The Boers having been compelled to withdraw their armies from Kimberly and Ladysmith are falling back on Boreland. The war is not over.

When democratic orators orate on anti-expansion, just think of the truth, that the American people have been expanding ever since they first landed in America.

The town is dull these days. It misses the large percentage of men who attend the farm stock and farm implement sales at the big barns on the farms in the county.

The iron boom seems to show signs of subsiding and the leather boom has declined 9 per cent. since December, wheat remains low, fluctuating between 68 and 70c.

There is a gang of house burglars that enter windows that open on porches. They are operating in Harrisburg. Keep windows fast that open on porches and keep the shot gun handy.

Lost creek was high last week. James J. Horning and brothers have their saw-mill located on the William McGlaughlin tract and the water came up high enough to float away a good many saw logs.

Patrick Ryan was troubled with large numbers of rats at his barn. He soaked corn with whisky. Put it in a barrel. 85 rats went into the barrel, ate corn and got drunk, could not get out and Ryan killed them.

Ladysmith was almost starved to surrender when Buller's army drove the Boers from the siege of the town. The soldiers were living on horse and mule meat, short allowance and a half pound of meal per day.

The candidates are circulating among the people. The people like to see them and their talk of hissing the dogs on them is all talk. The truth is the most of men don't like it if a candidate fails to call and say, how are you?

The British are rejoiced over the fact that the Boers picked them selves up and left Ladysmith. The praises of Buller are sounded by bells, music and bands and orators. He is proclaimed a great general for having driven the Boers away from Ladysmith.

It was a big undertaking for the Boers to try and capture in one campaign, three British armies. They surrounded a British army at Ladysmith, one at Kimberly and one at Mafeking, and demanded their surrender. That was an illustration of nerve and cheek that is hard to equal.

J. Porter Harris, a prominent business man in Harrisburg was found dead in his bed on Tuesday morning, Feb'y 27. It is believed he died of heart failure. His wife and son survive him. Mrs. Harris, his wife, was a daughter of James Thompson, deceased, late of Delaware township, Juniata county.

A Glasgow surgeon says that appendicitis is common, because of the habit of sitting with one leg crossed over the other. The surgeon argues that by crossing the legs, and it is generally the right leg that is put upon the stretch, food passes into the vermiform appendix, and sets up an inflammation.

Leonard Thress of Philadelphia, cured himself of dropsy and asthma by the starvation cure. He fasted 50 days. In that time he drank one glass of mineral water every morning and that was all that he put into his stomach. He weighed 210 pounds when he began to fast and when he broke the fast at the end of 50 days he weighed 129 pounds.

Mrs. Laura McGregor of Huntingdon, Pa., has used the railroad company to get $20,000 for the death of her husband, who was a freight train brakeman on a section of cars that was run on a track and collided with a locomotive by which means the bottom of a coal car was opened and the coal ran out and McGregor with it on the track and he was there crushed to death.

"My dear brethren," said a colored minister to a congregation to which he was preaching: "You all want to go to heaven of course you do, but some of you are going to be fooled on that place, if you get there. You imagine that place to be a place of good living. So it is sure. You imagine that's what you'll be fooled. I want to warn you now, first, last and all the time that heaven isn't a place for lazy folks. Be warned!"

The rush of water down the streams in Juniata county, during the early hours of the last day of March almost equalled the flood down the same streams June 1st, 1889. The ground was frozen when the rain came, and all the water ran into the streams and quickly filled them and spread the water beyond the banks. The ice was washed out of the streams. It was the third time that the ice passed off the streams this winter.

William E., eldest son of W. North Street of Milford township, for the past ten days has been afflicted with inflammatory rheumatism and has been in a helpless condition. Our latest news reports him somewhat improved.

John C. Stine, son of William Stine of Milford Twp., who has been sick with typhoid fever for eight weeks past in Pittsburg, is now able to sit up for a few minutes each day. His constitution is as yet in a seriously weak condition.

The winter is over and no man living in this section of the state, has come forward to tell that he passed a winter in which the fall of snow did not amount to six inches all told during the winter season. March is not a winter month according to almanac makers, but a spring month as it is. Sometimes deep snows fall during its continuance, but they do not last.

News from Manila on the 5th of March says an American army of 2,300 men on an expedition south of Manila encountered the enemy. Two Americans were killed. On the 20th of February the enemy were charged with the bayonets. 140 of the Filipinos were killed and wounded. The American's loss was Adjutant Gallacher of the 40th regiment and three enlisted men killed and five slightly wounded.

Rev. D. E. Craighead of Curwinstown preached in the Presbyterian church on Sunday and Sunday evening. His evening sermon was founded on the text: "What profiteth a man, if he gain the whole world and lose his soul?" The sermon was a good old fashioned one. The first half of it was delivered with more than the average oratorical and dramatic quality. The last half subsided gradually into a pleasant conversational tone of delivery to the end, that all in all, made it one of the most unique pulp deliveries heard in this town.

The State Convention of the National Christian Association in session last week at New Castle, Pa., in its series of resolutions passed when it adjourned was a resolution in opposition to secret societies.

