, blind with the years of her weeping His mother yet mourns for her dead. The soldiers who fall in the battle May feel but a moment of pain, But the women who wait in the home steads Must dwell with the ghosts of the slain.

SIR BRIAN'S FANCY.

T was a boy who awoke her. He rushed into the room and shouted at her in the abrupt manner common to small brothers: "Molly, what do you think? Sir Brian urday." "You're joking."

"No-honor bright!" "We'll go and look at him through the window, Bobby."

frock, made long, and go down to dinner, because the Baronet saw you in church last Sunday and told father you were very pretty. What are you getting

"Did he really say he thought I was pretty?" said the girl in a tone of breathless delight. "O, Bobby!" For several months past Molly had been agitating to have her dresses lengthened, but as there were six girls, and she was only the fourth, her mother had firmly refused to allow her to become grown up till some of her sisters were disposed of by marriage.

Nature had not intended Mrs. Thorne for a worldly woman, but necessity was fast making her one. As the mother of nine children and the wife of a that a boy might find to do here, for struggling doctor she often found it difficult to make both ends meet. Molly donned her gown on the important Saturday, and was escorted to the door by her faithful ally, Bob. She stopped short on the mat. "He has come," she whispered. shall never be able to go in."

'Nonsense!" said the boy, vallantly. But Molly recused to make an entry, till her brotker, whose patience was soon exhausted, softly turned the handle and gave her a gentle push, which had the effect of lurching her into the middle of the room in a most undignified way.

Her face flamed scarlet, she could feel all eyes fixed upon her in the greatest astonishment, then her mother's voice, faintly reproachful, said: "Sir Brian, this is my daughter, Mar-

Perhaps the Baronet saw that the next morning in the vilage street he turned and walked beside her. solecisms, and it was astonishing how easy she found it to talk to this goodlooking young fellow with the kindly

The Thornes saw a great deal of Sir Brian after that. Almost every day he found some excuse to call, and the girl grew to look forward to his coming. and to feel absurdly disappointed if he failed to put in an appearance.

"He must care for the child, else why is he here so often?" Mrs. Thorne said in confidence to her husband. "My dear," he answered, "I shouldn't build too much on it if I were you. It's too good to be true." But Molly was allowed to go to the dance given by Lady Conyers. Brian met them at the head of the stairs on the eventful evening, and introduced them to his aunt. The night passed all too quickly, and it was already late when, feeling rather tired, she seated herself beside her mother. "Ready to go home, dear?" Mrs.

Thorne inquired. "After this next dance, mother," she said, looking at the Baronet's illegible scrawl on her program. Suddenly Lady Convers' voice in conversation with some one became audible from the other side of a clump of "Preposterous, my dear Mrs. Craig." she said. "Brian is engaged-at least he will be when we return to town shortly-to Lucie Maddox, He's simply amusing himself, as usual. He is such a dreadful flirt."

Mrs. Thorne turned to the girl. She had whitened to the lips; her brow was burning, her hands were icy cold. "O, mother!" she murmured, "take me home,"

"Molly, what have I done?" "Hush!" she cried. "You have no right to call me that!"

"Then give me the right; there is nothing I desire more." "How dare you tell me so when you are engaged to another woman? Let me pass, sir, at once!" "Not till you have explained your words. Another woman? What on earth do you mean?"

"You pretend you don't know," she cried. bar childish voice trembling with indiguation, "and I heard your aunt my last night that you were going to an took her departure. At night the marry Miss Maddox." "My aunt must have been temportrily forgetful of the fact that her pet | wards she returned to the shop, and fream was not a reality when she said: made such a ridiculous assertion. You believe me, don't you?" Apparently she did, for half an hour with happiness, and a ring was flashing on her left hand. Bobby's lack of surprise at the news was explained during the day by a piece of advice he gave them, which, although it proved useful in the future, sovered the girl with confusion and sent Brian into fits of laughter. "I say, Molly," the boy said gravely, "I shouldn't make love in the orchard f I were you, because any one can see you from the schoolroom window."-Chicago Tribune.

