THE only enterprise the news paper men have not been able to keep up with is that of Emperor William's rush into the Holy Land. The three days journey from Haifa wore out almost every one who attempted to follow him. The road side was strewn with broken down wagons and carriages worn out soldiers and horses, and so rapid was his movements that the newspaper men sent to write up his movements could not keep up with him and accomplish their work. He's a hustler. If his army and navy has the rush of himself they'd be ugly customers to encounter. However, if William should be so unwise, as to espouse the cause of Spain against the United States, he'll find a circumstance he did not run across in his ride through Turkey to the Holy Land. It is hoped that his ride to the sepulcher of the Prince of Peace, has not intensified his fanatical; feeling to pose before civilized nations as the War Lord, but that it has inspired him with a feeling to help bring about a more peaceful state of affairs among the nations of the Quay shook his purse first. He stepped into public sight, by the announcement that he is a candidate for re-election to the United States Senate, and that he has put up ten thousand dollars to be paid as a reward for the detection and proof of bribery in the coming senatorial contest. Quay's announcement had hardly been made till Wanamaker makes an announcement. He says Quay has not enough members of the Legislature to elect him to the United States Senate, and he. Wanamaker, shakes his purse to the extent of twenty thousand dollars, and puts up the money, to be paid as a reward for the arrest and conviction of any Assen:blyman. From the way the BURSCRIPTION $1.00 per year if paid two men are shaking their purses, it is evident that the one does not bought like sheep in the shambles.
