President McKinley sent a message to the lower house of Congress, last Friday calling attention to the necessity of constructing a telegraph line through the Pacific ocean to the Philippines.

The thermometer at 6 degrees below zero, and a wind blowing made last Thursday morning feel like the coldest of the year. There has been more snow weather this winter than in many years.

All the trains from the east were delayed on Monday by the storm. The morning mails did not come till evening. Trains from the west kept on time pretty well, comparatively speaking till Monday night when the whole line from Pittsburgh to Philadelphia became snow bound. All lines of railroads from Pennsylvania to Canada, were closed. Hundreds of trains were fast in the snow. Men were employed to shovel out the street cars. By Tuesday evening the individual suffering and loss of property will be weeks in reporting.

Dr. King's New Discovery. The hot weather last week knocked out more American soldiers in the battles that took place around Manila than the Philippine's bullets. There were many cases of sunstroke in the American army.

It is said that carriage makers, blacksmiths and men who can run saw mills, can make fortunes in Manila. There are no tradesmen of that kind there, and no tools and machinery for those trades.

Man's ingenious inventions and machinery do well under favorable conditions, but a little whiff of the power of nature exposed in the winter weather of this week shows how insignificant the power of man is.

If the Philippine Islander can comprehend that all he has to do is to recognize the authority of the United States of America, and adopt his system of civilization then it will be better for him, from this time on.

The Klondike gold field is again extensively talked about. A returned miner put up at the Murry house last Thursday, and had many eager listeners to his narrative of that far away cold gold land.

The cold was so intense that the ears of hogs on stock cars were frozen as brittle as pipe stems and many ears of hogs in the Pittsburgh stock yards were knocked off when the stock was taken out of the cars last Saturday.

Dr. King's New Life Pills. Dr. Robert C. Stewart, of Shippenburg, Pa., was found dead in his bed chamber last Friday morning having been smothered by gas from a stove. His two pet dogs were dead by his side. The doctor was an unmarried man.

The letters unfiled for in the Mifflintown post office at the close of business, Saturday evening, February 11, 1899. Mr. Will Carter, Daniel S. Shickler, R. B. Thomas, Robert W. Messer, Esq., Joshua Hillinger, Fred T. DuPont.

Howard Melly was crushed to death by a falling tree in Little Mountain, near Mercersburg. He saw the tree falling, but in trying to get away tripped and fell directly under it. Woodchoppers near at hand were too late to save him.

The loss in the late battle before Manila, from the 4th to the 9th of February, according to General Otis, the American general in command aggregated 268 of which 3 are officers killed, and 56 enlisted men killed, and 8 officers and 221 men wounded.

Dr. King's New Discovery. Ex Sheriff John Spangler, of Centre county, lost two valuable head of cattle on his farm tenanted by William Morris, near Tusseyville, a few days ago. The cattle were in the barn yard, when the strawstack fell, covering them and before they were dug out they had suffocated.

Officer Albert Hackenberger went to Harrisburg recently and brought a negro to town and lodged him in jail, on the charge of merchant M. E. Schlegel, of Thompston. The negro had stolen goods from Schlegel's store and was selling the goods in Harrisburg.

At the Musical College, Freeburg, Snyder county, Pa., none but the best methods are used, so that to-day it is recognized as one of the foremost schools of music in the country. $33 will pay for a term of six weeks, instruction and board. Spring Term will begin May 8. For catalogue address, HENRY B. MOYER, Director.

"Now that we have encountered those Americans," said Agumaldo, "I wonder!" "What, oh, great chief, with the gold whistle?" "I wonder why they merely annexed Cuba, Porto Rico, the Ladrones and us. Why did they ignore Spain?"

A colony of 200 Russian Jews have bought 1700 acres of mountain land in Westmoreland county, Pa., and will locate there. They expect to erect stone houses and clear the tract of the scrub timber that is on it. They are leaving Russia because of the persecution of the Russians.

Mr. Kurtz of Westmoreland county has bought the John Byler farm about three miles northeast of Mifflintown, along the McClinticville road. It formerly belonged to David Reuc, deceased, and Reuc bought it from Michael Beahore, who owned it for many years. Kurtz paid $3,500 for the farm.

The fact that the election of a democratic judge of the Supreme Court is assured at the fall election is bringing out many candidates. Almost every county is presenting a candidate. There is plenty of material for Supreme Judges going to waste, among the democrats, and among the republicans too.

About 10 o'clock last Friday forenoon, a fire was discovered in the partition between ex-Sheriff Calhoun's house and Dr. Hollman's house, in Patterson. It was one of the coldest days of the year, with a brisk breeze blowing, and if the fire had gained a few more minutes time a large fire would be chronic. The fire came from the stove.