Man's Smallest Bone. The smallest bone in the human body is situated within the drum of the ear. In union there is strength, but the unknown husband of a prominent woman doesn't believe it equally distrib-

OUR BOYS AND GIRLS

THIS IS THEIR DEPARTMENT OF THE PAPER.

Quaint Sayings and Cute Deings of the Little Folks Everywhere, Gathered and Printed Here for All Other Lib tle Ones to Read.

The Village Express.

Oh, what is this noise and clatter—
This racket outside on the street? hear the rush of a wagon, The running of two little feet.

ind above all a gay voice shouting-It's a voice that I love, I confess Look out, look out, I am coming;

"I shall, but you're to have a new And then round the corner comes bump

A wheelbarrow pushed by a boy, Who cries, as he dashes onward—

His face is all heated and dirty, As to looks he is not a success, But what fun he has when he's playing That he is the village express!

Queer Boys of Zululand. At the same time that our boys are started for the school, often feeling very much injured because the day bright and they would rather play foot-ball, the Zulu boy, without any breakfast, is sent out into his father's field, where the crops are growing. The work assigned to him there doe not in the least resemble any chores it consists in chasing away the monkeys and baboons which come out of the forest and prowl about with designs on the ripening pumpkins and other fruits. This is lively work, for monkeys are notably quick in their movements, and unless the youngsters are on the alert the monkeys pounce upon their booty and carry it away nder the boys' noses.

At other times of the year it is no the baboons but the birds that must be kept from the ripening grain. After a morning of such lively exercise the hove are ravenous for their noon meal the first food that is given them during the day, for they only eat twice in twenty-four hours and not so much as an afternoon tea between times.

The whole aim of a Zulu boy's training is to make him a dauntless and victorious warrior. This being the case, girl was unaccustomed to society and pitted her. He rarely spoke to her during the evening, although his eyes rest-follows: One of their number ascends But when they met by chance the a small hill while the others, with their sticks in their hands, range themselves in a row down the side. The lad at the top then throws past the boys with all She was not so shy now that no his force the huge, soft bulb of a large watchful eyes were there to note her African lily. This bulb is a foot in diameter, and as it goes by the first boy he flings his stick at it. If he fails to pierce it the next boy, quick as lightning, throws, too, and if he fails, the next one tries it, and so on until one of them sends his stick into the heart of the bulb, and as a reward he is allowed to go higher in the line, displacing the boy above him. Though they consider it a great hardship to be obliged to chase the birds from their father's crops, the boys will pursue them from bush to bush and from tree to tree, until they actually tire their game out, when they knock the birds on the head and kill them. If a Zulu boy were told to put salt on a bird's tail he would not find it such a very difficult feat. When the young Zulu has become tired or heated from other sports be runs to the nearest river, into which he dives. It is not necessary for him to stop to take off his clothes, because he never wears any, and at such a time he must find it very convenient. Zulu boys have been in the water so much from their very infancy that they seem almost as much at home in it as the fish themselves. Many of their strokes in swimming differ greatly from ours, and they are able to make headway against the swiftest and strongest river currents. This is very necessary, because the South African rivers all flow swiftly and there are

They are especially proud of the length of time that they are able to remain underneath the water, and they learn to swim with the shoulders, They do not use their arms at all, but simply call into play the powerful muscles of their little backs.-Chicago Inter Ocean.

few opportunities for still-water bath-

Cured the Cough. A Devonshire woman of mature age vent into a chemist's shop and said to the assistant: "I've got a cruel bad cough, surely. I've heerd that the bronchial troches are good things. Hav'ee got any?" The assistant pointed to a small box on the table, and said:

"Yes, there they are." "How much is it?" was the inquiry. The price was paid, and the old womassistant missed a box of glycerine soap (three cakes). A couple of days after-

"I want'ee to take back two of them things I had t'other day. I took one of 'em. It was mortal hard to swallow. ater they walked in together, radiant but it cured the cough."-Spare Moments.

> More than He Could Stand. "They tell me that Drinkhorn has

"I guess he has for awhile. The last time he had 'em he saw nothing but Spaniards."-Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Rip-Up Explained. "Gee! What's the matter here? Are you preparing to move?" "Oh, no; our little boy has been hav ns a birthday party."

