TEACHERS' INSTITUTE EV.

The Teachers' Institue came and wen in its way last week and now lives onand in the archives of the county school army depends very much upon the department. The Superintendent O. C. Gortner held it well in hand from the beginning to the end and gave it a social side by holding a reception for the things, but in spite of them. teachers in the parlors of the Jacobs House on Monday evening. A synopsis of the proceedings of the Institute by a special reporter may be read in another column. The evening entertain ments were of a variety nature: Instrumental music, vocal music, persona tion, acting, excepting Monday evening, which was devoted to Hon. Henry Houck, who lectured on the subject "Old Landmarks." Mr. Houck is famlook into his face is enough to satisfy the most superficial physiognomist that | kel. he is a thoughtful man, a deep thinker, and so well has he studied the general make of a mixed audience-no matter where found-that he is always safe in giving them a jolly lecture, interspers ed with wholesome home going truth that finds lodgment in both mind and heart. When he talked of the "Old Landmarks," and compared them with the new, all felt better contented for they realized in their minds that for easy ways and more comfortable living, the people of to-day are in advance of the people of the past.

The entertainment on Tuesday even ing was that of harp music and recitals by Rodgers-Grilley. The music was pleasing and the personation of character held the attention of the large audience throughout the entire evening. The recital of the experience of a newly married couple in a city department store, stirred the fountain of the hu depths and brought forth loud laughter and much hand clapping while anoththe audience and caused tears to roll down the cheeks of many.

"The Smith Sisters" on Wednesday evening pleased everyone. They were a company of light, fragilly built young ladies of the figure that artists and poets are wont to affix wings to when they are in the winging mood. Their singing was highly appreciated. 'Gosh!' said a grizzle haired man to his companion at his side, ' how that girl sings, by Jove! I would'nt be surprised if she is a lightly built slick young man. I don't see how a girl can sing that way."

The Slayton Jubilee Singers on Thursday evening took the house by storm. Their first piece was a musical cyclone and ever and anon during the evening's entertainment the cyclone spirit manifested itself and brought out the most intense attention of the audience. They clearly prove that the colored brethren are holding up their end of the line in the modern class of entertainment and Marshall. personation of character. Another artist of high degree to low comedy in the company, was the man, who rendered, "And the cat came back." His pet name is not at hand. His rendering of the home proclivities of puss stirred the risibles of the white folks to boisterous hilarity.

The chancellor was somewhat put out, but dutifully took the roll and opened it, only to discover the royal pleasantry, whereupon, again rolling the parchment up and taking from his breast the resplendent tin order, he

"Your majesty, as I cannot read the speech. I tender my resignation." and walked off the stage.

A speech which had a pathetic as well as an amusing side is said to have been made by an old New Hampshire