Philadelphia Times February 11.—The recent cold weather is responsible for a curious sight in the train sheds of both the Pennsylvania and Reading terminals. The steam of the engines is condensed and falls in a shower of snow, which is so realistic that incoming passengers can scarcely believe that the same conditions do not exist outside and are treated to a surprise when they find a clear sky overhead.

All the people of the United States shivered with cold on the 9th and 10th of February, from Florida to the Canada line. It seemed as if the ice canopy that hangs over head some 10 miles had been lowered a mile or two to shiver the country. If that canopy of ice would be lowered to within a mile of the earth, every thing would freeze as stiff as an icicle.

Dr. King's New Life Pills. The inconsistency of some men in the Legislature is so clearly defined that they are the laughing stock among intelligent people. For example, the member who encourages the republican bolters, and pronounces them as doing the right thing in bolting, and then in the next breath breathes the most dreadful vengeance upon any democrat, who would dare to bolt from the democracy.

From the bees which took up their abode in the eaves and pillars of Captain Tom Davis' front porch in Easton, Cambria county, 100 family the other day took out their comb, each twenty-one inches long, two inch a thick, and weighing four and one-half pounds a piece, and there still remains about as much more, some of which will be left for the bees. The colony got into the porch through a knot hole.

The town on Monday was deserted by everyone excepting those in it, and they were like the inhabitants of Dakota homes, shut in for the time being. On Tuesday morning there was only one thing to do and that was for the people to shovel themselves out. The milk wagons and meat wagons and all other business suspended. Such a shut up of out door pursuits has not taken place within the past half century.

Miss Malinda O'Neil, who has been living with the family of Mr. Theodore Heckman, about 5 miles east of Milltown, retired on Sunday evening last, in her usual state of health, which was good, but on Monday morning about the time of getting up for the work of the day she did not appear. Inquiry for her brought no response, and then her room was entered. She had risen and had partly dressed herself, laid down and was breathing her last when Mr. Heckman and family entered her room.

Dr. King's New Discovery. The Scientific American gives this recipe which the world ought to know: At the first indication of diphtheria in the throat of a child, make the room close, then take a tin cup and pour into it a quantity of tar and turpentine, equal parts. Hold the cup over the fire so as to fill the room with the fumes. The patient on inhaling the fumes will cough up all membranous matter and the diphtheria will pass out. The fumes of the tar and turpentine loosen the matter in the throat and afford relief that has baffled the skill of physicians.

Major Theodore Sternberg, of Ellsworth, who is paymaster in the army of the Philippine, has this to say in prophecy of an evolution which may be expected to take place among the Manila fair sex: "I saw a native woman, whose scanty skirt barely came to the knee, wearing garters; no stockings, no shoes—only garters. Now, that woman was on the road to civilized dress. She will have to wear stockings, in order to dress up to those garters; and then shoes will have to come to protect the stockings, and there you are. I notice that American skirts and shirt waists are worn more and more."

The drifting snow on Monday night closed almost all kinds of outdoor work. The railroad company made a great effort to keep up their line of traffic, but the elements were stronger than the best organized efforts of the company. One man against another shoveling snow could not have kept the track clear in the face of the drifting snow, and by Tuesday all traffic had come to a halt. The wind abated some on Tuesday and then the work began in clearing the track of snow by every device known to the organized methods of labor of the company. All day the work of clearing the track from the Allegheny mountains to Philadelphia was vigorously pushed, and by evening trains again began to move.

A man entered Mrs. Hinely's cellar by a back door one night recently. Mrs. Hinely was not at home. Mrs. Hinely and the children were greatly alarmed, and no wonder, for the prowler tried to force the door leading from the cellar up stairs. The thumps on the door caused Mrs. Hinely to call for help. Miss Blanche Wright responded and awakened Reuben Reynolds who went for Officer Hackenberger, but by that time the housebreaker had gone. There was a fresh snow, and he was traced through the yard to the alley, along the alley to the Scholl lot through which he came to Washington street on which he traveled in the direction of the jail. He had made an ugly threat to Mrs. Hinely, that if she did not "shut up" he'd burn the door "shack down." Reynolds and Hackenberger have the size of the alley as traced in the snow well fixed in their mind. They have said just what house it entered. That may be a subject for future investigation. That all took place between the hour of one and two o'clock in the morning.