End of His Labors. "Hampsley worked hard for three ears trying to get a public office."
"Indeed? What's he doing now?" "Not a thing."

"Why, how can be afford that?" "He got the office."

"LUCKY" BALDWIN.

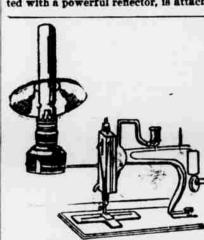

Ves Once Worth Millions, but Is Now "Lucky" Baldwin is no longer lucky He can't raise ready cash. He has plenty of real estate—whole square utles of as fine land as exists any where, but nobody wants to buy, and so he remains poor. At one time, what with his mines, his ranches and other interests, he was worth $30,000,000. That was long ago, but even twelve or thirteen years ago he was very rich and tate in the San Gabriel Valley, near Los Angeles. Along in 1894 it became known that Mr. Baldwin was in need of money, and presently he began to sell pieces here and there of his grand I was so weak I could not do anyestates in California. "Lucky" was not | thing. living up to his name. To-day, the owner of land enough for a small principality, he finds trouble in laying his hands on a $100 bill. Mr. Baldwin has een living in San Francisco pretty regnow 70 years old and is showing his ham's medicine had not helped me." age. He is by no means the picturesque man he was when his Volante was king of the turf. But "Lucky" is a pretty good man yet, even if he is losing bis millions. Among all the shrewd, wise men who became bonanza kings and millionaires in the brisk days of California there was none shrewder or wiser than Baldwin. He has played many parts in his time and played all well. He has been a canal boatman, grocery man, hotelkeeper, brickmaker, liveryman, theatrical manager, turfman, mining operator, farmer, and always a speculator. He has been able to manage and direct five or six big businesses, from a magnificent stable of race horses to a gold mine, hotel, ranch, winery, vineyards and a brickyard. He may not leave as many millions behind him as he might once have left, but there is hardly any danger of his going to the poorhouse.

SOMETHING NEW IN LAMPS. This Will Be a Great Aid to Those W

Burn Midnight Oil.
A handy little lamp for the seamstress or housewife who has to use her machine in poorly lighted rooms or at night has recently been brought out by a large hardware firm. The lamp, fitted with a powerful reflector, is attach-

SEWING MACHINE LAMP. ed to a movable swing bracket which is fastened to the arm of the sewing machine. This permits of the light being directed on the work where it is wanted. The bracket is so arranged that the lamp can be removed and used as an ordinary reading lamp.

CHINESE SPANIELS POPULAR. Quaint Little Creatures that Bring Blu

Prices from Pog Fanciere.
The quaint little Chinese spaniel is the latest fad of the dog fancier. There was once a statute making it a crime punishable by death for a common per son to be found with one of these dogs in his possession, and even now their price makes them a luxury for the rich. They have been bred in their present purity of blood for more than two thousand years, and there is a legend that a tiny black and white spaniel was the trusted companion of the wise Confu-tius and sat at table with him. The great round wall eyes, the short upturned nose, the bushy tail and the silky hair are the distinguishing points of the Chinese spaniel. The more walleyed a dog is the higher price he can command. The colors are white, black and white, brown, and brown and white. The dogs are extremely small, and are hardy, affectionate and very intelligent. The Blenheim spaniel of to-day is a far different animal from the dog of the time of Mariborough for about a hundred years ago they were crossed with the Chinese spanie! This cross added to their beauty, but marred their health, for it is now a! most impossible to get a Blenheim that is not rickety, while the Chinese span! loves the snow and can endure gree privation. The few Chinese spanic! that have been imported to the United States are in New York and Chicago. and they bring large prices on account of their rarity and the oddity of their faces.

A CHINESE SPANIEL.

Literary Note Fr. m the Century Co.

