

A CHANGE ABOUT THE PLACE.

The place don't seem just like it did before the war...

The sun still gets to peep in that window over there...

This doesn't seem like home no more, and often think of the day...

A NEWPORT IDYL

The ballroom at the Casino was aglow with light and pulsing with music...

Standing near a door was a young man whose features were drawn and white...

The music ceased just then, and in the little smattering of dancers...

The man, with a sigh so deep as to be almost a groan...

"I must be proud to come here tonight, I might in time have learned to forget her, but to see her again...

"Jim Allen! Did you see him? He stood by the door looking like the ghost at the wall...

"I hear that Miss Burton's engagement to Lloyd Appleby is announced."

"What, that old man! Well, he's rolling in wealth."

"She did not need to marry money." "The ways of women are past finding out."

The figure in the dark corner glided away softly. He had bowed and could. He strode on down toward the Point...

Back at the Casino another little drama had been enacted. Nellie had seen more than her trained features had shown...

"But Nellie was gone. Mr. Appleby smiled as he went under the cover of the shadow of a curtain..."

"That he isn't. I brought the news to him that he had just inherited a bigger fortune than he lost."

Nellie flew like a white angel down to the Point, her fingers, fast as lightning, touching the ground...

A DEPARTMENT FOR LITTLE BOYS AND GIRLS.

ONE WONDER OF THE WORLD.

Strange Phenomenon of Small Isle in the Gulf of Mexico.

"A day's sail from New Orleans lies Small Isle, strange and lonely island with a broad, low, sandy beach...

"Small Isle, as the sailors call it," said Mr. Zelleka, "is scarcely more than two miles long."

"From the white deck of the Sea Gull I watched the beach change color one after another."

"The sands of the Isle seemed more truly golden than any I had ever seen at a standpoint for a few moments, began to turn back to the ocean."

"The vital processes in the aged are slow, but they are still existent, and they may be kept active by gentle opposition and stimulation."

Stick a pin through the center of a pen, then obtain a straw, clay pipe-stem or anything with a small hole through it."

Playtime in Italy.

In Italy they have very few games, but the little Italian boys and girls excel you in one pastime—that is modeling."

Gen. Stark's Lost Mare.

In an old file of the Hartford Courant, of date Oct. 7, 1777, is an advertisement sent to the paper by General Stark of Bennington fame...

Staked His All and Won.

Faithfulness is the soul of goodness.