This February weather knocks out the oldest inhabitant, and he falls back to the accounts of hard winters handed down by his great grandfather. Those were the days before railroads and stage lines, when the people in this region lived in the woods in warm log houses with their beds in the corner where they had logs of wood four feet long piled high and bristly burning. Those were the days before frozen water pipes troubled the people. Most of the habitations were by the side of frostless springs of water. A number of the tireless frontiers, ever running springs sent forth their crystal waters here at Milltown. The springs were destroyed by the canal which never saw of much account to any one, except the people who squeezed a living out of its management. The people then were not ambitious for luxuries, they thought luxuries were burdensome things to keep up. When a winter like now afflicts by their cabin fires and wait-ed in the storm passed by. The multiplication of the people and the rush of business and trade, and ambition for this and for that has changed everything, and when an extreme of weather comes, such as has been experienced this February, it is productive of a great deal of discomfort. Dozens of cases of death by freezing from different parts of the state are reported. No deaths of that kind are reported in Juniata county. People who contemplate moving to Dakota, received a slight foretaste of the weather that prevails there in the winter. But cheer up, this cannot last the sun will shine as brightly as in days of yore before six weeks, and within the period of six weeks the summer birds will be coming from the south and the dreary February days will be remembered only as a dream, to be talked about.

Dr. King's New Life Pills. Jerome Graybill died unexpectedly at the home of his mother, at Redfield on the morning of the 11th inst, aged about 57 years. He got up in the morning and ate breakfast, and then sat down in a chair and died. Some years ago he was well acquainted with a wide circle of business men in this part of the state. Interment at Redfield on Thursday.

The funeral of Mrs. McAlister, wife of doctor Oliver McAlister, deceased, took place at McAlisterville, on the 13th inst. She had been living alone, and took ill and before neighbors knew of her illness she had been taken away and she was almost frozen when found by a calling neighbor.

Horseless wagons of all kinds, horseless carriages and buggies, to run by compressed air at a cost one-half less than the cost of keeping a horse, are among the new inventions to be in use soon, in town, on road, and on farm.

GLORIOUS NEWS. Comes from Dr. D. B. Cagle, of Wash. D. C. in his review: "Four Bottles of Electric Bitters has cured Mrs. Brown of cancer, which had a need for great suffering for years. Terrible sores would be on her head and face, and the best doctors could give no help; but her cure is complete and her face has its color." This shows what thousands have proved, that Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for cancer, better than steam, acids, and caustic. It stimulates liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion builds up the strength. Only 50c. Sold by W. P. Crawford, Druggist, Gettysburg.

AN AGED BRIDE AND GROOM. FRANKLIN, Feb. 4.—John D. Clews, aged 102 years, and Mrs. Sarah Jennings, aged 100, were married in this city Monday by Alderman Henderson. The bridegroom is a wealthy oil producer and a veteran of the Civil and Mexican wars, while the bride is a cousin of Abraham Lincoln and lives in Foxburg. She was married in 1824 to James Jennings, and has four daughters and seven sons and twenty-five grand children, all living.

Notwithstanding the advanced age of Mr. and Mrs. Clews, they are as vigorous as a person of 40.

ALL KILLED. PITTSBURG, Feb. 3.—A two-horse wagon, loaded with furniture, and on which six persons, five men and a young woman, were riding, was struck to-day by a fast Baltimore and Ohio freight train at the crossing at Riverton Station, just above McKeesport. All of the men were killed, and the young woman was so badly injured that she died soon afterward.

The dead are Hudson Elder, Vest Wilson, George Dawson, an unknown man, Sylvester Wilson and Mrs. Richard Shaughnessy.

IT BEATS THE BAND. The newest and most inspiring piece of Sheet Music, arranged for piano, is "The Pioneer Limited March," composed by Capt. FLORIDA

Personally Conducted Tour via Pennsylvania Railroad. The next Pennsylvania Railroad tour to Jacksonville, following two weeks in Florida, will leave New York and Philadelphia by special train of Pullman Palace Cars Tuesday, February 21.

While traveling on the special train, will be sold at the following rates: New York, $50.00; Philadelphia, $48.00; Canandaigua, $52.85; Erie, $54.85; Wilkabarre, $50.35; Pittsburg, $53.00; and at proportionate rates from other points. For tickets, itineraries, and other information apply to ticket agents, Tourist Agent at 1196 Broadway, New York, or to Geo. W. Boyd, Assistant General Passenger Agent, Broad Street Station, Philadelphia.

HOW MUCH THEY BRING.

From the New York Tribune. Statistics in regard to the amount of money brought to this country by European immigrants show that the German is the richest, with an average of $52.50, while the Englishman is a close second, with $52. The Frenchman has $47.25 and the Belgian $45, while the Irishman brings but $15, the Russian $12.50 and the Italian $10. Probably the Italian takes more back to his native land, however, than any of the others.

THE YOUNGEST GRAND MOTHER.

The Philadelphia North American of February 6th says: "Mrs. Kate Trexler, wife of Peter Trexler, in Millcreek township, Lebanon county, became a mother at the age of 13 years, and this child became a mother at the age of 14 years, which makes this grand mother's age 27 years. I doubt if there is a younger grandmother in the United States than Mrs. Trexler."