Prof. Dean C. Worcester, of the University of Mic' igan, will contribute to versity of Mic'igan, wil contribute to the September "Century" a paper b sed on personal experience, entitled "The Malay Pirat s of the Philippines," and illustrated from photograp's taken by the writer. The adventurous trip of Mr; Edwin Emerson, Jr., "Alone in Porto Rico," will be narrated by him in the semenumber, which will also contain the first of several articles on "Life and Sciety in Old Cuba," from the journals of the late Jonathan S. Jenkins, written in 1-59, but dealing with many topics new in the public consideration, such as y I low fever, coffee planting, etc. ow fever, coffee-planting, etc.

Is the imm diate jewel of the soul.

The rapture of pursuing is the prize the vanquished gain.

STORIES OF RELIEF.

Two Letters to Mrs. Pinkham.

Mrs. JOHN WILLIAMS, Englishtown, N. J., writes: "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:-I cannot be gin to tell you how I suffered before taking your remedies. I was so weak that I could hardly walk across the floor without falling. I had womb trouble and such a bearing-down feeling; also suffered with my back and limbs, pain in womb, inflammation of the bladder, piles and indigestion. Before I had aken one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt a great deal better, and after taking two and onehalf bottles and half a box of your Liver Pills I was cured. If more would take your medicine they would not have to suffer so much."

Mrs. Joseph Peterson, 513 East St., Warren, Pa., writes: "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:-I have sufment and displacement of the womb. I had the backache constantly, also headache, and was so dizzy. I had heart was in my throat at times choking me. I could not walk around and I could not lie down, for then my heart would beat so fast I would feel as though I was smothering. I had to sit up in bed nights in order to breathe.

"I have now taken several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable ages of Sanative Wash, and can say I am perfectly cured. I do not think ularly for the last three years. He is I could have lived long if Mrs. Pink-

DID MUCH FOR 'FRISCO.

The Late Ex-Mayor Sutro Made Many Gifts to the Pacific Metropolis. San Francisco lost one of her best known and most philanthropic citizens in the death of ex-Mayor Adolph Sutro. He was a man of many peculiar characteristics, but withal a most generous giver, and his name will long be held in remembrance by the people of San Francisco for the many splendid gifts he made to the city.

Adolph Sutro was born sixty eight years ago in Prussia of Jewish parents. He came to the United States in 1850, when the gold fever was at its height, and was lured with countless others to the shores of the Pacific. It was not long after that the great Comstock lode began to turn out its millions and attracted the attention of the world. The mines soon got down so deep that there appeared to be no way to drain them, and the heat was so intense from lack of ventilation that the miners could not work. Sutro, who had studied englneering, conceived the scheme of constructing an enormous tunnel under the lode which should connect the shafts and relieve them. He got capitalists to back him up, and in October, 1878, a tunnel twelve feet wide, ten feet high. and with its branches over five miles long had been completed. It proved a success. The mining companies, however, refused to share revenues with the tunnel company. Sutro therefore worked without using it. When the tunnel was in full opera unloaded it at a handsome dered about Europe for a be overcome when they are together yield tion Sutro unloaded it at a handsome time, picked up a wondrous library and closed the tunnel and brought everybody to terms, as the lode could not be much statuary and drifted back to San Francisco to buy so much of the "outside lands" of the city that he owned one twelfth of the entire acreage of the city proper. In 1894 Sutro ran for Mayor of San Francisco and was elected, in spite of the fact that the newspapers and all the big corporations and politicians were against him. After his term as Mayor his mind began to fall and for months had been a blank. The last years of his life had been embittered by family quarrels, and it is possible that the settlement of his estate, which amounts to about $5,000,000, will cause a bitter fight in the courts.

Beauty is Blood Deep Clean blood means a clean skin. No beauty without it. Cascarets, Candy Cathartic clean your blood and keep it clean,by stirring up the lazy liver and driving all impurities from the body. I'egin to-day to banish pimples, bolls, blotches. black-heads, and that sickly bilious complexion by taking Carcarets—beauty for ten cents All druggists, fatisfactioon guarantee l 10c, 25c, 50c.

The greatest moments of life are but moments like the others. Your doom is spoken in a word or two. A single look from the eyes, a mere pressure of the hand may decide it, or of the lips, though they cannot speak.

Five Cents.