Secret societies were denounced as inimical to the home, the state and church. Attention was called to the fact that church membership is decreasing, while that of lodges is increasing. In the question brought up was the query: "Are the Odd Fellows as corrupt as the Masons?"

Rev. P. B. Williams of Chicago replied, "Odd Fellowship is a chip off the same block."

What was known in Port Royal the past generation as the Rannels property, was destroyed by fire about 5 P. M., on Monday last. A half hour earlier a fire not bigger than a man's hand was seen on the roof of the building and from that little blaze, which is believed came from a railroad locomotive spark the fire got down into the building and destroyed it with many of the contents of the house. The roof was damp at the time and the spark that lit on the roof doubtless was a heavy one, for a light spark could not kindle a flame amidst such damp surroundings. However, whatever started the fire was sufficiently strong to kindle it in a wet roof. A wind from the east was blowing and as the larger part of the town is located on that side of where the fire started the chances for a great fire were good. A despatch was sent to this place for the fire engine. The fire department promptly responded. The engine was loaded on a truck and run to Port Royal in short order. Water was obtained from the river and the steamer did first rate work and the highest praise is bestowed on the men who so promptly responded to the call. All danger to surrounding property was removed after the steamer reached the scene of the conflagration. Before the engine arrived from this place citizens of Port Royal were busy with buckets doing the best they could and they did well in keeping the flames from spreading beyond the place where they started. There were located on the roof of houses in the line of the falling sparks and thus the fire was confined to narrow limits. The Rannels' building had been sold to the Pennsylvania railroad company. The store in the building was owned by D. C. Rannels. Also the household goods in the dwelling belonged to him, none of which were insured. Mr. Rannels got most of the goods out of the lower story. His loss is estimated at $1,000. The railroad company paid $3,000 for the property lost. Part of the building was used as a hall and was known to many people as Arcade Hall.

William H. Hummel is on trial this week at Williamsport, Lycoming Co., for four murders committed on the night of November 16, 1899. Hummel is a rag peddler. He had carried a widow with three children when it was discovered that the family had disappeared search was made for them by neighbors. On the 23rd of November the mother and two children were found hidden under a straw-stack. Their skulls had been crushed. Hummel was suspected and he was searched for and found some miles away on the morning of the 24th of November. He was taken to the jail. He was lodged in jail and sometime after his imprisonment told the sheriff that he had a dream that revealed the whereabouts of the third and missing child. He related the dream and search was made under the floor of a stable according to his statement of the dream and the dead child was found. Hummel has been blaming a certain Jew peddler with the murder. The peddler in question says he was not in Lycoming county when the murder took place. That he was in Juniata county on the 16th of November, and that he sat at his home over the night of the 16th of November. Kaufman has been summoned as a witness and leaves this Wednesday for Williamsport.

OF INTEREST TO SCALP HUNTERS.
Judge Purdy of the Wayne and Pike county, Pa., judicial district, in an opinion handed down on the 26th day of February, 1900, declares unconstitutional the act of Assembly requiring payment of bounties on foxes on foxes, wildcats and minks, because the title of the act does not clearly express the subject and the amendment to the act does not validate it. The Wayne county commissioners have paid no bounties in the past six years and the court was asked for a rule upon upon the commissioners to compel payment of scalp bounty under the act of Assembly and its amendment. The court dismissed the action and the commissioners may now scalp bounty in Wayne and Pike counties.

Some Pointed Questions

Does your urine contain any sediment? Is the lower part of your back sore, weak and lame? Does your urine have a whitish, milky color? Is there a smarting or scalding sensation in passing it? Does it pain you to hold it? Do you desire to urinate often, especially at night?

If you have any of these symptoms, your Kidneys are diseased and your life is in danger. More people die of such disorders than are killed in wars.

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is a direct and sure cure. It goes straight to the seat of diseases in the Kidneys, Bladder and Blood. It hunts out and drives from the system all the impurities that cause pain in the back, Stone in the Bladder, Bright's Disease, Urinary Troubles, and diseases of the Stomach and Liver. It acts at once. There is no long waiting to see if it will help.

"For years I suffered with my Kidneys," writes THOMAS QUACKENBUSH, of Pittsfield, Mass. "The pain in my back was so severe at times that I was obliged to keep to my bed. I suffered awfully when passing water, which was often discolored with blood. I tried almost everything in the shape of medicine, but nothing seemed to help me. One day I got a bottle of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and used it but a little while when it braced me right up. My back became all right, no pain at all; my water cleared up and passed from me without pain, and I grew better in every way. I consider it a great medicine, as it has done wonders for me. My wife uses it for female complaint, and thinks it's the finest medicine in the world."

Sample Bottle Free.
Every man and woman who reads this paper and is in need of medicine, is invited to send full postoffice address for a free trial bottle of Favorite Remedy to the Dr. DAVID KENNEDY CORPORATION, Rondout, N. Y. Our offer is genuine, and the fact that it appears in this paper is a guarantee that the trial bottle will be sent prepaid. Don't delay in writing, and mention this paper.

A large bottle costs $1.00 at all drug stores.
