Newport News, October 27.—Col. A. K. McClure, editor of the Philadelphia Times, journeyed from Bloomfield on Saturday evening to the home of his boyhood. He stayed at the Louisville Hotel over night and on Sunday morning was conveyed by Dr. B. P. Hooker to the home of his cousin, Capt. Andrew Loy, where he was entertained until Monday, returning home in the evening. He was born near Center.

Spaulding! That is what Dr. Swallow teaches the old soldiers who fought and saved this country. A pretty compliment to come from a Christian minister. The old soldiers will make the doctor feel worse than the boys in blue did the Spaniards and he will awaken on the morning following the election to find his boom in a worse condition than the Spanish fleet which fell before the fire of the sons of the men whom the reverend gentleman now terms Spauldings.—Chambersburg Repository.

Dr. Swallow in his speech here admitted that his book room had charged the state more for stationery than the contract price which the state had made with other establishments, but said a trap had been laid for him. In view of the fact that he failed to see through such a transparent device it may well be asked whether he does not know that there are thousands of people waiting to lay deeper, snare traps for him in the event of his election. He would be considered "dead easy,"—Chambersburg Public Opinion.

The teachers institute is coming, and will be in on time. As next spring will be the time for the election of a new superintendent, it is expected that the candidates for that office will all be present some time during the time of the meeting of the institute. Among those on the list of candidates is S. W. McClure, who now teaches the Cedar Grove school, in Walker township. Mr. McClure was born at East Waterford, Juniata county, and has been engaged in teaching since graduation from the Millersville Normal School.

Northumberland County Democrat, died last Sunday morning of valvular affection of the heart, at his home in Germantown. He was 62 years old, was a native of Lebanon county. He began the art of preserving all at age, in Millintown, Juniata county, 43 years ago, in the office of the Register, under the editorship of the late A. G. Bensch. Two sons survive Mr. Eichelberger. His wife died a short time ago.

Vote for Mr. E. G. Sheaffer, the republican candidate for Legislature. He is a typical American. He started life in his own little canoe and has successfully paddled it to the position of a first rate citizen. At the age of ten years he was following the occupation of the lamented Garfield. He was a boat man driver on the tow path. When eighteen years old he enlisted in the Union army and followed by fortune to the dawn of human slavery. Upon the close of the war he became a school teacher, and followed that occupation six winters and one summer, then became a merchant and for more than a quarter of a century has followed followed that business. He is in the store keeping business now. He is a member of the Lutheran church, and is not enough to see to it that he is not guided by bad legislation. There are many men elected to the Legislature who go in at the front door of the Legislature at the beginning of the session and come out of the back door and don't know what was done in Juniata county has had such members, men who voted on questions that involved interests of hundreds of thousands of dollars and they never found out anything about it until afterwards, when the legislation began to be felt in an unfavorable way. From his past life it is safe to say that Mr. Sheaffer will not be a member of that kind. He is smart enough, and honest enough and hard working enough to find out what is going on and act accordingly. Vote for Sheaffer.

The remains of Charles J. Jenkins were brought to this place for interment on Saturday. The funeral took place on Sunday at 3 o'clock p. m. in the Presbyterian church, in which his father is an elder and of whom he was a member. The funeral service was preached by Rev. Mr. Rayner, pastor of the church. Interment in the Presbyterian cemetery.

He was one of the young men who responded to President McKinley's call, for the sake of humanity to make war against Spain to free Cuba and Porto Rico from Spanish rule. He enlisted in the 2nd United States Cavalry, and was a soldier, cheerfully obedient to superiors and orders from the first hour of his enlistment to the last hour of his consciousness. He was stricken with typhoid malaria, and died at Fort Thomas, Ky., on the 28th day of October. His father was informed of his illness and was with him when he died. His mother also hastened to his bedside and was present in his last moment on earth. He was about 20 years old and led a domestic life to become a soldier for the sake of humanity and a better government for Cuba, and though he did not die in battle his life was a martyr given for the cause as was the lives of those given amidst the carnage of battle at Santiago. His funeral was attended by many people. The Post attended. The funeral procession was long, and moved with slow stately steps to the dirge notes of fife and drum. It was the same drum corps that was in attend ance when this young man with other brave hearts for the war; how changed. He was broken by the camp of the soldier. Shrouded in the colors of his country. Flags floating at half mast in his honor. The large flag of the public schools was at half mast. The flag in the Court House square was at half mast. The republican flag was at half mast. The flag on the hill beyond the river was at half mast. A stately procession carried him to his last resting place. The veterans who fought the war against rebellion to a finish buried him with the honors of war.

FOR THESE NOBLE LADIES.

At a regular meeting of Lieut. David H. Wilson Post, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:
RESOLVED, That we Comrades of Lieut. David H. Wilson Post, No. 134, G. A. R., of Millintown, and members of the Juniata Valley Veteran Association, desire in this way to express our sincere and heartfelt thanks to the following ladies: Miss Lizzie Adams, Miss Clara Thompson, Miss Blanche Wright, Mrs. A. H. Weidman, Mrs. John Etka, Mrs. H. C. McClellan, Mrs. A. Mayer, Miss Mary North, Miss Marjorie Patterson, Miss Lettie Mayer, Miss Mary Cramer, Miss Lizzie Hayes, Miss Nettie Snyder, Miss Willa Mcnitz, Miss Annie Campbell, and Miss Marjorie Rieckenbaugh, for their free, active, patriotic and noble work in helping to entertain Co. G., 5th Regiment, while our guests at the Encampment October 12 and 13. It brought back to our minds and hearts the days of '61 and '65 when on our way to and from the front, we were fed by the noble, patriotic ladies at Cooper Union, Philadelphia, and Relay House, Baltimore. God bless the ladies whose hearts are full of love for the flag. They are the hope of the nation. They cannot fight, but they can work, and with bleeding hearts wait for the news of the battle in which they have some loved one who may never return. In every battle there are heroes many and great, but away from the battle there are heroines, more and greater than the world can ever know, or the men of history can ever record. In the trenches of Cold Harbor and Fredericksburg and in that horror of horrors, Andersonville, there are heaps of names of unknown dead; their names will never enter into history, their valor and fortitude will remain unknown, their heroism will be consecrated to silence and oblivion, but for each one of the nurturing, wife and mother, and sister, toils and waits with aching hearts, mourns and will not be comforted. We will ever hold a warm place in our hearts for these noble ladies.
RESOLVED, That this resolution be copied in the Post Minutes and published in the papers.

Letter from a Woman

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy frequently cures several members of a family. While it is considered by many to be a Kidney and Bladder Medicine, it is just as certain to cure Dyspepsia, Constipation, Rheumatism, Scrofula and Eczema. This is because it first puts the Kidneys in a healthy condition, so they can sift all impurities from the blood.

Here is a letter from Mrs. CAPT. FETTER RACE, of N. Y.: "My husband was troubled with his kidneys, fearfully with shooting pains through his back. He took Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, and is now well and strong. Although seventy years of age, he is as hearty as a man many years younger. I was so troubled with Dyspepsia that it was painful for me to walk. My food did me no good, as my stomach could not digest it. Somebody recommended Favorite Remedy to me, and after taking two bottles of it I was completely cured, and an amazing splendid now. We both attribute our good health to Favorite Remedy."

It is prescribed with unfailing success for Nerve Troubles, and for the Liver and Blood it is a specific. It has cured many that were beyond the aid of other medicine. Ask your druggist for it, and insist upon getting it. Don't take a substitute. It will cost you $1.00 for a regular full-sized bottle.