Everybody knows that Dobbins' Electric cap is the best in the world, and for 35 years to be seen the price is Soap is the best in the world, and for 30 year it has sold at the highest price. Its price i now 5 cents, same as common brown scap Bars full size and quality. Order of grocer. Add Blessed be the hand that prepares a deasure for a child, for there is no say-ng when and where it may bleom forth. Educate Your Bowels With Cascarets. Candy Cathartic, cure constitution forever c, 25c. If C. C. C. fail, druggists refund money The know-nothing the do-nothing and the be-nothing scheme of life can only end in outer darkness and ineffable dis-

STATE OF ORIO, CITY OF TOLEDO.

LUCAR COUNTY.

FHANE J. CHENEY makes oath that he is the senior partner of the firm of F. J. CHENEY & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will jay the sum of ONE HENDIED DOLLAIS for each and every case of CATABRH that cannot be cured by the use of HALL'S CATABRH CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, SEAL A. D. 1888.

A. W. GLEASON.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and nets dir. city on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free, F. J. CHERSY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggista, 75c.

Hall's Armite Pulls are the boot. WANTED-Case of bad health that RIPAN-will not benefit. Send 5 cts. to Ripans Chemica Co., New York, for 10 samples and 1000 testimonials Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

The Judge-And for the levity with which you have conducted yourself during your trial I shall give you an udditional fine of $10. How does that suit you? The Villain-That is what I would call extra fine.—Indianapolis

WHAT THE LAW DECIDES.

The remedy for failure of a servant No Other Country in This Line Comr agent to pay ever money on demand for collecting it for his principal is held debt, and not by trespass on the case. An action against what purports to be a corporation, to recover a tax which it is required to pay as a condition precedent to corporate existence, is held, in Maryland Tube and Iron Works vs. West End Imp. Company (Md.), 89 L. R. A. 810, insufficient to give it a legal existence for all purposes, or to estop the city from denying its corporate existence.

An agreement by the owners of race horses entered at certain stake races to divide equally the premiums and stake moneys awarded to any of their horses, is held, in Hawkins vs. Ottinger (Cal.), 40 L. R. A. 79, to be valid, and not a wagering contract.

A partnership for horse racing on a fered with womb trouble over fifteen bet with a person whom the partners years. I had inflammation, enlargeinto which they induce him to enter by making him think he has a sure thing and by deceiving him into the suppoheart trouble, it seemed as though my sition that their horse is untrained and undeveloped, while they think they have a "dead mortal cinch," is held, in Morrison vs. Bennett (Mont.), 40 L. R. fraud that the court will not aid either one of the partners to obtain an accounting of the profits.

of which this is a renewal was given. American trade in agricultural impleis denied enforcement in North Caro- ments has been subjected to a marked lina, in the case of Gooch vs. Faucette, prostration. The export trade of the enforcement is contrary to the public continued large and has even inpolicy of the State, even if the note is creased: to be deemed a contract of the other 1893 (fiscal year)......$4,657,000 State. in which it would be valid.

A Deadly Grudge. "You and Briggins don't seem to be very good friends any more." 'No, he is a wolf in sheep's clothing." "Why, what did he ever do to make you conceive such an opinion of him?" "Made me believe I ought to take my bicycle apart for the purpose of cleaning it."

I on't Tobacco Spit and Smoke Your Life Away To guit tobacce easily and f ver, he may rette, full of life, nerve and ti take No-To Fuc, the wonder-worker, that m streng. All druggists, 50c or $1 ure guaranteed. Eooklet and sample free. ling Femedy Co., Chicago or New rk.

The constant duty of every man to his fellows is to ascertain his own powers and special gifts, and to strengthen for the help of others.

Fits permanently cured. No fits or nervous ness riter first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve liestorer, $2 trial bottle and treatise free-DR R H KLINE Ltd. $31 Arch St. Phila Pa Three things are known only in the

To ture a Cord in One I ay. Take Laxative Bromo Q inine Tablets, A Druggists refund mone; if it fails to cure. 25-After all, the kind of world one carrie about in one's self is the important thing and the world outside takes all its grace, color and value from that. year are being reflected in the enlarged Piso's Cure for Consumption is an A No. 1 Asthma medicine.—W.R. WILLIAMS, Antioch, Ills., April II, 1894. market for farming machinery, reap---- selves up when taken little by lit RUPTURE Cure Guaranteed by DR. J. B. MAYER, 1017 ARCH ST., PHILA. PA. Ease at once, no operation or delay from business. Consultation free. Endorsements of physicians, ladies and prominent citizens. Send for circulas. Office hours v A. M. 101 P. M.

Do not wait for extraordinary opportu nities for good actions, but make use o

To Cure Constipation Forever.

Take Cascarets Candy Cathartic, 10c or 25c If C. C. C. fail to cure, druggists refund money In all eras and all climes a woman great genius or beauty has done what sh

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething, softens the gums, reducing inflamma-tion, allays pain, cures wind coile, 25c. a bottle. Hypocrisy is folly. It is much easier, safer and pleasanter to be the thing which a man aims to appear than to keep up the appearance of what he is not.

No-To-Bac For Fifty Cents. Guaranteed tobacco habit cure makes weak en strong, blood pure. 50c, $1. All druggists If a man has any brains at all let hin hold on to his calling, and in the gran-sweep of things his turn will come at last

EETS, I will never be without them in the hous My liver was in a very bad shape, and my hea

coneva

CURE CONSTIPATION. ...

FOR FIFTY YEARS! MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used by millions of mothers for their children while feething for ever Fifty Years, if souther the child, softens the gums, alloye all path, cures wind colle, and is the best remedy for distributes. Twenty-dwe Cents a Bettle.

EXPECTANT MOTHERS Why suffer untold pain and torture in childb ril when it can be made safe, sure and easy by using MITCHELLA COMPOUND (Indersed by let

LADY AGENTS WANTED-GOOD PAY.

DROPSYNEW DISCUSERY; EVeryon, 8 nd or book of testimonials and 10 days treatment of Free, by B. H. GREEN'S SONS Atlanta, 6.

DENSIONJOHN W. MORBIA Successfully Prosecutes Claima. Late Principal Examiner U.S. Ponsion Sureau Jyrain last war, 15 adjudiosting claims, atty since GUSES WHERE ALL EISE FAILS.
GUSES WHERE ALL EISE FAILS.
Hest Cough Syrup. Trastes Good. Uso
History. Sold by dronguists.

TRADE IN FARM IMPLEMENTS.

At the close of the civil war a reaper in Royce, Allen & Co. vs. Oakes (R. I.), now selling for $75 cost $120; a steel 39 L. R. A. 845, to be by assumpsit or plow, now costing $12, sold for $26; a potato digger, now costing $7, sold for $25; grain scythes, now costing $9 a dozen, cost $26; shovels, now costing $9 a dozen, cost $20; binders, now cos ing $130, cost $400; and mowing ma chines, now costing $50, cost $110. As this process of reduction has been going on, the product of American factories in the line of agricultural imple ments has been generally extended and vastly improved, so that the United States is now not only at the head of all other countries, but so far at the bead of other countries that there has practically ceased to be any serious competition except in respect to the supplies sold by certain European countries to their colonies. Through the free markets of the world, without restrictions established by governments, the United States is the great source of supply. The importance of the business car ried on both at home and abroad by the United States manufacture of farming implements is shown by the figures of the last Federal census of 1890. There were at that time, approximately, 1,000 manufactories of agricultural imple-A. 158, to be such a conspiracy to de- ments in the United States, the amount invested in this line of manufacture being nearly $150,000,000, the average number of persons employed in it being A note to pay a bet on a horse race 45,000, the materials used averaging in run in another State where such notes value $80,000,000 and the output $80,-Compound, and used three pack- are presumed valid, and where a note 000,000, Since the summer of 1893 the 39 L. R. A. 685, on the ground that its country in agricultural implements has

1894 (fiscal year)...... 5,027,000 1895 (fiscal year)...... 5,410,000 1896 (fiscal year) 5,176,000 1897 (fiscal year) 5,240,000

The Argentine Republic has been the chief customer of the United States in this item of manufacture, and the South American countries and West Indies have been customers to a smaller extent. But while the foreign market has continued, the home market for American agricultural products has been curtailed greatly, in consequence of the failure of some crops, the diminished prices for cereals, the accumulation. West and South, of mortgages, and the contraction of credit to farmers, who, as a rule, buy their agricultural machinery on credit, payments being predicated on the success of the crops and of paying prices for them. As a result of the agricultural depression in the West in 1893, 1894, 1895 and 1896, it is hardly too much to say that the farming implements used during the past five years in the United States have been literally wearing out. The large concerns have been carrying their customers on credit, and with large debts outstanding, the farmers, generally speaking, have been awaiting the return of better times and better prices. The favorable conditions of a year ago ers, threshers, plows, rakes, binders, scythes and harrows At the head of the States of the country in the volume of its manufacture of igricultural implements is Illinois with an invested capital of nearly $60,-000,000. Ohio follows, then New York and then Wisconsin. Ohio supplies most of the Southern market of demand and New York the Middle and Eastern States. Of recent years Callfornia has developed its manufacture of farming implements largely.-New were not without their effect on this

CUBAN DANDIES.

York Sup.

fond of Finery and Leisure and with Delicate Features. At first sight a Cuban of the well-to do class seems to be nothing but hair.

eyes and shirt collar, says the Westminster Gazette. But on nearer view you discover him to possess exceedingly refined features, often of great beauty and regularity. A coarse-featured Cuban endowed with a superfluity of flesh is unknown. The Cuban's figure emulates the skeleton dude's, it is so slender. He has spindle legs, arms like sticks and a torso like a crane's. His chest is narrow, his shoulders are angular, and he stoops, which in his case is no sign of lung delicacy or studious habits. His complexion is a clear olive. You never meet a Cuban who looks fatuous, or who has eyes that are not brimful of intelligence. They are as fond of jewelry and finery as women. They squeeze their naturally small feet into smaller boots. They wear extravagantly high or low collars and gorgeous neckties. Lately they have been wearing trousers of such roomy dimensions that they flap about their thin legs like sails; whereas a year or two ago they wore them as tight as celskins. But the piece de resistance—the crowning glory of a Cuoan male tollet-is the hat. In spite of the tropical climate, it is invariably black, shiny, hard and narrow, like a himney-pot turned upside down. A Cuban flaneur is capable of sporting a grass-green shirt, with a black frock coat and white cravat. Born in land of slavery, generally, with the expectation of coming in for a sugar plantation, or, at any rate, relying on support from wealthy relations, the avrage gilded youth of Cuba regards it as his metier to ornament the tropics and gracefully to kill time. He covers his soft, thin hands with rings sparkling with precious stones. His nails are long and cut in points, after the fashion of Chinese aristocrats. When you meet a Cuban going to the station there is always a negro boy behind. earrying his bag. A Cuban would be sshamed to be seen in the street carry ng anything but a stick.

The Sun Cholera Cure Take equal parts of Tincture of opium. Tincture of rhubarb, Tincture of cayenne, Spirits of camphor, Essence of peppermint.

Mix well together. Dose: Fifteen to thirty drops in water; to be repeated in fifteen or twenty minutes if necessary. This is the original formula for the Sun cholera cure. It was given to the Sun in the "cholera year," 1849, by George W. Busteed, then and now a practicing pharmacist in this city. It was published daily in the Sun during he summer of that year; it was published at intervals for several years, and again daily during the "cholera years," 1855 and 1866, and has been printed in the Sun probably 1,000 times since it first appeared. The Sun cholera cure has been adopt ed into the United States Pharmacopoels, and is a medicine approved and valued by every medical man in the country.-New York Sun.

freely in hot or cold water. Other soaps than Ivory may have this quality, but will likely contain alkali, which is injurious to the skin. Ivory Soap is made of pure vegetable oils, no alkali; produces a white, foamy lather, that cleanses thoroughly and rinses easily and quickly. Money cannot buy a better soap for the toile is often called the garden of Spain, and its inhabitants are active and indus- mortals. trious. In the province of Valencia, from the city of the same name to Allcante, garden follows close upon gar- way to the corner at which he and his den. Here are grown wheat, wine friend always met, when he encountergrapes, raisins, oranges, dates and ed a young student whose face he recolives. In these regions irrigation is ognized dimly, having seen it every day successfully practiced. The greater for several weeks in the class-room. He part of the water of the short coast accordingly hailed his pupil, who was streams is thus employed. *Little, wading through the mud to get across rain falls, and what does come is the street. dreaded because of the violence of the storms and the damage done by floods to the irrigation reservoirs.

THE GARDEN OF SPAIN,

Tropical Shores and Wind-swept Interior of the Land of the Don. Along the Mediterranean shore Spain cal and absent-minded.

these tropical shores to the wind-swept puddle to remove his cap. "He is at the plains of interior Spain. The level corner below, waiting for you." country, inclosed by the Guadarrama, "Good, very good!" responded the and the Cantabrian mountains, forms professor, looking over his spectacles in the west an extensive wheat grow- with his class-room air when well ing region. Toward the east, as the pleased with a student. "I thank you. rainfall decreases, pasturage en- You may be seated." croaches upon arable culture. In New branch of business, and those of this Castile, on the south of the Guadarrama and in about the center of Spain, the political capital has been placed. The level country in which it has been dropped, as if by accident, is for the most part, a waterless plain, swept in izen. "Not at all. The only difficulty winter by the piercing winds from the is that we have be naked mountains of the north, sweltering in summer from the effect of the sun's rays on bare rock and soil. The climate of Madrid has been tersely described by its inhabitants as "three the female suffrage movement if it was months of winter and nine months of something that could be decorated with Declined the Invitation. The Strand Magazine tells an amusing anecdote of a well-known Edinburgh professor, who is both methodipresents a narrow ribbon of fertile, de- Professor W. is accustomed to take a lightful country, says a writer in the daily walk with another old professor. North American Review. The region when they discuss matters quite beyoud the comprehension of ordinary

One day, when the walking was exceedingly bad, Professor W. was on his

"Have you seen Professor S.?" he asked.

"Yes, sir," replied the student, paus-It is a great contrast to pass from ing respectfully in the midst of a mud Great Strides.

"Do not attempt to deny that we have been making great strides in civilization?" inquired the Spanish officeholder.

"Not at all," replied the disgusted eltward."-Washington Star. More women would be interested in ribbons and hung up over the mantel.

Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic

Chills, Malaria and Biliousness DELIGHTFUL TO TAKE.

"NO CURE, NO PAY." Is just as good for Adults as for Children. Paris Medicine Co., Galatia, Ill., Nov. 16, 1893 Gentlemen:-We sold last year 600 bottles of GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC and have bought 3 gross already this year. In all our experience of 14 years in the drug business, have never sold an article that gave such universal to church with a long face. The more men disappoint us, the mor we should have faith in God.

Yours Truly, ABNEY, CARR & CO.

PRICE, 50 CENTS.

When a little man is lifted up, everybody finds out that he is little. The man who thinks he knows others is a great stranger to himself. The man who would be considered wise often turns out to be otherwise. Do away with a personal devil, and here is no need of a personal Christ. It is a mistake to call anything success that is not according to God's plan. If you knew that to-morrow would be your last day, how would you spend

There are some very important lessons which can only be learned from a

when you pray for a revival, don't go | It is doubtful if there is any man who has not at some time in his life been a hypocrite. The man who has lived only for himself has wasted his time and robbed the world. There can be no true and abiding comfort and peace that is not rooted and grounded in faith. The man who has never used his eyes to consider the mercies of God, has used them to small purpose.

Turning a mad dog loose is a triffing thing, compared to what the devil can do with a gossiping tongue. In the very same breath with which Jesus said, "Let not your heart be troubled," he also said, "Believe."

The man who refuses to walk in the light as God gives it, has only himself to blame for what happens in the dark. "Ne that Works Easily Works Successfully." 'Tis very

Easy to Clean House With

SAPOLIO